poa, the Canton of this port had reached her destination there in safety. The Nancy spoke the Country ship Troubridge in the China Seas. She was expected to leave Penang about the 10th, under convoy of His Majesty's Ship Rattlesnake.

The Spanish Ship Ferdinand the Seventh, loaded with a cargo of treasure, had arrived at China from Manilla. She reported, that advices of the revolution in Spain had been brought to the Philippines, by a Frigate from Lima, and had been received with universal satisfaction and joy by the Spanish colonists.

Other arrivals from the same quarter were daily expected at Canton; and, this renewal of the direct intercourse with Manilla, would soon produce, it was hoped, a very favourable effect on the general state of the markets in that quarter. Meanwhile, little change had taken place. Cotton still stood, at about 12½ tale per pekel.

The Nancy brings remittances from China to Calcutta, amounting in all to above five lacs of dollars.

The convoy of Country and Portuguese Ships, which sailed from hence about the 19th of April, had reached Penang in safety.

The information received by the Lord William Bentinck, stating that two of the enemy's cruizers had appeared off the Coast of Sumatra, appears to have been anticipated by His Majesty's Squadron. The Sir Francis Drake, which sailed in company with the Admiral from Madras Roads on the 1st current, had, we understand, proceeded direct to that quarter;—and the Modeste Frigate, and Barraouta Sloop of war, which sailed on the same day, were also appointed to sweep the West Coast.

The following extracts from some Persian newspapers, lately received by the Arab Merchants here, from their correspondents at Busheer and Bombay, confirm the accounts which we have already published; with respect to the defeat of the naval force sent out from Busheer against the Pirates, and the capture of an Arab Ship at tempting to enter the Mauritius, by one of the British cruizers on that station.

“ Aga Mahommed Nubbee Khan, the Hakim of Bu-“ sheer, having collected an armed force, and embarked “ them on a number of dows, and on a ship which he had “ purchased from Sayed Abdulkaher, sent them out to “ make war on the Joassimee Pirates. They accordingly “ fell in with a fleet of dows, belonging to the Joas“ simees, off Congoon; and gave them battle. The Pi“ rates proved completely victorious. All the dows of “ Aga Mahommed’s squadron were taken, and a great “ part of their crews put to the sword. The ship alone “ was saved, and had found her way back to Busheer.

“ Certain Arabs and others, inhabiting the country “ about Busheer, having thrown off their allegiance to the “ Khan’s government, the Khan secretly obtained an aid
 “ of two thousand horse from the Prince of Sheeraz,
 “ for the purpose of reducing them. This force ac“ cordingly went out, and, having vanquished the rebels, “ brought them in person to Busheer. There they were “ detained in confinement, while their wives and children “ were sent to Sheeraz.

“ A ship of war (meaning the Cornelia). has arrived at “ Bombay from the Cape of Good Hope, and has brought “ with her 15 Arab lascars. These lascars were part “ of the crew of the Arab ship Shebdengee, the property “ of Sayed Sayeed Sooltan of Muscat, and commanded
 “ by Molah Saleh. The Shebdengee was bound on a voy“ age to the Mauritius, and had on board several “ Frenchmen, who arrived some time ago in certain ves“ sels at Muscat. They were close to an island situated “ in the neighbourhood of the Mauritius, when a map of “ war came in sight. The Frenchmen, upon this, became “ afraid; and requested the commander of the ship, to “ land them on the island, where they had a fortress,
 “ which would afford them protection. Molah Saleh “ accordingly, being himself also desirous that no French“ men should be found in his ship, put them on shore;
 “ and they went into the island, and took refuge be-

FORT WILLIAM, JUNE 16, 1809.

The Governor General in Council is pleased to extend the Contract with Mr. Fairlie, for Victualling the European Troops and maintaining the Army Cattle, belonging to the Establishment of this Presidency, until the 1st of February 1810, on the present Terms and Conditions, with the following exceptions:

That in the event of the Contractor not being able to furnish the prescribed number of Elephants required for the augmentation lately ordered, within the periods specified by the Terms of the Contract, no penalty shall be exacted from him on that account.

That for all Europeans, Elephants and Bullocks, to be stationed in the Doab above Futty Ghur, Minpooree and Etuwah, the Contractor shall be allowed to charge from the 1st of August next, the present rates of Contract of Troops and Cattle stationed to the westward of the Jumna.

That an advance equal to the Monthly Charge of Contract for Victualling the Troops and feeding the Cattle, shall be made to the Contractor at the beginning of every Month, to be adjusted by his Bills when audited.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt.

By the arrival at Madras on the 10th ultimo of the armed Ship Diana, we have accounts from Penang extending to the 20th of May.

On the 19th of that month, that valuable Ship, the Nancy Grant, had arrived at the island from China. On the 1st of April, previous to her departure from Whampoa, “hind the batteries. Molah Saleh then, with the view

 “of preserving himself and his vessel, began to fire off
 “his guns at the English man-of-war, to prevent her from “coming nearer. The man-of-war also began to fire
 “on Molah Saleh’s Ship, and on the fortress ashore.
 “A number of Molah Saleh’s men were killed ; and his “vessel was taken by the man-of-war. The lascars “report, that they saw part of the crew throw them“selves overboard, and believe that some of them in this “manner gained the shore ; but what became of Molah “Saleh himself, they cannot tell. The man-of-war took “her prize to the Cape, from whence these men were “sent on in this vessel to Bombay.”

The accounts from Cabul begin to wear rather a more propitious aspect. In the Lahore ukhbar of the 4th ultimo, it is stated, on the authority of a public dispatch from Peshour, that confident hopes were entertained of Atta Mahommed’s return to his allegiance. The liberation of the Prince Munsoor is confirmed ; with the addition, that a Cashmerian force had proceeded with him to Peshour, in aid of the Padshah.

Mahomed Shah remained at the city of Cabul ; while Khamran and Futteh Khan, with the army, had taken up a position 30 miles in advance. They were distressed for money however ; and report says, that they were presently about to return. Futteh Khan, in the mean time, had carried his exactions to such an extent, that near 5 lacs of rupees had been raised from the ryots,—who, alarmed by these extortions, were flying from the country in every direction. Soojah-ul-Moolk was still encamped at Peshour. He had collected a considerable force ; but his exigencies were so extreme, that he had been under the necessity of putting the royal jewels up to sale. It is stated in the ukhbars, that Soojah had released Gool-Mahommed Khan (the brother of Azim) from his confinement, and had appointed him to succeed Akreem Khan in the office of Vizier. The latter had fallen under the King’s displeasure, in consequence of his having quitted the army previous to the action with the Cashmerians, and having left Munsoor there alone to conduct its operations.

Letters of the 23d and 24th of May from the gentlemen of Mr. Elphinstone's suite, estimate the force of Mahmood at no more than five thousand men.

It was at that time determined, that the heavy baggage of the Embassy, together with the Infantry and Hindoostanee horse, should march immediately to a place of safety, within the Cabul dominions, situated about 9 coss to the east of Attoc; whither the Envoy himself and the remainder of his party would also proceed, as soon as the King should take the field,—which would probably be within a week or ten days at farthest.

All the gentlemen of the Embassy were in the best health and spirits. The King had consented to their temporary departure, with great apparent reluctance and anxiety. The communication by dawk with the Company's provinces had latterly been so extremely difficult, that, for a month previous to the 23d of May, they had not received a single newspaper.

On the 3d ultimo at 8 in the evening, Runjeet Sing set out from Lahore to Umrut-sir,—at which place he arrived on the same day. He proposed to proceed in person immediately for Khog-kangra, and had summoned Sahib Sing and Futteh Sing to attend him with their respective powers. Part of Runjeet's army had already reached Hurripoor, a place within eight miles of Khote-kangra, where the Rajah Sunsar-Chand still remained invested by the Gorugs. A rumour prevailed at Putteala, that they had fled, and that the fort had fallen into Runjeet's hands.

Colonel Ochterlony, we understand, was likely to remain at Ludehaunah for some time longer.

According to the latest accounts from the Western Provinces of Hindoostan, the chout exacted by Scindia from the Rajah of Shahpoor was in a train of adjustment. As soon as a final settlement should take place, Scindia proposed, it is said, to move towards Kotah. Strong remonstrances had been made to the Jaypore vakeel, against the delays practised by Juggut Sing in the payment of his tribute, of which the second instalment had not been discharged, though the third was nearly due. The complaints were met with correspondent promises on the part of Khoshalceram.

Holkar still remained at Andoor; while Meer Khan, with his army, was at Bopaltal.

In our last, we presented our readers with a pretty full detail, of the late shocking transactions in Bundelcund. Lutchman Dowah, it appears, effected his escape from Bahdah on the 25th of May; but, to what quarter he had directed his flight, was not certainly, or at least not publicly known. The victims of his inhuman pride, were his wife, mother, aunt, three daughters and son. It was a catastrophe not less unexpected than horrible;—for the women in Bundelcund not being kept under the same restraint as in other quarters of India, such desperate and sanguinary acts are there less familiar to the minds of the inhabitants.

Though the precise place of Lutchmun's retreat (as we have said) was unknown, he was most generally supposed to have fled to some part of the adjacent Marhatta territory, where he had his treasures secreted, and from whence, as soon as the rains should have finally set in, he might descend, with such predatory force as he could collect, on the British possessions. The troops under Colonel Martindell were consequently kept on the alert.

At the date of the last accounts from Bundelcund, a Detachment of horse and foot, under the command of Captain Lamb, of the 26th Native Infantry, was stationed up the ghauts, for the purpose of keeping in check a refractory chieftain, named Gopaul Sing.

C. T. Metcalf, Esq. late British Envoy at the Court of Runjeet Sing, is now, we understand, on his return from the Upper Provinces to Calcutta.

The first drawing of the First Calcutta Lottery took place on Saturday last; when No. 4160 (the property, we understand, of an Armenian gentleman, named Arra-pit Arratoon) was drawn a prize of 20,000 Rupees.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

The H. C. Ship Devaynes arrived in the river on Wednesday, having sailed from Madras on the 21st ultimo. A list of her passengers has already appeared in one of our extra publications of last week.

On Thursday His Majesty's Ship Phæton, Captain Pel-lew anchored at Kedgerree; where she remains.

The following vessels, which sailed from hence under convoy on the 19th of April, arrived in safety at Penang on the 20th of May; viz. Carmo, Activo, Conceicao, (grab,) St. Miguel, Mary, Europa, Eagle, (brig,) Union, (ditto,) Euphrosine, (ditto.)

The Portsea of this port, had reached Madras, some time previous to the departure of the Devaynes.

PRINCE OF WALES'S ISLAND.

The following Address was presented in open Court by the Grand Jury, at the Second Session of Over and Terminer and General Goal Delivery, held at Prince of Wales's Island, on the 26th April, 1809.

TO THE HONORABLE

EDMOND STANLEY, KNT.

Recorder of Prince of Wales Island.

MY LORD,

The Grand Jury have requested me, as their Foreman, to convey to your Lordship, their unanimous and sincere thanks, for the assistance you have been pleased to afford them, in the discharge of those functions, which they have been appointed to exercise; for rendering their attendance as Jurors as little inconvenient to them as possible, and particularly, for the patient indulgence, with which your Lordship has on all occasions attended, to such references, as they have felt it their duty to make to the Court; and also for that manly independence, which your Lordship has always manifested, in the administration of justice, tempered with great, and becoming mildness and clemency.

Among the numerous blessings and advantages, which have resulted to the community, from the establishment of this Honorable Court, the Jurors conceive one of the most prominent to be, the appointment of a Gentleman to the situation of Recorder, so perfectly competent to discharge the arduous and important duties of that dignified office; to whom the community look up, with a firm, and well grounded hope, that, that impartiality and patience, in the discharge of his public duty, will continue to afford protection to the inhabitants of this Settlement; and for the full enjoyment of those advantages which have been conferred upon them by the Charter, by which His Most Gracious Majesty has introduced, the inestimable blessings of British Law, and British Judicature, upon this Island.

To which Address the Honorable the Recorder made the following Reply.

GENTLEMEN OF THE GRAND JURY.

The very kind and honorable mark of approbation which you have been pleased to bestow on my public conduct, by an Address so liberal on your part, though so unexpected and totally unsought for on mine, demands my warmest acknowledgments; and, has excited emotions of pleasure and satisfaction in my mind, which no words can describe.

Although I have always thought that a Judge, who is the sacred depository and inflexible organ of the Laws, should never aspire to popularity or court any other praise, but that which may result from a strict and impartial discharge of his duty, yet I freely own that next to the pleasing testimony of my own conscience, I shall always highly value the good opinion of men, who have evinced so much zeal and intelligence, so much diligence, and integrity, in the exercise of the new and important functions committed to their charge.

It affords me infinite gratification to find that you, Gentlemen, in common with all the Inhabitants of the Island, are duly sensible of, and appreciate so justly, the blessings and advantages which this rising community have derived from His Majesty's most Gracious Charter, and the administration of regular Laws; persuaded as I am, that the more the British Judicature is known and understood, the more it will be admired and revered, as the noblest Monument of human wisdom, and the best calculated of any system existing in the known World, to promote the good order of Society, and the general happiness of mankind.

To uphold and maintain the honor and lustre of the British Name and Character in India, by a strict and impartial administration of justice; to assert the supremacy, and extend the indiscriminate protection of the Anglo Indian Laws to all classes and description of the Inhabitants, without distinction; thereby ensuring to them the full enjoyment of the sacred and inviolable rights of Private Property, Rational Liberty, and Personal Security, will always be objects of my most anxious solicitude: convinced that by so doing I shall not only best fulfil the benevolent intentions of our Sovereign, and the spirit and provisions of his Royal Charter, but that the legitimate authority of the Executive Government, (so necessary for the good order and happiness of the settlement) will hereby be best supported and placed, upon that firm and solid basis upon which it can most securely rest.

FORT WILLIAM, — JUNE 17, 1809.

Some doubts having been entertained with regard to the intention of the Orders in force, respecting the Property of Deceased Native Officers and Sepoys as contained in the Articles of War, Section XIII, Articles 1, 11, and in the Resolutions of Government passed on the 7th May, 1781; 21st October, 1792; 12th August, 1796; and 14th May, 1807; the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct, that the substance of those orders shall be re-published for general information, accompanied with such explanation as has been deemed to be necessary upon the points in which differences have existed.

When any Native Commissioned Officer may die or be killed in the Service, the Commanding Officer shall secure his effects, and direct an inventory thereof to be taken by a Subadar and two Jemadars; a Duplicate of the Inventory, countersigned by the Commanding Officer of the Battalion, is to be delivered to the Colonel or Officer Commanding the Regiment, and afterwards lodged in the Adjutant's Office; if there be no Executor of the spot, appointed by the Deceased, the effects are to be publicly sold by the Commanding Officer of the Battalion after discharging the debts of the Deceased, specified in the 13th Section of the Articles of War: viz: his debts in Camp or Quarters and the expenses of his Interment, shall account for the residue to the Heir or Heirs declared by Will, whether written, or verbal; or in failure of such to the legal Representatives of the Deceased; and in the event of no Executor, Heir, or other Representative of the Deceased, attending and establishing his claim within Twelve Months from the date of the casualty, the amount in the hands of the Officer having charge of the Estate, is to be remitted to the General Treasury at the Presidency, by a bill of Exchange to be granted on the Pay Master General by the Pay Master of the Corps to which the Deceased belonged, or with which he was serving when he died.

A similar mode of proceeding is also ordered, when any Non-Commissioned Officer, or Sepoy, shall die, or be killed in the service except that the duty prescribed for the officer Commanding the Battalion in the case of a Commissioned Native Officer, is to be executed by the Officer Commanding the Company to which the Deceased may have belonged, in the case of a Non-Commissioned Officer or Sepoy.

It is to be understood, however, that it is not the intention of Government in the Orders above noticed, to authorize any Commanding Officer of a Company, Battalion, or Regiment, to investigate and decide upon contested claims of succession to the Estate of a Deceased Native Officer, or Sepoy, especially when such claim may have been instituted in one of the established Courts of Civil Judicature; nor is the rule for a remittance to the Presidency at the expiration of a twelve month, when no Executor, Heir, or other legal Representative may attend, applicable to such cases, in which it would be more convenient for the parties concerned, that the property in the hands of the Commanding Officer, (after payment of the expenses and debts which he is authorized to discharge,) should be deposited in the Zillah or City Court, wherein the suit may have been instituted. The Commanding Officer will accordingly comply with the requisition of the Zillah or City Court wherein the suit may be depending, for delivering into Court the amount of the property in his hands.

PORT WILLIAM, JUNE 26, 1809.

The Right Honourable the Governor General in Council is pleased to determine that, as soon as the repairs of the public temporary Buildings, now under execution at the Station of Muttra and at Nomillah, shall be completed, the system of providing for the constant repair of temporary Buildings on fixed Monthly allowances be adapted with respect to the Buildings of that particular description at those two Stations; and, as there do not appear to be any local circumstances or peculiarities in the quality or description of those Buildings to preclude the immediate operation of the regulations of the 22d April 1802, with regard to them, those regulations are hereby declared in force at Muttra, and Nomiollah. The allowances to be drawn by the Barrack Master, at each place from the date on which the surveys shall be held upon the repairs now in hand; subject however to the following reservations:

FOR MUTTRA.

Excluding the lines of the Regiment of European Infantry, likewise the Stables of the two Regiments of Native Cavalry, as far as regards the possibility of their being blown down or seriously damaged before the Barrack Master shall have had time to substitute Brick Pillars, (authorized) by General Orders of the Commander in Chief of the 5th May, with a view to facilitate this arrangement) in lieu of the wooden posts now in use, in consideration of which the temporary intermediate risk will remain with the public; but in other respects the regulations to apply equally to those Stables as to the lines of Native Infantry. The sum to be drawn for the Artillery Barrack, Hospital, and Offices to be determined by the Quarter Master General, in proportion to the allowance for Hospitals for Native Infantry, on the enlarged scale, with reference to their respective superficial dimensions.

By Command of the Vice Admiral,

By Order of the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council.

N. B. EDMONSTONE, Chief Sec. to Govt.

By letters from Taheeran of a late date, we have received the satisfactory assurance, that, the influence, which the French have been so long labouring to establish in the Court of Persia, is now entirely extinguished. General Gardanne and his retinue had been removed, by command of the King, to a certain distance from the capital; and, it was understood, would, in a short time, take his departure entirely from the Persian dominions. The dissolute and profligate abuse of the means, which, by their short-lived predominance in the Royal councils, were placed at the disposal of the French embassy, is said to have excited universal disgust among the inhabitants of every rank at Taheeran.

We have seen letters from Bussorah, of so late a date as the 27th of May, by which it appears, that the H. M. S. Cruizer Teignmouth would probably be dispatched from thence for Bombay about the middle of the ensuing month.

The report of the markets there, particularly for Indigo and Bale goods, is extremely unfavourable. Very few sales had been effected; and the price of Specie for remittances was so enormous, that no moderate profits could defray it; and, it was consequently supposed, that adventurers from this port would lose to a considerable amount. The value of Spanish dollars was 365 piastres per 100, of German Crowns 360 per 100, and of Venetians 825 per 100.

The Country Ship Argo, which arrived here, in the course of last week, from Bussorah, while on her voyage down the Gulph, fell in with his Majesty's Frigate Cornwallis. The Cornwallis was then on her way to Bussorah, from whence it was expected that she would give convoy to the trade, about to sail for this port.

His Majesty's Ship La Chiffonne, Captain Wainwright, accompanied by the Caroline Frigate, and the H. C. Cruizer Mornington, sailed from Bombay, on the 25th of May. Their supposed destination is the Gulph of Persia.

Major L. F. Smith, is stated to have returned from Busheer to Bombay, at which place he arrived on the 24th of May.

The accounts, which we have received since our last, respecting the affairs of Cabul, are more than usually vague and inconsistent. It appears however sufficiently evident, that both the parties, who are now contending for the possession of that monarchy, are extremely destitute of means, and experience very great difficulties, in the equipment of their respective forces. The ukhbars say expressly, that Mahmood's affairs were not in a condition to permit of his accomplishing his projected march to Peshour; and that Soojah was equally unable to effect the expulsion of his rival from Cabul. We still hear however of the gradual advance of the rebel army from the capital: while the troops of Soojah are said to have made two marches onward from Peshour. The Padshah himself remained, at the date of the last accounts; but would shortly follow them.

A division of Atta Malommed Khan's forces, amounting to 8000 men, is said to have marched from Cashmere, towards Attock;—but, whether with the view of co-operating with Mahmood, or of giving succour to Soojah, does not very clearly appear. Abdul Guffoor Khan with a division of the Royal Army, still maintained his position, between Cashmere and the Indus

Lieutenants Harris and Ticiell, two Officers in the suite of Mr. Elphinstone. (whose departure from Peshour, and subsequent interruption in their progress through the Panjab, we noticed in a former number,) are stated in the Lahore newspapers of the 10th, to have reached that capital in safety.

Runjeet Sing has gone in person, with the greater part of his forces, against Khote-kangra. He set out from Umrut-sir on the 5th ultimo, attended only by a slight guard of horse, and arrived at Battala on the following day, after a march of 32 miles. On the 7th he proceeded to Mozah Ghurrud, a place about 80 miles from Umrut-sir: and, according to subsequent accounts, he afterwards advanced ten miles further, and took up a position near Palman-kote. His principal Sirdars, with their respective followers, were in full march to the general rendezvous at Hurreepoor. Meanwhile, he had left Gharruk Sing in charge of the Fort and City of Umrut-sir; and had directed Del Sing, with his power, to proceed to Mooltan.

It would appear, that, on the rapid approach of Runjeet's army, the resolution of Rajah Sunsar-Chupd had failed him. That chieftain had himself invited the Seiks, to enter his country and deliver it from the oppressions of the Gorugs, under a promise of delivering up his fort of Khote-kangra as the reward of their services. Finding this invitation however so readily accepted, he began to suspect the sincerity of Runjeet's designs. In this state of mind, he is said to have entered into an agreement with the Gorugs, by which he bound himself to surrender the fortress to them after an interval of 22 days, provided, they would leave the rest of his possessions unmolested. He himself, in the mean time, removed to another stronghold in the neighbourhood; and conveyed his women and treasures to the fort of Tibbia. After a short interval, his mind appears to have changed a second time; and, at length, he had come to the resolution of resisting the demands of both invaders. To Runjeet's messages, however, he continued to reply, that the fort should be delivered into his hands, as soon as he should have cleared the country of the Gorugs. Meanwhile, the garrison of Khote-kangra were in great distress for ammunition, and were closely besieged by the banditti, who had prepared to give battle to the Seik army. The Rajahs of the mountains in general were disposed to assist the enterprize of Runjeet.

Affairs remain in the same state as before, on the Rajpoot and Mahratta frontiers. Baptiste, according to the latest accounts, was employed in levying the chout at Kurrowlee.

Lutchman Dowah, late chieftain of Adjyghur, whose family was so barbarously butchered, a short time ago, by the hand of his father in law, has arrived, we understand, within these few days, at the Presidency.—Conceiving himself aggrieved by the measures adopted against him, it appears, that he made his escape from Banda, with the intention of proceeding hither, and laying his complaint before the Supreme Government. There is reason to believe, that, down to the period of his arrival in Calcutta, he was wholly ignorant of the fatal catastrophe which his flight from Bundelcund had occasioned.

By letters from Madras of the 21st ultimo, we learn, that His Majesty's Ships Piedmontese and Samurang had then just anchored in the Roads, from a cruize.

His Majesty's ships Psyche and Doris are just now cruising to the eastward, in quest of the Cannonier and Laurel. They were spoken with on the 21st of May, by the Canton, in her passage down the China seas.

It is stated, that the brig Margaret, Captain Angier, belonging to this port, has been cut off by the Malays at Pedier, and every man on board put to death. The pirates, it is added, proceeded immediately with their prize, to sea.—An armed vessel has been sent from Penang, in quest of them.

CAPTURE OF INDIAMEN.

Such ample details of the engagement between the Fleet of homeward-bound Indiamen, and the French Frigate Caroline, have already appeared in the different Calcutta prints, that any thing further on the subject may perhaps be thought superfluous. As every distinct narrative, however, serves, on such occasions, to throw new light on some part of the story, we cannot think of withholding from our readers the two following communications.

EXTRACT OF LETTER FROM A GENTLEMAN ON BOARD THE LORD KEITH.

“ It is painful for me to acquaint you with the unfortunate event which obliged us to touch here. Our convoy the Victor lost sight of the fleet on the 25th of May and we have seen nothing of her since. The Earl Spencer by consultation of Commanders, was sent to convoy the Monarch to Penang (being leaky.) The fleet then consisted of the Streatham, Europe, and Lord Keith. On the 31st of May, about day light, we saw a strange sail bearing S. W. standing to the northward under easy sail. The Commodore made the private signal, which he did not answer. We then turned the hands out and cleared away for action, the stranger bearing down upon us, and soon opening a heavy and sharp fire upon the Europe, which continued for about a quarter of an hour, and was returned by the Europe. On seeing that he shot away her fore-top-sail-yard and otherwise disabled her much, he left her and engaged the Streatham for about half an hour, who returned her fire with much spirit for some time;—so much so, that the Frigate hauled on board her fore-tack, which made us suppose she was going to shear off. At this critical time, she shot away the Streatham's gaff, with which the colours came “ down, we anxiously looked for their being rehoisted ;

 “ but, from her fire having ceased we concluded she had “ struck, and were soon convinced of it, as the Frigate “ wore from the Streatham, and commenced a heavy “ raking fire upon us. When standing across our bows
 “ he payed round and engaged us closely to leeward, “ and fired several destructive broadsides into us, which “ shot away much of our standing and running rigging,
 “ and wounded some of our masts and yards. The Fri“ gate then made sail to take possession of the Streatham
 “ (her prize) at which time the Europe and us made “ sail in a different direction, on purpose to distract the “ enemy’s attention. He was soon seen, however, to “ make sail after the Europe, who was then about 5 “ Miles to the Eastward of him ; but from the thickness “ of the weather we presently lost sight of both. We “ saw that a renewal of the action, weakened as we “ were by the loss of the Streatham, and the shattered “ state we both were in, could not present the smallest “ prospect of success. We therefore with reluctance set “ all possible sail to the S. E. and determined coming in “ here, in the hope of falling in with some of his Ma-“ jesty’s Ships, that yet might intercept the enemy and his “ prize, before they worked out of the Bay. I have “ very little doubt but that valuable ship the Europe “ suffered the same fate with the Streatham. I feel it my “ duty to say, that Capt. Gelston behaved in the most “ spirited and manly manner throughout. Much could “ not be expected from such a crew as the Company’s “ Ships had on board.

“ It is a remarkable circumstance, that, when the ene“ my opened his fire, the Fleet were so situated, that “ neither of them could render the smallest assistance to “ each other, and received the enemy’s fire separately,
 “ the same as if we were single ships.”

EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM A CORRESPONDENT AT PENANG.

“ The Blanche is going out to look for the Caroline
 “ or her Prizes, and I heard late last night, that the “ Canton from China, will go out with her and make a run

“ for Bengal. Now, as the Rattlesnake's Convoy was in “ sight from our Signal Hill on Saturday evening, the “ Blanche expects to join the Rattlesnake, to take her “ with her, and both go in pursuit of the Caroline and “ Prizes.—The story is this. On the 4th instant, arrived “ here the Earl Spencer and Monarch. The Monarch
 “ was so leaky, she made the signal to the Commodore,
 “ that she could not proceed, and the Commodore order“ ed the Spencer to keep her company.—At this time
 “ the Victor was not in company.

“ The Spencer and Monarch, when off this Island, “ fell in with the Silenus, Prize to the Victor, (the Sile-
 “ nus originally had left Bengal with the Victor's Con“ voy,) who informed them, she had been captured by
 “ the Caroline, a heavy fast-sailing frigate, of 48 guns
 “ who was in the tract of our Fleet and must fall in with “ them. And so it has proved; for, on Saturday the 10th, “ arrived the Lord Keith with intelligence, that the Ca- “ roline had fallen in with them on the 31st, running “ through amongst them and firing at each as he passed.
 “ —At the time the Keith made off, the Streatham
 “ had struck, and the Europe was in such a position,
 “ there was little hope of her escape.—The Keith had one “ man killed and two or three wounded; the Caroline
 “ was near enough to pour in grape.—When the Keith “ parted, the Europe had lost her fore-top-sail yard.

“ The Blanche, Captain Dawson, came in here on “ Thursday the 8th, and was just overhauling her rigging
 “ and putting herself in order for a cruize to the Eastward.
 “ —He is now getting ready, and takes with him a “ few Artillerymen, a Lieutenant and 10 Seamen who “ came with the Silenus, and one or two more officers, “ with all the Seamen he can collect;—he was very “ weak himself. Our hopes are, that he may get sight “ of some of the Prizes, which, the Caroline will of “ course defend. The Blanche is a very indifferent “ sailer, altho' she was once the famous Bellone, for the “ capture of which Lloyd's Coffee House offered 10,000 £.

By letters from Malacca received by the Canton, we find, that the brig Malacca of that port, while she was laying off Pontiana, and her Commander trading on shore, was seized by her Crew, at the instigation of a particular ring-leader, with the intention of carrying her to Java. The majority however being natives of Malacca, they afterwards insisted on returning there, and brought in the vessel in safety, with little loss to her owners. The Commander, Captain Ross, had also returned in a boat purchased at Pontiana, where he left the property on shore under the Sultan's custody.

The Brig Eleanor, Captain Lambert, that sailed from Malacca in February last on a voyage to the Eastward, was expected back daily.

NORTH-WEST FRONTIER.

Since the late extension of our military frontier to the banks of the Sutledge, public curiosity has been attracted in a more than ordinary degree, to the countries situated on the north-west borders of Hindoostan. The following short account therefore of the present condition of the town of Loodeaunah, and of the new cantonments established there, may not be unacceptable to many of our readers.—It is taken from the narrative of a correspondent.

“ Loodeaunah must formerly have been a place of some importance. The seat of an independant chief, situated on the high road from Delhi to Lahore, and completely commanding the passage of the Sutledge, by which the extensive trade with Cashmere, Moultan, &c. is carried on; it possessed every advantage which situation could bestow, and could hardly fail to rise and flourish, under a good government. Its downfall has been great. The Sutledge left it about 30 years ago, shifting its bed to the distance of about four miles. From that time, it began to dwindle, and has ever since continued to decline; till it has at length become a poor inconsiderable town, well nigh destitute of inhabitants. From the superior style of building observable in many of the houses, we have still however sufficient evidence of its former opulence and populousness. And, its present condition will excite less wonder, when

“ it is considered, that, during the period of its decline, it has been repeatedly attacked, taken, and completely plundered. The last occasion of this sort was about nine years ago ; when Baug Sing, the chief to whom it belongs, quarrelled with the famous marauder Bunga Sing of Tenasser, (a place between Karnaul and Puteallah,) who is the terror of all the tribes on this side of the Sutledge. This chieftain, in one of his rounds, attacked and completely rifled Loo-deannah.

“ On an eminence, at the western extremity of the town, stands the Fort, a work built of pukka materials, but of no considerable strength. It was delivered over to us on our arrival here, and has since undergone a pretty thorough repair. Its defences have been greatly improved ; and perhaps as much done, upon the whole, towards rendering it a place of strength, as in the nature of things was practicable. It is now almost ready for occupation ; and, with a well-provided garrison of British troops, will bid defiance to the attacks of any Native power. It will be a valuable place of depot, for the supply of our armies, in case of their being called, at any future period, to act on any of the lines of defence between that frontier and the Attock.

“ Our cantonments run out from the Fort, along a deep sandy flat. Their left flank is thrown as near to the walls as the nature of the ground will permit : while the right extends to the distance of about 2000 yards ;—the whole being within the long range of our twelve-pounders, and consequently under the protection of the ramparts. We have had great difficulties to encounter, in collecting materials for our huts. At length, however, nearly all the Officers, have got under cover. And, never perhaps was there a greater variety of tastes displayed, than in the arrangement and construction of their dwellings. It appears, as if each had set out with a determination of differing from the plan of his neighbour. The spot, at the same time, is favoured in a remarkable degree by nature, which has given a disposition to the whole, that no human artifice could so well have supplied.

“ The climate here, some time ago, was delightful :
“ but now, owing principally to local circumstances, it “ is one of the vilest that ever man experienced. Not “ a day passes, without one or two North-westers, which “ bring along with them clouds of dust, and frequently
“ leave us woful specimens of their effects.”

Early in the course of last month, a party from Colonel Ochterlony's Detachment had a skirmish with some of the people of Runjeet's Tannah, at one of the Seik villages on this side of the Sutledge. The latter not only refused to supply our troops with forage, but actually fired upon them. The party was in consequence detained a whole night before the place. They received, in the mean time, a reinforcement from Camp, and were preparing to assault the village, in case the gates should not be opened at day-break. Runjeet's people, however, had taken advantage of the dusk to make their escape, and in the morning the gates were thrown open.—One man and several horses belonging to our party were wounded ; but no lives were lost.

By letters from Loodcaunah of the 15th ultimo, we learn, that one of the men, who deserted from His Majesty's 17th Regiment, when they were out on service in Sirhind, had come into cantonments a few days before, and delivered himself up. The condition in which he arrived, was most humiliating ; and the treatment, which he had experienced from the period of his departure from the British Provinces, will prove, we trust, a salutary lesson to others. He came in, perfectly naked ;—having been completely plundered and stripped by the country-people, of his clothes and every thing belonging to him. His own account is, that he had separated from his regiment, one day when he was a little tipsy, and had never afterwards been able to rejoin it. From that time forth, he had been wandering among the hills ; where he had left others of his comrades, in the same condition, dispersed either singly or in parties of two each. One of them had been cut down, at the entrance of a village. He himself had received an offer of 30 Rupees per month, to enlist with a Native chieftain; but his anxiety to return to his Regiment was such, that he had refused to accept it.

C. T. Metcalfe, Esq. late British Envoy at the court of Runjeet Sing, set out from Delhi by dawk on the 7th of June, and arrived at the Presidency on Friday last.

The H. C. Ship Tottenham touched the ground, we understand, some days ago, in her passage down the river. It does not appear however, that she has sustained any material damage.

DECLARATION OF THE PHILIPPINES.

DON MARIANO FERNANDEZ DE FOLGUERAS, MENENDEZ DE GODAN, FERNANDEZ DEL REGUERO, VALEA FLORE, KNIGHT OF THE ORDER OF SANTIAGO, COLONEL IN THE ROYAL ARMY, VICEROY OF MANILLA, DEPUTY OF THE CAPTAIN GENERAL OF ALL THE PHILIPPINES, SUB-INSPECTOR GENERAL OF THE FORCES; AND, AT THIS TIME, PROVISIONAL GOVERNOR AND CAPTAIN GENERAL OF THE SAID ISLANDS: AS ALSO, PRESIDENT OF THE ROYAL COURT OF JUDICATURE, DIRECTOR GENERAL OF HIS MAJESTY'S ARMS IN THESE DOMINIONS, SUPERINTENDANT GENERAL, AND MANAGER OF THE ROYAL ESTATES AND OF THE REVENUES OF THE POST-OFFICE, &c. &c.

TO THE INHABITANTS OF THE PHILIPPINES.

The abdication of our Lord, KING CHARLES THE FOURTH; the subsequent elevation of our beloved King and Lord, FERDINAND THE SEVENTH, to the illustrious throne of Spain and the Indies; the deplorable misfortunes which have befallen the royal family, all originating in the treachery of a favourite, whose crimes have outstripped even the prodigal bounty of his Sovereign; the duplicity and perfidy of the Emperor of the French, who, under cover of the closest alliance, has sought to impair the independence, the greatness, and the true succession of the Spanish Monarchy, by tearing from the bosom of his country (though not indeed from the hearts of Spaniards) our beloved mother, Ferdinand the Seventh; finally, the heroic efforts of the nation, in support of the sacred rights of their King, and in token of the love and loyalty which they bear him;—these are the events, which have now all at once been made known to the faithful and affectionate subjects of His Majesty, living in these remote regions.

What an assemblage of objects, all calculated to excite the most lively emotions in the heart of every loyal Spaniard! Yet, at one and the same instant, every other feeling has been absorbed in the more tender and ardent sensations of joy, excited by the new dignity and splendour which these events have imparted to the throne of our beloved King and Lord, Ferdinand the Seventh; and, in the eagerness, with which we have joined, in pronouncing our solemn vows of fidelity, on the occasion of his proclamation. We have never ceased to hope and believe, with a confidence approaching to certainty, that the divine protection will still continue to attend on a cause so just and holy,—on a cause which has no object but our king, our religion and our country. We have never ceased to think of the heroic exploits achieved in so admirable a manner and almost at the same instant, for the chastisement and expulsion of an enemy, who already thought that he had subdued by force of arms the whole country of Spain, and who still detains our beloved Ferdinand the Seventh a prisoner in his dominions. And, we have only lamented, that, separated as we are by an immense ocean from the scene of action, we have no opportunity of contributing our personal aid, to bring so just a cause to a glorious and successful issue.

- In those effusions of loyalty, to which every bosom gave loose, amid the solemn ceremony of the proclamation, we may congratulate ourselves on having furnished an unequivocal testimony, that we are the same people, the same devoted subjects of the King, with those, who now actually tread the illustrious soil of Spain, and, who animated only by one wish and by one view, and united by the most just and sacred bonds, stedfastly pursue the purpose of rescuing their august and beloved Sovereign, and upholding him on his throne, surrounded with a splendour and glory, worthy of Spain and her generous inhabitants,—a splendour, which nothing but a long series of adversities could in any manner have obscured.

Such are the sentiments, such are the sincere desires, which universally possess the subjects of His Majesty in the Philippine Islands. And, although it is not in our power to march in person to the relief of the metropolis, there yet remain to us two methods of contributing to the success of the sacred cause. The one is; generously to lay open all the means at our disposal, with the view of assisting and relieving the wants, which are insupportable from great military undertakings. The other; carefully to preserve among us that unanimity, so essential to the great end in view, and to be more than ever vigilant in the maintenance of good order and justice in this happy soil. So, may may we say to our beloved Ferdinand the Seventh; “Sire; the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands have deplored with bitter sorrow, the calamities which have afflicted your Majesty. But, at the same time, while your Majesty has never been one instant absent from their hearts, they have forgot their grief, in the confidence, that the great and generous nation of Spain have known how to beat down, to confound, and to extinguish the perfidy and colossal power of our enemies. The Philippine Islands have never ceased to observe the laws of concord, regularity and justice; in order that, when your Majesty shall return to the bosom of your beloved country, your Majesty may know, what fidelity, loyalty and affection are to be found in this valuable portion of your dominions.”

What a delightful spectacle it is to behold all the orders of the state united together in sentiments so loyal! The Government itself, —the superior and inferior Tribunals, —the Ministers of the Altar,—the numerous bands of the Army,—every individual, in fine, down to the meanest Native of these territories, joins in the common voice of acclamation, and, with sincerity of heart, offers up incessant prayers to heaven, that his dear and beloved King, Don Ferdinand the Seventh, may be blessed with many and happy years, for the welfare and glory of the Spanish Monarchy.

LOSSES IN THE GULPH.

According to advices received at Bombay by the Eliza, the Arran, Captain Wilson, of this port, in her passage down the Gulph has been stranded, under very unfavourable circumstances, near the island at Karak. When communication was last held with her, she was making water very fast, and, strong winds prevailing at the time, little or no hopes of her preservation were entertained. Captain Wilson had prevailed however on the inhabitants of Karak, by liberal offers of compensation, to assist him in getting out the cargo, consisting of horses, copper, drugs and treasure, to a very large amount. The whole of the treasure had thus been saved, and it was expected that the entire remainder of the cargo would also be recovered from the wreck. The Honorable Company's cruiser Nautilus, which had sailed from Bufforah in company with the Arran, remained by her after she struck, to assist in preserving her cargo and ship's company.

Intelligence has also been received, through the same channel with the above, of the capture of the Ships Minerva and Colonel Macaulay, by the Arab Pirates. These vessels, in their passage from Bombay to the Gulph, fell in with a Fleet of 20 Jowassimee Dows, who attacked them in concert, and, after a most severe and sanguinary conflict, boarded and carried them, putting every soul whom they found on board to the sword.

The Cape Packet and Heen of this port, were expected to sail from Bufforah, about the middle of June.

Letters, received in town yesterday from Purnea, present a very unfavourable report of the prospects of the In-diigo planters in that quarter. It had rained, almost without intermission, for the space of 35 days; and the fields were, in consequence, completely deluged.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

On Monday last, arrived in the River, the Brig Euphrosyne, Captain Taylor, from Penang. The Euphrosyne sailed, under convoy of the Rattlesnake, on the 8th ultimo, and parted from her comrades two days after quitting the island.

On Wednesday, arrived the Ship Argo, Captain Barclay, from Bussorah the 19th of May, and Madras the 29th of June. Also, the Ship Canton, Captain Falconer, from China the 3d of May, from Madras the 12th, and Vizagapatam the 30th of June. PASSENGER per Canton, from China, Lieut. William Pattle.

On Tuesday last, His Majesty's Ship Phaeton, Captain Pellew, dropped down from Kedgerce to Saugor, and on Thursday morning put to sea.

On Sunday, the Country Ship Venus, bound to Penang, together with another outward-bound Ship, passed Kedgerce in her way to Saugor.

Advices have been received from Bencoolen, announcing the safe arrival there of the H. C. Ship Lord Castlereagh and Anna Transports, on the 20th of May.

The Country Ship Helen of this port is said to have arrived at Bussorah from Muscat, on the 12th of May.

On the 21st ultimo, in her passage hither from Penang, the Euphrosyne saw a Fleet of 11 sail, off Acheen-head, steering towards the N. E. and supposed to be the Bombay Ships bound to China.

The Ships of the Bengal convoy, destined for China, which arrived at Penang on the 20th of May, sailed again from thence, in prosecution of their voyage, on the 22nd of the same month.

The Ships Russel, Luz and L'Union had also arrived at Penang, and proceeded on their respective voyages to the eastward, on the 3d of June.

The Portuguese Ship Ulysses, bound from Macao to the Brazils, had put into Penang, in distress.

A Dutch Cartel, from Batavia, arrived at Penang on the 23d of May.

COURT OF VICE-ADMIRALTY.

JUNE 19, 1809.

Before the Honorable Sir THOMAS ANDREW STRANGE, Commissary.

The Court assembled this day for the purpose of proceeding to the condemnation of the French Ship LA CARAVANNE, and her Cargo.

The case, on the part of the Captors, was briefly stated by the King's Advocate (Mr. MARSH), who observed, that, it appeared from the Ship's papers and the depositions, that the ship belonged to Messrs. MERLE and CABOT, Merchants in the Isle of France, and that the Supercargo had freighted her to the Dutch Government at Batavia, for a voyage from that place to Sura Bay. He then stated, that, the ship was taken by His Majesty's Frigate the Fox, under the command of HENRY HART, Esquire, and, when taken, LA CARAVANNE, was under the Protection of a Dutch Fort on the Island of Java.—That the Cargo, which principally consisted of French Wines and Arrack and some articles of Furniture, was Dutch—and he accordingly moved for the condemnation of the Ship, as belonging at the time of seizure to subjects of the French Republic, and, of the Cargo, as belonging at the time of seizure to subjects of the Batavian Republic.

The Judge then proceeded to pronounce sentence, and condemned the ship and cargo (as prayed by the King's Advocate) to the Captors. But, he stated that he was sorry to find from the depositions, that, some dollars found on board the Prize, were (by whom it did not appear) distributed among the Crew. This Act he observed was in violation of the 30th Section of the last Prize Act [45 Geo. 3 ch. 72.] which is as follows, viz. "If any Commander or Commanders, Officer or Officers, Marines, Soldiers, or others shall break bulk on board (except in case of necessity) to be allowed by the Court of Admiralty) or embezzle any of the money, Jewels, Plate, Goods, Merchandizes, Tackle, Furniture, or Apparel, of or belonging to any Prize or Prizes, such Commander, Officer, Seaman, Marine, Soldier, or other person shall for every such offence forfeit

 “ of the Royal Hospital at Greenwich, and so to be adjudged “ on proof thereof by the Court of Admiralty, in which “ such proof shall be made—And shall also forfeit treble the “ value of all such money, Jewels, Plate, Goods, Merchandizes, “ Tackle, Furniture, and Apparel, as he or they shall embez“ zle.” The Judge further observed, that, as it was probable, the party who made the distribution of the dollars, was not aware of the consequences of such an act, the present case would be allowed to pass within any further enquiry; but, he wished it to be understood, by the Captains and Commanders of his Majesty’s Ships, that such acts would not hereafter pass unnoticed, and, that the forfeiture directed by the Act, would be the consequence in any future case that might be made out to his satisfaction—In concluding his address, the Judge called upon the King’s Proctor to apprise the Officers of his Majesty’s Navy of the determination of the Court, that no person hereafter guilty of breaking bulk, might plead ignorance of the forfeiture imposed by the above Act.

• Private letters from Peshour of the 31st of May, and akhbar advices of a considerably later date, represent the affairs of Cabul in a more favorable light, than for some time we have been accustomed to consider them. Soojah was still at Peshour. He had latterly gained over many new adherents, and his army is said to have advanced 38 miles from Peshour, soon to be followed by the Padshah in person. Meanwhile, it would appear, that negotiations were on foot with his rival, and were even already in a state of considerable forwardness. The oppressions and cruelties of Mamood had raised up against him, the Khans as well as the peasantry of Cabul; who are said, in consequence, to have conceived the purpose of seizing his person, and delivering him, on the approach of Soojah, into the hands of that Prince. He had accordingly, in conjunction with Futteh Khan and his other principal sirdars, made overtures of accommodation to the Padshah; proposing, as the conditions of his submission, that the latter should renounce his connexion with the English, and should appoint Gholaum Mahommed Khan to the office of Vizier. Soojah received the proposals with becoming distrust, and shewed no inclination whatever to yield to their suggestions respecting the British mission. He ordered Gool Mahommed Khan however to proceed to Cabul, for the purpose of conducting the negotiation; and is said to have charged him with an offer of the province of Candahar to Mahmood, of Surkarpoor to Futteh Khan, and of other districts to each of the other Khans in proportion to their respective ranks, as the price of conciliation. In how far this may be correct, we cannot take upon us to say. We learn however, that the mission of Gool Mahommed was afterwards countermanded, and that Soojah had come to the resolution of determining the business by a personal conference with Mahmood at Cabul. In the mean time, as an earnest of his pacific intentions, he had dispatched messengers to Gholaum Mahommed Khan, to present him with Khelaats, and greet him as Vizier of the kingdom.

Mr. Elphinstone, with some part of his suite, still remained at the Court, where he enjoyed the entire confidence of the Padshah. His presence was supposed, materially to have retarded the movements and abated the pretensions of the rebels. He would set out for Attock, as soon as Soojah should quit Peshour.

Since writing the above, we have been favoured with the perusal of letters from the Embassy, of so late a date as the 9th current. Two days before, the King had moved out of the city, and taken the road to Cabul. Who, ther or not he would proceed on his journey, however, was still a matter of doubt. Mr. Elphinstone remained at Peshour, and would not remove to Attock until Soojah's final departure.

Lieutenants Harris and Tickell, lately attached to the Cabul Embassy, who left Peshour some time ago, with the intention of returning by the route of the Punjab, had accomplished their journey through the Seik territories, and arrived at Loodeaunnah. They set out again from thence to the Company's provinces, on the 22d ultimo, and were expected to reach Meerut by the 6th of this month. The akhbars mention the circumstance of Lieutenant Tickell's tent having been robbed near Umrut-sir, of property to a considerable amount. The robbery was not attended with any circumstances of violence; but the attempt to recover the articles stolen had been unsuccessful. Lieutenant Harris, we understand, has brought with him a valuable collection of drawings, taken by himself, delineating all the principal places, which the Embassy have visited in their progress.

The report of Sungsar Chund having concluded a settlement with the Gorngs, and determined to resist the ambitious pretensions of Runjeet Sing, appear to be confirmed. We observe heavy complaints in the Hindoostan news-papers, of the devastations committed by Runjeet's troops, in the country of Hurripoor.

Dowlut Rao Scindiah, by the last advices, was still at Shahpoorah. Before proceeding to Kotah, he proposed, it is said, to levy the chout on Baun Sing, the Rajah of Joudpore. Baun Sing was making preparations for defence, in which he would probably receive the assistance of Meer Khan, who, at the time to which we allude, was present, with his forces, in the Joudpore territory.

By advices from the Upper Provinces, dated the 1st current, we learn, that the Fort of Bullealah in the Hurrianah country was evacuated by the banditti who possessed it, on the first approach of the British force under Major Knay. The fugitives at first betook themselves to another small fort in the neighbourhood named Behel, but presently abandoned that likewise, on the advance of the detachment. The Company's authority would be established, it was supposed, in Hurrianah, without any difficulty or serious opposition.

The letters, which we have lately seen from the same quarter, complain much of the sufferings of the troops from the climate of that unpleasant district.

The following extracts from a Persian newspaper, received by the late arrivals from the Gulph, contain some particulars of local information, relating principally to the proceedings of the Pirates, which, in the present state of affairs in that quarter, are not altogether destitute of interest. The extent, to which piracy has of late been carried, among the tribes inhabiting the western shores of the Gulph, is truly alarming. In a recent letter from Bombay, we find the strength of the piratical states estimated, on very respectable authority, at the almost incredible number of two thousand vessels of every description.

“ Sayed Sayeed put to sea some time ago from Muscat, with six vessels. He had previously given orders, that no single ships should attempt to sail from Muscat to Busheer. The fleet of the Joossinees also put to sea, at the same time, with the intention of attacking them. The ship of the Gurrancees however has since reached its destination in safety: And a three-masted vessel, manned with Asloocees, has also arrived in safety at Asloo. Sayed Sayeed remains in the Gulph, for the purpose of co-operating with the tribe of Atba. He is cruising from place to place, and comes occasionally to anchor. Two or three Sheiks of the tribe of Atba had already joined him, and he expected soon to be joined by the others, when he would immediately proceed to make war on the Wahabee pirates. Sayed Sayeed had also sent for assistance to Sheeaz, and hoped to receive the aid of the people of Asloo and Congoon, in his expedition against the Joossinees.

“ The accounts from Busheer are ; that three dows, three “ battels, and a three-masted ship were sent to sea by Aga “ Mahommed Nubbee Khan, for the purpose of attacking the “ enemy. After some days, they fell in which 27 sail of Joa-“ simee vessels. There being no wind at the time, the ship “ could not get near them. The three Busheer dows alone “ therefore engaged this fleet of 27 vessels. The dows were “ taken by the Joassimees and all their crews put to death.
 “ The Joassimees themselves also lost 5 or 600 men, in the “ conflict. The battle being over, the three battels made their “ escape, and their crews got on board the ship. The battels “ themselves were abandoned to their fate; and the ship, “ after firing a few shots at the boats of the pirates, returned
 “ to Busheer. The Joassimees also retired to their anchor“ age. This intelligence afflicted the Nawab, Aga Mahommed “ Khan, exceedingly.

“ The Collector of revenue having come to Busheer from “ Sheeraz, to demand the customary tribute, the Khan wrote “ to the Prince of Sheeraz, representing his inability to com“ ply with the requisition, at a time when he was fitting out
 “ an armament; but undertaking, to defray all the charges
 “ of the equipment, if the Prince would consent to a remission
 “ of the tribute. To this remonstrance, the Prince returned “ a very favourable answer; promising to support the enter“ prize of the Khan with every assistance in his power. Af“ ter this, the Khan set out on horseback, without attendants,
 “ to Sheeraz; and, having arrived at the city, presented him“ self before the Prince. He there renewed his representa“ tions, and delivered in a petition to the same effect. The “ Prince gave him every encouragement, and consented to ex“ empt him from the payment of tribute for the space of three “ years. He also issued an order to the Buhanders of Farus
 “ and Ummau to join Mahommed Nubbee Khan in his exp-“ dition against the Joassimees, and to give him a safe con“ duct back to Busheer.

“ Hostilities have commenced between the Joassimees “ and the Charghees. Saduk Khan Aga, the chieftain of the “ latter tribe, proceeded with two thousand men to Lengah.
 “ An engagement followed, in which the Joassimees were suc“ cessful, and many of the Charghees were put to the sword.
 “ The commander of the Joassimees afterwards, formed a plan,
 “ for attacking Saduk Khan, with his whole force, in the “ night; but Saduk, receiving intelligence of his purpose, “ privately withdrew, and remained for some time in conceal“ ment. The Joassimees then advanced to Ardoos, and began to “ plunder the country. At length, Saduk Khan came out of his

"hiding place, and, attacking them by surprise, put a number of them to death, and took several of their Nobles, whom he sent to Sheeraz. From that time, he remained stationary, waiting further orders from the Prince.

"An English Frigate, and another ship of war called the Yernate, have fallen in with a fleet of Joassinnee vessels at sea. They sunk two of the vessels, and destroyed a number of the pirates, by the fire of their cannon. The rest were put to flight; and, when these accounts came away, the English cruizers still continued in pursuit.

"An English ship (some say the Macaulay and others the Minerva, we are uncertain which,) was attacked in the Gulph by a fleet of 4 or 5 dows and other smaller vessels. They fought for a long time; and near 200 of the people on board the dows were killed. Afterwards, however, the Joassinne took the ship, and put every man of the crew to the sword. They carried the ship with them into port; and found on board some sugar and other articles of Bengal produce. She was in a very shattered condition, and a great part of her cargo injured.

"No person, at this time, dares venture from hence to Busheer."

[The articles which follow would not be at all interesting to an Indian reader. Some slight mention is made of the wreck of a Bengal Ship, which we conclude to be the Arrao.]

The Victor Sloop of war, which parted from the Fleet of homeward-bound Indiaman shortly before the capture of the Streatham, arrived at Madras on the 30th ultimo.

By letters of the 6th current from Cawnpore, we learn, that, down even to that date, the weather continued extremely hot and sultry, and no rain had fallen.

On Sunday, Græme Mercer, Esq. Resident at the Court of Scindia, set out from Calcutta by water, on his return to his Residency.

The first half-yearly dividend on the jointstock shares of the Bank of Bengal, was made on Thursday last, at the rates of 9 49-64ths per Cent per annum, equal to Sicca Rupees 488 4 6 on each share.

At the Court of Vice-Admiralty held on Monday se'night, after judgment was given in the case of the Jefferson, the question between the Crown and Company in the case of the Burmah came on to be tried. The Hon. the Commissary was of opinion, that the Company, under the terms of their charter, had no right of prize in any war not originating in India. He therefore condemned the Burmah and cargo as Droits of Admiralty:—adjudging each party, in the present question, to pay his own costs.

On Tuesday, the Court sat again; when, a parcel of skins, the property of an American owner, which had been taken out of a Chinese junk by His Majesty's Ship Dover, was ordered to be restored, with costs and damages. Judgment was also given in the case of the Resource, a ship formerly belonging to this port, but captured two years ago by the French Frigate Piedmontese, and now recaptured by the Brig Bee, bearing letters of marque from the Supreme Government of India. The Court adjudged restoration of the Ship to her former underwriters, and (on the ground of the commission being illegal) condemned the cargo as a Droit of Admiralty; reserving, in both cases, a salvage of one sixth to the captors.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

The Country Ship Venus, Capt. Arnot, sailed from Saugor roads for Penang, on the 10th current.

The Bayne, Captain Nichol, one of the Ships freighted by Government for a voyage to Europe, passed Diamond Harbour on the 8th, and Kedgerie on the 10th current, in her way to Saugor. The Warren Hastings, Captain Macfarlane, is also on her passage down the river. Both vessels will take in the remainder of their cargoes; in the Roads.

The Canton, from China, came up to Calcutta on Friday; and saluted the Fort, as she passed.

The Eagle and Experiment of this port, are said to have left Penang on the 21th of May, in prosecution of their voyage to Manilla.

G. O. BY GOVERNMENT.

Fort St. George, June 13, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to permit Mr. Horsfman, Secretary to the Medical Board, to proceed to Trichinopoly on leave of absence for one month, and to direct that Mr. Assistant Surgeon Mackenzie take charge of that situation, during the absence of Mr. Horsfman from the Presidency.

June 16, 1809.

It having come to the knowledge of the Honourable the Governor in Council, that inconvenience has arisen to many Officers, particularly to Officers holding Staff appointments at some of the principal Stations of the army, by being subjected to retrenchments for signing bills and abstracts of subsistence, &c. to parties of troops or individuals either doing duty at, or passing thro' those stations;—and as this inconvenience has occurred from the omission of Paymasters to point out, or correct any errors in the bills or abstracts presented to them for payments, as enjoined in the 15th Paragraph of their instructions, which prescribes it to be “the duty of a Paymaster, in the first instance, carefully to check the abstracts or bills of established charges by the abstracts, muster rolls and certificates before he issues the amount.” The Honourable the Governor in Council is pleased to direct, that the strictest attention be paid in future to those orders; and with the view of ensuring a compliance with this essential part of the duty of a Paymaster. The Honourable the Governor in Council has resolved and accordingly directs, that from the 1st of July next, when a retrenchment on account of an error in addition or calculation, or from not being supported by the prescribed documents of the certificates of the last pay drawn, is made from an abstract of pay and allowances to a detachment or party of troops, not commanded by a European Commissioned Officer, or to an Individual European, or native Soldier, who either may be upon the route of march, or doing duty at a Station, it shall be the duty of the Military Auditor General to make such Retrenchment against the Paymaster, and not against the Staff Officer who Signed the Bill or Abstract.

And the Military Auditor General having reported to the Honourable the Governor in Council, that instances have occurred, of Paymasters upon this Establishment having, in disobedience to the instructions contained in the 28th Paragraph of instructions to Paymasters, taken upon themselves, after the receipt of a retrenchment of an unauthorized charge, again to disburse like charges; without receiving authority for so doing; The Honourable the Governor in Council cannot but express his displeasure at such conduct, and to prevent the recurrence of it in future, directs the Military Auditor General to retrench the amount of such charges, not from the Officer signing the abstract, but from the Paymaster, and to deduct the same from his estimate of the ensuing month.

By Order of the Honourable the Governor in Council.

LANDED AT MADRAS.

Mrs. Mary Rogers, Mrs. Sarah Best, Major Samuel Bailly, H. M. 56th regt.—Mr. Colin Rogers, Surgeon, Madras Establishment,—Mr. Francis Macquire, do. H. M. 69th regt. foot,—Lieutenants Thomas Wikinton, and John Sardon, 1st Ceylon regiment,—Ensign George Edwards, H. M. 69th regt. foot,—Mr. John Best, commissary,—Messrs. John Gerrard, James Buchanan, John James, and David Arncliffe, cadets.

His Majesty's Frigate La Clorinde arrived at Madras on the 4th of July, the day after the arrival of the Lord Melville. The other Indianmen anchored in the roads, on the morning of the 5th.

La Clorinde was detained for three weeks at the Cape of Good Hope, from whence she was charged with dispatches for the Commodore of the blockading Squadron off the Isle of France.

On approaching that island, however, the Squadron was not to be seen. It had left the station some weeks before, but returned on the same evening or the following morning.

La Clorinde sent a flag of truce on shore, for the purpose of effecting an exchange of some prisoners found on board a recaptured vessel, for an equal number of the crew of the Lord Melville. The Governor replied, that he would send an answer in the course of 6 hours. The Commander of the Clarinde, however, not chusing to incur any unnecessary delay, left the further arrangement of the business to the British Commodore, and proceeded forthwith on his voyage.

The condition of the Isle of France wore much less the appearance of distress, than we had been led to believe; and the crops of the ground were sufficiently abundant.

The Cannoe and Laurel had returned from their cruise. Two other French Frigates were also in the harbour.

A British Detachment, consisting of two Companies of the 55th Regiment, was in possession of the Island of Rodrigues.

Sir Edward Pellew, in His Majesty's ship Culloden, arrived at the Cape on the 4th of April, and was followed by the Terpsichore a day or two afterwards. The Harrier, sloop of war, is supposed to have perished, in the tremendous gale of wind, which the home-ward-bound fleet encountered; and the Nereide Frigate, had lost her masts in the same gale, and in consequence had been compelled to return to port.

The H. C. Ships Lord Duncan and Carnatic, which, in our Supplement issued this day, we erroneously stated to have arrived on Tuesday, did not actually reach Kedgee until yesterday afternoon.

The Purser, with part of the letters, from the Carnatic, has arrived in town.

PASSENGERS per Carnatic; Captain Swinton.—Miss Harriet Binfield, Miss Julia Gowan, Miss Maria Gowan, Miss Jane Barclay, Miss Frances Barclay, Miss Louisa Bird, Miss Sarah Bird, Mr. H. Middleton, Writer, Mr. J. Lamb, Assistant Surgeon, Messrs. Neil Campbell, Robert McDonald, W. B. Girdlestone, Cadets; Mr. John Eales, Mr. Robert Gregory, Mr. Williamson Natives.

Length 6 feet.

Breadth (including the Frante) 2 feet 8 inches.

J. ADAM, Act. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

FORT WILLIAM, JULY 8, 1809.

The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct, that the following regulation for the support of the Police in the Cantonments and Military Bazaars; for defining the powers of the Civil and Military Officers in the performance of that duty; and for fixing the local limits of the said Cantonments and Bazaars. —Passed by the Governor General in Council, on the 13th March 1809, corresponding with the 2d Chytle 1215 Bengalore; the 11th Chytle 1216 Fussily; the 3d Chytle 1216 Willaity; the 12th Chytle 1806 Sunbut; and the 25th Mohurram 1224 Higree; be published in General Orders for the information of the army.

I. Under the existing regulations, the charge of the Police in the Cantonments and Military Bazaars is vested in the Magistrates and their Officers. This arrangement having however been in some instances attended with the inconvenience, the following rules have accordingly been passed, for the more effectual support of the Police in places of that description; for defining the powers of the Civil and Military Officers in the performance of that duty, and for fixing the local limits of the Cantonments and Bazaars.

II. First. The support of the Police and the maintenance of the peace within the limit of the Cantonments and Military Bazaars (which are to be fixed in the manner hereafter stated) are hereby vested in the Officers Commanding the troops quartered at such places. The Commanding Officers will accordingly adopt the necessary measures, by means of the troops under their Command, for preventing as far as possible, the commission of thefts, robberies, murders, and other public crimes within the limits of the said Cantonments and Military Bazaars, and for the discovery and apprehension of persons who may at any time be guilty of any such acts.

Second. Nothing contained in the preceding rule shall however be construed to authorize the Commanding Officers of Cantonments, or the persons acting under their authority in the support of the Police, to interfere with respect to assaults and petty affrays, or other Offences of inferior magnitude, unless the persons guilty of those Offences, shall be apprehended in the actual commission of such acts.

Third. Any person apprehended under the preceding rules in any of the Cantonments or Military Bazaars, on account of the commission of any public crime or offence, shall be delivered over with all practicable expedition to the magistrate of the districts in which such Cantonments or Bazaars are situated, and the magistrate shall proceed against the accused in the manner prescribed by the general regulations.

111. First. If any person shall have a charge or complaint to prefer against any individual resident in any of the Cantonments or Military Bazaars, who may not have been already apprehended by the persons entrusted therein with the support of the Police, or if the charge or complaint be of a nature not to authorize those Officers under Clause Second of the preceding section, to interfere in it; the party deeming himself aggrieved, is at liberty to prefer his charges or complaint directly to the magistrate, who is hereby authorized and required to proceed with respect to it under the general regulations, in the same manner, as if the alleged crime or offence had been committed in any other part of his jurisdiction.

Second. Under the foregoing Clause, the Magistrates are of course empowered to issue their Warrants and summonses against any persons residing in the Cantonments and Military Bazaars, in the same manner as if such persons resided in any other part of their jurisdiction; and the Commanding Officers of stations are hereby required to afford every protection to the Officers of the Judges, Magistrates and Justice of the Peace, in the discharge of the duty entrusted to them, whether any special applications shall have been made to them for such aid or support, or otherwise.

11V. On receipt of this regulation, the limits of the Cantonments including the Military Bazaars attached thereto, at which any Division or Corps of the Army, or any considerable detachment, not being less than half a battalion, may be quartered, shall be fixed by the Commanding Officer in concert with the Magistrate. The Commanding Officer at each of those Stations will accordingly submit to Government, through the usual Channel, as soon as circumstances may conveniently admit, a report framed in concert with the Magistrate of the Districts in which the Cantonments, may be situated upon the local limits of the Cantonments, forwarding at the same time, any separate remarks which the Magistrate may wish to make on the subject, for the final orders of the Governor General in Council.

V. The above rules shall be considered applicable to all Cantonments, in which any considerable body of the Troops, not being less than half a battalion is quartered, whether the Cantonments be situated at the place of residence of the Judge and Magistrate, or in any other part of the District.

J. ADAM, Act. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

General Orders, by the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, JULY 15, 1809.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following Appointment:

Lieutenant Edward Gwatkin, of the 7th Regiment of Native Infantry, to be Aid-de-Camp to His Lordship, in the room of Lieutenant Mathew Stewart, from the 6th of May last.

J. ADAM, Act. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

Advices from the Cape of Good Hope announce the recapture of the ship Peggy of this port, taken off Ceylon in September last, by the French Frigate Caroline. This vessel was intercepted on the 15th of February last, near the island of Bourbon, by the Staunch gun-brig.

The brig Mungomah taken in May last by one of the enemy's cruisers, in her passage from hence to the Coast, is said to be re-captured by his Majesty's sloop of war Victor.

The following General Orders, announcing the intended departure of the Honorable the Governor General to Fort St. George, were published in an Extraordinary Gazette on Friday evening last.

FORT WILLIAM, JULY 20, 1809.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council has received private but authentic Advices, that Orders having been issued by Major General Gowdie, the Officer Commanding in Chief on the Coast, to Lieutenant Colonel Innes, Commanding at Masulipatam, directing the embarkation of one or more Detachments of the Madras European Regiment on board of His Majesty's Ships, for the purpose of serving as Marines, the Officers of the Station were induced to entertain the erroneous supposition, that the object of those Orders was to separate, and finally to disperse that Regiment,—a design which the Government of Fort St. George has formally and solemnly disavowed; and under the influence of this misapprehension, declared their resolution to resist the execution of them; that Lieutenant Colonel Innes having manifested a determination to enforce them, the Officers of the Garrison proceeded to the Barracks, and by personal representation, succeeded in seducing the Troops from their duty, and in obtaining from them a promise of support. That Major Storey, the next in command, who was then in the Cantonments, proceeded to the Garrison, and having endeavoured without success to induce Lieutenant Colonel Innes to depart from the obligation of his public duty, by abandoning his resolution to carry into effect the Orders which he had received, adopted the extreme measure of placing that Officer in Arrest under the charge of European Sentries.

The Governor General in Council has deemed it necessary to apprise the Army of Bengal, of an event so deeply interesting to the feelings of every loyal Subject, and especially of those who have the honor to bear a Military Commission. The Governor General in Council has received with sentiments of the deepest affliction, the intelligence of the excesses into which the Officers of the Station of Masulipatam have thus been gradually led by the effects of the late prevailing agitation in the Army of the Coast. He trusts, however, that this unhappy event will afford a serious, but salutary warning of the danger to which the combined interests of the Public and the Army must ever be exposed, by the first and slightest departure from the established principles of Military discipline on the one hand, and on the other, of a just subordination to the Laws of their Country, and to the legitimate Authority of the State.

The occurrence of this afflicting event, combined with the agitation which unhappily prevails among the Officers of the Army of Fort St. George, renders it the duty of the Governor General to proceed without delay to that Presidency, in the hope of being enabled successfully to appeal to those sentiments of Loyalty and Attachment to their King and their Country, which His Lordship in Council yet confidently ascribes to the General Body of the Officers of the Coast Army, whose zeal, fidelity, and professional achievements have hitherto been the theme of just and unqualified applause, and by an accurate knowledge of all circumstances which have attended the late agitation, to devise such means as may best tend to avert the impending dangers of anarchy and insubordination, and re-establish the foundations of Public Security and National Prosperity in this important Branch of the British Empire.

N. B. EDMONSTONE,

Chief Sec. to Govt.

His Lordship will proceed to Madras on His Majesty's Ship Dover. He is expected to embark from this Presidency on Friday, and will be accompanied to the Coast by the following gentlemen, viz. N. B. Edmonstone, Esq. Chief Secretary to Government, John Monckton, Esq. Secretary in the Persian Department. The Hon. John Elliot, Private Secretary to the Governor General, C. T. Metcalfe and Patrick Moir, Esquires, Captain Gall, Commanding Officer of His Lordship's Body Guard, and Captains Barry and Campbell, Lieutenants Aylmer, Gwatkin and Webber, Aides-de-Camp. A detachment of the Body Guard also proceeds with His Lordship, in the H. C. Ship General Stewart.

Previous to his departure for the Coast, Lord Minto will hold a levee at the Government House, on Wednesday morning next, at the usual hour.

His Majesty's sloop of war Samarang passed up the river on Thursday, and has since been hauled into Mr. Smith's dock for repair. As she passed the Fort, she received the customary salute.

The ship Harriet has been taken up by Government as a cartel; and will proceed shortly from hence to the Isle of France, for an exchange of prisoners.

His Majesty's ship Dozer, Captain Tucker, dropped down the river on Wednesday, and received a salute from the ramparts in passing.

Government, it is said, have provided a passage for the New Zealand Princess Atokoe, and her husband, on board the ship Union, which proceeds from hence on a voyage to New South Wales, in the course of the ensuing month.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

LIST OF PASSENGERS, arrived on the H. C. Ship Lord Duncan, Captain Bradford.

G. O. BY GOVERNMENT.

Fort St. George, June 16, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council having received certificates of the continued ill state of health of Lieutenant Newall, of the 4th Regiment Native Cavalry, and Ensign Leigh of the 2d Regiment Native Infantry, in which those officers are declared to be incapable of returning to their duty in this country, is in consequence pleased to authorize their residence at the Cape of Good Hope, so long as may be requisite for their recovery.

June 20, 1809.

• In consequence of the long and faithful services of Soobidar Mahomud Surwar of the 1st Regiment Native Cavalry, and Soobidar Noor Sahib of the 1st Battalion 16th Regiment Native Infantry, and of the testimonies they have produced of their general good conduct and attachment to the Service. The Honorable the Governor in Council has been pleased to direct that a Palanqueen must be presented in the name of the Honorable Company to each of these Officers, as a mark of his approbation of their services, with an allowance of 20 Pagodas each per month to maintain these equipages.

• The Governor in Council is further pleased to reward the services of Soobidar Mahomud Surwar, by directing that the amount of that Officer's present pay shall be continued as a Pension for life to the nearest heir of the Soobidar on his decease.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to permit Lieutenant Bond of the 2d Battalion 16th Regiment Native Infantry, to proceed to Bombay on leave of absence for six months.

The Governor in Council appoints Lieutenant Colonel Symons of the 17th Regiment Native Infantry, to be President of the Seringapatam Prize Committee, vice Lieutenant Colonel Clarke appointed to the Command of the Cantonment at St. Thomas's Mount.

The Governor in Council is pleased to direct that the provisions of the G. O. published on the 20th November 1808, shall be considered equally applicable in all respects to both the corps of Horse and Foot Artillery.

June 23, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to appoint Major General Croker to be a Major General on the Staff of this establishment and to Command in the Ceded Districts.

June 24, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to direct, that the Batta and other Allowances for June and the pay for July of the Troops at the Presidency and the other Stations of the Army, shall be issued on the 6th of July, and on the following days.

By Order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

JULY 12, 1809.

* His Majesty's Ship Clarinda, fell in, off the Mauritius, with the Nereide Frigate, which had recently taken a brig, with some Frenchmen and Lascars on board. This vessel is supposed to be the brig which the French prisoners, who escaped from Bombay, ran away with on the Malabar Coast. The Lascars were put on board the Clorinde, and are arrived at this port.

Some men of the Nereide had been tried at the Cape for mutiny. One had been hanged, and the others were pardoned. Captain Corbett had also been tried on a charge of too great severity in discipline, and had been sentenced to be reprimanded. Lieutenant Willoughby, of the Otter Sloop of War, had also been tried, on charges of tyranny, of which he was honorably acquitted.

Sir Edward Pellew in the Culloden, arrived at the Cape, 4th April, and the Terpsichore Frigate a few days after. The H. C. Ship Pis, had also reached the Cape, much damaged. Seven of the homeward bound Indiamen appeared in Table Bay, and made signals to the Admiral; by whom they were permitted to proceed to St. Helena, without coming to an anchor at the Cape. We hear that all the Ships of that Fleet, are accounted for except the Fane Du hess of Gordon, which is supposed to have proceeded, after the Hurricane, to St. Helena direct.

EXTRACT FROM GENERAL ORDERS.

BOMBAY, SATURDAY, 13th MAY, 1809.

By the Commanding Officer of the Forces.

The General Court Martial of which Major General Forbes Champagné is President, having tried Lieut. Colonel H. S. Keating of 2d Battalion His Majesty's 56th Regiment, on the following charges, preferred against him by Captain W. E. Frye, of the 1st Battalion 56th Regiment, 1st Charge. For taking out of the hands of Captains and Officers in charge of Companies; the supplying of their men with necessaries in the embarkation of the 2d Battalion 56th Regiment for India, and for receiving a per centage or premium to a considerable amount on the aforesaid necessaries to the detriment of the Soldier, such conduct being highly injurious to the service in direct opposition to His Majesty's regulations and contrary to the Articles of War.

2d Charge. For detaining unnecessarily or causing to be detained, left or deposited in the hands of others by his orders, Sums of Money, the property of Individuals or of Government, being a violation of the Articles of War.

3d Charge. For mustering and drawing pay for, or causing to be mustered and pay to be drawn for a Man by name Laurenz, who has never been enlisted or attested for the Regiment, by which a false muster has been made in violation of the Articles of War.

• Adjutant General's Office, 14th March, 1809.

By Order of the Commanding Officer of the Forces.

(Signed) ROBERT GORDON, Adj. Gen.

The Court passed the following Sentence and opinion.

The Court having maturely considered the evidence for and against the prosecution, together with what the Prisoner Lieutenant Colonel Keating has alledged in his defence, are of the following opinions on the respective charges preferred against him viz.

1st CHARGE.

The Court are of opinion that the prisoner is not guilty, and do therefore fully, and Honorably acquit him of the Charge.

2d CHARGE.

On this Charge, the Court are of opinion, on reference to the specific Item of accusation as recorded on their proceedings, that the prisoner is guilty of having allowed some balances of Bounties left by deserters, amounting to £. 9 Rs. 4½d. to be placed in the Regimental fund, thereby incurring an irregularity of conduct without any corrupt intentions, which appear, under all circumstance, to be directed to the Interest of the Soldier and good of the Service.

With respect to all other parts of this charge as specified by the Prosecutor, the Court do most fully and honorably acquit the prisoner.

3d CHARGE.

On this Charge the Court are of opinion that the Prisoner is not guilty, and do therefore in the fullest and most honorable manner acquit him of the same.

Having found the Prisoner Guilty of an irregularity of conduct as stated on the 2d Charge, and Considering the same a Breach of the articles of War, in such Cases made and provided, the Court do sentence him the said Lieutenant Colonel Keating to credit the Sum of £. 29 Rs. 4½d. to the public, and to be privately admonished by the Commanding Officer of the Forces.

“ Having performed their duty in awarding the Sentence
 “ as above recorded, the Court feel themselves imperiously “ called upon to animadvert on the General Conduct of “ Captain Frye, which appears from the tenor of the prosecution, to have been influenced by personal ill will and “ animosity towards Lieutenant Colonel Keating, and that “ the Charges he has thought proper to prefer against that “ deserving and incitorious Officer, with the exception " of the slight irregularity already noticed appear to be " highly frivolous and vexatious, and in no degree submitted " for Investigation on those public motives which he has

 " avowed, and by which he ought to have been actuated."

The Commanding Officer of the Forces approves and Confirms the above Sentence, and in the perfect Conviction of Lieutenant Colonel Keating's upright motives in placing the balance of Bounties in the Regimental fund, he remits the admonition awarded by the Court to be Communicated by him to that Officer.

The Commanding Officer of the Forces is precluded from making any observations on the trial by the Indicrous and appropriate remark of the Court, in whose sentiments of the prosecution, he is sorry to say he must join, from a Conviction of its Justice and propriety.

With these sentiments and a due Consideration to other circumstances which appear on the trial, the Commanding Officer of the Forces is determined to lay the proceedings before His Majesty by the first opportunity.

Lieutenant Colonel Keating to be immediately released from his arrest.

The General Court Martial of which Major General Forbes Champagne is President is dissolved.

BOMBAY,—JULY 1, 1809.

By the Honorable Governor in Council.

BOMBAY CASTLE, 10th JUNE, 1809. °

The Honorable the Governor in Council adverting to the expediency of extending the utmost protection to the Honorable Company's Landholders and Ryots within the Province of Guzerat; and of inspiring them with the firmest confidence in the care that the British Government is desirous to exert towards their welfare, and security:—is pleased to avail himself for these purposes of the Provisions already in force under the Presidency of Bengal; by ordering that Officers either Civil or Military, or any Persons to whom Escorts of Sepoys or Soldiers may be allowed, when travelling through the Honorable Company's districts, do abstain from sending such Soldiers or Sepoys into the Villages, for the purpose of procuring Supplies, or of pressing Coolies or Carts. Every Town and Village upon proper application to the Comavisdar Patell or the head person in it, will, in consequence of instructions from the British Magistrates of the several Zillas or Divisions, furnish such assistance in those respects as they may be capable of affording; and the Honorable the Governor in Council doubts not, that by attention to the present Order, and to the observances required by the General Orders of the 22d April 1806, and 27th February 1808, particularly in furnishing timely notice to the Magistrate of the halting Stations of all Military parties on their march, such parties or Corps, will readily obtain the requisite supplies and assistance; and thereby render unnecessary all unpleasant and indecorous recourse to measures of coercion.

In the event, however, of the Comavisdar Patell or headman of the Village failing in any case to afford the requisite supplies, on his required payment being tendered to him for that purpose, information is to be immediately sent to the Magistrate of the Zilla, who will not fail duly to punish, by fine or removal, according to the circumstances of the case, such inattentive and contumacious resistance to the beneficial object of the present arrangement.

In instances of supposed overcharges by the Patell or headman of the Village, on the party requiring assistance, the latter is to lose no time in reporting the particulars thereof to the Magistrate who will immediately cause justice to be done in the premises.

In order to allow of time for this Regulation being carried usefully into effect; the date of its commencement and operation is fixed from the 1st of September next.

BOMBAY CASTLE, JUNE 24, 1809.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to direct, that the following further appointments take place in the Detachment under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Walker in Kallywar to have effect from the 1st instant, viz.

Capt. Samuel Greenwood, to be Paymaster to the Detachment and to draw for his establishment on honor.

Capt. Henry Smith, to be Commissary of Bazaars, Lieutenant James Preston, to be Deputy Commissary of Bazaars.

BOMBAY, CASTLE JUNE 26, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to permit Lieutenant Drummond of the Engineer Corps to proceed to Europe on furlough, for the recovery of his health.

BOMBAY CASTLE, JUNE 27, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to appoint Lieutenant D. A. Willis, of the 9th Regiment N. I. to be Ort Adjutant of Bombay, Keeper of the fire Engines and Inspector of the Pension List from the 15th of the present month, vice Fallon proceeded to Europe.

Captain John A. Kempe of the 4th Regt. N. I. is appointed to succeed Lieutenant Livingstone, as acting Commissary of Buzars in the Attacheely during the absence of Lieutenant Davies.

By Order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council,

W. NEWNHAM, Sec. to the Govt.

The Committee appointed at a General Meeting of the Inhabitants of this Settlement, assembled at the Court House on the 31st of August 1805, pursuant to a public Advertisement from the Sheriff, for the purpose of considering of an address to the Most Noble Marquis Wellesley on the occasion of his departure for Europe—having had the honour to receive a communication from the Honorable the Governor, with the answer which Lord Wellesley has been pleased to return to the address—the whole of the papers are now published for General information.

To the Committee of the British Inhabitants of Bombay, appointed to prepare an address to the most Noble the Marquis Wellesley, in the year 1805.

GENTLEMEN;

I have the honor to forward Copies of my Correspondence with the Most Noble Marquis Wellesley, late Governor General of India, on the occasion of the Address to him from the British Inhabitants of this Settlement in the year 1805, together with his Lordship's original reply thereto.

I remain Gentlemen,

Your very Obedient humble Servant,

JONATHAN DUNCAN,

Bombay, 27th June, 1809.

To

MARQUIS WELLESLEY, K. P. & K. C. &c. &c. &c.
LONDON,

MY LORD,

In pursuance of the unanimous resolution of the British Inhabitants of this Settlement, regularly called together, to consider of an Address to your Lordship, on the occasion of your Lordship's departure from India, I have the pleasure to forward (in charge of Captain Dengis Mahony, a Captain of Infantry on this Establishment, who enjoys already, the honor of your Lordship's acquaintance) the signed Address thus voted, in testimony of their sense, of the merits, of your Lordship's very important, and eventful administration.

I have the honor to remain with great respect,

MY LORD,

Your Lordship's Most obedient humble Servant,

J. DUNCAN.

BOMBAY, 22d February, 1806.

To

RICHARD MARQUIS WELLESLEY,

Knight of the Most Illustrious Order of Saint Patrick, &c. &c.

MY LORD,

We the undersigned British Inhabitants of Bombay, beg leave to offer our grateful acknowledgements to your Lordship, at the close of your eventful and brilliant administration.

With the same sincerity and in the same spirit of independence, which has actuated us in our congratulations to your Noble Successor, we now present ourselves to your Lordship.

The British character, is not so far corrupted in us, that we can pay homage to more power and greatness. It is, therefore, with pleasure, that we abuse this unsuspected ment, for declaring our unfeigned sense of the claims on Public admiration and gratitude, which your splendid abilities and unwearied exertions in the cause of your Country, have so gained for you, during your memorable Government of India.

We earnestly wish that your Lordship's voyage to Europe, may be safe and prosperous, and, that the active zeal which has marked your career abroad, may soon find scope for its exercise at home.

We are confident, that your Lordship will ever find a happiness, worthy of you, in the memory of your important services: in the renewal of your intercourse, with illustrious and accomplished friends: in Literature, which you have not only liberally patronized, but most successfully cultivated—and above all, in the performance of those Duties, public as well as private, of which, the number is increased, and the obligations strengthened by your distinguished talents and eminent station, and the active discharge of which, is the safest and most pure source of enjoyment, which it has pleased Divine Providence to allot to Mankind.

Signed by 137 Inhabitants of Bombay.
BOMBAY, 31st August, 1805.

To
THE HONBLE JONATHAN DUNCAN, E. Q. &c. &c. &c.
BOMBAY.

APLEY HOUSE,
September 8th, 1808.

SIR,

Captain Mahony has delivered to me, your Letter dated the 22d of February 1806, transmitting to me an address from the Inhabitants of the Settlement of Bombay, to which I now have the honor to transmit a reply. I request you to have this goodness to communicate that reply to the Gentlemen, who signed the address, at such time and in such a manner, as may tend to manifest my high sense of the favor, which they have conferred upon me, and as may be consistent with the public interests intrusted to your care.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient & faithful servt. (Signed) WELLESLEY.

To
The British Inhabitants of the Settlement OF BOMBAY.

GENTLEMEN,

The Hon'ble the Governor of Bombay, has transmitted to me the highly valuable expressions, of public approbation and personal esteem, with which you have been pleased to favor me, in your public address of the 21st of August 1805. The sentiments conveyed in that address, have raised the warmest emotions of my respect, gratitude, and attachment.

In every situation, at every moment of my life, I shall cherish an affectionate remembrance of your constant exertions for the public service, of the zeal, with which you aided my Administration in every difficulty and danger, and of the generous and honorable testimony, by which you have marked its close. You may be assured that with the strongest sense of your personal kindness and regard, I shall ever retain the most anxious solicitude for the prosperity of your public spirited and flourishing Settlement.

(Signed) WELLESLEY.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

On Sunday evening, advices were received in town, announcing the arrival of the American brig Gulliver, Captain Dutton, at Kedgerree. This vessel sailed from Boston on the 25th of March.

The Gulliver cleared out for the West Coast of Sumatra. She left Soosoo on the 9th current, at which time, several other American merchantmen, which had sailed about the same time with the Gulliver, had also arrived on the Coast.

The affairs of the kingdom of Cabul continue still in the same unsettled state, as when we last brought them under the notice of our readers. We have been favoured with the perusal of private letters from Peshour, of so late a date as the 7th of June; and still more recent intelligence has reached us through the channel of the Native newspapers. It was on the morning of the 7th of June, that Soojah, for the first time, actually quitted the palace on his projected expedition to Cabul. He was to pass that day in his tents, a little more than half a mile distant from Peshour; but would return again towards evening, and pass the night in the haram. It was given out, that five more days and nights would be consumed in the same manner, and, that then the King would advance to a place about five coss distant, from whence, after a further delay of two days, he would commence his march against the rebels in good earnest. Could we trust, indeed, to the reports of the latest akhbars, he had materially abridged the period of his proposed stay in the gardens of Alee Merwan Khan (where his tents were pitched,) and had finally set out on his journey, two days after quitting the palace. The continual contradiction and inaccuracy however of these reports forbid all confidence in their authenticity.

Mahmood Shah, with his army, according to the ukhbars, had advanced considerably beyond Dera-khoor, at which place his son Khamran had a conference with the Afghan Chieftains of the adjoining country. Every account concurs in representing the pecuniary distresses of Mahmood as very great. The oppressions which these necessities, acting on a character and temper naturally bad, had tempted him to exercise, were little calculated to conciliate the affections of the people. A general disgust is said to have been the consequence; and several pressing invitations, accompanied with proffers of assistance, had been sent to Soojah from Cabul, intreating him to come to their deliverance. Little reliance however could be placed on such professions.

A better ground of hope had arisen from the divisions of the rebel army. According to our private accounts, it was generally believed at Peshour, that Mahmood had given great cause of discontent among his retainers, by imprisoning a chieftain whom he suspected of favouring the views of Soojah-ul-Moolk, and at the same time robbing the people in his service of their horses, arms and accoutrements. Many, it was added, had in consequence deserted, and were expected to join the party of the Padshah. These accounts derive some confirmation from the ukhbars, which probably allude to the same occurrences, when they state, that Mahmood Shah had placed in confinement the nephew of Ahmed Shah, under an apprehension that he intended to betray him to Soojah,—and, that Rustum Khan Dooranee, with some thousand followers, had quitted the standard of Futeh Khan, the principal Sirdar in Mahmood's service.

Atta Mahommed Khan, Soobahdar of Cashmere, according to the last advices, was still at Baramoollah. The Hindoostan newspapers continue to represent him as penitent, and well disposed, on a promise of pardon, to return to his allegiance. He had lately made a remittance of money to Soojah, by hoondees on Peshour.

We mentioned in a former paper, that the Infantry of Mr. Elphinstone's escort, with the heavy baggage of the Embassy, were either about to march or had actually marched for Attoc. We now find however, that, just on the eve of their intended departure, the order was countermanded, at the special request of the King. Though the British Government had taken no part in the civil war, the very name and presence of an English Ambassador gave a degree of consequence to the reigning sovereign, and had materially contributed to deter Mahmood from coming down to Peshour, at the time when the defeat and dispersion of his army in Cashmere had left his rival in a state of utter destitution. Of this advantage, the Court of Soojah were sufficiently sensible.

As soon as the King should take his final leave of Peshour, Mr. Elphinstone, with his suite and escort, would set out for the fortress of Attoc, where they would for some time take up their abode, and await the issue of the contest. The women of the harag were also to be removed to the same fortress. The latest ukhbara report (we know not with what truth) the actual arrival of Mr. Elphinstone at Attoc. Mr. Strachey, first Assistant to the Embassy; it is added, was to accompany the Padshah to Cabul. The design of sending two of the gentlemen of the Embassy to Bombay by the route of the Indus, had been abandoned as impracticable.

Since writing the above, we have heard of private letters from the Embassy being received in town, dated at the fort of Attoc.

We learn from a private communication, that, at the particular request of the King and his Prime Minister, the English escort (consisting of 5 companies of Infantry and half a troop of Cavalry) had lately been reviewed in their presence. The troops acquitted themselves extremely well, and much to the admiration and astonishment of the Vizier in particular, and of all the assembled Doorannee chieftains. The Vizier, after expressing himself in terms of the highest approbation, concluded by remarking, that, if the Doorannees were only so disciplined, they would “set the whole world at defiance.” This review took place, on the anniversary of His Majesty’s birth day.

The late letters from the Embassy complain grievously of the heat of the climate. The thermometer, in their upper apartments, stood frequently at 104°. The gentlemen of the mission continued in general however to enjoy good health;—though they had nearly forgot the comforts of European living,—even their stock of wine being completely exhausted. Notwithstanding every unfavourable circumstance, they were still willing to anticipate the ultimate success of Soojah, and the prospect which that would open of a visit to Cabul and Candahar. Their communication with the Company’s Provinces had latterly been more uncertain than ever,—many of the dawks having been cut off.

Runjeet Sing, according to the last accounts, was at Funnan-kote, where his head-quarters had been fixed for some time. The disputes, in which he had been engaged with the eastern mountaineers, still remained undetermined;—both Sungsar Chund and the chiefs of the Gorugs being equally untractible. Runjeet had given orders to his Sirdars to march against the Gorugs, and proposed immediately to follow them in person. The Rajah of Noorpore, who had joined with the other Rajahs of the country in soliciting Runjeet’s interference, had offered to assist him with his followers.

While the negotiations were still going forward, the nakhbars inform us, that news arrived in Runjeet’s camp, of a partial action having taken place between the Gorugs and a body of the Seik troops. The former, it is said, issued from their place of encampment in the midst of night, and made an attack on a detachment commanded by two Sirdars, named Hookma Sing and Gundah Sing. The Seiks opened their fire: but, owing to the darkness of the night, they were unable to distinguish between friend and foe. Many of them in consequence lost their lives, and two or three of Runjeet’s Jomahdars were wounded. Upon the whole, the issue of the affair was favourable to the Gorugs.

Sungar Chund's vakeels had quitted Runjeet's camp, and were accompanied by Futteh Sing, who was deputed by Runjeet, with full powers to settle every existing difference with their master.

The Rajah of Jaypore has at length contrived to make good the instalment of tribute due to Scindia, by putting his jewels to pawn. The money has been paid to Scindia's gomastahs, who accordingly took leave of the Rajah's Court on the 13th of June.

The Mohuttummeds of Dookhul are said to have subscribed an engagement, by which they agree to pay, in satisfaction of Scindia's demands, the sum of six lacs of Rupees in several instalments.

Scindia himself still continued stationary at Shahpoor. He had recalled Juggoo Baboo and Baptiste from the Jaypore country, with the intention, as was supposed, of sending their forces, under the command of Bala Rao, to levy the chout at Joudpore. He, meanwhile, had dispatched the brother of Bala Rao to Ajmeer, and had determined, as we understand, in council with his Sirdars, to march shortly in person towards the same place,—it being a convenient and commanding position, from whence he can collect the chout from all the surrounding chieftains of the Rajpoot tribes.

The detachment lately on service in the Hurrianah country, under Major Knox, having dispersed the banditti against whom they were sent, returned to the cantonments at Rewasree on the 2d current. On the 6th, orders were issued, directing the formation of a fresh detachment, to act against certain other refractory Zemindars in the same quarters. The Mowza of Bowallee is mentioned in a late Delhi ukbhar as the object of their expedition; and the strength of the force to be employed is stated at 3 battalions of Infantry and a party of Artillery.

The Honourable the Governor General held a levee at the Government-house on Wednesday last, previous to his departure for Madras. It was numerously attended by the principal European gentlemen of the settlement.

Brigadier General Malcolm has arrived, we understand, at Masulipatam, and assumed the command of the garrison. Lieut. Colonel Innes has been released from the arrest, in which he was placed by his officers.

In consequence of the instructions of the Court of Directors, the ship-owners in the Port of Calcutta have received the permission of Government to send their ships to England, with cargoes of cotton.—The following vessels have accordingly been mentioned as about to avail themselves of this indulgence; viz. the Fort William, Canton, Matilda, Thetis, General Wellesley, and Margaret. It is to be hoped, that the partial removal of the restrictions on the American commerce may not be fatal to the prospects, under which these vessels undertake their voyage.

Hugh Hope, Esq. of the Hon. Company's Civil service, proceeds from hence, we understand, to the Isle of France, in the Harriet cartel, as Commissary of prisoners.

The newspapers of last week mention a suicide committed at Chandernagore, by a French gentleman, named Chambon. The act is said to have been perpetrated in a temporary fit of insanity.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

Yesterday se'enight, arrived in the river, the Ship Eliza, Captain Babcock, from Bombay the 28th of June, and Madras the 17th ultimo. PASSENGERS: Mrs. Pingle; Mrs. Kinsey; Miss Hyde; Captains Harrower, Kinsey, and Pavin, of the country service; and Mr. Erskine.

The Portsea, Captain Carroll, from Esquimaux the 18th ultimo, passed Kedgeree inwards, on Thursday:

His Majesty's Ship Dover reached Kedgeree on Friday at 4 P. M. and dropped down to the anchorage at Saugor on the day following.

The Ships, Warren Hastings, Boync, and Providence, are the only other vessels now remaining in Saugor roads.

The Daphne, Captain Harman, from Penang, is stated to have touched a few days ago at Ganjam, and, after landing dispatches there for the Supreme Government, to have proceeded on her voyage to Bencoolen.

July 6, 1809.

The Officer Commanding the Army having received officially the annexed General Order dated Horse Guards, 1st February 1809, is pleased to publish it to the army of the establishment of Fort St. George.

Major General Gowdie feels sensible, that it would be superfluous in him to offer his sentiments to the army on such an occasion, every Officer knows how to appreciate the distinguished military character and talents of the late Lieutenant General SIR JOHN MOORE, and every British Soldier will emulate the virtue and glory that must ever render the memory of that illustrious Officer dear to our Country.

GENERAL ORDERS.

The benefits derived to an army from the example of a distinguished Commander, do not germinate at his death: his virtues live in the recollection of his associates, and his fame remains the strongest incentive to great and glorious action.

In this view, the Commander in Chief, amidst the deep and universal regret, which the death of LIEUT. GENERAL SIR JOHN MOORE has occasioned, recalls to the troops the military career of that illustrious Officer for their instruction and imitation.

SIR JOHN MOORE from his youth embraced the profession with the feelings and sentiments of a soldier;—he felt that a perfect knowledge, and an exact performance of the humble, but important duties of a Subaltern Officer, are the best foundations for subsequent military fame; and his ardent mind, while it looked forward to those brilliant achievements, for which it was formed, applied itself, with energy and exemplary assiduity, to the duties of that station.

In the school of regimental duty, he obtained that correct knowledge of his profession so essential to the proper direction of the gallant spirit of the soldier; and he was enabled to establish a characteristic order and regularity of conduct, because the troops found in their leader a striking example of the discipline, which he enforced on others.

Having risen to command, he signalized his name in the West Indies, in Holland, and in Egypt. The unremitting attention with which he devoted himself to the duties of every branch of his profession, obtained him the confidence of SIR RALPH ABERCROMBY, and he became the companion in arms of that illustrious Officer, who fell at the head of his victorious troops, in an action which maintained our national superiority over the arms of France.

Thus SIR JOHN MOORE at an early period obtained, with general approbation, that conspicuous station, in which he gloriously terminated his useful and honourable life.

In a military character obtained amidst the dangers of climate, the privations incident to service, and the sufferings of repeated wounds, it is difficult to select any one point as a preferable subject for praise; it exhibits, however, one feature so particularly characteristic of the man, and so important to the best interest of the service, that the Commander in Chief is pleased to mark it with his peculiar approbation;

The Life of SIR JOHN MOORE was spent amongst the Troops.

During the season of repose, his time was devoted to the care and instruction of the Officer and soldier; in war, he courted service in every quarter of the globe. Regardless of personal considerations, he esteemed that to which his country called him, the Post of Honour, and by his undaunted spirit and unconquerable perseverance, he pointed the way to victory.

His country, the object of his latest Solicitude, will rear a Monument to his lamented Memory, and the Commander in Chief feels he is paying the best tribute to his Fame by thus holding him forth as an EXAMPLE to the Army.

By Order of His Royal Highness the Commander in Chief.

BOMBAY,—JULY 8, 1809.

*General Orders, by the Honourable the Governor in Council.
BOMBAY CASTLE, JUNE 29, 1809.

The Honourable the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for the information of the army under this Presidency, the following Paragraphs of a General Letter from the Honourable the Court of Directors in the Military Department under date the 13th January 1809, viz.

Par. 31.—We have permitted Lieut. Harvey, to return to his rank on your Establishment, and have allowed him the sum of £55 for his passage back to Bombay.

4th.—Captain Robert Webb, of the Bombay Establishment, who it appears has been prevented from returning to his duty within the prescribed period by illness, occasioned by the wounds he received at the storming of Seringapatam, has likewise received our permission to return with his rank; such permission having received the approbation and concurrence of the Right Honourable the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India agreeably to the Act of the 33d of His Majesty Chap. 52, Sec. 70.

5th.—Lieut. Col. M. Brattan, retired from the service on the 2d September last.

6th.—Capt. J. W. Eldridge, has our permission to remain another year in England.

7th.—We have considered your recommendation in favour of the late Lieut. Deschamps, dismissed the service by sentence of a Court Martial, as advised in the 80th and 81st Paragraphs of your letter in the Military Department of the 20th February 1808, and being willing to believe, that this Gentleman's misconduct proceeded more from inadvertence than from criminal intention, and having also adverted to his general good character, we have resolved to restore Lieut. Deschamps to his rank in the service, but his pay is not to commence until his arrival at Bombay. We take it for granted however, that so much of the sentence, as directed Lieut. Deschamps to refund the value of the Stores has been carried into effect, and we trust that the predicament in which he has been placed by his own imprudence, will operate as a salutary warning to him in future, to abstain most scrupulously from any attempt at the acquisition of unauthorised emoluments, more especially if derived from sources discreditable to his character or incompatible with the honourable feeling of a soldier.

8th.—We have resolved to appoint forty-four Cadets for the Infantry on your Establishment.

9th.—We have also resolved to appoint twelve Assistant Surgeons for your Presidency; and shall likewise appoint fifty-six Cadets for our Artillery or Engineer Corps in India, who will receive an education suitable for Cadets intended for either of these Corps. Their destination for the several Presidencies will depend on the existing deficiencies at each, when they are reported qualified.

10th.—Mr. Lenox J. Frederick a Cadet for our Artillery or Engineer Corps on the Bombay Establishment having been reported to us by the proper Officer at Woolwich as qualified for a Commission, he proceeds to his duty this season and is to take rank in our service next after Mr. John Gordon.

11th.—Mr. James Morrison has our permission to proceed to Bombay to practise as a Surgeon, and to succeed as an Assistant Surgeon. His rank will be settled at a future period.

BOMBAY CASTLE, JUNE 30, 1809.

The Honourable the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that the following appointments take place in the Department of the Military Board, in consequence of the appointment of Mr. John Williams, to other Offices, viz.

Mr. William Newnham to be Secretary and Accountant, vice Williams promoted.

Mr. Evan Lloyd, to be 1st Assistant, vice Newnham.

Mr. James Henderson, to be 2d Assistant, vice Lloyd.

BOMBAY CASTLE, JULY 4, 1809.

In consequence of the death of Captain Edmund Armstrong of the 9th Regiment N. I. the Honourable the Governor in Council directs that the following promotions take place.

The Governor General in Council has much pleasure in publishing the following reports which have been submitted to him respecting the qualifications of Gentlemen Cadets removing from the Establishment at Barrasat, for the purpose of joining Corps of the Army; and of some of those still remaining at that Institution.

THE CALCUTTA MONTHLY JOURNAL.

To CAPTAIN McLEOD,
Commanding the Cadet Company, at Barrasut.

SIR,

We have the honor to report, that we this-day, Examined Thirty-six of the Gentlemen Cadets on their proficiency in the Hindoostanee Language, and have the satisfaction to state, that the following are qualified to join their respective Corps, viz.

Messrs. Drummond,
T. Williams,
Hodgson, Bateman, Schalch,
R. H. Phillips,
Charters,
Sim,

Messrs. Bunbury,
Thomas,
Turner,
Harding,
R. S. Phillips,
Thornton, Casement,
Taylor.

In justice to the merits of Messrs. Drummond and Williams we deem it our duty to notice, that they stand eminently distinguished by the accuracy of their Translation, from Hindoostanee into English, and from English into Hindoostanee and by the thorough knowledge which they have evinced of the principles of Hindoostanee Grammar.

The proficiency attained by Messrs. Hodgson, Bateman, Schalch, R. H. Phillips, Charters, Sim, and Bunbury, is also deserving of particular commendation.

From the progress already made by the remainder of the Gentlemen Examined this day we doubt not that a short period of diligent application will qualify them for the public Service.

We are, &c.

GENERAL POST OFFICE, }
July 27, 1809.

TO THE COMMANDERS OF THE HONORABLE EAST INDIA COMPANY'S SHIPS.

Saville-Row. Walworth, No. 3, 1808.

As the Honorable Company's Ships frequently navigate between Bencoolen and different parts of India, particularly from thence to Prince of Wales Island, to prevent dangerous consequences to any of the Company's Ships that frequent the West Coast of Sumatra, I consider it prudent to point out a dangerous innovation in the Charts recently published, which comprehend that Coast and the adjacent Islands.

In the charts lately published in the country, the northern extremity of the island called Good Fortune, or Pora, or See Beeroo, is laid down in lat. 1° 56' S. leaving a wide channel, or space of open sea between it and Minton, the nearest island to the northwestward, of from 82 to 90 miles; whereas the breadth of this channel is only 8 leagues, with a dangerous reef nearly in the middle of it.

Good Fortune or Pora, instead of being a small island, as represented in the modern charts, with its northern extremity in lat. 1° 56' S. the true latitude of this extreme, is, 0° 56' S. it being of great extent, projecting one degree more to the northward than placed on those charts.

M. De Apres, in his Neptune Oriental, published in 1775, has laid down the northern extremity of the abovementioned island, in lat. 1° 2' S. which is only 6 miles to the southward of its true situation; it seems therefore, that nearly a degree of latitude has been taken from it by modern hydrographers without good authority.

Captain Welstead left Bencoolen in the Alfred, 22d October, 1807, bound to China by Malacca Strait; having a new chart of this island, and West Coast of Sumatra, and the wind being from the southward, he steered along the coast, intending to pass out through the large channel delineated on the charts, between the island Good Fortune and Minton.

* The winds afterwards became very variable, with frequent hard squalls from the N. W. cloudy weather and much rain, when between the islands and coast of Sumatra. They continued to work to the northward, and found the island Good Fortune to extend nearly a degree more to the northward than represented by the charts. As their observations and chronometers made the north end of that island, in latitude 0 55 or 56 S. long. 98 26 E. the wind continuing adverse, with sudden calms, and a strong current running constantly to the southward, they found it would be a great loss of time to continue to endeavour to beat round the north end of Good Fortune Island, and the channel between it and Minton, probably very dangerous, being unexplored: on the 29th of October, (seven days after leaving Bencoolen,) they were therefore obliged to bear away to the southward, and pass out round the southern limit of the islands opposite to Bencoolen.

It was natural when sailing from Bencoolen with a southerly wind, to steer a direct course to pass through the large channel represented on the charts, in preference to haling out W. S. W. with a scant wind, round the southernmost islands; but by adopting that course, from judging the new charts to be tolerably correct, a loss of ten days was sustained, most of that time beating against squally unsettled weather, with much rain.—It seems probable, that had the wind been fair for running through the wide channel of the charts, Captain Welstead or any other commander, might have run for it in the night, with confidence, (being 30 leagues in breadth) and the loss of the ship might have been the result of this unaccountable erroneous innovations of the charts recently published.

JAMES HORSBURGH.

The ship Lord Minto has returned from the expedition, on which she was sent by Government, to the Moluccas. She arrived at the island of Gillolo on the 25th of March, and found there the Sultan of Tidore in a state of the utmost distress and destitution. In the space of six days, she landed all the military stores, with which she was freighted from hence, and, after delivering them to the Sultan, sailed again for Bengal.

While on her voyage hither, the Lord Minto looked into the port of Banda, where she saw two large ships and several brigs at anchor.

According to every account, the Dutch settlements in the Moluccas are at present in a very distracted condition. The Natives have latterly been exposed to much distress and privation; and the troops in garrison are discontented and refractory. There is every reason therefore to believe, that the appearance of a British force would be followed by their immediate surrender. Amboyna indeed is now a place of great strength, all the hills around the town being fortified with formidable works. They have also, at present, a tolerable supply of provisions in the island. But even at Amboyna, such is the disaffection of the Natives, that no effectual resistance could be made.

The Lord Minto brings intelligence from Malacca, of the capture of the French National Brig Courier (formerly the Grappler gun-brig,) whose depredations have for some time past been so fatal to our eastern trade, by His Majesty's Ship Fox, off Acheen.

The Eleanor, Captain Lambert, of this port, having a cargo of Opium on board, was captured, towards the latter end of March, in one of the ports of Bally, by a Dutch cruizer, and sent to Java. According to recent letters received from that island at Malacca, Captain and Mrs. Lambert, with the Officers and crew of the Eleanor, were then at the island of Madura.

The Lord Minto has brought round from Malacca, several Native mariners of that place, together with a young European seaman, who are to be tried at the Court of Admiralty here, on a charge of Piracy. They belonged to the crew of the Brig Malacca, which they carried some time ago out of Pontiana roads (their Commander being then on shore,) with the intention of proceeding to Java. Fortunately however they lost their way, and, falling in with a Malay boat at sea, one half of the mutineers, anxious to avail themselves of the opportunity of returning, set upon the other half, and forced them to assist in reconducting the brig to Malacca. There was no bloodshed whatever, on the occasion.

By letters of the 29th of June and the 3d of July, from the gentlemen of Mr. Elphinstone's suite, we learn, that the Cabul mission is now on its final return to the Company's Provinces. The Embassy quitted Peshour on the 14th of June, and crossed the plain between that city and Attoc in four marches. At Attoc, they passed the Indus, and from thence made a further advance of three marches eastward, to Hussin Abdal. There they awaited the return of the messenger, who had been dispatched to the Royal Camp, for the purpose of intimating to Soojah the recall and approaching departure of the mission.

At the date of our last accounts, this messenger had returned, with a gracious answer from the Padshah; and the Embassy were accordingly about to proceed, on the day following, on their route through the Punjab. The messenger had overtaken the Peshour army at Dukka, a place about twenty-five coss to the eastward of Jellalabad, on the 1st ultimo. At that period, the new levies, whose fidelity had been so much the subject of suspicion, continued to adhere stedfastly to the standard of Soojah; and, some advanced bodies of the enemy, who had come on from Cabul, were retiring on his approach.

Subsequent advices however, we are extremely sorry to say, give ground to believe, that a general action had afterwards been fought at Futteabad, (a place about 10 or 12 coss beyond Jellalabad,) in which action, the small army of the Padshah had sustained a signal defeat. With respect to particulars, the accounts are much too vague, to entitle us to speak with any confidence. But of the general fact, little or no doubt seems to have been entertained. The blow is said to have been most complete. Many of Soojah's principal Sirdars had been killed, and the unhappy monarch himself had been compelled to fly to his former place of concealment, among the Khybur hills.

The Royal harem, with the jewels and treasure, had arrived at the Fort of Attoc, about the latter end of June. The harem had moved afterwards towards the Punjab, with the intention, as was supposed, of proceeding to the fort of Ravelmirdee. On the 3d of July, they were encamped within two coss of the British Embassy.

Mr. Elphinstone would return, through the Seik territories; but some difficulties had arisen with respect to the line of march; the Seiks objecting to his proceeding by the direct route of Rawul Pindie. The Punjab being completely overflowed during the rains, it was apprehended, that the party would have many obstacles to encounter, in their they would be unable to reach Delhi before the middle of October. Much might depend on the disposition of the Chieftains; and that, from their pride, caprice, and predatory habits, was necessarily uncertain.

As these letters make no mention of the circumstance of Mr. Strachey having accompanied the King, we infer, that the statement of the ukhbars on that head must have been erroneous.

We have been favoured with some particulars respecting the Fort of Attoc, and the adjacent country on the Indus, which shall appear in our next.

The fort of Bowannee, in the Hurrianah country, against which the second expedition from Delhi and Rewarree is about to proceed, is represented as a place of considerable strength. According to the last accounts from the Upper Provinces, Major Knox was already before it, with 14 companies of Infantry and 2 squadrons of Horse. He was to be joined by the main force under Colonel Ball, consisting of 5 Native Battallions, the 6th Regiment of Native Cavalry, and a small battering train, Letters from Passengers on board the Country ship James Drummond inform us of that vessel having put into Madras roads, from stress of weather, on the 19th ultimo.

On the same day, His Excellency Admiral Drury, in his flag-ship the Hussar, weighed anchor and stood out to sea.

Major-General Forbes Champagne has been appointed by the Bombay Government, to the command of the British Subsidiary Force at Poonah.

* On Saturday morning, at 6 o'clock, a public breakfast was given at the Government-house to the principal gentlemen of the Presidency, previous to the embarkation of the Right Honorable the Governor General for Madras.

After breakfast, Lord Minto proceeded on foot from the northern avenue of the Government-house to Chandpaul Ghaut, from whence he embarked on the Phoenix yacht, appointed to convey his Lordship to his Majesty's Frigate Dover in Saugor Roads. His Lordship was attended to the ghaut, by the Lord Chief Justice, the Members of the Supreme Council, the Commanding Officer of the Troops in garrison, and the other principal Civil and Military Officers attached to the Presidency. The Governor General's Body Guard, and His Majesty's 11th Regiment, attended on the occasion; and received Lord Minto, as he passed, with the customary honours. A salute of 19 guns was fired from the ramparts, when his Lordship embarked; and was repeated, as the Phoenix passed the Fort.

It is supposed, that Lord Minto would reach the Dover yesterday evening. Immediately on his arrival, that ship would put to sea, and may probably reach Fort St. George about the 20th of the current month.

On the day of His Lordship's embarkation, the Hon'ble John Lumsden took his seat as Vice-President in Council, under the usual salute from the ramparts of Fort William.

Captain Canning, we understand, is about to proceed immediately on a diplomatic mission to the Court of Ava. The brig Bee has been hired by Government, for the purpose of conveying that gentleman and his suite to Rangoon,

The Hon'ble Company's ship Walthamstow was hauled out of the Company's dock at Kidderpore on Thursday last, having received a thorough repair. On the same day, the Tottenham, which grounded lately in her passage down the river, was received into dock, for the purpose of undergoing an examination.

The New Zealand Princess and her husband have embarked on board the ship Union, in which they proceed immediately to New Holland.

On Tuesday last, Mr. Benjamin Comberlach and Mr. R. M. Thomas, were admitted and sworn in as Attornies and Proctors in the Supreme Court of Judicature.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

The Country ship Lord Minto, Captain Greig, arrived in the river on Tuesday last, from Tidore. The Minto sailed last from Malacca, on the 10th ultimo.

The Sir Edwcard Pellew, Capt. Stevens, bound for China, passed Kedgerree on Wednesday; and the Lovely Hannah, Captain Henderson, bound for Bombay, on Thursday.

The H. C. ship General Stewart, which attends the Governor General to Fort St. George, also passed Kedgerree on Saturday, in her way to Saugor.

When the Lord Minto was at Malacca, advices were received there, announcing the return of the Nancy grab and the brig Ceres (the vessels, which sailed under convoy of the Blanche and afterwards parted from her,) to Penang.

CIVIL APPOINTMENTS.

AUGUST 5, 1809.

FORT WILLIAM,

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT, AUGUST 5, 1809.

The Honorable the Vice President in Council is pleased to notify the following Appointments :—

Mr. George Dowdeswell, to be acting Chief Secretary to Government, during the absence of Mr. N. B. Edmonstone, on the Public Service.

Mr. C. Lushington, to be Acting Secretary to Government in the Secret, Political and Foreign Department.

Lieutenant Colonel Thomas Hawkins, to be Private Secretary to the Honorable the Vice President.

FORT WILLIAM, JULY 24, 1809.

Circumstances having attracted the particular notice of the Governor General in Council, to the present form of attestation required in all Contingent Bills for Military charges, from which it appears that, that form is entirely inapplicable to many cases in which the existing Regulation requires an adherence to it; His Lordship in Council has determined to modify that form of attestation; and to direct that in all cases of Contingent Bills being submitted for Audit, before the amount has been actually disbursed by the Drawer of the Bill, the following form of attestation shall be used, instead of that which is now required:

" I do declare upon my honor, that the above charges of Sicca Rupers—, have been necessarily incurred, and have been or will be paid by me for the purposes set forth.

(Signed) " A. B."

In cases where the money has been disbursed in the first instance, the old form of attestation is to be adhered to.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

FORT WILLIAM, JULY 24, 1809.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council having had occasion to notice, that the spirit and intent of the Regulations of Government, dated the 30th of November 1792, 19th of December 1796, and 12th of April 1804, whereby it is provided that Officers proceeding to the Cape of Good Hope, or to St. Helena, for the recovery of their health, shall receive under certain restrictions, the full Allowances of their Corps for six Months, have been lost sight of; His Lordship in Council, with a view of guarding against any deviation from those rules, is pleased to notify, that in no case will an Officer obtaining permission to proceed to the Cape, or to St. Helena, under the regulations of the 30th of November 1792, or under other circumstances, be permitted to receive any Allowance beyond the pay of his Regimental rank, and Off- reckonings (if of a rank to entitle him to share in that Fund) during a term of residence at the Cape of Good Hope, or at St. Helena, exceeding six Months from the date of his landing at either of those Settlements.

The leave of absence granted to Colonel H. C. Palmer, by General Orders of the 3d of February 1807, is extended for six Months from this date, subject to the rules contained in the foregoing Regulation.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

PORT WILLIAM, AUGUST 5, 1809.

The Honorable the Vice President in Council, is pleased to make the following appointments:

Mr. Ewen Macdonald, Assistant Surgeon, to do duty at Berhampore.

Mr. George Govan, Assistant Surgeon, to do duty at Chunar.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

His Majesty's Frigate Cornelia arrived in Madras Roads on the morning of the 23d of July, having been chased on the 16th of the same month, by two large French Frigates and a Corvette, between Acheen and the Nicobars. The Cornelia immediately put to sea again in company with the Phaeton, (which had arrived at Madras the preceding evening,) in quest of the enemy. His Excellency Rear-Admiral Drury went in person, on the Phaeton.

His Majesty's Ships Russel and Clorinde had sailed from Madras, some days before for Trincomalee.

From the report brought to Madras by the Cornelia, we are led to conclude, that, after the capture of the Indiamen, the French Frigate Caroline had joined the Cannonier and Laurel lately cruising off the coast of Sumatra, and that the three ships were prosecuting their depredations in concert.—The Cornelia fell in with the squadron, while on her voyage to Penang, whither she was proceeding, for the purpose of giving convoy to the trade detained at that island. Finding that she had completely the advantage of all the enemy's vessels in point of sailing, she remained in company with them for the space of 10 hours, in the hope of an opportunity to attack them separately. During part of this time, she was not more than three miles distant from them.

A Detachment of the Bundelcund army, consisting of one Troop of Cavalry, three Companies of the 4th Light Infantry Battalion, and two Companies of the 1st Battalion 17th Native Infantry, with a party of 20 Pioneers, and one six pounder, the whole under the command of Major Kelly, have lately returned to Cantonments, from an expedition into the district of Jesspoor. The objects of the expedition had been happily accomplished, without any bloodshed. Tranquillity and confidence had been restored, throughout the country; and the seven principal refractory Zemindars had been delivered up to the Adawlut at Banda.

Since our last, nothing further has reached us on the subject of the late events in Cabul. It only remains therefore, that we should fulfil the promise given in our last, of laying before our readers such particulars relative to the return of the Embassy, as have come to our knowledge.

The tract of Country, passed by Mr. Elphinstone and his suite, in their journey from Peshour to Attoc, is about 45 miles in extent. For twenty-five miles on this side of Peshour, the face of the landscape presents one uniform and level plain, beautifully verdant, occasionally interspersed with trees, and divided by the Cabul river, which flows towards the Indus in a rapid stream, about 200 yards in breadth. The latter part of the road leads over a barren and stony tract, and, at one place, for about 2 miles and an half, through a pass extremely steep and rugged. The summit of one of the hills in this neighbourhood, commands a prospect magnificent beyond description. Among other objects, the great Indus is seen to the North East, expanded over a sandy bed from two and an half to three miles in extent, and divided by the undulations of that bed into numberless smaller streams. This aspect it continues to preserve, until within a mile of the fort of Attoc, where, just as it receives the waters of the Cabul river, it is compressed into one compact and fathomless torrent, 260 yards in width, and gushing between high and abrupt banks of dark-grey schistus, mounted by lofty hills or rocks of the same composition.

The fortress of Attoc was built by the Emperor Akbar, as a barrier against the incursions of the Afghans. It is of an irregular, oblong shape, about half a mile in length by a quarter of a mile in breadth; and is situated on the face of a rugged and extensive hill, with its narrow extremity projecting towards the Indus. A bastion, 35 feet in height, forms the southern and most prominent angle, and the top of this bastion, during the high floods, is washed by the waters of the river. The garrison of this stronghold, when visited by the Embassy, consisted of no more than one solitary horseman and 33 foot-soldiers. The town of Attoc is situated immediately below the Fort:—it is very small, and principally inhabited by boatmen and their families. All the houses in the fort of Attoc are bomb-proof; and it is considered by the people of the country as a place of great consequence. From the circumstance of its never having been attacked, they infer, that it must be impregnable. In truth, however, it is a place quite incapable of resisting any thing like a regular attack; and only formidable against the operations of an Asiatic power.

The scenery about Attoc is crowned by successive ranges of lofty hills, extending far and wide, to the south and west, on both sides of the Indus. From Attoc up to the fountain-head, the river bears the name of Aha Sein, or Parent River. At Attoc, it assumes the name of the place; as it does also again at Neelab, an ancient town about seven coss below Attoc. It preserves the same deep, narrow, rapid form, through a tract of 60 miles, until it reaches Kala-Baugh, where it again divides, and spreads its fructifying streams over all the adjacent plains. The Indus breaking over the huge rocks at Attoc, produces a sound like the roaring of the ocean; and the large quantity of grey sparkling sand continually swept down by the torrent imparts an uniformly turbid appearance to its waters.

On the Afghan side of the river, opposite to Attoc, there stands a small ghurree or fort, called Khyrabad. It was built by Nadir Shah, as a defence against the Hindoostannces.

When the Embassy arrived at Khyrabad, they found only twelve boats attached to the ferry; so that two entire days were consumed in conveying their baggage to the opposite side. At first, the Kellahdar of Attoc shewed some signs of jealousy: and the troops and baggage were consequently conducted up the steep, by a very narrow and rugged pathway skirting the outer wall of the Fort. The party took up their ground on the eastern bank, at the foot of a hill, two miles above Attoc. There they halted for the space of two days: exposed all the time to a scorching wind, which blew night and day without intermission from the East and South, and was so extremely oppressive, that hardly any of the party had an hour's repose during their stay. This heat continued, though not with the same intensity, until they reached their ground, in the plain of Hussin Abdal, where they were at length relieved by a refreshing shower, followed by a delightfully cool breeze. Their camp at Hussin Abdal, was pitched in a most picturesque spot, surrounded on every side by lofty mountains, and abounding in clear rivulets well replenished with fish, and in gardens, little indebted to culture indeed, but productive and luxuriant. This place, though only five long marches distant from Cashmere, maintains no commercial or other intercourse with that celebrated region.

Colonel Barry Close, the British Resident at Poonah, has been appointed by the Madras Government, to supersede Colonel Montresor in the command of the Subsidiary Force, serving with his Highness the Nizam. Colonel Montresor however retains the command, until the arrival of Colonel Close at Hyderabad.

By the orders of the Governor in Council at Madras, bearing date the 13th of July, Lieutenant Colonel Hare of His Majesty's 22d Regiment of Light Dragoons is appointed to the command of the Force assembling on the Race-course. The same orders further direct the formation of that force into two Brigades.

His Majesty's 69th Foot (lately on service in Travancore) together with the 22d Regiment of Dragoons from Arcot, had been for some time encamped on the Race-course.—His Majesty's ships Russell and Clarinde had proceeded to Ceylon, for the purpose, it was understood, of conveying part of the forces on that island to Fort St. George.

On the 13th ultimo, Major General Champagne took his departure from Bombay, under the usual honours, for the purpose of assuming the command of the Subsidiary Force at Poonah.

The H. C. Yacht Phoenix, having the Right Honorable the Governor General on board, passed Diamond Harbour, at 5 P. M. on Saturday s'ennight,—anchored that night at Culpee, and arrived at Saugor on Sunday evening. His Lordship was saluted by the H. C. Ship Baring, as he passed Diamond Harbour.

For some days, the weather below was so extremely boisterous, as nearly to prevent all communication between the different vessels and the shore. Lord Minto, however, quitted the yacht at 5 o'clock on Tuesday evening, and proceeded on board the Dover. The yacht passed up the river on Wednesday, and arrived off Calcutta on the following morning.

The Dover and General Stewart weighed anchor from Saugor Roads on Thursday, and, it is supposed, would get out to sea on Saturday. The Hastings, Pilot schooner, accompanies Lord Minto to Madras.

The Master Attendant returned to town on Saturday, in the Tweed Pilot-vessel.

Such had been the state of the weather in the Roads on Thursday, that a sloop, on which Lord Minto's baggage had been embarked from Calcutta, went down at her anchors off Saugor. The whole of the baggage however had been taken out, two days before; and, as far as we can learn, no lives were lost.

On Saturday the 12th August, being the anniversary of the birth-day of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, a royal salute was fired, at one o'clock, from the ramparts of Fort William.

On Saturday, the Commanders of the outward-bound ships for Europe, now lying at Saugor, received orders to join their respective vessels.

His Majesty's Ship Samarang was hauled out of Mr. Smith's Dock at Howrah on Wednesday last, and dropped down the river, under the usual salute from the garrison. The Samarang is appointed to give convoy to the outward-bound Fleet of Indiamen.

The H. C. Ship Lord Duncan came up from Diamond Harbour on Thursday last, for the purpose of being docked at Kidderpore.

The Drawing of the first Calcutta Lottery closed on Saturday last. On that day, No. 1414, was drawn a prize of 50,000 Rupees; and No. 4172, being the 50th drawn ticket, entitled the holder to a prize of a like amount. The proprietors of these two fortunate numbers are, we understand, Messrs. Maclean and Kinloch, both of Calcutta. The capital prize of One lack of Rupees had fallen to the holder of No. 1738, drawn on the preceding Tuesday. This ticket was purchased by Mr. J. Crump, on account of Captain Vaughan of the 21st Native Infantry.

By letters received yesterday from Benares, we learn, that the rains, which had been so much later of commencement there than in Bengal, had at length set in with such violence, as seriously to alarm the Indigo-planters. The inundation throughout the Lower Provinces at this early season exceeds any thing within our recollection.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

The Brig Mary, N. Young Master, from Cuttack the 3d of August, arrived in the river yesterday se'night.

On Friday, arrived the Mary cutter, (late the Brædal-banc,) Captain Gibson, from Padang June the 16th, and Madras the 31st ultimo. PASSENGERS from Padang; Mr. A. Couperas, late Governor of Malacca, and Captain Lund.

CALCUTTA GAZETTE EXTRAORDINARY,

TUESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1809.

Official accounts having been received, that the Island of Java and the Moluccas, have been placed in a state of Blockade, by His Majesty's Squadron serving in the East Indies; the following Proclamation, which has been issued by His Excellency Rear Admiral Drury, is published by Order of the Honorable the Vice President in Council, for general information.

G. DOWDESWELL, Actg. Chief Sec. to Govt.

By WILLIAM O'BRYAN DRURY, Esq. Rear Admiral of the Red, and Commander in Chief, for the time being, of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels employed in the East Indies.

Whereas, the Right Honorable the Lords Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. have in consequence of His Majesty's Pleasure previously signified, directed me to establish the most rigorous Blockade upon the Island of Java and the Moluccas, and particularly for preventing any Arab Vessels proceeding from those places to the French Islands, or to the Red Sea.

I do hereby declare the said Islands of Java and the Moluccas to be in a state of close and strict Blockade accordingly. And, that all Vessels, particularly those sailing under the Arab Flag, which may attempt to proceed from those places, as well the Vessels of every Nation which may approach the same, for the communication, after having received Notice due thereof, will be detained and sent into the nearest British Port, there to be dealt with according to the principles and stipulations of such Treaties as are applicable to the cases of Islands, Ports, and Places in a state of strict Blockade.

Given under my hand on board his Majesty's Ship Fox, in Madras Roads, the 10th June, 1809.

WM. O'B DRURY,

By Command of the Commander in Chief.

RICHARD BROMLEY.

The C. H. ship Lord Castlereagh, Captain Hamilton, arrived at Diamond Harbour on Friday evening, having sailed from St. Helena on the 8th of June.

The H. C. Ships Bengal, Lady Jane Dundas, Jane Duchess of Gordon, and Calcutta, which formed part of the homeward-bound February Fleet, had parted from the other ships in the dreadful gale of the 14th of March, and had not since been heard of.

The H. C. Ship Cuffnells, destined for Bencoolen, sailed from St. Helena at the same time with the Castlereagh, and parted company from her in lat. 36 S. long. 74 E.

John Hamilton Esq. Surgeon on this Establishment is a Passenger on the Lady Castlereagh.

We are indebted to the kindness of our friends for the following detailed narratives of the circumstances of the storm, and other particulars connected with the voyage of the Fleet from India to St. Helena.

“ SHIP SIR W. BENSLEY, OFF ST. HELENA, 4TH MAY, 1809.

“ The William Pitt, Jane Dundas, and Duchess of Gordon
“ from Columbo, joined us at sea on the afternoon of the 15th “ of February, when Admiral Pellew ordered all the regular “ Indiamen to sail in line of battle astern of his ship, the Cul- “ oden, and the Extra ships in another line with the Terpsichore, “ Frigate, astern of them. We had fair weather and favoring “ breezes for some time; but, on the 12th and 13th March, we “ had hard Gales, which we weathered very well;—only we “ lost sight of all the Fleet on the 14th, and, in the night of “ the 16th, we had such a tremendous Storm that we did not “ expect to see day-light again. (It was about the same Latitude
“ and Longitude, in which the Blenheim and Java were lost.)
“ After midnight, one of the Carpenters came aft, and in a “ frantic manner, reported, “ The ship will soon go down, “ unless she can be put about, to ease her larboard side, where a “ leak is suspected, as the water is gaining upon us.” But,
“ as that could not be done, without cutting away, at least,
“ her Mizzen Mast, the Chief Mate fortunately would not agree “ to it. He approved however, of throwing a dozen of the “ Guns overboard, which of course lightened her; and part “ of her Cargo (salt-petre) was pumped out. There was a very “ high and confused Sea, which often came on board, and,
“ about 2 A. M. on the 17th, carried one of the Sailors over “ into eternity. The Boat was torn from the Poop, and three “ of the Cabins were so much injured, that Captain Duff and Dr.
“ Hamilton (Passengers) and the Purser were obliged to seek “ shelter in Mr. Forbes’s and Mrs. Macdonald’s cabins, which “ were the dryest in the ship. About that time, it was found,
“ that by some accident two of the thick glasses (or Bull’s Eyes)
“ which were in the upper deck, to admit light, were broken and “ let in a great quantity of water;—they were soon stopped, and “ the pumps reduced the water;—when at length we had the “ satisfaction to ascertain that there was no leak.

“ Long-wished for morning at length came. The sea was still “ high, and the vessel laboured very much, but she being strong
“ and sound, we began to suspect the Carpenter was at first too “ much alarmed. The Chief Mate did his duty like a first rate “ sailor ; and the lascars, although they deserted the posts two “ or three times, did better in the end than could have been “ expected. We have few European sailors on board. We saw “ the Cape Land, on the 12th of April, where we would have “ found the Cutoden ; but, as we were alone, our Captain would “ not go in. We steered for St. Helena, which we saw on the “ evening of the 28th April ; and about 3 or 4 A. M. of the “ 29th, the Moon shewed us 8 strange sail laying to off the “ Island. We joined them, a few hours after, in port, and found “ them to be the Cutoden, which had received some injury in “ the said gale,—the William Pitt, which shipped some heavy “ seas,—and the fortunate Nor-humberland, which, tho’ not a “ good sailor, had sustained no injury. The Huddari suffered “ most, having thrown her Guns and part of her Cargo over“ board. The Euphrates lost one of her 12 pounders, which “ got loose and could not be kept on the quarter-deck.—The “ Sovereign, the Harriet and Lord Eldon are said to have made “ better weather of it than the Bensley. On the 30th of April, “ the Terpsichore (which sprung a leak) came in, with the Earl “ St. Vincent, Hugh Inglis, and Indus :—they were at the Cape

 “ three days.”

“ We came here safely to anchor on the 29th ultimo. Our “ passage thus far has on the whole been a pleasant one, though “ by no means so much so as we were induced to hope from “ the early sailing of the fleet. On our leaving Galle, the wea“ ther was at first favourable; though the winds were much “ stronger than usual at that season of the year ; but, being “ fair, we were led to anticipate a quick passage by soon getting “ into the Trades. In this hope, however we were disappointed ;
 “ for, instead of meeting with them, as is usually the case,
 “ from 4 to 11° S. we had strong gales from the Northwest “ until we were in 16. 30, where we had it from the South East,
 “ —but instead of fine moderate breezes and pleasant weather, it “ blew very hard with a heavy sea. We proceeded thus uncom“ fortably, until off the Mauritius, where we were doomed to “ encounter a tremendous gale of wind. It commenced at day “ light on the morning of the 14th March, from the, South East,
 “ at 3 P. M.—it amounted to a perfect hurricane,—our stay-sail
 “ was blown from the yard, the sea continually breaking over us
 “ and the ship labouring dreadfully, and rolling her quarter-deck “ ports under water. We took in one sea over the poop, which “ carried away the Quarter-Gallery and burst into the great “ Cabin, producing a scene of horror and confusion. About 9 “ P. M. fortunately the wind abated, or else God knows what " would have been our fate, as the ship laboured severely, in " consequence of the excessive quantity of dead-weight, with " which we were overloaded. We however, threw several bags

 " of Saltpetre overboard, and nearly every ship has done the " same. The morning after the gale, we found ourselves alone.
 " The next day, we fell in with the Indus, and on the 18th with " the Northumberland and Eldon. Being now four sail, we " thought ourselves a match for any French Frigate we might " chance to encounter. We were however rejoiced, in 36 S. and
 " 50 E. to destroy 6 vessels. We made out one of them, to be a " Man of War and dismasted. Wishing it the Culloden, we " fondly and naturally concluded it to be her, but, on coming " up, she proved to be the Nereide Frigate, which had, whilst " cruising off the Mauritius, encountered the Gale, and lost " her main and mizen masts. She had with her, the Pitt, Har" rier, Euphrates, Huddart and an American. On a comparison " with others, we found they all had sustained more damage
 " than we had. The Harriet threw much cargo overboard;
 " but, the Huddart appears to have been the greatest sufferer.
 " She was compelled to throw nearly all her Guns over; and,
 " the sugar, with which she was laden, being nearly all melted,
 " she is under the necessity of taking in ballast here. On the " 11th of April, we rounded the Cape in delightful weather.
 " We perceived the Culloden, Terpsichore Frigate, and St. Vin" cent in Table bay. The Admiral directed us to proceed, and " joined us himself on the following day. On the 30th of April,
 " the Benuey made her appearance. She had a dreadful passage,
 " and indeed serious apprehensions were entertained for her " safety. We have as yet heard nothing of the Bengal, Calcutta, " Success of Gordon or Lady Jane. The Admiral has fixed the " 10th for our leaving St. Helena.

" The Lushington from Madras arrived here on the 3d instant,
 " bringing the pleasing accounts of the settlement of the Tra" vancore business."

The Expedition against the fortress of Bowanee, which for some time past has been assembling at Rewarree, under the command of Colonel Ball, had not marched from the place of rendezvous, at the date of the latest accounts from the Upper Provinces.

By the last advices from the Western States of Hindoostan, we learn, that Dowlut Rao Scindia had at length quitted the district of Shahpoor, and was encamped with his forces at Roonahurree,

His Majesty's Ship Dover, Capt. Tucker, and the General Stewart Indiaman, having on board the Right Honorable the Governor General and Suite, parted from their Pilots all well, on the 12th instant, and proceeded on their voyage to Fort St. George. The Pilot Schooner Hastings, accompanies the above ships to Madras; and the Country vessels Henry Parnell and Euphrosyne, avail themselves of the opportunity of proceeding under the protection of the Dover to the Coast.

Major-General Fuller arrived at Cawnpore on the 7th current, and was received with the honours due to his rank.

The prospect of an immediate renewal of the extensive intercourse formerly subsisting between this settlement and the United States of America, has, within these few days, given fresh animation to the commerce of Calcutta. Piece goods and other articles adapted to the American market were bought up, we understand, to the value of upwards of six lacs of rupees, immediately on the arrival of the Fox. All merchandize of that description, with which the Warehouses of this opulent city have for so many months been over-stocked, has accordingly risen in value.

The H. C. Extra Ship Ocean passed Kedgerec on Wednesday last, in her way to Saugor. The Ocean had parted from her cables in the night, between Diamond Harbour and Kedgerec. She grounded for a short time, but was afterwards got off without sustaining any material injury. The Ocean is now at anchor, with the other outward-bound Indiamen, in Saugor Roads.

The H. C. homeward-bound Extra Ship Union, which left Diamond Harbour for Saugor on the 15th current, has been under the necessity of returning to the former station, with the loss of all her anchors.

The following information was circulated yesterday from the General Post Office.

“ Information has been received, that, in the night of “ the 16th instant, one of the Kedgerree Dawk Boats, after “ delivering all the letters to the Ships at Saugor, except “ the following, viz.

“ One, addressed, Mr. J. Hack, Brig Euphrosine.

“ One, do. Mr. W. Sanderson, do.

“ And, one returned from the Ship Boyne, address un“ known; and, after receiving all the letters from the “ Ships there,—went in shore, and anchored at Saugor,
 “ the tide then ebbing. From the strength of the wind
 “ and tide, and the height of the Sea, the boat drove;
 “ and, at the instant she took the ground, a Tyger jumped “ on board, seized on, and carried away, one of the boat“ men, wounding the other two. The further conse“ quence of this attack has been that, the boat oversetting,
 “ the letters, with every thing in her, were unfortunately

It was erroneously stated in our last, that No. 4172, the fiftieth drawn ticket at the last Drawing of the late Lottery, was the property of Mr. Allan Maclean. It now appears, that the ticket in question had been purchased by that gentleman, on account of R. H. Rattray, Esq. of the H. C. Civil Service.

BOMBAY, JULY 29, 1809.

GENERAL ORDER,

By the Honorable the Governor in Council,

BOMBAY CASTLE, 21st JULY, 1809.

The Hon. the Governor in Council, is pleased to appoint Assistant Surgeon Morison, to the Medical duties of the H. C. Cruiser Aurora.

BOMBAY CASTLE, 24th JULY, 1809.

The rank of Mr. J. B. Seely, Cadet of Infantry having been settled by the Hon. Court of Directors, by whose Orders he was placed in the 3d class of Cadets for the season 1807, between Mr. Moor and Mr. Rybot; the Hon. the Governor in Council is in consequence pleased to appoint Mr. J. B. Seely, an Ensign, and to post him permanently to the 4th Regiment Native Infantry, with the same date of rank as the two Cadets of the class to which he belonged, viz. 26th March 1809.

The Hon. the Governor in Council having received information, that Captain Martin of the 5th Regiment, who was reported to have died on the passage homeward on the 16th of August 1807, in consequence of which a promotion took place in that Regiment by the General Orders of the 30th January 1807, has safely arrived in England, and since retired from the service, as appears from the India Directory of 1808, under the 2d day of March of that year, is therefore pleased to direct that the following alterations take place accordingly in the 5th Regiment.

Fifth Regiment.

Captain James Sutherland, to be Captain of a Company, vice Martin retired,—date of rank 3d March 1808.

Captain Lieut. Alex. Logie, to be Captain Lieut. vice Sutherland promoted,—do. do.

Lieut. Alex. McTavish, to be Lieut. vice Boncey resigned,—1st October 1807.

Lieut. Henry Woodcock, to be Lieut. vice Logie promoted,—3d March 1808.

BOMBAY CASTLE, 26TH JULY, 1808.

Lieut. Walter John Hamilton, to be Assistant to the Superintendent, vice Lieut. Court.

Captain Charles Keys, to be Boatmaster, vice Lieut. Hamilton.

By Order of the Superintendent of Marine,

W. J. HAMILTON, Assistant.

HURKARU EXTRA.

AUGUST 23, 1809.

Letters from the Cape of Good Hope, of the 11th of June, have, we understand, been received in town. None of the missing Indiamen of the February fleet had then arrived at that settlement. It was not expected indeed that they should have put in there, unless constrained by circumstances of distress, and little doubt therefore was entertained of their safety.

A rich Bengal ship of 800 tons burthen, taken during the preceding year by one of the cruizers from the Mauritius, is stated to have been subsequently recaptured, under the name of the Tilsit, by one of our ships on that station, and sent into the Cape of Good Hope.—Other adices, we understand, mention the recapture of the ship Aboukir of this port. But, whether the accounts allude to two different vessels, or to the same ship under distinct names, we have not the means of judging.

It has been confidently stated, on the authority of verbal information brought by the Lady Castlereagh from St. Helena, that the two ships of war belonging to the Brazil station, which arrived at that island on the 5th of June, were then in quest of the Boulogne French Frigate, which, according to certain rumours accredited at Rio Janeiro, had captured three English Indiamen off the Cape of Good Hope. From this circumstance, a very pleasing and reasonable inference has been drawn, in favour of the safety of the three ships, Glory, Experiment and Lord Nelson, which for some time had been given up as totally lost.

By letters received this day from Madras, we learn, that 450 men of His Majesty's 66th Regiment of Foot arrived at that Presidency from Ceylon, on the 31st ultimo, in His Majesty's Ship Russell. The remainder of the Regiment, together with a detachment of the Royal Artillery serving on that Island, were embarking on the Clorinde, and, as we learn from the Madras Gazette, subsequently arrived on the 10th current.

The Cornwallis Frigate, with the Ships Windham and Hope, having on board part of the first Battalion of the 56th Regiment from Bombay, also reached Madras, on the 10th current.—The Bheemoolah, with the rest of the battalion, was hourly expected in the Roads.

Captain Montague fell in with a heavy French Frigate off Ceylon, but was precluded from giving chase by the urgency of the service on which he was proceeding.

Previous to the departure of the Helen, the Cornwallis had sailed again to the northward, for the purpose of conveying treasure to the Presidency from some of the stations in the Northern Circars.

The force assembled on the Race Course at Madras was expected to march on the 18th current, under the command of Colonel Conran, towards Bellary.

We have much concern in noticing the very perilous situation of the H. C. Ship Devaynes, which in her passage down the river, parted from her anchors and grounded on a sand-bank near Culpee. She is now high and dry, at low water; and, unless she has floated with the flood of yesterday or this day, there is every reason to fear, that she will be totally lost. The whole of her cargo is said to have been removed.

CIVIL APPOINTMENT.

AUGUST 4, 1809.

Mr. GORDON FORBES, Superintendent of Chandernagore, and Commissioner for the Affairs of Chinsurah and Serampore.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, AUG. 15, 1809.

The Honorable the Vice President in Council is pleased to resolve, that it be considered as a standing Regulation of the Service, that all Public Mud Works, be in future carefully surveyed upon the 1st November in each year, and the Reports transmitted to the Military Board, accompanied by Estimates of all such Repairs as may be found necessary; as at that season of the year, all such damages as Works of the description in question may have sustained during the preceding rains, will be apparent, and time admit of the repairs being made and the Works acquiring a proper degree of hardness and strength previously to the setting in of the following rainy season.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, AUG. 15, 1809.

The Honorable the Vice President in Council is pleased to resolve, that an increase of Four Annas be allowed on each Cot of the enlarged dimensions, directed by General Orders of the 8th July last, which may be supplied by the Contractor at the several Stations, in addition to the existing rate for ordinary Barrack Cots, which were accepted by Government, and published in General Orders under date the 29th of April last.

J. ADAM, Act. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, AUG. 15, 1809.

The conditional permission granted in General Orders of the 8th instant, to Lieutenant T. Colville, of the 5th Regiment of Native Infantry, to proceed to Europe on furlough, on account of his health, is confirmed.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, AUG. 15, 1809.

Captain Malcolm M'Leod, of the 9th Regiment Native Infantry, is permitted at his own request to resign the Command of the Cadet Company, from this date, and to proceed to Europe on furlough, on account of his private affairs.

Captain Charles Stuart, of the 3d Regiment Native Cavalry, is appointed to the Command of the Cadet Company, and to superintend the studies of the Cadets in the Languages of the Country, in the room of Captain M'Leod.

Lieutenant J. Canfield, of the 5th Regiment Native Cavalry, who was on leave of absence at China for the benefit of his health, having produced satisfactory documents of the necessity for his proceeding from China direct to Europe on furlough, on account of his health; the Honorable the Vice President in Council is pleased to sanction his having proceeded to Europe accordingly.

Lieutenant Canfield's furlough is to commence from the 3d of March last, the date of the despatch of the ship on which he embarked for Europe.

Mr. Francis Smallpage, who stood appointed to the Infantry having been appointed by the Honorable the Court of Directors to the Cavalry, as published in General Orders of the 24th ultimo, and Mr. Smallpage, having voluntarily relinquished the rank he obtained in the Infantry, his promotion to the rank of Ensign, is in consequence cancelled.

Ensign Archibald Elijah Charters to rank from the 10th May, instead of the 10th March 1807, erroneously inserted in General Orders of the 29th April last.

Gunner William Emblem, of the Regiment of Artillery, to be Conductor of Ordnance from the 1st of August 1809, vice Mr. James Draper, who has been permitted to resign.

Serjeant William Lockett, is admitted to the Pension established by Minutes of Council of the 11th January 1797, and permitted to reside at Dinapore.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, AUG. 19, 1809.

The conditional permission granted in General Orders of the 11th instant, to Captain W. Midwinter, of the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry, to proceed to Europe on Furlough, on account his private affairs, is confirmed.

Captain James Nicol, Assistant Adjutant General of the Army, is permitted to make a voyage to the Cape of Good Hope for the benefit of his health, and to be absent on that account for ten months.

The Honorable the Vice President in Council is pleased to direct Captain Lieutenant James Gordon, of the 15th Regiment of Native Infantry, to take charge of the Adjutant General's Office at the Presidency, and to act as Assistant Adjutant General, until the sentiments of His Excellency the Commander in Chief shall be known.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, AUG. 22, 1809.

The Honorable the Vice-President in Council has been furnished with copies of the letters addressed to His Excellency the Commander in Chief by the Officers of the several Corps quartered at Muttra, Kurtaul and Agra, and to the General Officer Commanding at Chunar by the Officers of the different Corps quartered in the Province of Benares, expressive of their Loyalty and Attachment to their King and Country; of their Allegiance to the Government established by the Constitution in this Country and of their entire disapprobation of the spirit of sedition and revolt, by which a part of the Army of the Presidency at Fort St. George is at present actuated: The vice President in Council has received these declarations of the sentiments of the Officers of the Army of Bengal, on this interesting occasion, with peculiar gratification, and he considers it an act of justice to declare in the most public manner the confidence, which the Government has uniformly reposed in the unshaken zeal and loyalty of the Officers of this Army, and its firm persuasion, that no circumstance can ever induce them to swerve from their public duty.

The Vice President in Council has received private, but authentic information, that the same honorable sentiments are entertained by the Officers of all the other Military Stations under the Presidency of Fort William.

G. DOWDESWELL, Actg. Chief Sec. to Govt.

Besides the ship Aboukir, whose recapture we noticed in our last, several small French vessels trading between the islands, had been intercepted by our cruizers, and sent into the Cape.

The late accounts from the Gulph of Persia confirm all that we before heard of the increasing strength, numbers, and ferocity of the Wahabee Pirates. The Helen, in her passage from Busheer, fell in with about 30 of their vessels in the act of engaging two armed ships from Muscat. The Helen however being a vessel of twelve guns, opened her fire, and in a short time dispersed them. The Muscat ships were consequently saved.

It is not true, as has been stated, that the crew of the English ship Colonel Macaulay, which lately fell a prey to another fleet of Pirates, had been put to death. It was reported at Muscat, that those of them who survived the engagement, had, after suffering many hardships, and being compelled to abjure their religion, at length regained their liberty. Some women who were on board, it is added, had been exposed to the most brutal treatment from the captors, who had retained them as their slaves.

With the squadron, which lately sailed from Bombay for that quarter, a small detachment of ships also proceeded, for the purpose of attacking these robbers in their strongholds, and restoring security to the navigation of the seas which they infest.

We have much pleasure in stating, that the H. C. Ship Dezaynes, for whose safety, at the date of our last publication, the most serious alarms were entertained, has, by the zealous and unremitting exertions of her people, assisted by the Officers in the Marine department, been happily recovered. She floated again on Tuesday morning, and returned on the same day to Diamond Harbour. The Devaynes will be overhauled in dock, before she proceeds to sea.

The regular packets for the homeward-bound Fleet now under dispatch left town on Wednesday morning; and after-packets have since been daily forwarded to the ships. The packets intended for transmission on the Devaynes and Ocean will be conveyed in the Tweed Pilot-schooner to Fort St. George, from whence they will be transmitted to England on the General Stewart.

It is generally understood, that the Fleet cannot proceed to sea, previous to the ensuing springs. His Majesty's Ship Samarang joined them on Sunday; and another ship of war, we understand, is hourly expected from the Coast, for the further protection of the convoy.

From the Madras Courier of the 9th current, which reached us by the dawn of yesterday, we learn, that, within the few preceding days, three detachments in all of European troops from Ceylon had arrived at that Presidency. They consisted of about 650 rank and file of H. M. 66th Regiment, three companies of 100 men each of H. M. 89th Regiment, and a Company of Royal Artillery. The whole, including Officers, amounted to about 1100 men.

Letters were received on Sunday from on board His Majesty's Frigate Ornucallis, announcing her arrival at Ganjam.

By letters received from the Upper Provinces, we learn, that it was the intention of His Excellency the Commander in Chief to set out immediately on his return to the Presidency. Boats had been ordered from Cawnpore, and it was probable that his Excellency would quit Meerut, early in the ensuing month. As the passage down the river at this season of the year is generally very expeditious, we may reasonably look for his arrival at Calcutta, about the 20th of October.

On Friday evening, His Majesty's 14th Regiment of Foot, at present in garrison at Fort William, received orders to hold themselves in readiness for immediate embarkation for the Coast of Coromandel. The 22d Foot were also ordered to proceed without delay from Berhampore to the Presidency, and to hold themselves in readiness to embark for the same destination. These two fine Regiments are together above 1800 strong. They embark on the H. C. Ships Carnatic, Walthamstow, Lord Melville, Lady Castlereagh, and Baring. The 14th, it is expected, will be ready to embark by the 3d proximo.

Both the battalions of the 2d Regiment of Native Infantry, at present stationed in the province of Cuttack, have also received orders to march immediately on field service, under the command of Colonel Blair.

Five Native Companies from the detachment at Midnapore will proceed to Cuttack.

It is mentioned in the Kedgerie report, received in town yesterday evening, that a large ship had been seen aground off False Point, by the ship Europa, just arrived from Madras.

In consequence of the accident, which befel the H. C. Ship Ocean, in her passage to Saugor, it has been judged necessary, we understand, to bring the vessel into dock. She is now accordingly on her return to town, for that purpose.

We learn from the Star of Saturday, that, during the storm of Tuesday last, a house in Sooterkin lane was struck by lightning. The wall was rent and the venetians broken; but no personal injury of any consequence was sustained.

The unfortunate Robert Bruce Keith Stewart, who made his escape from New South Wales, and was sent from hence a prisoner on board the Union to be conveyed back to that settlement, is stated to have disappeared on the evening of the 13th ultimo. It is supposed, that he threw himself overboard and was drowned.

The season for manufacturing Indigo in these Provinces now is nearly at a close ; and, the various reports received from the different plantations may enable us to form a pretty correct judgment of the prospects which it holds out to the cultivators. The whole produce of the year, we understand, is not likely to exceed one fourth, or at most one third of the average produce of ordinary seasons. Throughout Jessore, and in general all the lower districts of Bengal, the hopes of the Planter have been completely blasted, by the inundation of his fields and the entire destruction of his crop. At some of the factories, not even a single maund has been made ; and at all, the produce has fallen short of the estimate, in a lamentable proportion. The accounts from Tirhoot, and other parts of Behar are more favourable. According to letters from Rungpore, the planters there expect, on the whole, to get through the year, without loss. And, in the Benares district, the crops have been generally productive.

Notwithstanding however this extraordinary deficiency in the returns of the year, Indigo still continues a mere drug in the Calcutta market. The reports from Europe are so unpropitious, that, from being the most profitable, it has become the most hazardous medium of remittance. The failure of the planters therefore is less to be regretted now, than it could have been at any former period. In the present state of the relations of the United States with the European continent, Indigo is not likely to be an article in demand with the American traders who may come to this port ; and any considerable addition to the stock now in hand at home, would only be productive of the most ruinous depreciation. If war continues, the evil, beyond question, must sooner or later fall on the planters, who (as in all such cases) have been tempted to extend their cultivation, in a proportion never warranted by the extent of the market, and at a time when the access to that market is obstructed in a manner heretofore unexampled.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

The Country Ship Helen, Captain Greenway, from Busorah the 19th of June, arrived in the river on Monday, and came up to town on the following day. The Helen had touched at Busheer, Muscat, Bombay and Madras, and sailed from the latter port on the 16th current. PASSENGERS from Bombay, Captain Porthury, H. M. 53d Foot, Lieut. Byrue, H. August 3, 1809.

G. O. BY THE HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

PARA. 1. The Honorable the Governor in Council judges it proper to announce to the Native Troops, that the very improper conduct of some of the European Officers of the Company's Service, and the refusal of others to acknowledge their Allegiance to the Government, have rendered it indispensably necessary to remove for a time a considerable number of European Officers from the exercise of authority.

2d. This measure will not however affect in any respect the situation of the Native Troops, who must know that their first duty is to the Government which they serve, and from which, all authority is derived.

3. The Governor in Council entertains the same solicitude for the welfare and comfort of the Native Troops that has invariably been manifested by the British Government.

4. He has no intention whatever of making any changes in their situation; and he expects that the Native Troops will display on every emergency the unshaken fidelity to Government which constitutes the first duty of a Soldier, that they will obey with zeal the Orders of the Officers whom the Government shall place in Authority over them, that they will refuse a belief to all reports calculated to agitate their minds and diminish their confidence in the Government, and that they will not allow themselves to be involved in measures in any respect adverse to their duty and allegiance.

5. The Governor in Council is pleased to express his approbation of the good conduct which has been recently manifested by the Native Troops at the Presidency, in the Camp at the Mount, at Trichinopoly and at Vellore, and he is confident that their behaviour will be equally correct and loyal at all other Stations of the Army.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.
(Signed) A. FALCONAR, Chief Sec. to Govt.

August 4, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to appoint Captain Paterson of His Majesty's 22d Regiment of Light Dragoons, to be Agent for Cavalry supplies to the Detachment under command of Lieutenant Colonel Hare Commanding the Centre Division of the Army.

The Governor in Council directs that Soobidar Narain Sawmy, lately returned from Ceylon be readmitted on the Establishment with the rank he now holds.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.
(Signed) J. H. PELLE, Sec. to Govt.

August 5, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council has been pleased to resolve, that all the European Officers of the Company's Service, who may be removed from the exercise of their Military functions, in consequence of their refusing or omitting to sign the declaration required in the orders of the 29th of July last, shall be permitted to choose a place for their residence, until further orders, between Sadras and Negapatam both places included; from which they are not afterwards to proceed beyond the distance of five miles, without the permission of the Governor in Council.

The Governor in Council is further pleased to direct that the Commanding Officers of Divisions, Stations or Corps shall take the most effectual measures for obliging the Officers who may be suspended from the exercise of their Military functions for the reasons above stated, to quit the Stations of their Corps without any delay whatever, and to proceed with all practicable dispatch to the places which they may choose for their Residence.

Commanding Officers of Divisions, &c. are directed to report to the Office of the Adjutant General of the Army—the Names of the places which may be selected by the Officers for their residence under this Order.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

(Signed) A. FALCONER, Chief Sec. to Govt.

AUGUST 7, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to direct Ensigns Monmouth and Trapaud of the Corps of Engineers shall join and do duty with the Corps of Artillery until further Orders, without prejudice to their allowances.

The Governor in Council directs Mr. Commissary Penn of the Invalids to proceed and take charge of the Commissary's Department and Laboratory at St. Thomas's Mount until further Orders.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

(Signed) J. H. PELLE, Sec. to Govt.

G. O. By the Honorable the Governor in Council.

On the march of H. M. 2d Battalion of the Royal from the Garrison of Fort St. George, Lieutenant Colonel Conran will assume the Command of the force under Orders of March to the Ceded Districts without interfering with the Command of the Troops in the Center Division of the Army.

The Governor in Council is pleased to express his entire approbation of the Conduct of the 2d Battalion of the Royal while they have been stationed at Fort St. George.

The Governor in Council requests that Lieutenant Colonel Conran will accept the expression of his warmest thanks for the able and satisfactory manner in which he had conducted the duties incidental to the Command of the Troops in the Garrison of Fort St. George.

Lieutenant Colonel Macleod of H. M. 69th Regiment is appointed to succeed Lieutenant Colonel Conran in Command of the Troops composing the Garrison of Fort St. George, with the allowances attached to a Government Command.

The Deputy Adjutant General and the Deputy Quarter Master General of the Army will join and do duty with the force under the Orders of Lieutenant Colonel Conran,

Mr. James Gilmour is appointed Staff Surgeon to the force under Lieutenant Colonel Conran.

AT HIS GARDEN HOUSE,

EARLY ON THE 6th INSTANT,

DEPARTED THIS LIFE,

DOCTOR JAMES ANDERSON,

AND

President of the Medical Board of Madras.

AT THE AGE OF 72.

Nearly 50 of these years have been spent most honorably in the Service of the Honorable Company, and more than half that time as the admired and venerated Head of his Profession.

DR. ANDERSON commenced his Medical Career in the Company's Land Service at the Siege of Manila, he was afterwards continued in situations of the greatest Trust and Responsibility, during the subsequent arduous Wars and severe service, that established the British Dominion in the Peninsula; in all which time he was the friend and companion of the renowned Characters, who then commanded the Companies Armies. His anxious kindness to the sick, his great exertions, his general philanthropy and nobleness of mind gained him universal esteem: his Companions of those days have ever since been solicitous to shew him their high sense of his merits.

Possessing an ardent desire for science, a sound judgment and very retentive memory, he was always thankful for Books, as he could seldom find sufficient to occupy his mind; and of this he frequently complained: he thus acquired much general and useful knowledge, which led to the extensive printed correspondence he has carried on for so many years.

He was called down from Vellore to Madras in the year 1771 as one of the Presidency Surgeons, the best situation the Government could then give him, where he was ever since resided; always eminent in his profession, kind and attractive in his manners, with generally a great flow of spirits, he has long courted and adored: his remaining old friends can testify to the truth of this.

With a view to Health, while resident in the Fort, and to obtain farther employment for his active mind, he obtained from Government in 1772 the Grant of an extensive piece of waste Land not three miles distant from the Fort.—To improve this land has occupied much of his time, and it latterly constituted his greatest pleasure.—His Garden on which no expense has been spared, and which has so generally been the resort for pleasure and instruction, will shew the dignified scale of all his actions; and it may be said that it has greatly contributed by the example to the improvement that has been made on the bounds of Madras, since that period.—Till he began, there were only a few imported engrafted Mango Trees,—all the settlement will now acknowledge their obligations for this fine fruit, which is now common—he has collected Trees also, from all quarters, and ever anxious to make the gifts of nature extensively beneficial, he was never happier than when he could oblige any one in this way.

On his first voyage to India having witnessed the greatest distresses from scurvy, and having afterwards seen the height of human misery at Madras from famine, during Hyder's invasion of the Carnatic, these occurrences made strong and lasting impressions on his mind, and led in a great measure to the various subjects in his numerous publications, at his own expense, ever since 1785, of which the aim has always been to encourage industry in the country, and place within reach the means of preventing such dreadful evils; his name has thus become universally known and is never mentioned by the Natives but with reverence and respect—they considered him as their Father and Friend.

These publications will best bespeak the energy and warmth of his heart, and that in the attainment of whatever benefited his species, no labor or expense would be spared. His letters regarding the use and culture of the Nopal, of which he has made extensive Plantations, will shew the enthusiasm of his mind in pursuit of such object; they absorbed at times his whole attention, deeming their religious obligations: the benefit already produced will stamp him as a benefactor of mankind.

As his mind was noble, independent and humane, so was his person and countenance, comely and interesting; his keen, expressive, benevolent eye spoke to every feeling heart—far above every selfish passion, his purse and his best endeavours were ever ready to relieve distress—hospitable in the extreme, his table was almost always crowded, and who that has ever witnessed it can forget the kind welcome and happiness that prevailed, with the pleasant sportive, instructive, argument of which he was so fond, and his house has ever been the asylum of sickness, of friendship, and of young men on their arrival in the country.

A stranger to deceit himself, he could with difficulty be persuaded of its existence in others, he spoke therefore freely his sentiments on all occasions without meaning to offend, and liberal in all his actions, he was ever the patron and encourager of merit.

Happy thus within himself, with a mind extraordinary well regulated, seldom allowing his temper to be ruffled, or even old habits to continue when deemed improper, he attained a good old age with a remarkable appearance of health and spirits; when a severe disease occurred, which rapidly terminated his invaluable life.

In his last moments his strong mind and amiable qualities never forsook him, he expressed much gratitude for the anxious solicitude shewn by the Settlement for his recovery.

This is but a feeble, imperfect sketch of this rare and great man; the loss of so superior a character is a public misfortune, and will be most severely felt—it may with truth be said, he has not left his like behind him.

He was interred with Military honors. The Union Flag was hoisted in the Fort half-mast high and minute guns were fired during the mournful procession from his Garden House to the Burial Ground. His remains were attended to their last home by a detachment of the Royal Artillery, and His Majesty's Royal Regiment. The Coffin was carried by Artillery Men, and the Pall-bearers were the Hon. Chief Justice, Sir B. SULLIVAN, THE THAMES

MEMBERS OF COUNCIL, THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF, and DR. BERRY, as CHIEF MOURNER. He was also followed by a concourse of all Ranks, European and Natives, anxious, by this public, though mournful testimony to shew their respect and veneration for departed worth.

Within these few days three detachments of troops have arrived at his Presidency from Ceylon. They consist of about 650 rank and file, of H. M. 54th Regiment, three Companies of 100 men each, H. M. 89th Regiment, and a Company of the Royal Artillery. The whole, including Officers, amount to about 1100.

MADRAS, AUGUST 11, 1809.

Yesterday a Session of Oyer, Terminer and General Goal Delivery in the Supreme Court, commenced before the Honorable Sir Thomas Strange, Knight, Chief Justice, at the Court House in Fort St. George, who addressed the Grand Jury in the following terms:—

GENTLEMEN OF THE GRAND JURY.

I have to beg your attention for a few minutes, while I trouble you with the matters which I have to give you in charge.

Upon the larcenies in the Calendar I have nothing particular to say, except to observe that a number of them were committed during the continuance of those tumults which agitated the Native population of the town for several days subsequent to the close of the last Sessions, occasioned by a difference that has long subsisted with respect to certain particulars between, in this part of India, two comprehensive classes of the Hindoos. In return for their unceasing and exemplary allegiance to us; we owe to this portion of our subjects an anxious attention to every thing by which their feelings as well as their interests are capable of being affected. It is not for us to deride their prejudices, particularly such, the history and nature of which we but imperfectly understand. Exercising over them the rights of Government, it is our duty so far as we may have it in our power, to make their case our own; wherever either circumstances, or their reference, calls upon us to interpose, though, upon an abstract consideration of the subject, their estimate of its importance, and our's, may widely differ. Government has therefore acted both wisely and humanely in appointing a Committee to investigate the differences to which I allude, with a view to some arrangement that may prevent for the future their tendency to disturb the public peace. The Committee engaged in the enquiry is peculiarly qualified to answer its purpose, delicate as is the trust confided to it. In the mean time justice must take its course against delinquents who shall appear to have availed themselves of the disorder of the moment to commit depredations upon their terrified fellow subjects. Cases of this description will occupy some portion of the time you will have to allot to the public service in consequence of the summons under which you are assembled.

There are also no fewer than three murders in the Calendar. None of them require any particular observation from me at present, except one for which you will find that the Grand Jury at the last Sessions, though they could not, upon the evidence before them justify finding a Bill. The atrociousness of the case, and the just anxiety of that Jury, that the guilty should not escape, induced the Courts to detain till the present Sessions the prisoner who stood committed for it, in the hope during the interval of some further discovery. I am sorry to have to tell you that none has been made; though the intelligence of the Police has been exerted for the purpose. The case therefore will come before you upon precisely the same evidence upon which your predecessors in the function you are entering upon thought it most discreet not to find any Bill. The prisoners if discharged this Session for want of a bill being found against them will be liable at any future time to be called upon again to answer, upon discovery of better evidence to charge them than what at present exists. It is proper however for me to tell you, that you are not in the slightest degree bound by the judgment of the former Grand Jury. If the evidence that will be laid before you shall in your opinion be sufficient to warrant the accusation upon which they stand committed, it will be your duty to confirm it by finding the bill that will be preferred to you for the purpose.

There is one other commitment in the Calander upon a charge of a description that requires to be noticed. It is a capital one for a brutal and violent attack upon the chastity of the weaker sex, the nature of which I need not further particularise. It is preferred against a British soldier, and if true, is attended with circumstances of considerable aggravation, for the prosecutrix is a native, and married. In an address which I mean to publish, I am unwilling to enter into remarks upon an accusation of this sort, which might otherwise assist you in deliberating upon the evidence to be adduced in its support, and shall content myself for the present with imparting to you the caution in an enquiry of the kind of one of the best and most enlightened judges that England ever saw. When the witnesses for the prosecution shall present themselves, should difficulties occur, if you will intimate them, it will be the duty of the Court to guide you the best it can in their solution. Meanwhile be it sufficient that I read to you some passages on the subject from the work of Lord Hale, that excellent Judge to whom I allude. "It is true," says he, (speaking of the offence in question) "it is a most detestable crime, and therefore ought to be punished with death; but it must be remembered, that it is an accusation easily to be made, and hard to be proved, and harder to be defended by the party accused, though ever so innocent. And therefore, says he, though the party injured be in law a competent witness, yet the credibility of her testimony must be left to the jury upon the circumstances of fact that concur with "that testimony." He then proceeds to lay down a few general rules as guides to the discovery connected with the character of the prosecutrix, her deportment at the time; the signs of the alleged injury; the place where it was committed, and lastly, the conduct of the party accused. His experience had led him to be sceptical to the fact, while in the description of the crime he uniformly speaks of it, as it deserves, with indignation and horror.

Gentlemen, the certainty that acts of rebellion have, within the territories dependant upon this Presidency, been recently committed by numbers of the Honorable Company's Officers engaged in an extensive combination eventually to throw off all obedience to this Government, and seek redress of alleged grievances by arms, forbids my parting with you on the present occasion without drawing your attention to a state of things at once so extraordinary, so perilous, and so highly criminal. If there be in the mind of any one of you, Gentlemen, the least doubt as to the fact, upon him I shall expect to make no impression till he be better informed on the subject. If the fact however be that the description of persons to whom I allude have, with comparatively few exceptions been prevailed with to enter into an illegal combination, and that individuals of them, availing themselves of its support, are by their acts leaving to this Government no alternative but either to compromise the public authority, or to endeavour to maintain it by the sword, then the time is in my opinion arrived, when it becomes every man in his sphere to consider the part which it may be proper for him to take in a contest in which it is not seemly to be natural, and to exhort others over whom he may have influence to adopt that, which, upon a conviction of its being right, he means himself to pursue.

That the moment for doing this, in the most public as well as unreserved manner, has existed ever since the day upon which Government took measures for requiring from every Company's Officer a test of his fidelity, it will be believed that I can have little doubt in assuming. By that act, on the part of Government, the most universal publicity was given to the state of things as it existed between it, and that portion of the army to which I am alluding. In the development which the dictates of prudence seem upon that day to have rendered indispensable; the Natives were expressly included. The Native Officers of Corps were convened by authority to receive an explanation of the measure adopted with respect to such of their European Officers as had declined affording the test that had been required. The policy of reserve from an apprehension of alarm ceased with that act; and it became from that moment the proportionate duty of every friend to his country by rallying round Government to countervail as much as possible the evil tendency of a disclosure that had taken place, and could be no longer restrained.

If individual, the combination alluded to being effected, and pushing their plans for the controul of Government to the extent described, it is for this Court exercising its legal dis-cement to give to the well disposed the satisfaction of knowing, that if they are embarked in a conflict with their fellow-subjects, they are about to contend at least on the side of duty, for the preservation of whatever ought to be dear, so them, in opposition to betrayers of their trust, employing in the subversion of the state, the arms committed to them for its preservation.

Dreadful indeed is the alternative to which Government has been driven, more especially considering the numbers engaged in this design, for whom many a consideration will plead. But, dreadful as it is "they who take arms against a lawful established Government create the necessity of all acts requisite to be done on the side of that Government in order to repel and subdue them, or which in the nature of things, become unavoidable for their suppression."

On the other hand, those who on such an occasion can make up their minds to be instrumental in compromising the public authority, are either blind to consequences, or actuated by views quite distinct from the public good. Compromised it could not be without consequences following infinitely more to be dreaded than any evil to be apprehended from a steady opposition to armed demands, if Government possess the means of making it.

Thanks to the loyalty of his Majesty's corps, of the officers of the Honorable Company who are adhering to their duty, and to the discriminating sense of the native officers, the apprehension of any great ultimate danger to the state seems to be subsiding. The desperate experiment of forcing Government, of substituting in effect a aristocracy (the worst of all Governments) in place of the one under which it is our happiness to live, wilt; there is now reason to hope, be defeated without the difficulty that might have been expected. In the mean time, Gentlemen, it becomes us at such a moment to recognise in the acts of the ruling power, the discharge of an extreme, and painful duty. It should be remembered, that the British establishments in India represent the authority of the state at home, to which their conductors are severally responsible. It is some time since they could no longer with propriety be considered in the limited view of chartered Governments. They have stood now for several years on the foundation of a celebrated act of Parliament, defining their powers and subjection, with reference to which letter they may be regarded as King's Governments, as much as any other within the Empire, to which the King directly appoints. Against such an authority, it is that many of the Company's officers may be considered as at this moment in arms, many more in a state of desertion from their duty having incapacitated themselves from performing it by declining to abide by the tenor of their commissions. In such a state of things, Gentlemen, is it for the Government to surrender? Distress might compell it, it must be extreme however indeed to justify a thought of the kind. If it have the means of protecting the public authority, it is its duty to exert them for the purpose to the utmost.

Gentlemen, the sentiments which upon this occasion I wish to convey, occur in a paper I have lately had occasion to see, so stated, that, while I adorn my charge by their insertion, I think I cannot more effectually serve the cause to which they relate, than by offering them to you as I find them expressed.

" I should sincerely hope (says the writer of it) that there " is no officer however deluded by his passions who, to pro" cure redress for his grievances, will deliberately justify " an act of resistance against the legal and established autho" rity of Government. Were they ten times as numerous " as they are represented to be, it will not, I trust, be " asserted that redress should be insisted upon, tho' the " Government itself be destroyed in the attempt. But the " officers seem to consider themselves irrevocably engaged

“ by certain pledges and promises, from whence they think “ they cannot recede with honour to themselves. A promise
 “ from one officer to another is assuredly a solemn obligation, “ and one that should not be lightly abandoned. But the “ officers should seriously reflect that there are sacred pledges “ and promises which are antecedent and superior to those “ that they have given to support their present desperate “ undertaking. In giving a pledge to promote a hostile “ combination against the Government, the officers should “ recollect that they violate all their solemn obligations as “ soldiers and subjects. No promise to perform an illegal “ act can be legal; no engagement ought to be considered as “ binding, which is itself a violation of all prior, and su“ perior engagements. The duty of a soldier to his superi“ or, and of a subject to his Government, is paramount to “ his duty to a brother officer.”

This beautiful exposition of sentiments, the most correct comes from an accomplished officer in the same service, the character of which upon the coast, the application of them so severely, but so justly arraigns, and I am happy in being empowered to give to them the greatest possible circulation.

Gentlemen, there has been averred to you in justification of the charge that I am delivering nothing but what I have upon the best authority reason to know to be the fact. The consequence I should think would in the mind of every good subject instantaneously follow. Rebellion is to be discountenanced, and put down. Every attempt to intimidate Government into the retraction of acts that have been deliberately adopted, and may, if exceptionable, be rectified at home, should be reprobated as tending to the subversion of its general authority, upon the maintenance of which the peace and preservation of society depends. In thus exhorting you, Gentlemen, I am not undertaking the defence of measures,— Non tali auxilio.—Not only it is impossible that I should have had any participation in those which have been so perseveringly resisted by the great body of the Company's officers upon this establishment, and highly improbable at that that I should have been consulted upon them, but, from motives of truth as well as of justice, I take this opportunity of declaring, that of the occasions and grounds of them I know as much and not more than the least informed among yourselves.—But, tho' it is not for me to defend measures, there are principles, which it is my province to inculcate, nor, regardless of all private interests and particular prejudices, can you, Gentlemen, possibly at this moment render a more important service to your country than, by adopting and enforcing them, to contribute to bring back the deluded to their duty, and restore to this distracted portion of the Empire something like union and security.

MADRAS, AUGUST 12.

On Thursday last, the Hon. the Chief Justice, the Hon. Thos. Oakes, and James Henry Casamajor, Esquires, Members of the Council, Major General Gowdie, commanding the Army in Chief, and the principal inhabitants of Madras, waited on the Honorable the Governor, at the Government House, in Fort St. George, when the following Address was read and presented to the Governor by the Chief Justice.

To the Hon'ble SIR GEORGE BARLOW, Bart. Knt. of the Bath, Governor and President in Council of Fort St. George and its Dependencies, &c. &c. &c.

HON'BLE SIR,

We whose names are hereunto subscribed impressed with a deep sense of our duty to our country, and of the necessity of good order and obedience to the constituted authorities, beg leave to tender you, at this moment of difficulty and danger, our assurances of support to the interests of Government, and of our readiness to devote our lives and fortunes to the maintenance of the public tranquility in any way, in which to you, in your wisdom it may seem meet to command them.

We desire to take this opportunity of publicly expressing our fullest disapprobation of that spirit of insubordination which has recently shown itself among the Officers of the Honorable Company's Army serving under the Presidency of Fort St. George. Fully convinced, that it is the duty of every good subject to yield obedience to the commands of those whom the will of his Sovereign, and the laws of his country have placed in authority over him, and patiently to await the result of a reference to Europe for the redress of real or supposed grievances; any conduct, impatient of the period of such appeal, and backward to the calls of professional obedience, we regard as subversive of all good order and discipline, hostile to the constitution of our Native country, and big with danger to the existence of the British Empire in India.

And we therefore, Honorable Sir, beg to repeat the assurances of our firm determination to resist the operation of such principles, which we are convinced must be equally reprobated and condemned by all good and loyal subjects.

To this address the Governor delivered the following reply.

GENTLEMEN,

I beg you will accept my warmest acknowledgements for this mark of respect and attachment to the interest of my Government.

Assurances of confidence and support from persons of your rank, character and station, most at all times have been highly gratifying to me; but they are peculiarly acceptable at the present moment of difficulty, when the Government is deserted by too many of those in whose hands the constitution had placed arms for its defence.

When I reflect however on the distinguished reputation which the Officers of the Army of the Honorable Company have acquired, I cherish a well grounded expectation that the example which has this day been afforded by you, will produce the most salutary impressions on the minds of those individuals who have been so unhappily misled, and induce them to return to a correct sense of their duty.

While our Native Country is struggling for the support of the liberties of Europe, it cannot be possible that she should be wounded by her own Sons in these distant and valuable possessions which have been won by their arms, and which can be maintained only by a strict obedience to that authority to which she has confided their defence and Government.

There is a principle of national feeling and attachment deeply implanted in the minds of Britons which cannot be eradicated. I am confident therefore that in the hour of danger every British Government must find friends and supporters in all the good and reflecting part of society, who will be ready to rally round it, and to defend the principles of that constitution which is the source of our liberty and happiness. They will perceive that every violation of the authorities created by the constitution, is a violation of the constitution itself and they will be convinced that the greatest misfortune which could befall the State, would be the surrender of its authority to the army which it maintains for its defence, and the submitting to their trampling on those first principles of duty and obedience on the observance of which by every class of the Community, and particularly the military servants of the public, the stability of every Government is founded. To maintain these principles must ever be my primary duty as the immediate head of the Government of this important branch of the British Empire in India, and to support me in the discharge of that duty must be the first wish of every loyal subject.

Deeply impressed as you are with the truth of these sentiments, you will be rejoiced at being informed that the honorable zeal and loyalty of His Majesty's Officers and Troops, and of a large body of the most respectable Officers of the Company's Army, supported by fidelity of the Native Troops, have enabled me to frustrate the designs which had had been formed for the subversion of the Government, and it will be a further source of satisfaction to you to know that the public security will be compleated by the Councils and authority of the Right Honorable the Governor General, whose arrival at this Presidency may be shortly expected.

In this extraordinary crisis, it must have been a source of gratification to every man of rank and high Station to have had an opportunity of placing his name in the list of those who have stood forward to discredit by their authority principles destructive of all order and legal Government. The public sentiment in every Society must necessarily be influenced by the opinions and conduct of its leading Members; and I anticipate the most essential benefits from the exertion of your endeavors to disseminate those feelings of duty and attachment to the laws, which you have this day expressed, feelings which will be applauded by our Country, and remembered to the honor of those by whom they have been manifested.

On Thursday last, arrived his Majesty's ship Cornwallis from Bombay, having under convoy the Hope and Windam, with the 1st Battalion 56th Regt. on board.

The same evening arrived the remainder of his Majesty's 66th Regiment of foot from Ceylon.

Fort St. George, 12th August, 1809.

G.O. BY THE HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.
 The course of proceedings followed for some time past by the Officers of the H. C. Army at this Presidency, has obliged the Government to adopt the most decided measures for the preservation of the important interests committed to its charge. These proceedings may be stated to have commenced with the transmission to the Government, by the late Commander in Chief, of a Memorial addressed to the Honourable the Court of Directors, dated January 1809, and Signed by a large proportion of the Company's Officers. Although that paper exhibits claims of an ungrounded nature, and contains observations equally improper and unjust on the Order of the Honourable Court of Directors and the Government. The Governor in Council was induced to permit it to pass without the serious notice which it appeared to demand by a confidence in the discipline of the Army, and a persuasion that the objectionable passage in the Memorial were inadvertently and unintentionally introduced.

The subsequent conduct of the Commander in Chief forced the Government to vindicate its authority by a signal example of punishment. It was well known to the Company's Officers, that the whole of this proceeding was referred to the Supreme Government, and the authorities in Europe; that it would receive from their wisdom a decision conformable to the soundest principles of reason and justice; and that its discussion could not belong to the cognizance of the Army, who precluded from becoming a deliberative body. Notwithstanding these considerations, the Governor in Council, anxious to remove every cause of misunderstanding relative to a measure of so important a nature, published an Order dated the 31st January, explaining to the Army the grounds on which it was adopted. The Governor in Council had a right to expect on the most obvious grounds of discipline, and respect for the laws, that the question would have been permitted to rest here, and receive its final award from the only powers competent to decide on it; and it was with feelings of equal surprize and concern, he learned that a memorial to the Supreme Government of the most intemperate description was circulated in the Company's Army. The Governor in Council, desirous to avoid a recurrence to measures of severity, and persuaded that it was sufficient to apprise the Company's Officers of the improper nature of their proceedings to induce them to desist from their prosecution, authorized the Commander in Chief to issue a circular letter, dated the 5th March 1809, explaining to those Officers the impropriety of their conduct, and calling upon them by the most powerful motives of duty, allegiance and honor, to abstain from such unjustifiable measures. A letter from the Right Honourable the Gov. Gen. in Council dated the 20th of February 1809, approving of the steps adopted by the Government of Fort St. George with respect to the late Commander in Chief, was also circulated to the Army, in the expectation that the sentiments of the Supreme Government would have repressed the spirit of action and insubordination which prevailed. These letters appear to have produced no effect; the memorial to the Supreme Government made further progress; and an address to Major Boles, an Officer under sentence of Suspension, written in language of determined sedition, was circulated in the Army, and forced upon the notice of the Governor in Council by a Company's Officer holding a confidential situation on his Staff. The Governor in Council was still induced to pursue a system of forbearance by the sentiments of affection and respect which he was disposed to entertain towards the Company's Officers, and by a conviction that the principles of zeal, discipline, and national attachment by which he supposed they were actuated, would lead them to relinquish the reprehensible measures in which they were engaged, on being made fully acquainted with the impropriety and danger. The Commander in Chief accordingly under the sanction of the Government, issued a second circular letter, dated the 10th April 1809, again calling upon the Officers of the Company's Army to adhere to their duty, correcting the erroneous opinions which they then received regarding the powers of the Government, and describing the unjustifiable nature and dangerous consequences of their proceedings. The Governor in Council learned with deep regret, that these measures of moderation, these repeated, and urgent appeals to the discipline, duty, national attachment, and professional honor of the Company's Officers, were entirely nugatory; that the memorials continued to be circulated, and that sentiments of sedition were openly declared in many parts of the Army. The farther forbearance of the Government would have encouraged the progress of those evils; a course of explanation and exhortation had been pursued in vain, and it became imperiously necessary to check by a salutary example of punishment a spirit of insubordination that threatened the most dangerous consequences to the prosperity of the Empire. The General Orders of the 1st of May last were accordingly passed. The Governor in Council is concerned to state, that this example, which was confined to the persons who were principally instrumental in promoting Sedition, and of whose delinquency the most ample proofs existed, and which was intended to obviate the necessity of more extensive punishments, failed to produce the beneficial effects anticipated from its adoption; and that principles of insubordination and sedition continued to prevail among the Company's Officers, if possible, with aggravated violence. The Company's Officers of the Hyderabad Subsidiary Force, whose good conduct in refusing to affix their signatures to the seditious addresses, had received the approbation of the Government, intimated to the rest of the Army in an address, dated in May last, scarcely less reprehensible than the papers which had incurred the animadversion of the Government; their participation in the disaffection which prevailed so extensively in the Company's Army. The Officers at Hyderabad followed up this act by threatening in an address dated 14th June, transmitted direct to the Governor in

Council, to separate themselves from the authority of the Government established over them by their Country, unless a submission should be yielded to their menaces, by abrogating the General Orders of the 11th of May, and the Company's Officers at Masulipatam imprisoned their Commanding Officer, and made preparations to desert the post entrusted to their charge, and to join the Hyderabad Subsidiary Force, thereby involving on account of views personal to themselves, the men under their Command in the guilt of rebellion, and furnishing to the Native Troops a dangerous example of resistance to authority. The Governor in Council still anxious to impress on the minds of the Company's Officers a sense of the impropriety of their conduct, published to the Army the dispatch from the Supreme Government dated the 27th of May last, which contained an entire approval of the measures of the Government of Fort St. George, and stated the most forcible and conclusive arguments against the system of faction and illegal combination which had been introduced into the Coast Army. This solemn decision of the Supreme Authority in India has also proved to be ineffectual; The Officers at Hyderabad, although they knew the sentiments of the Supreme Government, refused, in a body in a letter to their Commanding Officer dated the 8th July, obedience to the Orders of Government for the march of a Battalion from Hyderabad, adding as a threat, that its services might soon be useful to their Cause; and have since, forwarded to the Government in a paper dated 21st July, the conditions on which they are willing to return to their duty, and which they require the Government to accept, in order to avert the impending awful evils; evils which can result only from their own criminal determination to place themselves in the situation of Enemies to their Country. The conditions on which those Officers presume to state that they will yield obedience to the national authorities, afford further proofs of the nature of their designs; for they demand the public revocation of the General Orders of the 11th of May, the restoration of their rank and appointments of all Officers removed by this Government however obnoxious and criminal the conduct of those Officers may have been; the dismissal from office of the Officers of the Gen. Staff who may be supposed to have advised the Government, the trial by a General Court Martial of the Officer Commanding Masulipatam, who was arrested by his own disobedient Officers; and finally, an amnesty for the conduct of the Company's Army. The Garrison of Masulipatam have placed themselves in a state of rebellion, the troops at Seringapatam and Hyderabad have followed their example, and has been ascertained that the Military authority entrusted to Commanding Officers, has been usurped by self-constituted Committees, and that an organized system of combination, for the purpose of subverting the authority of the Government, has been established throughout the greater part of the Army of this establishment.

The Governor in Council perceives the foregoing course of proceedings on the part of the European Officers of the Company's Army, which has equally resisted measures of forbearance and punishment, a determined spirit of revolt, that must, unless, speedily repressed, produce the most fatal consequences to the constitution and authority of the Government and the interests of the nation. No means compatible with the honor and authority of the Government have been omitted to recal the Company's Officers to a sense of their duty as Soldiers, and of their allegiance as British Subjects; the forbearance displayed by the Government under circumstances of aggravated indignity, demonstrate the satisfaction with which it would have regarded any disposition on the part of the Company's Officers to manifest the usual obedience required from all Soldiers. No disposition however of that nature has appeared; on the contrary those Officers, by a systematic course of aggression and insubordination have forced the Government to adopt measures of the most decided nature for the support of its authority.

The Governor in Council would be guilty of a most criminal desertion of his duty, and the cause of his country, if he were culpable of confirming the evils of sedition and mutiny, by a submission to the menaces of a body of men placed by the law under his Government. Such a course of proceeding would prostrate the authority of the State before a disaffected and seditious faction; it would effectually incapacitate this and every succeeding Government from executing the functions of Administration, and would be fatal to the prosperity of the empire in India, by affording an example of successful opposition to authority; and by weakening the power and dignity of the Government which in this country are peculiarly essential to its existence. Influenced by these considerations, the Governor in Council has considered it to be his sacred duty, to resist every appearance of concession to the threats of insubordination and faction, and to employ the power and means at the disposal of the Government for the restoration of discipline, and the maintenance of its honor and authority.

In this state of affairs it is a source of the most gratifying reflection that the zeal, loyalty and discipline of his Majesty's troops, and of many of the most respectable Officers of the Company's Army, combined with the fidelity generally manifested by the native troops will enable the Government to accomplish the important object of re-establishing public order. The good conduct of his Majesty's troops during the dissensions that have occurred, their zealous adherence to duty, the preference which they have manifested to the principles of honor, virtue and patriotism, over the personal views and disorderly passions which prevailed around them, reflect the greatest credit on their character, and demonstrate that they are animated by the same ardent love of their country, which has distinguished their brother soldiers in Europe. His Majesty's troops under this Government will possess the gratifying reflection of having deserved the approbation and gratitude of their country, and of having eminently contributed to the preservation of an important branch of the Empire.

The Governor in Council entertains a hope, that the Company's Officers who have threatened the Government of their country with the most serious evils, who have demanded as the condition of being faithful to their duty, the execution of measures derogating to the character, and fatal to the interest of the State, will pause before they attempt to proceed, further in the course of Sedition and Guilt which they have pursued. It has been the earnest wish and anxious desire of the Governor in Council to avoid measures of extremity, to establish order by the course of the law, and to give us to Military trial the authors of the present disorderly proceedings. In the prosecution of measures so consonant to justice, so necessary for the restoration of discipline, and so conformable to the ordinary course of Military Government, the Governor in Council is persuaded that he shall have the concurrence of all persons in the Civil and Military Service who have not banished from their minds every sentiment of rational feeling; and he exhorts the Officers of the Company's Service, by submitting to his course of measure, to avert the evils which they are precipitating upon themselves. Such a result, gratifying at any period, would at the present moment of national difficulty, be peculiarly acceptable to the views and feelings of the Governor in Council, and adverting to the zeal and patriotism by which the Officers of the Company's Army have been distinguished, he still encourages a hope that by manifesting obedience to the Government, they will obviate the adoption of measures of extremity, arrest the certain consequences of their past conduct, and promote the restoration of general confidence, order and discipline.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

Bombay Intelligence.

BOMBAY, JULY 29, 1809.

The Nautilus brings intelligence that the Gulph is full of Pirates. We are sorry to learn, that almost all the crew of the Minerva, which was captured by them some time ago, have been put to death; those who were permitted to live, being compelled to renounce their religion.

By letters from H. M. Ship Belliqueux, of the 4th instant, of Mangalore, we learn, that the fleet until the 2d had experienced bad weather; the rain being incessant and the swell tremendous; for the first three days after leaving this port they made but little progress, the wind hanging from S. to S. S. W.

BOMBAY, AUGUST 2, 1809.

The arrival of the H. C.'s cruizer, Nautilus, from the Gulph, does not furnish us with any fresh intelligence relative to affairs in Europe. The only information we have received, is a confirmation, by report, of the renewal of war between Austria and France. The best possible understanding is said to subsist between Turkey, Persia, and Great Britain.

The fortress called Malliah, twelve cofs from Moorvee (in the province of Kautyawan, situated near the sea, up the gulph of Kutch), had long been the residence of one of those independent petty chiefs, whose predatory excursions were peculiarly obnoxious to the native powers. He had been repeatedly attacked by them, and had been uniformly so fortunate, either from the desperate resistance he made, or the incapacity of those who endeavoured to reduce him, as to repel their attacks; and had consequently grown up into a degree of insolent security, which led him to many excesses in the neighbourhood, and taught him to underrate the irresistible power of the British Indian army.

Decisive measures therefore became absolutely necessary, and a detachment, under the command of lieut. col. Walker, was ordered to march towards the fortress of Malliah, where they arrived on the morning of the 7th ultimo, and having reconnoitred the ground, took a position on the south-east face. The garrison was summoned on the same day, but the enemy shewed not the least disposition to surrender. Batteries were therefore erected in the course of the night, and such was the zeal and ability with which this service was performed, that they were enabled to play upon the fort on the morning of the 8th. The guns were admirably served, and so well directed, that a breach was reported practicable at three o'clock in the afternoon. The storming party was now formed, and captain Mc'Kenzie, of the Bombay European regiment, accompanied by lieutenant Newman of the 2d batt. 56th regt.—both volunteered their services to lead the Forlorn-Hope, in a most gallant style. The party who were immediately to follow consisted of 152 rank and file of the 2d batt. 56th regt. 48 rank and file of the Bombay European regiment the flank companies of the grenadier battalion, and those of the 1st battalion 5th regiment. The whole under major Mahony of the Bombay Grenadier battalion.

The party soon took possession of the works and the town. The enemy however continued to fire retreating, till they reached the durbar, where they made a determined resistance.

The durbar is in itself a fortress, Surrounded by a strong wall and secured by a gate. Eighteen and six-pounders were immediately brought up and opened upon it, but by this time the evening had shut in, and the fire on the durbar was suspended. The troops however were partially engaged during the night.

In the morning it was discovered, that the enemy had fled through a sally-port. Possession was immediately taken of the durbar, and 300 killed and wounded were found within its walls.

Our loss, Europeans and natives, in killed and wounded, amounts to 82.

OFFICERS KILLED:

Captain Mc'Kenzie,.... Bombay European Regiment.
 ——— P. Wilkinson,.... Ditto, ditto.

OFFICERS WOUNDED:

————— Arnott..... H. M.'s 2d batt. 56th Regt.
 Lieutenant Jameson..... Bombay European Regiment.
 ———— Chayne..... Ditto, ditto.
 ———— Brown..... Bombay Gr. batt.
 ———— Percy..... Ditto, ditto.

When we reflect upon the nature of the service, the rapidity of the movements, the erection of an excellent and efficient battery in the course of a few hours, the short space of time in which a breach was rendered practicable, the gallant activity of the storming parties, and the general promptitude and decision which marked the whole of this affair (which was completely executed in four and twenty hours) we must acknowledge that this little detachment is entitled to the highest praise, and we may venture to pronounce, that this gallant exploit will be viewed by posterity, as one which has added to the many laurels British valour has achieved in India.

To the brave officers and men who fell in the breach, and before the walls of the durbar, the feeble tribute of our praise is unnecessary. The death of a soldier is sanctified by the noble discharge of his duty, and in the words of the venerable Priam we will celebrate their obsequies :

Yet for my sons I thank you, gods! 'Twas well,
Well they perished, for in fight they fell.
Who dies in youth and vigour, dies the best.
Struck thro' with wounds all honest on the breast.

July 26th, arrived Ship Agnes, Captain C. R. Richardson, from Calcutta, which place she left the 22d May, and touched at Tranquebar the 15th June; spoke H. M. Ship Russel, to the southward of Pondicherry.

Ditto, H. C. Brig Nautilus, Lieut. R. Bennet, from Bushire and Muscat.

July 20th.—Sailed ship Lord Castlereagh, Captain Edward Cooper, to London.

Ditto 30th.—Sailed ship Hope, Captain R. Henderson, to Calcutta.

Ditto 30th.—Sailed ship Windham, Captain William Friend, to Bengal.

Ditto 30th.—Sailed his Majesty's ship Cornwallis, Captain W. A. Montague, to Bengal.

Ditto 30th.—Sailed ship Bhsemoolah, Captain F. Patrick, to Calcutta.

The Cumberland, Neptune, True Briton and Scalesby Castle, under Convoy of the Bombay Frigate, are appointed to sail for China on the 10th instant.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

The apprehensions of internal commotion, excited by the late proceedings at some of the military stations of the Madras Presidency, have, within these few days, materially subsided. The Officers of the Subsidiary Force serving at Hyderabad, have subscribed the test required of them, and have addressed the Supreme Government, expressing their contrition for the past, and declaring their determination to return to their duty, and peaceably to await the decision of the Honourable the Governor General, on the subject of the late unhappy events.

An address was at the same time forwarded from Hyderabad to the officers of the detachment under Colonel Doveton at Jaulna, recommending to them a like temperate course of conduct.

The garrison of Masulipatam have followed the example of the Hyderabad Force, by tendering a similar declaration of their allegiance to the Supreme Government.

EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM VIZAGAPATAM.

Vizagapatam, 27th August.

You have no doubt heard of the sad state of alarm

" and confusion, in which affairs now are on the Coast;
 " and will, I dare say, be happy to learn that we have now
 " a prospect of returning tranquillity. A part of the " troops have come back to their duty; and the example
 " will doubtless be followed by the others. The Hydra-
 " bad force have signed the Declaration, as have all the " officers at Masulipatam. The corps from Samelecottah
 " which had crossed the Godavery, are on their way back " to replace the treasure they had taken. The Natives in " our neighbourhood have, I am happy to say, shewn the " most peaceful disposition."

Reports of a less agreeable nature, with respect to the state of affairs at the station of Seringapatam, were yesterday brought to town by the Commander of the ship Adventure, which sailed from that Presidency on the 23d ultimo, and arrived in the river on Friday. The details, we understand, are contained in a Madras newspaper, which Captain Rowe left on board his vessel, and will probably be given to the public in the course of this day or tomorrow. Meanwhile, we forbear entering in them. It may be sufficient to state in general, that an attempt of open violence had been completely suppressed and overpowered by the Force stationed at that capital under the command of Colonel Davis, consisting of His Majesty's 80th Regiment of Foot, the 25th Light Dragoons and the Mysore horse in the service of the Rajah.

The arrival of Lord Minto was anxiously looked for at Madras, as the signal of returning peace and unanimity.
 And the late advices from the Northern stations of the Dekkan sufficiently evince, that the army themselves were disposed to look forward to that event, with such feelings, as more sober recollection was likely to awaken, and as we trust can in no situation be long dormant in the bosoms of Englishmen.

His Majesty's Ship Dover, having His Lordship on board, arrived off Ganjam on the 24th current. The Dover and her convoy had experienced a very tedious and unpleasant passage from the Sand-heads to that station. It had been rendered more so by the heavy sailing of the General Stewart, which, on the first day after their departure, had fallen 9 miles behind.—The Dover was consequently under the necessity of heaving to, and waiting until her comrade came up, —and the same cause of delay was renewed on each succeeding day. Mr. Spottiswood, Collector of Ganjam, and a Military Officer from the garrison, waited on Lord Minto on board the Frigate. We learn with satisfaction, that subsequent advices were received on Sunday from his Lordship, dated the 27th ultimo, off Cicacole; at which time, they were sailing before the wind, with a pleasant breeze.

We have the satisfaction to inform our readers, that the Ship Bheemoolah, having on board a considerable part of his Majesty's 56th Regiment from Bombay, and for whose safety serious apprehensions were entertained, had reached Madras in safety, previous to the departure of the Adventure.

The latest ukhbars, which we have seen, contain no intelligence on the subject of the politics of Cabul. Private advices however of a late date fully confirm the statement, which we formerly published, of the discomfiture of Noojah-ul-Moolk's army, and the flight of his family towards the Panjab. According to the most recent accounts, the unfortunate King had not (as was at first given out) taken shelter among the mountains, but had directed his course towards Candahar, where he had still hopes of raising a party in his favour. He had been deserted however by most of his chieftains of influence and authority; and his fortunes altogether were considered as in a very desperate condition. Zemaun Shah, with the Haram, remained at Rawul Bindee, under the protection of a Seik Chieftain.

We have been favoured with various communications, relative to the progress of Mr. Elphinstone's Embassy, on their return to the Company's Provinces. The latest is dated on the 9th of August, within one march of the banks of the Ravee. —The Gentlemen of the party were in the best health and spirits; and the proportion of sick among the Sepoys of the escort and the Camp followers was very inconsiderable. They expected to cross the Rauvee on the following day, and would proceed from thence, by the route of Umarutsir, to Loodaunnah, which place they hoped to reach by the 1st of September. They might be expected therefore at Dulhee, early in October. So far, their marches had been easy and pleasant, much beyond expectation. And, notwithstanding the advanced period of the season, the badness of the roads, the inundation of the country, and the breadth and rapidity of the rivers, they had experienced no very material obstruction or delay. With the exception of an affray, which took place on the 19th of July at a Pass near the river Jhyllum, the particulars of which shall be given in our next, they had met with no molestation from the people of the country; who, on the contrary, received and treated them, in general, with great civility. Mr. Elphinstone was attended by a Vakeel on the part of Runjeet Sing, whose son was expected to meet the Embassy, on their arrival at Umrutsir.

Some of the letters which we have seen, mention an unpleasant accident, which had befallen Mr. Alexander (one of the Assistants to the Embassy,) and which had nearly been attended with the most fatal consequences. On the 13th of July, while swimming his horse across the Koozyk river, Mr. Alexander inadvertently tightened the curb; on which the animal made an attempt to rear, and then immediately sunk. Mr. Alexander with great difficulty disentangled himself, and supported himself by swimming, until, with the assistance of some Natives who came out to meet him, he gained the opposite shore. The horse floated again, and was also saved.

Runjeet Sing, we understand, is still occupied among the eastern mountains, in preparations for the siege of Khote Kangra.

Dowlut Rao Scindia, according to the latest accounts, was encamped, with his host, within 10 coss of Ajmere; and had demanded the chout from the chieftain of that principality. Holkar appears to have been for some time stationary. Nulbaee, one of the women of his haram, who, ever since he became incapable of attending to public affairs, has taken a principal in the administration, has now, if we may venture to believe the Hindoostan newspapers, committed the chief authority into the hands of Kholesh Holkar and Bala Rao Seit, to whose commands all the Sirdars of the state have been directed to yield implicit obedience.

The dispatches for the following Country Ships, proceeding to Europe with cotton, left town on Saturday evening; viz: the Porcher, Captain Falconer, Margurat, Captain Kitson, General Wellesley, Captain Chauvet, and Bengal, Captain Waters. These vessels, it is understood, would sail immediately, and make the best of their way as single ships to England.

GENERAL ORDERS.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Head-quarters, Meerut Cantonment, 8th of August, 1809.

“ The Commander in Chief has received with no less “ concern than surprize, the information of events com“ municated in the General Orders by the Right Hon’ble
 “ the Governor General in Council under date the 20th “ ultimo. The channel prescribed for the more speedy “ circulation of General Orders by Government, during “ the absence of the Commander in Chief from the “ Presidency, precluded His Excellency from expressing “ at the same time, the participation he sincerely feels in “ the sentiments of affliction with which His Lordship in “ Council was impressed on the occasion.

“ In this delay however, the Commander in Chief has “ nothing to regret, being most perfectly satisfied that “ any observations by him in reference to such events, “ could only be an anticipation of those sentiments of “ unfeigned sorrow, with which the Officers of this Army
 “ will contemplate the conduct alluded to,—convinced
 “ as His Excellency is, that it must be equally depre“ cated and deplored by all.

“ The proceeding stated to have taken place at Ma-“ sulipatan, as it surpasses all example, so is it beyond

“ all comment. The Commander in Chief nevertheless “ feels confident hope and reliance, that the misguided
 “ opinions, and erroneous feelings of an unguarded mo“ ment, have long since yielded to a returning sense of “ Patriotic Feeling and Public Duty, and have ere now “ been superseded by principles of just and honorable “ conduct, consistent with that character of Loyalty, “ Discipline and professional Fidelity, which has hither-
 “ to so eminently distinguished the Officers of the Esta“ blishment of Fort St. George.”

Late letters from the Upper Provinces inform us of the arrival of Major-General Fuller, at Futtighur, on his way to Meerut.

The ship, supposed to be an Arab, which was seen by the Europa on the 25th ultimo, stranded near False Point, and apparently deserted by her crew, proves to be the Henry Purnel of Madras. That vessel sailed from hence in company with His Majesty's Ship Dover, and was proceeding under her convoy to the Coast; when, early in the morning of the 19th ultimo, she took the ground. Captain Williams, his Officers and the greater part of his lascars, with Messrs. Lloyd, Rogers and Grandcoin passengers, had reached Cuttack; from whence they were about to return in boats to the wreck, for the purpose of saving such part of the property as might yet be recoverable. One seacunny and four lascars had perished.

Several very serious accidents have occurred on the river in the course of the last few weeks, in consequence of the turbulence of the weather, and the extreme rapidity of the current. A few days ago, a large Countryboat, laden with stores of various descriptions for the H. C. Ship Car-natic, was proceeding down to that vessel, when, by the inadvertence or mismanagement of her Maangee, she ran foul of the cable of a ship, lying at anchor in the river. She instantly filled and sunk; and every soul on board, with the exception of one man, perished.

About eight or ten days ago, a sloop, which had gone down from Calcutta to the ship Warren Hastings at Saugor, in attempting to approach that vessel, came athwart her cables, and did some damage to her larboard quarter-gallery. The sloop went to the bottom on the following morning;—but all the people on board were saved.

By letters received last week from Dacca, we learn, that the rain had fallen there for some days with such unremitting violence, that four or five of the families resident at the station had been compelled to quit their habitations and seek shelter with their neighbours. A great part of Mr. Ogilvie's house, of Mr. Carter's and of Lady Heselidge's, had fallen in; and Mr. Mainwaring's house was in imminent danger of a like disaster. In short, hardly a single dwelling at the place had altogether escaped. And, in the city, the destruction both of the pukka and cutcha houses inhabited by the Natives, was most extensive and calamitous. The atmosphere began to clear again, about the 26th ultimo.

It appears, that the same extraordinary weather, which for some weeks prevailed over all Bengal and the province of Cuttack, has extended also throughout the Northern Circars, as far down as Masulipatam.

Letters received in town by the southern mail of Saturday, mention the death of Benjamin Rochuck Esq. Commercial Resident at Vizagapatam, an old and highly respected member of the Civil Establishment of Fort St. George.

The Hawtel Cartel, about to proceed with the French Prisoners at this Presidency to the Isle of France, began to drop down the river on Sunday. Mr. Hope, who proceeds from hence as Commissary for the exchange of Prisoners, will embark in the course of to-morrow or Thursday. The Harriet is expected to touch at Madras.

The large Hindoo Temple, seated on the road to Chitpore, fell to the ground on Saturday, and is now a heap of ruins. The spire and its surrounding turrets have long exhibited every appearance of imminent decay. Three Natives, it is said, lost their lives on the occasion, and two others were severely bruised.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

On Friday, arrived in the river the ship Adventure, Captain Rowe, from Madras the 23d of August.

On Saturday, arrived the brig Two Brothers, Sines Master, having sailed from Tranquebar on the 13th and Madras the 18th ultimo.

The American ship Jefferson, Captain Phillip, dropped down to Saugor yesterday se'ennight, and would sail for Philadelphia, at the same time with the Country-ships for England.

On Tuesday last, the Eliza, Captain Babcock, bound for Muscat, and on Friday, the Bengal, Captain Webster, for England, anchored at Kedgerree,—where they remain.

The General Wellesley, Captain Henderson, destined for Penang, dropped down to Saugor yesterday se'ennight, as did the Fort William, Captain Parsons, for London, and the Emma, Captain Sinclair, for Bombay, on Thursday last.

An express was last night received from Kedgerree, announcing the arrival of the American Ship Sally Anne, Captain Glover, having sailed from Madeira on the 20th of May.

The Sally Anne, we understand, is a Boston vessel, and had come to Madeira last from a British Port.

Bombay General Intelligence.

GENERAL ORDERS,

By the Honorable the Governor in Council,
BOMBAY CASTLE, 31st JULY, 1809.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to permit Lieut. Pratt of the Regiment of European Infantry, to proceed to China for the recovery of his health, with leave to be absent from this Presidency until the 1st day of Feb. 1810.

Captain A. Hogg of the 2d Regt. N. I. has the permission of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council to withdraw the furlough granted to him by the General Orders of the 9th June 1809.

BOMBAY CASTLE, 1st AUGUST, 1809.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to permit Major C. J. Sheen of the 4th Regt. N. I. to proceed to China for the recovery of his health, and to be absent from the Presidency until the 1st March 1810.

In consequence of the death of Lieut. H. Elderton of the 7th Regt. N. I. the Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that the following promotion take place in that Corps, viz.

THE REGIMENT NATIVE INFANTRY.

BOMBAY CASTLE, 3d AUGUST, 1809.

By the departure of Surgeon Wilson to Europe, the appointment of Superintending Surgeon to the Poona Subsidiary Force being vacant, the Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to appoint Surgeon Benjamin Phillips to that situation from the 29th of last month.

BOMBAY CASTLE, August 4, 1809.

The Governor in Council has had the satisfaction to receive a communication from Lieutenant Colonel Walker of the reduction of the Fort of Mallia, in the province of Kattywar, by storm on the 7th of this month.

The storming party was composed of a detachment of 152 rank and file from the 2d battalion of His Majesty's 5th regiment, and 48 rank and file from the remains of the Bombay European regiment, with their proportion of Commissioned and Non-commissioned Officers; of the flank companies of the grenadier battalion, and of the 1st of the 5th completed to 100 rank and file each, leading the attack; followed by the remainder of the grenadier battalion completed to 400 rank and file from the 1st battalion 5th regiment.

The advanced party, consisting of twenty-five Europeans, was commanded by Captain Lieutenant John Mackenzie of the Bombay European regiment; and Lieutenant Newman of His Majesty's 26th regiment, who commendably volunteered their services for the forlorn hope.

The storming party was commanded by Major Dennis Mahony, of the grenadier battalion.

The Fort of Mallia, though within the tributary dependencies of our Ally the Guicowar, had yet afforded refuge and protection to a powerful set of Banditti who had long infested the country; and had for a century successfully opposed the utmost efforts of the Native Armies that had been employed to reduce its Chieftain to obedience: the fortifications are strong; and the enemy aware of the approach of our troops; and obstinately bent on the most determined resistance, had secured the foot of the wall by a strong embankment thrown up of thorns and earth.

The force under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Walker, arrived before Mallia on the morning of the 7th, after a long and fatiguing March; having summoned the Fort without effect; and the garrison having pertinaciously and vauntingly resisted every attempt to obtain peaceable possession of the place, the guns opened their fire at day light on the morning of the 8th, the breach was reported practicable by three o'clock, the storming party, under the able disposition made for the assault, moved off a little before 4 o'clock, when the Forlorn Hope rushed on headed by Captain Mackenzie, who was the first person that ascended the breach and passed into the Town; he was gallantly supported by Lieutenant Newman of His Majesty's 56th Regiment, and by the remainder of the party; which placed the British force in possession of the greater portion of the Town in less than three quarters of an hour after entering the breach.

The severest part of the duty remained however yet to be performed; as the detachment advanced, resistance became more determined; the enemy retreated to the inner fort, which was strongly secured and inaccessible to an assault: the guns were brought up: and the fire again opened: but the evening being too far advanced to admit of a complete dislodgment being effected before its close, all further operations ceased and the storming party maintained possession of the works and of the town during the night, in the course of which however, the enemy, evacuated the place by a Sally-port, leaving a few of their troops in the fort to keep up an occasional fire; and at an early hour on the morning of the 9th, the fort of Mallia was completely occupied by the British Detachment.

In thus narrating the circumstances that attended the reduction of the fort of Mallia; the Governor in Council affords the most satisfactory testimony to the able disposition that had been planned by that judicious and experienced Officer Lieut. Col. Walker;—and to the promptitude, vigor and bravery, by which that plan was carried into effect, by the gallant Detachment under that Officer's command; which has added another conspicuous exploit to those that have already so often distinguished the zeal and intrepidity of the Bombay Army.

The fort of Mallia having been esteemed as impregnable by the numerous Chieftains dispersed throughout the Province of Katty-war, its early reduction, and the cool and steady valor by which it was carried, filled the several Vakeels of the different Chieftains, who were in attendance on Lieut. Col. Walker, and witnessed this military spectacle, with astonishment and admiration; and have afforded them a proof of the irresistible effects of British discipline, and prowess that cannot fail to operate the most beneficial consequences in the organization of so rude and uncivilized a tract of country, as is still the greater part of the Peninsula of Guzerat.

The Commanding Officer of the forces will be pleased to communicate to the Lieut. Col. in command of this force, and to the Officers and Men of His Majesty's and the Honorable Company's forces employed on the reduction of Mallia, the high sense entertained by Government of their professional skill and gallantry in the reduction of this important fortress; and, in particular of the orderly conduct and humanity displayed by the troops in its occupation.

The deep regret which the Governor in Council feels for the casualties that have occurred on this occasion is enhanced by the circumstances under which the death of Capt. McKenzie and of Capt. Wilkinson is to be deplored; having surmounted the dangers and difficulties of an assault, those gallant officers died, without a wound, from the extreme fatigue and violence of their exertions in the course of an uncommonly sultry and oppressive day:—these lamented casualties prove the arduous nature of the enterprise and exhibit the perseverance and merits of the troops in the most forcible light.

The Honorable the Governor in Council having perused with satisfaction and sympathy, the Orders issued by Lieutenant Colonel Walker on the occasion of this acquisition, has the pleasure to express his concurrence in the detailed notice by that able and discerning Officer, of the more minute circumstances incident to the highly-meritorious services in question, inclusive of the very honorable mention made by the Lieutenant Colonel, of the duties respectively performed by the different Officers who appear to have severally contributed so materially to the reduction of the Fort of Mallia.

By Order of the Honorable the Governor in Council,

F. WARDEN, Chief Sec. to Govt.

Field Detachment Order by Lieutenant Colonel Walker, dated Camp at Mallia, 8th July, 1869.

The necessity to which the obstinacy of the people of Mallia, had reduced the Commanding Officer of attempting the place by storm, has imposed on him the obligation of paying that tribute of gratitude to the Detachment, which is so eminently due to their zeal, energy, and exertion.

By the conspicuous exercise of these qualities so nobly displayed in the proceedings before the Fort, and the subsequent storm, a numerous and desperate Gang of Robbers has been routed out from the Country, and a considerable portion of their number annihilated, who for nearly a Century past have plundered and laid waste the surrounding Territory, and hitherto defied all efforts for their subjection.

The devastated extent of Country through which the Troops have marched, is a sufficient evidence of their depredations; but this bears but a small proportion to their actual extent.

The extirpation of this Nest of Banditti, has been reserved for the zeal and gallantry of British Troops, and the memorable example which has been effected in the assault of yesterday, it is hoped will have a most salutary impression in the Country.

As the assault took place in the presence of several Bhomias and of the Vakeels of the Chieftains of the Country, a Military spectacle of a column of British Troops marching in open day to the attack of a fort against which batteries had only a few hours been opened, was exhibited; of which they could have entertained previously no just conception; but which could not fail to establish in the minds of those spectators, and throughout the Country sentiments of the highest respect and admiration.—In fact, the Commanding Officer is well assured that this effect was produced in proportion to the reputation which the desperate Banditti of Mallia had acquired by their repeated success in repulsing the operations of powerful Native Armies, and their daring defiance of every restraint and authority.

It is with mixed sentiments of admiration and regret, that Lieutenant Colonel Walker proceeds to express his gratitude and acknowledgments to the Detachment for their conduct.

It is difficult for Lieut. Colonel Walker to find terms to express his feelings at the excellent behaviour of the storming party, under the Command of Major Mahony, for whose gallant exertions, which placed the British Troops in possession of the Fort of Mallia, the expression of every sentiment that can arise from the private feelings of friendship or the obligations of public duty is so justly due.—The established reputation and services of Major Mahony can however receive no additional weight from any Eulogium that Lieutenant Colonel Walker can express.

It is equally satisfactory to the Commanding Officer, and in unison with similar feelings, that he returns his thanks to Captain Gifford; the support afforded to the storming party by the pickets, and Captain Gifford's arduous duty in preserving the position in the fort during the night, entitle him to Colonel Walker's best thanks.

The whole of the troops have witnessed the display of skill, science, and exertion of Capt. Pierce, Lieuts. Hardy, Russell and Moore, and the whole of the Artillery, and Lieutenant Colonel Walker can only repeat his expressions of satisfaction at their conduct, which he has had so many occasions to acknowledge.

To Captain Daly, the Officers and men of the 56th, and Captain Lithgow, and the Officers and men of the Bombay Regiment, the Commanding Officer returns his particular acknowledgments. The former have nobly supported the reputation of the Senior Battalion in all the characteristics of good soldiers, and the character of the Bombay regiment, is too well established to require any confirmation from their gallant exertions in the affair of yesterday.

The Commanding Officer has equal occasion to be satisfied with the conduct of the Native troops, and he requests that Major Mahony and Captain Gifford will have the goodness to express his fullest approbation and satisfaction at their conduct.

Where there is so much to praise, and nothing to reprehend, it is impossible to notice the conduct of every individual, but the Commanding Officer is satisfied he is only expressing the feelings of the whole detachment in paying this tribute of public praise to the memory of Captain Mackenzie, whose gallant behaviour has excited universal admiration.

The Commanding Officer cannot omit the expression of his warmest acknowledgments to Captain Cox and Arnot for their exertions at the erection of the batteries and for their conduct at the storm, and it would be injustice to withhold his thanks to Lieutenant Newman for his spirited support of Captain Mackenzie in the advanced party.

To Captain Room, and the Officers and men of the troop of cavalry every acknowledgement is due that can result from activity, spirit and alacrity. The countenance and determination exhibited by this promising body on the day of the arrival of the detachment before the fort of Malha, is a sufficient evidence of the confidence that may be placed on them in the line of their profession.

The duty of the Medical Gentleman of the detachment must yield them more solid satisfaction than the most cordial expression of public thanks.—It would however be doing injustice were Lieutenant Colonel Walker to omit to notice the humanity, attention and skill of Surgeon Sproull and assistant Surgeons Gordon and Headly.

To the officers of the staff and of his family Lieut. Col. Walker, begs to embrace this occasion of offering his thanks for their continued zeal and exertion; but it would be doing violence to his feelings and the friendship and confidence which he reposes in Captain Greenwood, were he to decline this public expression of his gratitude and obligation for the great assistance he has derived from his services, which have ever been directed by that gallant zeal, and ardent desire of distinction which form the most honorable features of the Military profession; and it is only giving utterance to his own sentiments in repeating Major Mahony's report of the distinguished gallantry and exertions of Captain Smith, and Lieut. Macmurdo who accompanied him to the assault.

To Ensign Carnac the thanks of the Commanding Officer are also due for the attention and activity with which he performed those duties, which he had to execute.

Lieutenant Colonel Walker, is persuaded that these Gentlemen will do justice to those motives of delicacy, which prevent a more detailed expression of his sentiments of that conduct, which he cannot view without partiality.

Deeply as the Commanding Officer regrets the loss sustained by the detachment, it is probably as little as could be expected, under the peculiar circumstances of the case, and appears to have been solely owing to the enemy having got possession of a fortified house which was inaccessible to an assault.

Lieut. Col. Walker begs to assure the Detachment collectively, and individually of the impression which their excellent conduct has made upon him, and which he will feel it his duty to express in due terms for the notice and approbation of Government and the Commanding Officer of the Forces.

H. SMITH;

The vessel noticed in the Gazette of the 2d instant to have been captured in the attempt to enter the Isle of France, is supposed to be the same that was several years ago, called the Duncan; which name was bestowed on her, when she was purchased at this place by the late Aka Mahomed Behbany, on account of his then employer, Hajy Kheleelken, the first Ambassador from the King of Persia to British India. The latter however discontinued the name of Duncan, and assigned to the ship, that of Khusrowee, or, Impetual; under which, she continued to be known, till the well known unfortunate death of that Minister, in the year 1802; when, this vessel falling back, on the hands of Aka Mahomed, then a merchant settled at the Port of Bombay, her name of "Duncan", or "the Governor Duncan", became from that period restored, in consequence of its standing inserted in her British Registry: but, upon a subsequent resolution of the Government of this Presidency, not to extend the benefit of British Passes and Colours to Arab or Persian shipping, unless in very particular instances; the owner of the vessel in question, took out, under her former name of Khusrowee, a sea pass, from the Imam of Muscat; with which, she proceeded from Bushire to Bengal, and was thence, chartered on a trading voyage, and cleared out, under that Persian name, from the Custom-house at Calcutta, in the month of August 1806, in the course of which voyage, those in charge of her, having put into the Isle of France, she was there detained, and made prize of: and being put up to sale, was bought by an Arab of Muscat; who has, under the Protection and flag of that people, been since employing her in commerce ; without any right, to resume, or to navigate under, her former name of Duncan ; which if brought forwards, at the time of her lately reported capture, must have been done altogether with a view to elude if possible, the vigilance of our blockading squadron.

HURKARU EXTRA,—SEPTEMBER 9, 1809.

It may be gratifying to many of our readers to learn, that the Fleet of China Ships, which sailed from England in April last, arrived in safety at Penang, on the evening of the 22d of July.

This Fleet has come out, under convoy of His Majesty's ship St. Albans of 64 guns, Captain Austin, and is composed of the following vessels, viz: Marquis of Ely, Thames, Glatton, Royal Charlotte, Princess Amelia, and Coutts. The H. C. ship Albion had separated from her comrades, in hazy weather, near the Line.

The above information is communicated, in letters from Penang of the 28th of July, forwarded to Chittagong on the Venus, & this morning received from that station by express.

We are extremely sorry to add, that they convey the further intelligence of fresh depredations committed by the enemy's cruizers, along the eastern shores of the Bay. The Clyde, a valuable merchant-vessel belonging to Messrs. Scott and Forbes of Penang, and insured to a considerable amount in the Calcutta Offices, had been captured off Tullasamoy by a Grab Privateer. Two American Ships had experienced the same fate. And, the Lady William Bentinck, bound from hence to Bencoolen, had narrowly escaped from two French Ships of War, as she was entering Padang Roads, about the middle of June.

The H. C. ship Lord Castlereagh, accompanied by the Anna, arrived at Penang from Fort Marlborough, on the 27th of July.

The H. C. ships Earl Spencer, Monarch, and Lord Keith still remained at the island, waiting for convoy. The Bengal ships Nancy Grab, Ceres, Mysore and Fame, were in the same predicament. They were in daily expectation however of a Frigate either from the squadron off the coast of Java, or from Madras.

The Bombay Fleet bound to China, under convoy of His Majesty's Ship Dedaigneuse, reached Penang on the 29th of June, and sailed again on the 3d of July.

Through the same channel, by which the above intelligence has passed, a report has been received, (though we cannot precisely say on what authority it rests,) stating that a squadron of seven French Frigates, commanded by Admiral Sercy, had arrived from France at the Mauritius.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council,
FORT WILLIAM, AUGUST 22, 1809

The Vice President in Council is pleased to resolve, that in future all Native Invalids transferred to the Jaggeedar Establishment, shall have the option of repairing to the zillahs in which they are ultimately to reside, and of receiving their pay there under the Regulation Office, instead of being obliged to reside immediately at Allahabad or Mongheer, as required by the existing Regulations.

The names and rank of the invalids who may avail themselves of this option, will be notified in General Orders by His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, SEPT. 1, 1809.

The permission granted by General Orders of the 29th April last, to Lieutenant W. B. Walker, of the 3d Regiment Native Infantry, to proceed to Sea, for the benefit of his health, is ~~extended~~ ^{continued} until three months, from the 29th of October next.

J. ADAM, 1stg Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

Advices from the Gulph have been received, by the Arab merchants resident in Calcutta. The only article of news which they convey, is the report of a dreadful Plague, said to have arisen among the Wahabees on the Western coast, to have carried off a prodigious number of those freebooters, and to have extended its ravages even to the confines of Bufforah.

The interdiction of the commerce carried on by the merchants of Muscat with the ports of British India, had, it would appear, been removed. At the date of these advices, no less than fifteen vessels for Bengal are stated to have been in a forward state of equipment; and the greater part of them may be expected in the river, about the middle of the current month.

The heads of intelligence from Penang, brought to Chitragong by the Venus, have already appeared. We subjoin the following extract of a letter from the island,—though it contains but little additional information.

“PENANG, 25th July, 1809.

“The Bombay Fleet for China, under convoy of the Dedaignerfe, arrived on the 21st June, and sailed again on the 3d July.

“Dispatches went off on the 14th ultimo, to the Admiral at Madras, acquainting him with our situation: and, we are in great hope of having a convoy ere long. There are here likewise, waiting convoy for Bengal,—the Nancy Grab,—Fame Brig,—Mysore and Ceres. The Nancy has been here upwards of three months.

“On Saturday evening last, arrived here the Fleet of Europe Indiamen for China, under convoy of H. M. Ship St. Albans, Captain Austin; viz. Marquis of Ely, Thames, Glatton, Royal Charlotte, Princess Amelia, and Cantis, having separated from the Albion about the line in hazy weather. These are Cruizers of the Enemy's in abundance in the Indian seas;—and the Chde, belonging to Messrs. Scott and Forbes of this place, with two Americans, has been taken off Achcen Head only a few days ago.”

It was understood, that the Fleet of Indiamen would remain for some weeks at the Island, before they should proceed on their voyage to the eastward.

The two American vessels captured at the same time with the Clyde, were named the George and Augustus. The privateer found them all three at anchor, near Acheen. It is stated, that she sold the American ships to the King of Acheen, from whom they were afterwards re-purchased by their commanders and brought back to Penang.

The transports from Madras, having a detachment of the Bengal Marine Regiment on board, arrived at Penang early in June. They had not touched at Bencoolen, as was expected.

It appears, that, for some time previous to the arrival of the Castlereagh and Anna from Fort Marlborough, very serious apprehensions for the safety of these vessels had prevailed at Penang.

In consequence of the presence of the enemy's cruizers in the neighbourhood of the island, an embargo had subsisted in the port of Penang ever since the beginning of April. And, with the exception of the dispersed Indiamen of the homeward-bound Fleet, and of the Diana Brig of war, there had not been a single arrival from the westward for nearly three months. The Diana arrived, about the middle of July.

The construction of the new Court-house, lately commenced at Prince of Wales Island, was nearly completed, at the date of these accounts. A new Jail, and a Marine Office with Store-rooms, were also in a state of considerable forwardness.

The new Frigate of 36 guns, built at Penang for his Majesty's Navy, was finished, and ready to be launched. She is described as a very fine vessel.

To the extraordinary number of recent deaths, which had occurred, within the last two years, among the public Officers at that settlement, it is with much concern that we have to add those of Q. D. Thompson, Esq. Military Paymaster, and J. P. Hobson, Esq. Accountant General. Of the gentlemen, who came out from Europe, on the formation of Penang into a separate Presidency, nearly one half had fallen victims to disease.

We noticed in our extra Hurkaru, the narrow escape of the Lady William Bentinck from two French cruizers at Padang. That vessel arrived at Padang, about the middle of June. The two cruizers had for some time before been hovering off that port and Natal, and were in sight, when the Lady William Bentinck entered the river.

The report of seven Frigates, under Admiral Sercey, having arrived from France at the Mauritius, rests, we understand, on the authority of a Frenchman, who was captured off the West Coast of Sumatra, on board a Malay vessel coming from Batavia. The story can be looked upon in no other light than that of a fabrication; as, we learn from the Bombay newspapers, that His Majesty's Ship Leopard, lately arrived at that Presidency, had parted from the blockading Squadron so late as the 16th of July, at which time the Bellona (lately arrived from France) with the Cannonier and Lauriel, were the only vessels in the harbour of Port Louis. We may observe indeed, that there is a contradiction in the statement itself; Admiral Sercey having retired from the Navy some years ago and become a settler at the Isle of Bourbon, from whence it is not known that he ever returned to Europe.

The regular course of hawk from Madras having been so much anticipated by the late communications from that Presidency by sea, we have little or nothing to add, on the subject of the late events in Myfore, to what we have already given.

We were guilty of an error, we believe, in stating, that three Officers belonging to the Chittledroog Battalion had been taken prisoners. The only Officer known to have been captured, on that unhappy occasion, is Captain Mackintosh of the 8th Native Infantry, who had been wounded in the action. Lieut. Best, who had been also wounded, died, it is said, on the following day. It was the 1st Battalion of the 8th Native Infantry, we understand, that is stated in the Orders of Government to have lost its guns and colours in the affair of the 15th. This battalion was one of the finest corps in the Madras Army, and particularly distinguished itself at the battle of Assye.

At the Northern stations of the Army, every thing continued tranquil, according to the latest accounts.—The non-commissioned Officers and Privates, belonging to the detachment in garrison at Masulipatam, had, we are informed, evinced a disposition to return to their duty, previous to the late favourable change in the sentiments of the Officers at that station and at Hyderabad. A full pardon was granted to these men, by a proclamation of the Madras Government, dated the 9th ultimo.

Amid the painful and distressing circumstances connected with these unfortunate events, it is a matter of the most pleasing reflection, and highly honourable to the Government of British India, that the Native inhabitants of the districts occupied by the refractory troops have not only refrained from any act of insubordination, but have supported the authority of the state, with every mark of attachment and confidence. This disposition has been particularly manifested in the district of Vizagapatam; where the Police Daroghas used their utmost exertions to prevent all supplies from being conveyed to the troops. On the first movements of the garrison, the Dewan of the Rajah of the Vizianagram tendered to Government the aid of two companies of Sepoys in the service of his master. His offer was accepted; and, when the Company's troops seized the public treasure and marched from Vizagapatam to the southward, these two companies took their place in the garrison, where they still remain. A similar offer was made by another principal Zemindar in the same district.

The large army, which for some time has been assembling on the Race-Course at Madras, is stated to have marched from thence on the 19th or 20th current, and proceeded in the direction of Hyderabad.

The report brought by an Arab vessel, stating, that Lord Minto had landed at Vizagapatam, and set out from that station by dawn for Madras, proves to be entirely destitute of foundation. The Ship Wyndham, which arrived from the Coast on the 7th current, spoke His Majesty's Frigate Dover, all well, in 17 deg. 5, North latitude, a little below Vizagapatam, on the 30th ultimo. Letters from his Lordship have been received by the Wyndham. He was then on board, and expected to reach Fort St. George about the 5th current.

Advices of the late events at Hyderabad and in the Mysore, had been communicated to Lord Minto from the shore.

The Pilot schooner, which accompanied the Dover to the Coast, was expected to return immediately, and will in all likelihood bring the first intelligence of his Lordship's arrival.

When the Wyndham hove in the sight of the Dover, she was at first mistaken, we understand, on board the latter, for a French frigate. The Dover was in consequence cleared for action, and chased the Wyndham for upwards of 6 hours.

Our accounts from Cabul continue to flatter us with the hope of a favourable change in the fortunes of the deposed Monarch. Were it not indeed that we think ourselves bound to receive every article of Asiatic news with a certain allowance for invention and exaggeration, we should say, that such change had already been effected.

Soojah-ul-Moolk, it would appear, after his defeat by the troops of Mahmood, had been dissuaded from his purpose of seeking refuge among the Khyber hills by an invitation from his subjects at Candahar, who had risen on his behalf, and rescued that capital from the officers left in charge by the usurper. On the 11th ultimo, advices were received in Mr. Elphinstone's camp on the Rauvee, announcing Soojah's arrival at Candahar. It was added, that the army under Futteh Khan, who had set out from Cabul in the same direction, for the purpose of rescuing the city from the hands of Soojah's adherents, had been repulsed and defeated in the attempt. The distance from Cabul to Candahar does not exceed from 8 to 10 day's march.

Khamran, the son of Mahmood Shah, had arrived at Peshour, of which city and district his father had appointed him Governor. His whole force however amounted to no more than 300 Horse.

According to these accounts, the Persian borderers had availed themselves of the opportunity offered by the troubles of the empire, to take possession of the city of Herat.

The Gentlemen of the British Embassy reached the left bank of the Rauvee on the 10th current. Considering the period of the season, and the state of the country, they had made very rapid progress,—seldom less than from 12 to 15 miles in each day's march. During the last five marches, which they had made from the banks of the Acesines, they had passed through one continued sea of water, higher in general than the horse's knees, and frequently coming over the saddle-flaps.

The Rauvee (or Hydrantes) is described as a mere rivulet, when compared with the Hydaspes or Acesines. Its banks are low, and rather deficient in trees; but they are clothed with that rich mantle of verdure, for which the whole face of the Punjab is so remarkable. The breadth of the Rauvee had not been accurately ascertained, but appeared to be about 800 yards. The stream was by no means rapid; but was rendered turbid, by the heavy rains, which, at that season, swept down the soil of the adjacent fields.

Mr. Elphinstone's party found only one solitary boat, at the ferry. They prevailed however on the people, by dint of money and persuasion, to collect three others by the following day; and they expected, in the course of three days more, to have all their equipage and retinue transported to the opposite shore. From thence the body of the Embassy would move on by the direct road to Umru-t-sir, a distance of from 10 to 15 coss. The Envoy himself, attended by a small party, proposed to set out on the 11th, on a visit to the city of Lahore.

We have already noticed in general terms an affray which took place between the escort and the people of the country, at a pass near the river Jhylum. The name of this pass is Darree-ul-Tuwurree. It is formed by the bed of a river, situated between steep and rugged mountains, overgrown with a low jungle; and a fall of rain for a few days is sufficient to render it quite impracticable. As soon as the line had advanced to a certain distance within this pass, and had reached the boundary of the territories possessed by two Sikh chieftains, named Purtaub Sing and Oortum Sing, several men from the adjoining villages appeared in a body on a commanding eminence to the right, and began to hurl down large stones on the people of the Embassy. Upon this, Captain Pitman, with a party of 20 Sepoys, began to ascend one of the adjacent hills, with the intention of opening a fire on the assailants, and driving them from their position. No sooner was this movement perceived by the villagers, than they loaded their matchlocks, and proceeded to occupy another eminence directly opposite to that which Captain Pitman had ascended; and the two parties began to fire upon each other, from their respective posts. The Seiks were heard at the same time to hollow out from the hill, that they would allow the Embassy to pass unmolested, provided that they would pay them the chout. Meanwhile, Captain Pitman received a message from the Darogah, stating, that a person had been dispatched to prevail upon the villagers to desist; but that they refused to do so, until Captain Pitman also should stop his fire. On this, Captain Pitman ordered his party immediately to descend the hill, and the firing ceased. A chance shot however from one of the matchlocks of the assailants struck upon a rock, contiguous to the route of the Sepoys in their descent, and, rebounding with considerable force, wounded Captain Pitman in the fleshy part of his arm. The ball being immediately extracted and the wound dressed, it was not supposed that the accident would be attended with any serious consequences. With the exception of a poor camel-driver, who was shot through the body while standing in the pass, and died on the same evening, no other person sustained any injury in the course of this affair. Futteh Sing, the brother of Oottum Sing, shortly after arrived in Camp, and was introduced to the Envoy. He represented the people who had been guilty of this outrage, as a body of Mussulmans, from some of the neighbouring villages, and said that he himself had ascended the hill, and had been the means of stopping their fire. Some Seiks however had been observed among the assailants; and, it was generally suspected, that the whole was a concerted scheme among Oottum Sing and Purtaub Sing's people, to extort money from the party. After this, however, some Seik troops were brought from a small mud fort on the right, belonging to Oottum Sing, and posted by Futteh Sing, along the hills contiguous to the line of march, for the purpose of preventing the recurrence of similar acts of aggression. The Embassy then continued their march unmolested to Ghorb. Oottum Sing and Purtaub Sing themselves, with all the other Seik chieftains, are at present; it must be observed, in attendance on Runjeet Sing, in the mountains of Khore Kangra.

The homeward-bound fleet, under convoy of His Majesty's Sloop of War Samarang, stood out from Saugor roads on Saturday morning.

His Majesty's 53d Regiment was reviewed at Cawnpore, on the 9th ultimo, in presence of Major-Generals St. Ledger and Fuller. They acquitted themselves in such a manner as might be expected from the distinguished reputation of the corps; and their merits were acknowledged in suitable terms by the reviewing Officers.

A very calamitous accident occurred some weeks ago, in the neighbourhood of Hoogly. By the action of the rain and the strength of the current, a point of land near the house inhabited by the Foujdar, suddenly separated from the bank and fell into the river. We have no detailed or authentic account of the consequences. But, we have heard in general, that several huts were carried down with the stream and the inhabitants drowned, and that the family of the Zemindar escaped with difficulty. The Portuguese church in the neighbourhood, we understand, also suffered; part of the foundation having given way, and the wall cracked.

In the Star Extraordinary of Sunday, it is mentioned that a strange sail had been seen off the Sand heads by one of the Pilot schooners, and that she took no notice of the usual signal to bear down for a pilot, but stood away to the eastward.

The grab-ship Khufoo, Captain Miller, laden with a cargo of timber from Rangoon, was wrecked, on Thursday night last, on the eastern sea-reaf at the entrance of the river. The Khufoo, took a pilot on board, on the 3d current. She anchored in the south channel on the 4th, and lay there wind-bound until the 7th; when, owing to the severity of the weather, she became leaky and unmanageable, and about 7 P. M. her cable gave way, and she drove on the reef. At day light, not a vestige of the vessel was to be seen. The people were all saved by means of the boats, which had been hoisted out on the first appearance of danger, and were conveyed in safety on board the Pilot schooner, which they fortunately gained amid the darkness of a very stormy night.

The weather in the Roads was so extremely violent, during all the latter part of last week, that, from Wednesday morning till Saturday, no communication had been practicable between Kedgerce and the shipping at Saugor.

The Harriet cartel dropped down to Culpee on Wednesday, at which station she receives the French Prisoners on board.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

The American Ship Sall. Anne, Captain Glover, from Liverpool the 8th, and Madeira the 27th of May, arrived in the river yesterday se'ennight.

BY GOVERNMENT.

Fort St. George, August 8, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to establish the following Regulations regarding the European Sick of the Force assembled at the race course for field service.

1st. Europeans Sick absent from their corps (Horse and Foot Artillery excepted) when the force is ordered to march, are not to be included in the numbers drawn for by the respective Regimental Surgeons, in regard to the 60 cash per man per day, the Surgeon under whose charge they may be placed is to draw from the Honorable Company for each patient 5 fanams 40 cash, with the usual stoppage of 2 fanams 40 cash, making together 8 fanams per man per day.

2d. In the event of its becoming necessary after the force has marched to send any European Sick from the Field into a Stationary Hospital, the Regimental Surgeons are to continue to draw for them at the rate of 60 cash per day, and the Surgeon of the Stationary Hospital is to receive from the Regimental Surgeons, respectively, the sum of 5 fanams 40 cash per day for each man while in such Hospital, besides the usual stoppage of 2 fanams 40 cash from the pay of each man.

3d. The Hospital Surgeons under whose care the sick men may be placed are authorized to draw the allowances mentioned in the preceding article in two bills for each Regiment, accompanied by Rolls, specifying the Names and rank of the men and companies to which they belong, viz. one bill for 5 fanams 40 cash and the other for 2 fanams 40 cash per day, for each man so situated.

4th. These bills will be forwarded by Paymasters of Stations to the Military Paymaster General, who in the case of the Company's Troops, is directed to transmit them to the Paymaster in Camp or of the Garrison where the corps to which the sick respectively belong may be stationed, in order that their amount may be deducted from the abstracts of the Regimental Surgeon, and the officers charged with the payment of the companies, according to the stated proportions, and in the case of His Majesty's troops, the Military Paymaster General is directed to forward the bills (through the King's Deputy Paymaster General) to the Paymasters of Regiments, by whom the requisite deductions will likewise be made and brought to account.

5th. The Surgeons of the horse and foot artillery are to draw the established allowance for the number of Europeans actually present under their charge, and the expence of the absent sick of these corps is to be defrayed by the Hon. Company at the rate of 5 fanams 40 cash each man per day—the usual stoppage of 2 fanams 40 cash per day to be made from the pay of each man.

6th.—The dry batta of men who may be removed from a regimental to a field hospital is to be drawn and adjusted in the manner directed in the 5th and 6th paragraphs of medical regulations in the field contained in the book of pay and allowances published in 1803, page 187.

AUGUST 9, 1869.

The Hon. the Governor in Council is pleased to appoint Major P. V. Agnew, the Deputy Adjutant General of the army and at present attached to the field force under the command of Lieut. Col. Conran, to be also superintendent of bazars to that force.

The Hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to appoint Captain Lee of the 2d battalion of H. M. royal regiment to be Brigade Major to Lieut. Col. Conran, and Lieut. Rothwell of the same regiment to be Postmaster to the force under Lieut. Col. Conran's command.

The declaration required from the European commissioned officers of the Hon. Com. service by the order of the 26th July last having been tendered, to the medical officers at several stations of the army—and refused by some of them, in consequence of which they have been removed from the exercise of their functions. The Governor in Council is pleased to publish that it never was intended that the medical officers, should be called upon to sign the declaration in question, which is in no wise applicable to them, and to direct that all those who may have been removed from their duties—do immediately return to their stations and resume the duties of them.

By Order of the Honble the Governor in Council.

(Signed) J. H. PELLE, Sec. to Govt.

The Governor in Council having taken into consideration the whole of the transactions that have occurred in the garrison of Masulipatam, and being satisfied that the part borne by the men in these transactions is to be entirely imputed to the misrepresen-

and resolutions of their European officers, is pleased to proclaim a full pardon to the European commissioned officers and privates of the British and Indian army, non-commissioned officers and privates of the British and Indian army, who were concerned in the rebellion of 1805. The Gov. in Council is of the opinion that the act of lenity will produce a more effectual reformation of those men, and induce them to manifest in the future their fidelity to the Government which constitutes their duty and the best principle of every soldier.

The Governor in Council prohibits the march of any body of troops from the station of Manipatnam with out the orders of Major General Patterson, Commanding the Northern Division, and directs that any troops who may have marched from Manipatnam with out due authority shall return forthwith to that station, on pain of being considered to be in a state of rebellion to the Government.

By Order of the Hon^{ble} the Governor in Council.

(Signed) A. H. ALCONAR, Chief Sec^y to Govt.

The Hon^{ble} the Governor in Council permits Mr Surgeon Undwood to proceed to England on leave of absence for three years.

William Sanders,	David Pugh, and
Robert Machonochie,	W. John White, Esqrs.

On Thursday afternoon, the several Natives found guilty of grand and petty larcenies, were brought up for the judgment of the Court—their sentences having been pronounced by the Honorable the Chief Justice, the Grand Jury came into Court, when their foreman addressed his Lordship in the following terms.

TO THE HONORABLE
SIR THOMAS ANDREW STRANGE,
Knight, Chief Justice, &c. &c.

MY LORD,

We the Grand Jurors for the Town of Madras and its dependencies beg leave to offer to your Lordship our humble thanks for the copy of that eloquent charge with which in consequence of our request, you were pleased to favour us.

We have studied it with that profound attention which every thing proceeding from your Lordship so well merits, and we beg have to state our hearty concurrence in those general sentiments of attachment and respect towards the Government legally constituted, which your Lordship therein expresses, and our sincere hope that the publication of your charge may have all the effect which it seems so well calculated to produce.

(Signed) JOHN READ, FOREMAN.

*Grand Jury Room,
August 17, 1809.*

On Saturday last, John Fitzpatrick, Private of H. M. 34th Regiment was tried for the wilful murder of John Craufurd of the same Corps. The Jury acquitted him, on the ground, as it is imagined, of there being no proof that the discharge of his musket, by which the deceased was killed, was otherwise than accidental.

On a charge for a rape against a private of H. M. 22d Dragoons, the Grand Jury threw out the Bill.

ARRIVALS AT THE PRESIDENCY.—Captain Davis 2d Battalion 25th Regiment—Assistant Surgeon Atkinson, 1st Battalion 13th Regiment—Lieutenant Tickle, 2d Battalion 8th Regiment—Lieutenant Portbury, H. M. 22d Foot—and Ensign Boyn.

MADRAS AUGUST 18, 1809.

FORT ST. GEORGE, August 18, 1809.

GENERAL ORDERS,

BY THE HON. THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

The Governor in Council has received intelligence that the troops at Chittledroog, consisting of the 1st Battalion of the 8th and 15th Regiments N. I. seized in the latter end of July the Public Treasure at that Station, defected to the Poles, entrusted to their care, and in obedience to orders which they received from a Committee, who have usurped the Public Authority at Seringapatam, marched on the 6th instant to join the disaffected troops in the Garrison, plundering the Villages on their route. The British Resident and the Officer Commanding in Mysore prohibited in the most positive terms the advance of the troops from Chittledroog; and demanded from their European Officers a compliance with the resolution of the Governor in Council of the 26th ultimo, by either declaring that they would obey the orders of Government according to the tenor of their commissions, or withdrawing for the present from the exercise of authority. The Officers having refused to comply with his requisition, and having persisted in advancing towards Seringapatam, it became unavoidably necessary to prevent by force their entrance into that Garrison. In the contest which ensued a detachment from the British force under the command of Lieut. Col. Gibbs, aided by a body of Mysoor horse and 1st Battalion 3d Regt. N. I. entirely defeated and dispersed the corps from Chittledroog. During this affair a folly was made by the Garrison of Seringapatam on Lieut. Colonel Gibbs's Camp, but was instantly driven back by the Pickets and 5th Regiment of Cavalry under the command of Captain Bean of His Majesty's 15th Dragoons in charge of that Regiment.

Nearly the whole of the Rebel Force was destroyed while one casualty only was sustained by the British troops. Lieutenant Jeffries of His Majesty's 15th Regiment Light Dragoons having zealously offered his services to carry a flag of truce which Lieutenant Colonel Gibbs, anxiously to prevent the effusion of blood, was desirous of dispatching to the rebel troops, was slightly wounded in the execution of that duty by a volley fired under the express command of an European Officer.

While the Governor in Council participates in the feelings of sorrow that must have been experienced by the British forces in acting against the rebel troops, and deeply laments the unfortunate but impious necessity which existed for that proceeding, he considers it to be due to the conduct of the British forces to express his high admiration and applause of the zeal, firmness and patriotism which they displayed on that most distressing occasion. Their conduct affords a further proof of the superior influence their minds of the principles of virtue, honor and loyalty over every other consideration, and eminently entitles them to public approbation. Lieut. Colonel Gibbs, Lieut. Colonel Adams, Major Carden, Captain Bean, and Lieut. Jeffries availed themselves of the opportunities offered to them on this occasion of serving their Country.

The Governor in Council is also happy to distinguish the zeal and loyalty displayed by the 5th Regiment N. C. the 1st Battalion 3d Regiment N. I. and the Mysoor troops, who all manifested an eager desire to perform their duty. The Mysoor horse on one occasion put the Column of the Chittledroog troops to flight, and took 3 Guns and both the Colours from one of the Battalions; a memorable proof of the weakness of men acting in the world of causes.

That a body of British Officers should deliberately disobey the orders of their Government, seize the public treasure under their charge, abandon the post entrusted to their charge, march to a party of men in open opposition to authority, plunder the Palace of a British Ally, and finally bear arms against their Country, must excite grief and astonishment, but the conduct of these Officers in urging the innocent men under their Command, who had the powerful claims on their humanity and care, into the guilt and danger of rebellion, constitutes an aggravation of their offence that cannot be contemplated without feelings of the deepest indignation and sorrow. The Governor in Council is very far from wishing to aggravate the misconduct of those deluded and unhappy men; but he earnestly hopes that the example of their crimes and their fate will still impress on the minds of the Officers who have joined in their plans, a sense of the danger of their situation, and the propriety of endeavouring by their early obedience and future zeal to efface the deep stain which has been cast on the honor of the Madras Army.

In announcing to the Native Troops the distressing events described in this order, the Governor in Council must express his concern that any part of the Native Army would be so far deluded by misrepresentations, and so lost to a sense of the obligations of fidelity, honor and religion as to act against the Government, which has so long supported them. The General Orders of the 3d Instant, and the conduct that has been observed towards the Native Troops at the Presidency, the Mount, Vellore, Trichinopoly, Bellary, Cooty, and Bangalore, must convince the whole native army of the anxiety of Government to promote their welfare, and save them from the dangers into which they were likely to be plunged. The Governor in Council still places the greatest confidence in the fidelity and zeal of the native troops; and is convinced that they will not willingly suffer the high reputation which they have so long enjoyed, by joining in the execution of plans that must end in their disgrace and ruin.

The Governor in Council trusts that the unhappy fate of the Chittledroog Battalions, who allowed themselves to be engaged in opposition to their Government, will have the effect of preventing any other part of the native army from suffering themselves under any circumstances to be placed in a situation adverse to their duty and allegiance.

The Governor in Council avails himself of this occasion to express in the most public manner his high sense of the skill, moderation, energy, and ability displayed by the Government of Mysoor, and by the British Resident, and Commanding Officer during the transactions that have recently occurred in that Country. The British Resident and the Commanding Officer in Mysoor did not permit the adoption of coercive measures until every means of expostulation and forbearance had been exhausted, and until they were compelled to embrace the alternative of employing force in order to prevent the most fatal evils to the state of their country.

The Governor in Council requests that the Honorable Mr. Cole, and Lieutenant Colonel Davis will be pleased to accept the expression of his highest approbation and thanks for the moderation, firmness, and ability which they manifested on this unprecedented and distressing occasion

By Order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

mit Captain Little of the Madras Establishment to proceed to China and eventually to Europe on sick certificate.

By Order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.

F. WARDEN, CHIEF SEC. TO GOVT.

AUGUST 10, 1809.

The Leopard left the Cape, March 10, and proceeded to cruize off the Mauritius, which place she left on the 16th ult. and having watered at the Island of St. Mary's, reconnoitred the ports along the east side of Madagascar.

There were cruising off the Isle of France, H. M. Ships Raisable 64, Sirius 38, Iphigenia 36, Otter and Sapphire Sloops.

In Port Louis are the French frigates Bellona 40, Cannonier 40, Laurel 30, La Manche, Caroline, and Venus are cruising.

The French for some weeks past, have been actively employed in raising forts and preparing against an apprehended attack.

In the extract we have made from the Courier, there is a small difference from the report with which we have been furnished by the kindness of a friend. The Nereide, we have heard, formed a part of the blockading squadron, and the Caroline was in Port Louis, or, as it is now called, Port Napoleon. The Leopard had also reconnoitred the isle of Bourbon on her way to Madagascar. This is the only intelligence we have been yet able to collect. In our next publication we shall, of course, be happy to correct any error that may appear in this.

The report which has been for some time current at this presidency, of the capture of the Minerva, (Captain Hopwood), by the pirates which infest the gulph of Persia, and the neighbouring seas; we are sorry to say is at length confirmed.

There are circumstances attending this capture of so disagreeable a nature, that we have studiously avoided giving publicity to them at an earlier period, from a hope, however feeble, that the source from whence the first information was derived was not sufficiently authentic.

On taking possession of the Minerva, it appears that the pirates mitigated something of their usual ferocity; and we have not heard that any lives were lost, except in the gallant defence which was made by the unfortunate captives.

They have been all however obliged to renounce their religion, and not an iota of the preparatory ceremony of introduction to the mahomedan faith has been abated.—Much as the men must have suffered on this occasion, it is comparatively nothing to the distress of three ladies who were on board, and who consequently fell into the hands of these lawless and unprincipled violaters. The subject is too painful to enlarge on. The indignities they were compelled to undergo can be easily conceived; and must excite the strongest emotions of pity in every feeling and delicate mind.

The rapers on the other side of India have of late frequently mentioned the alarming depredations of these piratical fanatics; and we have little doubt that the wisdom of government will devise some means of employing the resistless naval strength of British India in reducing them to a more correct observance of the laws of nations.

The blockade of the Mauritius still continues. The alarm of the French appears to us to have the probable effect of exhausting their resources by multiplied and, we conceive, unnecessary fortifications. The possession of their ports we should imagine would decide the fate of the island; and in distracting their attention, by a variety of points of defence, they appear to us to actually disqualify themselves from resisting the real points of attack, if such should become an object of British enterprise.

August 15, anchored in the harbour His Majesty's Ship Leopard, Captain J. Johnstone, from the Isle of France.

PENANG, JULY 22, 1809.

About two o'clock yesterday morning, a very heavy squall came on from the N. W. which varied much during the time it continued, accompanied with much rain, and some severe lightning;—we have not heard that any accident occurred; several vessels in the harbour brought their anchors ahead, the Nancy grab lost an anchor.

Yesterday afternoon an enormous shark was caught by the crew of the H. C. ship Monarch, which measured from the snout to the end of the tail, nine feet three inches.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

On the 30th ultimo, the Coroner proceeded to the opposite shore to a place called Coobuang Buayoo, within the Territory falling under the jurisdiction of this Island, to hold an inquest upon the body of a Malay, who had been killed by a musket shot, which passed through his body.

A critical examination into the circumstance having taken place, it appeared that the deceased was not known by the neighbourhood, or enrolled agreeably to the existing regulations. That he together with four other men, (Pirates) had landed in a Prow, with creases, haddings and other weapons, to the terror of the King's subjects, and took public possession of a house at Co-buong Buayoo, in which they remained for four days; that they were in the habit of going out in the morning and returning in the evening to that house. That shortly after their arrival they seized a Malay man and his wife, who belonged to a family of Syed Hussein, and who had left this island the same day in a small Sampan, disguised them, and took them a great way into the jungle, for the avowed purpose of selling them as slaves. They afterwards returned and kept the unhappy captors in a state of duress for two or three days, threatening death if they resisted, and kept them closely confined. That on the 29th ult. they were in the act of hauling them into the boat, for the purpose of taking the miserable couple away with them. The cries of the woman caused an alarm, which brought to the spot some Bengal men who resided at some distance from it, who were spirited enough to interfere, and after a wrestle attended with fruitless attempts to destroy their lives, they succeeded in rescuing both the man and woman; the former was immediately sent to George Town to inform of the circumstance, and the latter was detained in the care of the Bengal men, & protected in one of their houses, that in the mean time one of the residents went to give information to the Constable at Prye, who immediately came down with his peons armed with muskets, &c.—Upon their approach, the Pirates who still kept possession of the house with the view to other outrages and depredations, began to fly, in order to make their escape; four of them took their route into the woods in the interior, and the deceased who was not so smart a runner attempted his escape by the beach upon the heavy sand. One of the peons who had a loaded musket, came to him, and instantly demanded that he should surrender, and lay down the weapons (a hadding and crease,) which the deceased was armed with, at his peril. The robber desired him to keep his distance, or he would kill him:—He repeated his threats, threw down his clothes, attacked the peon in a ferocious and savage manner, and actually made three cuts at him with his hadding, which the peon warded off by his musket and upon which the cuts plainly appeared. In this predicament, the deceased appearing quite wild and savage, and the peon who was in the lawful execution of his office, seeing the impossibility, (without extreme hazard) of apprehending the robber, and his own life, which had been attempted, being in momentary danger, fired off his musket which he had, and shot him dead. The prow of the pirates has been seized and is now in the custody of the Constable, as also all arms with which they had landed, excepting such as might have been carried by those who fired. The man and woman also who were rescued are out of danger, and have returned to so this shore.

VERDICT—Se defendent, and killed by the Constable in the lawful execution of his duty in the attempt to apprehend the deceased, he being a pirate and robber.

A DARING MURDER.

On the same day, immediately after the Inquest on the opposite shore, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the Coroner proceeded to the district of Battu Lanchang on this Island, to hold an inquisition upon the body of a Chinese Pedler named Yan, in a house situate in a Pepper Garden—The deceased had a deep wound on his right side, apparently inflicted with a Malay Creede, which was the cause of his death.

All the account that was received of this death, was thro' one of the inmates in the house, who derived his information immediately from the deceased himself, just before he died, namely, that the deceased who was a Pedler and lived in George Town, had come up in the morning to the country, to sell his goods. That he was going on the high road at Battu Lanchang with his boxes which he usually carried with him. About 12 o'clock at mid-day, three Military men arrived with creses, came up and assaulted him; that one of them stabbed him on his side, and afterwards they ran away. The boxes which the deceased was carrying with him were afterwards picked up quite empty, near the high road. The witness further said that the deceased had made above declarations to him, but he did not know nor could he describe the persons who had assaulted and robbed him; nor where they could have gone. That the event took place at 12 o'clock in the day, and the deceased who must have made extraordinary efforts, found his way to this Pepper Garden which is at some distance from the place where it happened, where being exhausted he dropped down, and hearing his cries the witness went to him, and found him in the condition above described, upon which he helped him to his house where he died at 5 in the evening, all medical aid proving unsuccessful.

Verdict.—Willful Murder by Persons unknown.

General Orders by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, SEPT. 7, 1809.

The conditional permission granted in General Orders under date the 8th of July last, to Mr. Archibald Murphey, Conductor of Ordnance, to make a voyage to the Cape of Good Hope, or St. Helena, and eventually to Europe, for the benefit of his health, is confirmed.

J. ADAM, Asst. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

When the Country Ship Ann sailed from Madras on the 31st ultimo, the only ships of war in the Roads were the Sydney and Perseus.

Pickets for the reception of letters, to be forwarded to Europe by the Sydney, had been opened at the General Post Office of Fort St. George.

The Country Ship Ganges of this port, was taking in a cargo of cotton at Madras, with the intention of availing herself of the permission of the Court of Directors to proceed on a voyage to England.

REDUCTION OF BOWANNEE.

Our readers have for some time heard of the preparations which were on foot at Rewarree, for the march of a powerful division of the army, against a fortified town of great reputed strength in the Hurrianah country. An act of aggression, committed by the free-boomers of Bowannee on the baggage of a British detachment, and followed by a denial of reparation equally insolent and hostile, had rendered this expedition absolutely necessary for the maintenance of the British name, and the establishment of security and order in the long tract of dependent territory situated between the Jumna and the Sutledge.

Colonel Ball, with the force under his command, appointed to this service, marched about the 20th ultimo, and arrived near the town of Bowannee on the 27th. A summons was immediately sent, with an offer of terms to the garrison, on which they were allowed twenty four hours to consider. All proposals of capitulation however being absolutely rejected, Colonel Ball proceeded to take up his ground for the reduction of the place by force. On the night of the 28th, the whole British detachment was drawn out in front of Bowannee. It consisted of four battalions of Native Infantry, one Regiment of Native Cavalry, and 600 troopers of Skinner's Irregular horse, with a powerful train of Artillery. The force of the enemy within the town, to whom these were opposed, was estimated at about 4500 armed men. A party was immediately sent down to construct batteries; and, such was the alacrity with which this duty was performed, that they were ready to open their fire by six o'clock on the following morning. Two eighteen pounders, two twelve pounders, and four howitzers, continued to play on the town from that hour until noon, when the breach was reported practicable, and arrangements were immediately formed for the assault.

The troops appointed to this service moved down in two columns, by two distinct routes, one column advancing from the right and the other from the left of the camp. The storming party on the right was commanded by Colonel McGrath, and consisted of the flank companies of the 9th, 10th, and 22d Regiments of Native Infantry, and the battalion companies of the 9th. The left column was composed of the Grenadiers and Light Infantry of the 18th and 23d, and the Light Company of the 24th, under the command of Major Smith. Before the storming parties could reach the walls, the desperadoes from the town had the boldness to sally out, and attack Colonel McGrath's column sword in hand. They were received with the utmost coolness by the grenadiers, who, pouring in a steady and deliberate fire, repulsed them with great slaughter. The Sepoys then made their way into the place, by clambering over the breach and scaling the walls, and, after some further contest, completely succeeded in expelling the enemy. The fugitives were afterwards pursued by the 8th Native Cavalry and Skinner's Horse, who had moved down, parallel to the exterior flanks of the attacking columns, and now spread themselves over the plain in every direction.

The defence altogether was considered to be one of the most resolute, within the recollection of the oldest soldiers of the detachment. By the time the town was in our possession, the troops had been 12 hours under arms, and very closely engaged for the space of three hours and an half. The enemy left about 400 of his men on the plain, killed by the sabres of the British Cavalry. His entire loss was variously estimated, at from 600 to 1000. On our part, we have to lament the death of a very gallant and promising young Officer, Lieutenant O'Brien of the 22d Native Infantry, who fell during the charge made by the enemy on the right column.—“Lieutenant O'Brien,” says one of his brother soldiers, in a letter now before us, “was univer-

“ fully beloved by every one who knew him, Natives as well as Europeans. He was the only officer who fell on this occasion ; and never did a more honourable or courageous man, or one more sincerely lamented, pay the debt to nature.” In letters from Delhi, Cornet Cook of the 6th Cavalry is also reckoned among the slain ; but the paragraph which we have now quoted, and which comes directly from the scene of action, affords a satisfactory confirmation of that report. Lieutenant Buckley of the 18th, and Ensign Playfair of the 24th Infantry, were wounded,—the latter in the arm.—Cornet Byres of the 6th Cavalry is also mentioned in letters from Meerut, as having sustained some injury. The loss of the Sepoys was much less serious, on the whole, than might have been expected, considering the determined resistance manifested by the enemy.—The killed and wounded altogether did not exceed 100 men, and of those the killed formed but a small proportion.—Bowannee, we understand, was considered as a place of some wealth ; but, whether the brave assailants found that character realized in the fruits of their valour, we have not yet learned.

We detailed in our last the principal circumstances connected with the progress the Cabul Embassy, in their return through the Punjab to the Company's Provinces. Letters since received from Loodeaunah, under date the 26th ultimo, inform us, that Mr. Fraser, one of the Assistants to the mission, had reached that station a few days before, and proceeded without delay on his route to Delhi. He brought no news whatever from the countries to the north-west. Mr. Elphinstone and the rest of the party were expected at Loodeaunah, about the 28th. Their appearance, as Europeans, was sufficiently singular,—all of them wearing mustachoes, and some very long beards.

In our Hukaru of the 5th current, we noticed in general terms the movements of Dowlut Rao Scindia against the principality of Ajmere. Early in July, according to the Hindoostan newspapers, that chieftain pitched his camp at Mowla Surrara, a place within 10 coss of the capital. His Sirdars, who were still plundering the territory of Jaypore and the other Rajpoot countries in the vicinity, had received orders to join him, with their respective forces. The brother of Bela Rao, it is said, had already set out on his march towards Ajmere; Narrain Rao (the principal officer in the service of Bapoojee Scindia,) had come to Surrara from Sahur, after levying a chout of 18,000 Rupees at the latter place; and Bapoojee himself was shortly expected to follow. Meanwhile, Dowlut Rao had directed Baptiste to march, with his power, in the direction of Kotah,—a state, which, since his army last took the field, had remained unmolested. Baptiste, according to the last accounts, was encamped at Mullareea, a place about 60 miles from Jaypore. Scindia was not expected to continue for any length of time, in his position at Surrara.

The last instalment of the Jaypore tribute still remained unliquidated. Scindia was very urgent and incessant in his demands, which the unfortunate Rajah seems to have had no means left of satisfying.

The ukhbars inform us, that Nawab Meer Khan, the son of Shah Nizam-u-Dheen Ahmad, had lately set out from Scindia's camp, on a political mission to Calcutta. Previous to his departure, he had an audience of Scindia for several hours, and received from him his credentials as Vakeel, and letters to the Governor General. He, and the persons of his suite, were at the same time honoured with khelauts from the hand of their sovereign.

Prang Doss, the Soobah of Gwalior, had been employed for some time in besieging the fort of Gurreehind, and had written to Scindia, stating, that he expected to reduce it in the course of a few days.

We have no late accounts of Holkar. Meer Khan, according to our last advices, was at Bopaltal.

The Ships Procris and Anna, whose arrival from Penang we announced in our extra publication of last week, convey but little intelligence from that quarter, in addition to what we had previously received by the way of Chittagong.

The Commander of the Country Ship Ceres, which sailed from Penang in company with the vessels above-mentioned, arrived in town late on Sunday evening. The Ceres parted from the rest of the convoy on the 6th current, in lat. 15 30 N. They were all at that time in sight, but much dispersed. On the same day, the Ceres spoke the Nancy Grab, which had suffered considerably from the gale of the 3d. Both her pumps were then going. The Myfore had sprung her main top-mast, and was close to the Nancy.

It appears, that the H. C. Ships Lord Keith, Earl Spencer, and Monarch, with the Country Ship Varuna and a Portuguese vessel for the Brazils, had sailed from Penang, immediately after the departure of the convoy for Bengal, and that the two Fleets worked out of the Straits together. The above Indiamen sailed under the protection of H. M. Frigate Clorinde, which had been appointed to accompany them down the Bay. The Modeste also was at Penang, when the Picris and her convoy sailed, and it is understood, that she too would sail with the Indiamen; but, whether or not she actually did so, is not certainly known. The homeward bound Ships were last seen by the Bengal convoy on the 1st current, on this side of Acheen.

The Clorinde had arrived at Penang, in charge of the H. C. China Ships Nottingham and Perseverance from Madras.

Letters received from Penang by this opportunity assure us of the safety of the H. C. Ship Albion, which reached the island, within three days after the arrival of her comrades. The whole Fleet sailed on the 17th ultimo, in prosecution of their voyage to China, under convoy of His Majesty's Ship St. Albans.

It is stated, that the Bengal convoy sailed from Penang, under the protection of the Picris alone; and that they were joined by the Rattlesnake on the 27th ultimo, five days after their departure. They spoke with His Majesty's Ship Blanche, off Diamond Point, on the 25th. And, on the 29th, they fell in with His Majesty's Frigate Phaeton, bearing the flag of Rear-Admiral Drury, with the Corvette in company. It does not appear, that any of these Ships had been successful in the object of their cruise.

The guns for the new Frigate lately built at Penang, were brought out on the China Fleet. The vessel was launched on the 13th ultimo.

The large Fleet of homeward-bound and other ships, which lately sailed from the river under the convoy of H. M. Ship Samarang, quitted their pilots, all well, on the 11th current, and stood out to sea.

The embarkation of troops from this Presidency, having been rendered unnecessary by the happy restoration of internal tranquillity at the military stations of the Dekkan, the vessels, which were destined for that service, will proceed immediately to take in cargo for Europe. It is understood, that the H. C. Ships Carnatic, Lord Duncan, Lord Melville, and Walcampston, together with the new Frigate from Penang, and the Lord Castlereagh, hourly expected from Bencoolen, will be formed into one Fleet, which will sail direct from Bengal about the middle of Dec. and proceed to England without touching at any port. The Baring and Lady Castlereagh are expected to take in their cargoes on the Coast, and to sail in a separate Fleet.

His Excellency the Commander in Chief had not left Meerut on the 2d current. Boats had been prepared for him at Gurh Mooktasor ghaur, so that he would have but a short distance to travel by land. It was expected, he would be able to embark by the 10th or 15th current at farthest. His arrival at the Presidency therefore may be looked for, about the 15th or 20th of October. His Excellency proposed to make a trip by dawk to Lucnow, from the nearest ghaur in his route, for the purpose of paying a visit to the Nawaub.

Major-General Fuller was at Futtighur, on the 23d ultimo, on his way to Meerut, at which station his arrival was daily expected.

The hordes of Pindarrees, who infested the neighbourhood of Loodaunah, for some time after the arrival of the British detachment at that station, have entirely disappeared. The rigorous but necessary expedient of hanging one of those banditti, as an example to his comrades, had been attended with the desired effect, not a single Pindarree having since ventured to approach the cantonments.

If the reports, which we have received, of the present state of the roads in Cuttack, be equally applicable to the whole of that Province, it may be considered fortunate, that in presence of the force appointed to serve in the northern Circars is now no longer necessary. By letters from thence of the 9th current, we learn, that two companies of Sepoys, who had marched from the head quarters of the district to relieve the detachment at Jaggerput, had met with such impediments, as nearly rendered their progress impracticable. In many places, the water came up to their chins, and the Sepoys had to wade through, with their cartouche boxes on their heads. A space of three days had been consumed in dragging the guns, which they had under their charge, a distance of only six miles, and, at length they had only come to a stop, finding it impossible to move them either in one direction or the other, owing to the extraordinary rise of the waters. This is the second time in the course of the present season, that the rivers have risen in Cuttack to so extraordinary an height,—a circumstance hardly ever before known. They had not yet however attained the same height as on the first occasion, and it was hoped that they would speedily subside.

On the 9th current, a Parson, belonging to Mr. Gummidge, which had been dispatched from Kedgee with stock for one of the Ships at Suagar, returned to the former place, without having delivered her cargo. The Major reported that he had been driven by stress of weather into a creek, where he was lying on the morning of the 9th, with four other boats, when a large tiger attacked one of his comrades (a small fishing bark,) and, in spite of the exertions of the people, who strove to defend themselves with bamboo, carried off one of her crew. This was the fourth accident of the kind, which had occurred in that neighbourhood within the space of little more than three weeks. We formerly mentioned the attack, that had been made on the people of one of the dawk boats. On the 19th ultimo, three days after that event, another man was taken out of one of the boats used by the people who pick up wrecks, which had put into the same creek. A fourth person was also taken out of a boat, only two days previous to the accident, which we have above detailed.

An act of suicide was last week committed by a Syce, named Alphon, in the service of Mr. Hall in Tank-square. He was found by one of the Servants, at an early hour on Thursday morning, suspended by a rope, which he had fastened to an iron hook attached to one of the beams of the stable. It appeared, that he had effected his purpose, by mounting on an inverted jar, which after fastening the noose, he kicked from under his feet. The deceased was an elderly man, and somewhat addicted to liquor. His mind is supposed to have been agitated at the time, by some family disagreement. A Coroner's Inquest sat on the body, and found a verdict of Felo de se.

The Harriet cartel, having on board Hugh Hope, Esq. Commissary of Prisoners, and a number of French Prisoners for the Isle of France, dropt down and past Kedgerree on the 14th current. They expected to get out of Pilots' water, by the 24th instant at furthest.

On Thursday, Captain Canning embarked on the brig Bee, on which he proceeds on his diplomatic mission to Ava. The Bee sailed from Calcutta immediately.

The H. C. Extra Ship DeWAYNES was hauled into the Company's Dock at Kidderpore on Friday last.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

On Wednesday last, arrived in the river, the ship Agnes, Captain C. R. Richardson, from Bombay the 13th, and Madras the 31st of August. PASSENGERS; Mrs. Hogg and two Children.

The Brig St. Maria, Smith Commander, arrived on Thursday, having sailed from the same port on the 30th ultimo; as did the Bheemalab, Captain Patrick, from Madras the 24th of August, and Toomilipunta the 5th of September. PASSENGERS per Bheemalab, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins and two children, and Mr. Baboom, an Armenian gentleman.

His Majesty's Ship Procris, with the Anna transport under convoy, arrived on Wednesday from Penang, having left the port on the 21st ultimo. The list of Passengers by the Anna has already appeared.

The Country Ship Ceres, Captain Ford, which formed part of the same convoy, reached Kedgerree on Sunday.

The inward-bound Ship Wyndham passed up from Kedgerree to Diamond Harbour, on Friday.

The Harriet Cartel, Captain Ramsden, passed Kedgerree on Thursday, on her voyage to the Isle of France, and the James Ashball, Captain Harrower, for Bombay, dropped down to Saugur on Friday. The Larkins left Kedgerree on Sunday morning.

Accounts from Penang mention the arrival there of the Ship or Edward Pell-w, Captain Stevens, of this port. She sailed again for China on the 19th of August. Passenger to China, the Hon. Mr. Elphinstone,

POSTSCRIPT.

“PENANG, JUNE 8, 1809;

“The American Ship Silenus, arrived here on the 4th, under charge of the 2d Lieut. of the Victor. She had been captured by the La Caroline French Frigate, and retaken two days after by the Victor. The Frenchmen brought the Silenus to anchor off the port, and allowed the boat from the Victor to get half way between that vessel and her,—when she let every sail of the land, expecting to escape, as it blew fresh, and she knew that the Victor must stop for her boat. By this manœuvre she very nearly got off, but she carried such a press of sail, that her mizen-mast and fore-top-mast went,—and she in consequence was recaptured.

“The Bombay Ships Myfore and Fame, arrived here this morning from Bombay, under convoy of La Blanche, having on board the 2d Bat. of the 20th Regt. which is to do duty here. These Troopships proceed to Calcutta in a few days, with the 1st Bat. of the 20th, who have been doing duty here these three years.

“Trade is excessively dull here. Indeed there is hardly any article in demand; and, from the very low price of produce, cultivation is nearly annihilated.”

" PENANG, AUGUST 11, 1809.

" The new Frigate is to be launched to-morrow. The Hon. the Governor gives a grand Entertainment on the occasion, the time day being also the birth-day of the Prince of Wales, and the anniversary of the settlement of this Island. The Admiral is now here, with his flag on board the Phœton. He has with him the Modeste and Cornelia. The two latter Frigates, we understand, give convoy to the Europe ships Spencer, Monarch, and Keith—which vessels are expected to sail in 3 or 4 days.

" The direct fleet arrived here on the 22d of last month, under convoy of the Saint Albans. They left England on the 5th of April, and are expected to sail about the 20th for China.

" Trade at this place is extremely dull. There is no demand for Opium or Piece Goods. The arrival of the Indiamen has enhanced the price of Pepper, which some time ago was as low as 4 do lars per pecul, and is now at from 6, to 6½ cash, and 7 in barter, which is of very great consequence to the poor planters, who would have been totally ruined, had it kept at the former low price.

" The Bouguise Prows are shortly expected from the Eastward and then we hope trade will be brisker."

" PENANG, AUGUST 19, 1809.

" The St. Albans and Convoy, sailed yesterday morning for China, and the Glorinde arrived to-day with the Nottingham and Perseverance from Madras. The Spencer, Monarch, and the other Europe Ships sail on Sunday; and to-morrow, the Admiral will leave us at the same time in the Modeste for Madras."

" An attempt was made on Saturday last, to launch the new Frigate; but it was found impossible to force her to embrace the watery element, and very serious doubts were entertained of being able to accomplish it. She was, however, launched on the following day, to the great satisfaction of all parties concerned. She is a very fine Ship, and we think, reflects great credit on the Builder and the Government of the Island."

The hull of the Grab Khasra, which had been given up as totally lost, proves, we understand, to be still afloat, at her anchorage off the Eastern Sea Reef; and there is every probability of her being conducted safe into the river.

By a proclamation of Government, issued yesterday, individuals are permitted to consign ships, laden with Teak timber, direct from Pegue to the Cape of Good Hope.

By Order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.

F. WARDEN, CHIEF SEC. TO GOVT.

Extract of a Letter from Lieut. William Hewitson, Commander of the Hon. Company's Cruiser Teignmouth, to William Taylor Money, Esq. Superintendent of Marine, dated Bombay, 17th August, 1809.

The following noon (the 29th July) working between the Island of Polior and the Main, discovered a vessel to the Northward through the haze close to us standing to the Westward; hoisted the distinguishing flag, which was not answered; bore up immediately for her which she having observed, run up all her steering sails together, and kept away N. W. by W. in a stunting direction for the land; the wind at this time S. W. fired three shot at her to bring her too; upon her finding that we were coming fast up with her, she got out sweeps, but having got so close in with the shore that she must either run aground or tack, she hauled in her steering sails and tacked, which brought us close along side of each other about 2 P. M. when she hoisted French colours and commenced firing—were round and returned it and continued a smart action with her until $\frac{1}{2}$ past 5 P. M. generally within Pistol shot and sometimes within half Pistol shot; about which time an unfortunate accident took place on board the Teignmouth by a box of fixed ammunition being blown upon the quarter deck—which set fire to the after part of the ship and burnt severely the men whose names are inserted in the margin* from this timuckly circumstance; I was obliged to haul off from the enemy to extinguish the fire and put the ship in a fit state to renew the action, which we accomplished by half past 6 P. M. for our Braces, Bairlines, most of the running rigging, with a part of the standing rigging was shot away: the enemy taking this advantage and making every effect in her power to escape by standing back to the eastward with what sail she could carry.—At $\frac{1}{2}$ past 6 bore up again in chase, when owing to the thickness of the hazy and darkness of the night, we lost sight of her about 2 A. M. the following morning; having observed about this time she altered her bearings quickly from S. E. b. S. to N. E. b. E. led me to suppose she was on the other tack, I tacked accordingly but have since every reason to suppose, we lost sight of her owing to her having bore up for the Keshma channel, instead of having tacked, as we had, in 9 fathoms sand upon the tail of a bank that forms the West-side of the Kishma channel.

I am happy to say that the officers, soldiers, seapoys, and European seamen under my command behaved themselves much to my satisfaction, and I feel myself much indebted to Lieutenants Stewart and Blacker who aided during the whole of the action at the great guns and small arms, and animated the crew by their good example and activity, and I am confident, had not the aforementioned unlucky circumstance taken place, that she in a very few minutes more must have been our Prize, as the state of the enemy was a deplorable one, her fore Top-sail Yard, Main Yard Arm, Sprit-sail Yard and Jib Boom were shot away; her hull much shattered and her sails full of shot holes—I think her loss in men must also have been considerable, she had eight folding Ports of a side and two large bridle Ports, without a head, and full of small arm men who kept up an incessant and smart fire of mulquetry.

I have to lament that in the latter part of the action, Lieutenant Stewart received a wound in the joint of his right arm and has suffered considerably in consequence; his arm was amputated at Muscat by the Surgeon of H. M. Ship Caroline, and there is great hopes now of his doing well. Lieutenant Arrow who ably assisted me on the Quarter Deck, I am sorry to say, is also wounded under the Collar Bone but not dangerously. The following is a correct return of the killed and wounded, exclusive of the Burnt, viz.

John Mathews, Coffey killed;—Lieutenant Josiah Stewart, badly wounded;—Lieutenant William Arrow, dico. — William Salter Cautler, do. in the arm,—Thos. Barrow, Quarter Master, slightly in the Eye,—Stephen Christain, do. badly in the arm,—James Norman, seamen do. in the shoulder,—William Boatright, do. in the Back,—William Wilson, do. in the arm,—William Jones, do. in the Eye (lost).—Atem Chinese, in the Back,—Affam, do. in the Eye,—Urgee, 1st Lieut. Servant, in the side,—Corporal Whitley, Artillery, in the Neck,—Patrick Green, in the thigh and burnt,—Sergeant Moran (slightly) since recovered,—Richard Allen, (Seward) slightly,—Lewis Alves, seaman, do.—Stephen Jefferson, do. Bruised,—Patrick Brien, Private Artillery, wounded, since dead,—Richard Holliday, do. slightly wounded,—James W les,—do. do. do. Joini.—Captain's servant, do. do.—Bappoo, servant (Bruised) since recovered.

* Privates of Artillery, William Nash, Haack Palmer, Pak Green, Mounsey (Lifear.)

PENANG, JULY 24, 1809.

Yesterday morning, His Majesty's ship St. Albans, Captain Austlin, giving convoy to the Honorable Company's ships Coutts, Princess Amelia, Royal Charlotte, Thames, Glatton, and Marquis of Ely, anchored in the harbour. This fleet has had an uncommon quick passage, having left England on the 6th April.

The following Passengers have arrived on the Fleet:—Lady Stanley,—Mrs. Urmlton,—Mrs. Cotton,—Mrs. Middleditch, and Miss Back House.

J. B. Urmlton, and Joseph Cotton, Esqrs. Supra-cargoes at China,—Mr. Keckewich, Attorney, and Captain Hay, formerly of the Honorable Company's ship Retreat: this latter gentleman has come out for the express purpose of superintending the building of a 1200 ton ship, and has brought with him the moulds and artificers for the purpose.

Yesterday arrived the ship Augustus, under American colours, from the coast of Pedrer.

Captain Tait late in command of the Clyde, who came passenger on this ship, states, that on the 15th instant, the Clyde, in company with the Augustus and Glory, was captured by a French corvette grab, in Tulosomoway roads; that the Clyde was despatched to the Isle of France, and the two American vessels, after being plundered of every valuable property, sold by the French to the king of Achcen, from whom they were purchased at the instance of Captain Samuel Stewart, who came on the Glory, which arrived this day.

It was reported by the enemy that two frigates left the Isle of France with the grab, about forty days ago; that a frigate had arrived from France in three months, conveying news of a peace with Spain, and was to proceed on to Manila.

Captain Tait speaks highly of the conduct of Captain Beaufet, and the second Captain De Caen, son to the Governor of Mauritius.

The Grab is said to be a fast sailer, and mounts twelve long 12-pounders, with 250 men.

There is every hope to be entertained that the Clyde and the grab, will not have been able, from the late blowing weather to get round Acheen Head, in which case some one of the many men-of-war now on the West Coast of Sumatra, expected here, may fall in with them—the result is obvious.

JULY 29, 1809.

On Wednesday evening, the Honorable Company's ship Castle-veagh, and transport ships Anna, and Bombay Merchant, with the regiment troops from Bencoolen, anchored in the harbour.

On Thursday, the Honorable Company's ship Albion, from England, and country ship Venus, arrived.

Captain Treemenhere, the Officers, and about fifty European seamen, formerly belonging to H. C. ship Asia, have arrived here on the ship Venus.

AUGUST 5, 1809.

By letters from Malacca, we learn, that the ship Mornington, arrived and departed for China.

Court of Judicature. OF PRINCE OF WALES ISLAND. FRIDAY, THE 2D DAY OF JUNE, 1809.

A very singular case of Murder.

At an adjournment of the Sessions of Oyer and Terminer and General Goal Delivery, PANJONG, was tried upon an indictment for the murder of his wife MANNOO, with a dagger, on the night of the 17th of March last, at George Town, within this Island.

The death of the woman having been established—four witnesses were examined on the part of the prosecution, two of whom were the next neighbours of the prisoner—from whose evidence it appeared, that they were awake from their sleep about twelve o'clock on the night of the 17th of March last, by cries; and the prisoner having called out for light, and that his wife was dead, in consequence thereof, they got up, and went for the landlord of the house in which the prisoner resided, who having heard of the alarm, brought a constable with him ; on their coming to the prisoner's house, the door was opened by him—and on their entering, they saw his wife dead, lying on the floor, cut and wounded in a most shocking manner, the prisoner sat by her, covered her with a cloth, and had a great quantity of blood on his hands, and there were two daggers covered with blood, lying near him—they also saw a man of the name of Pootee her brother, lying stretched in the verandah, with several wounds on different parts of his body, but not dead, and they sent him immediately to the hospital:—It appeared there was nobody in the house, or that resided in it, but the prisoner, his deceased wife, and brother-in-law ; and in consequence of these circumstances, the prisoner was taken up, and committed to goal to be tried for this murder :—this evidence having been given to the Court and Jury—the prisoner was called upon for his defence:—he stated, that on the night on which the murder happened, he was in bed asleep, and having been alarmed by the cries of his wife, he got up, and having obtained a light from a neighbour's house, found that she was dead, and found her brother Pootee, who was blind, lying down, with wounds on different parts of the body.

In his defence, it appeared, by the evidence of Doctor Lofie, and Mr. Crauford, surgeon of the hospital, Mr. Phillips, and the Interpreter ; that Pootee, the brother-in-law of the prisoner's wife, was brought to the hospital immediately after the fact, with mortal wounds on different parts of his body ; that he was despaired of from the moment the surgeons first saw him—tho' he languished under his wounds for about six weeks after, when he died in the hospital ; that he was a blind man, and he himself all along was sensible of his approaching dissolution, and had no hopes whatever of recovery.—That whilst he was in this state, and afterwards he had himself expressed his apprehension of immediate death, he made a declaration before Mr. Phillips and the surgeons, which was reduced into writing on the 23d of March last, and to which he was sworn by the Justice of the Peace, in which he declared, he had been blind some time, and that he lived with the prisoner his brother-in-law, who married his sister and always behaved most kindly to him, but his sister disliked him, and often quarrelled with him since he became blind—" that " on the night on which he was wounded, he was asleep, but was " awoke in consequence of being wounded on the belly, that he " caught hold of the person that struck him, by the hair, by the " length of which he supposes it was a woman, he forced the dagger
 " from her hand, with which he struck and wounded her several " times in his own defence, but as he was blind he could not tell
 " with certainty who it was ; previous to his having taken the weapon
 " from her, she wounded him in the leg as well as in the belly, and " attempted to cut his throat—on being wounded, he ran out into
 " the verandah, and soon after heard the prisoner calling out to his " next neighbours for a light, and said that his wife was dead, and

"his brother-in-law wounded; so he was sure that he wounded the person that wounded him."—It appeared also, that Pootee the brother-in-law, made many parol declarations to Mr. Crauford down to the time of his death, and when he was perfectly sensible of his situation, that the prisoner his brother-in-law was perfectly innocent.

Mr. E. Stanley admitted those several declarations made by the deceased man, and left them to the jury as evidence, that the death of the prisoner's wife was occasioned in consequence of an attempt made by her upon her brother's life, in the dead of the night; who having resisted her, a scuffle ensued and mutual wounds were given, which produced this tragical scene and ended in the death of both. Violent presumption and a chain of circumstances are often sufficient tales of murder, when positive evidence of the fact cannot be had; but the presumption which might arise against the prisoner from his having been found in the house, with bloody hands and daggers, with his deceased wife, and his wounded brother-in-law, was strongly repelled by the circumstances of his having himself alarmed his neighbours, and promoted an immediate inquiry, and from his never having attempted to fly, which he might have done, if he had been conscious of guilt; and he was also of opinion, that the dying declarations of the deceased brother-in-law were proper evidence to be left to the jury in favour of the prisoner; and that this case differed from Drummond's case, 1 Leach—page 378—where the declarations of a person convicted of highway robbery, made at the moment of execution; that he was guilty of another robbery, of which another person was accused, were refused by the Court to be admitted in evidence, as the declarations of a dying man; for being convicted, and attainted, his testimony could not have been received on oath if he was living.—The Recorder also mentioned, that this case afforded an instance to shew the caution, Courts and Juries ought to use, in convicting upon light presumption, and how wary that sort of evidence should be pressed; our Law holding it better that ninety-nine guilty men should escape than that one innocent man should suffer.

The Jury acquitted the prisoner of the murder to the satisfaction of all present, and he was immediately discharged.

The Honorable the Vice President in Council is pleased to direct, that the following Copy of a Despatch, received from the Adjutant General, be published for general information.

To JOHN ADAM, Esq.

Acting Secretary to Government Mil. Dept.

Sir,

I am directed by the Commander in Chief, to request you will lay before the Honorable the Vice President in Council, the accompanying Copies of Papers this day received from Lieutenant Colonel Hall, commanding the Troops employed against Boudwah.

4. The prompt and successful accomplishment of this service, has afforded His Excellency great satisfaction; and reflects the highest credit upon Lieutenant Colonel George Hall, and all the Officers and Troops employed under his command.

3. I have also the honor to forward, by His Excellency's command, a Copy of General Orders issued on the occasion.

HEAD QUARTERS, Meerut Cantonments, Sept. 2, 1809.

To LIEUT. COL. H. WORSLEY, Adj. Genl.

Sir,

On the 27th instant, I had the honor of reporting, that the Detachment had then arrived and taken up its position before the town of Bhowanie at no greater distance than fourteen hundred yards from the center of the first line.

Yesterday I also reported to you express of the important acquisition of the town of Bhowanie, which was carried by assault about 2 P. M. Every preparation had been made the preceding evening, and a Battery constructed during the night of two 18-pounders, two 12-pounders, two Howitzers, with a Trench for 600 men manked by two Howitzers and two 6-pounders. The Battery opened before sunrise, and two very practicable Breaches were made about noon.

The attacking columns were composed as follows—The two right columns commanded by Lieut. Colonel MacGrath, of the Grenadiers of the 1st Battalion 9th, 1st Battalion 10th, and 1st Battalion 22d, with the Light Companies of those Corps, and the 1st Battalion 9th Regiment.

The two left columns commanded by Major Smith, consisting of four Companies of Grenadiers, viz. 2d Battalion 18th; 2d Battalion 23d, with the Light Companies of those Corps—The Light Company of the 2d Battalion 24th, and the 2d Battalion 18th Regiment. Total strength of the storming party 1920 Rank and File.

The columns advanced in high order about half past 12 o'clock, and just as they were clear of the Batteries, the attack commenced very smartly, but such was the determined and desperate resistance opposed by the Rebels, that it was not without great loss on our part they were driven from their Intrenchments.

I calculate, upon at least 4500 fighting men, and I think it may be fairly assumed, that their loss could not be less than one third of their numbers; about 2 P. M. our troops were in complete possession of the place, and the whole of the storming party remained there for the night, and in the morning early the remaining troops in Camp changed ground close to Bhowanie.

In further explanation of the attack, I enclose a very correct sketch of it, with a copy of the Orders issued by me on the glorious issue of the contest. I also enclose a return of the killed and wounded in the attack, and though I sincerely lament the loss sustained on our part, the Casualties fall very short of what might have been expected, considering the great force of the Rebels who were strongly intrenched, and who fought with the most determined courage and bravery.

I have, &c.

Extract Detachment Orders, by Lieut. Colonel BALL.

Camp, Bhowanic, August 30, 1809.

The Commanding Officer derives the greatest satisfaction in offering his general testimony of approbation and cordial acknowledgment to the Officers and Troops yesterday engaged in the successful assault upon the town of Bhowanic, and particularly desires that such may be conveyed to Corps and Detachments respectively. To Lieutenant-Colonel MacGrath, who had the general Command of the attacking column, and to Major Smith, who had the immediate direction of the left column, the steady and very firm manner in which the troops advanced upon the enemy, merits the Commanding Officer's highest encomiums, and gives every claim to his most particular thanks, so meritoriously due to Lieutenant-Colonel MacGrath and Major Smith, who personally conducted their respective columns.

To Captain Mason in the general Command of the Artillery, the very amiable arrangement of that Officer's department throughout, but particularly in conducting the duties of the breaching Batteries, with the very heavy and well directed fire that was so rapidly kept up, in covering the advance and approach of the storming party, to the points of attack, entitles Captain Mason to every commendation, and reflects great credit upon the Officers and men under his command.

To Captain Houston, commanding the 6th Cavalry, and the corps of irregular horse, under Captain Skinner, the Commanding Officer feels himself warmly indebted, for the able disposition of their respective corps, in interrupting the retreat of a considerable body of the fugitives, most of whom were destroyed, after a desperate resistance.

To Lieutenant Tickell, of Engineers, the Commanding Officer has much pleasure in expressing his entire approbation of the zeal and ability manifested by that officer, in the execution of the duties of his particular line.

To Lieut. Bauer, commanding the Pioneers, and to the officers and men under his command, every praise is most deservedly due for their great exertions, and the Commanding Officer has much gratification in particularly noticing the intrepid conduct of Ensign Ellis, of that corps, which has been circumstantially reported, and redounds highly to the merit of that Officer.

The Commanding Officer has to express himself particularly indebted to the zeal and exertions of his personal Staff, Captain Keating, and likewise to Lieutenant Nicholletts, Quarter-Master of Brigade, and is happy in acknowledging the very great benefit he derived from their valuable services.

Extra Batta to be served to the Europeans.

General Orders, by the Commander in Chief, Head Quarters, Meerut Cantonment, 2d September, 1859.

A detailed report having been this day received from Lieutenant Colonel Ball, of the capture of the important town of Bhowanie by assault, at 2 P. M. on the 29th of last month. The Commander in Chief hastens to express his high sense of the distinguished judgment, zeal and ability, manifested by Lieutenant Colonel Ball, in the general performance of this service, especially in the final disposition and plan of attack, which having been most ably executed by the steady gallantry of Officers and Troops, surmounting every obstacle, and the most desperate resistance on the part of the Enemy, fully entitles Lieutenant Colonel Ball, and all the Officers and Troops employed, to the Commander in Chief's most perfect approbation and best thanks, which His Excellency requests Lieutenant Colonel Ball will accept, and communicate the same to the several Corps and Detachments employed against Bhowanie previous to their separation.

The Commander in Chief perused with the highest satisfaction Lieutenant Colonel Ball's report of the meritorious conduct of Lieutenant Colonel McGrath, of the 9th, and Major Smith, of the 18th Native Infantry, who led the columns of attack, of Captain Mason, Commanding the Artillery, Captain Houstoun, Commanding the 6th Cavalry, Captain Skinner, Commanding a Corps of Hindoostanny Horse and of all the Officers and men of Engineers, Cavalry, Artillery, Infantry and Pioneers, engaged in this important and brilliant achievement.

The Commander in Chief earnestly hopes, that Captain Whitehead, of the 9th Native Infantry, Lieutenant Buckley, of the 18th, Lieutenant Horsburgh, of the 23d, Cornet Byres, of the 6th Cavalry, Ensign McDonald and Cragie, of the 18th Native Infantry, who were wounded in the assault of Bhowanie, will soon be enabled to resume their duty, whilst His Excellency with regret records the name of Lieutenant Stephen O'Brien of the 22d Native Infantry, now added to the number of those who have gallantly fallen in the service of their country, in Asia.

The Commander in Chief is pleased to direct, that leave of absence be immediately granted to the full proportion authorized for Native Troops, in all the Corps and Detachments appertaining to Lieutenant Colonel Ball's Command, including also the 6th Cavalry, 1st Battalion 9th Native Infantry, and other details belonging to the Post of Kharnaul, which have been employed in Hurraah, and that the period of furlough in those Corps be extended until the end of January next.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, SEPT. 19, 1809.

The Vice President in Council has received with sentiment of the most sincere satisfaction, the official report of the Capture of the strong, and important fortified Town of Bhowanie, by the detachment under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Ball.

In publishing the details of this gallant exploit, the Vice President in Council desires to express the high sense which he entertains of the zeal, gallantry, and professional skill manifested by Lieutenant Colonel Ball in the conduct of the important duty committed to his charge, by His Excellency the Commander in Chief, under the authority of Government, and of the distinguished perseverance, spirit, and gallantry of the Officers and men under his command, by whose energy and valour a Fortress of great strength, and defended with desperate courage by a numerous Garrison, fell in the short space of a few hours before the irresistible bravery of the Troops.

The Vice President in Council deeply laments the loss of Lieutenant Stephen O'Brien, of the 1st Battalion 22d Regiment Native Infantry, and of the brave men who have fallen in this arduous and honorable Service; and he indulges an earnest hope that Captain Whitehead, Lieutenants Buckley and Horsburgh, Cornet Byers, and Ensigns McDonald and Pityfair, and the non-commissioned Officers and Men who were wounded on this occasion, will soon be restored to the duties of their profession.

The Vice President in Council has particular satisfaction in expressing his sense of the meritorious conduct of Lieutenant Colonel MacGrath of the 9th, and Major Smith of the 18th, who conducted the assault; of Captain Mason of the Artillery, Capt. Housoun of the 6th Native Cavalry, and Captain Skinner commanding the irregular Horse; and in repeating his high approbation and applause of the conduct and bravery of the whole of the Officers and men of the Corps employed on this Service.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, SEPT. 12, 1809.

The Vice President in Council has been pleased to determine, that the following Article shall be substituted for Article 60th, of the New Medical Regulations which is hereby rescinded.

60th. "The expense of conveying the Hospital Clothing and Bedding, whether belonging to a Field Hospital or to a Regimental Hospital in cases where a Field Hospital has not been established, under the conditions specified in the foregoing Article, shall be defrayed by Government in the usual form of a Contingency; but the carriage of every other Article required for the Sick or Wounded Men, shall be paid for, by the Surgeon of the Field Hospital, or by the Regimental Surgeon, in cases where a Field Hospital has not been established, according to circumstances.

"The indulgence hereby granted to Regimental Surgeons, in respect to the conveyance of the Hospital Clothing and Bedding, is strictly confined to the case of Troops employed on actual Service, and is in no wise applicable to the case of Corps marching from one Station to another in time of Peace; with respect to which last, the 6th Article of the Regulations is to be strictly adhered to.

"Bills for the expense of conveying the Hospital Bedding and Clothing of Troops, employed on actual Service, are to be transmitted, attested in the usual form, and accompanied by the authority under which the charge may have been incurred to the Paymaster of Extraordinaries, in order to their being submitted in due course for the sanction of Government."

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

The Purser of the H. C. Ship Marquis Wellesley, Captain Le Blanc, arrived in town yesterday afternoon, with the packets of that vessel.

The Marquis Wellesley, sailed from Portsmouth, on the 26th of April, in company with the H. C. Regular Ships City of London, Devonshire, Surrey, Castle Eden, Metcalfe, Earl Howe, Marchioness of Exeter, Taunton Castle, Dover Castle, and United Kingdom, and the Extra Ship Retreat, under convoy of His Majesty's Ship Lavinia, commanded by Lord William Stuart. She parted from her comrades off Ceylon, on the 12th current, and proceeded to her destination at Trincomalee, where she arrived on the following day. She sailed again from thence on the 16th, and entered Saugor Roads on the 23d, after a short passage of 7 days.

PASSENGERS by the Marquis Wellesley: To Ceylon: Colonel Gordon, H. M. 89th Regt. Lieutenant Colonel Eyre, 19th ditto; Mr. Wybrow, Surgeon, ditto; Mrs. Wybrow; Messrs. Farrell and Boyd, Writers. To Bengal : Mr. Patton, Writer; Messrs. Bedford, Ramsey, Brownrigg, Kennet, and Cole, Cadets.

It is supposed, that the rest of the Indiamen of this Fleet would reach Madras, about the 15th current.

The Fleet went into Madaira, on the 8th, and sailed again from thence on the 20th of May. The Lacinia left them, six days afterwards. They touched at no other intermediate port.

The Marquis Wellesley found at Ceylon His Majesty's Ship Belliqueux, which had returned from the Island of Rodrigues to Columbo, and had afterwards been employed to convey General Maitland from that port to Trincomallee.

On the 11th current, the Marquis Wellesley fell in with and boarded the wreck of a vessel, of Ganjam. According to every appearance, she had not been in the water for above a few days. The stern-frame was entire, and the paint clear and fresh. About an hour after passing the wreck, a bale of cotton was seen floating on the surface of the water. This also seemed perfectly fresh; but, as the wind was high at the time, it could not be recovered.

It is generally supposed, that this wreck must have been the remains of the Henry Parnell, lately stranded on that part of the coast. The story however has been associated with a rumour of the loss of the Rahimshaw, which obtained ground in Calcutta yesterday morning, but which, we can assure our readers, is entirely devoid of foundation. It simply originated in the circumstance of a Clashee belonging to that vessel having arrived in town from Ganjam, and having reported, that the Rahimshaw's boat had been upset by the surf, in attempting to land at a place called Soneepore, and, with the exception of himself, that every person on board had been drowned. We forbear to mention the names of the sufferers, on such vague authority. The Rahimshaw, was on her voyage from this port to Masulipatam; and, as the Clashee understood, had afterwards sailed.

Captain White, of the Mary and Eliza, reports, that, in latitude 39, to the West of the Cape of Good Hope, while running down his eastings, he fell in with the wreck of a large vessel, which, by every appearance, had been some time in the water. It was blowing a gale of wind at the moment, and he had very nearly run foul of her. He saw her quarter and rail distinctly.

The Lord Castlereagh and all the other dispersed ships of the Penang convoy, with the exception of the Nancy Crab, have at length arrived.

The Nancy foundered at sea on the 7th current, in Lat. 13. 37. Long. 89. 00. near the Andamans.—All the treasure on board, however, amounting to near 14 lacs of Rupees, had previously been conveyed into the Rattlesnake. Captain Earle and his crew have arrived at this place, in the Castlereagh. The Rattlesnake parted company on the 14th instant, and proceeded to Madras, with the Samarang's convoy, which they met with at sea.

The St. Albans, which gave convoy to the outward-bound China Fleet, returns to England, we understand, with the trade from Canton.

His Majesty's Ship Modeste, it appears, had, previous to her arrival at Penang, been on a cruize up the Straits, and had touched at Malacca.

The advices received from Madras since our last, convey no information of material interest. With the surrender of the garrison of Seringapatam, indeed, the commotions at that Presidency might be considered as at an end. The decision of the various questions connected with the late disturbances was only deferred, until the arrival of the Governor General at Fort St. George. His Lordship had not arrived, on the 7th current.

The detachment of the Hyderabad Force stationed at Jaulna, under the command of Colonel Doyeton, had followed the example of their comrades at head-quarters, and signed the Declaration required of them. This detachment, we understand, had made five marches from Jaulna to the southward, when they received the circular letter from Hyderabad, recommending that they should return to their duty.

Colonel Close has been re-appointed to the command of the Hyderabad Subsidiary Force, which circumstances had induced him to relinquish, and also to the command of the Field force assembled in the Ceded Districts.

Private letters from Madras speak in confident terms of the expected arrival, by the first ships from England, of Lieutenant-General Brownrigg, as Commander in Chief, and First Member of Council, at the Presidency of Fort St. George.

By advices from Loodeaunah of the 2d of September, we learn, that the Hon. Mr. Elphinstone, and the other gentlemen attached to the Cabul Embassy, were then at that station. The whole party had reached the British frontier in safety, some days before.

To the full details of the assault of Bowanee, which we gave in our last, we have nothing material to add. The official account of that achievement, together with the public orders issued on the occasion, appear under their proper head. The casualties on our part had, in the first instance, it would seem, been somewhat underrated. We sustained a loss, in all, of 1 European Officer and 18 Sepoys killed, and 6 Officers and 111 Sepoys wounded. At the date of the last accounts, the detachment remained in Camp at Bowanee, waiting further orders from headquarters. Bowanee proves to be a place of considerable extent,—measuring nearly 3 coss in circumference. Several large tanks and wells supply it with water. The besieged had removed their families and effects, previous to the attack; and what booty was made during the storm fell chiefly to the lot of the Camp-followers.

The following has been given to us, as a more correct statement of the disposition of the homeward-bound Bengal ships of the Season, than that which we published in our last. The Commanders of the H. C. Ships Lord Duncan, Carnatic, Walthamstow, and Lord Melville have received orders to be in readiness to proceed direct to Europe, by the 15th of November. The Lord Castlereagh and the new frigate from Penang are also to sail with this Fleet. The Baring, Lady Castlereagh, and one of the Indiamen now expected from England, will proceed to the Coast, where they will take in cargo, and, being joined by one or two ships from hence, will rendezvous at Ceylon. It is not expected that this Fleet will get away from India, before the month of March next. The three Extra Ships will be dispatched immediately.

By an Order of the Ceylon Government, under date the 11th of August, an embargo was laid on all vessels of whatever description, in the ports and roads of Columbo.

On Sunday, the 27th ultimo, a royal salute was fired from the ramparts of Fort St. George, in consequence of the agreeable intelligence communicated by the dispatch from Vienna of the 25th of April.

At a general Meeting of the Medical Officers, at the Presidency of Fort St. George, held on the 11th of August, for the purpose of carrying into effect the erection of a suitable monument to the memory of the late Physician General, it was unanimously resolved, that “the Medical “Gentlemen of His Majesty’s and of the Honorable Company’s Services, on the Coast Establishment, be invited “to join in making up the sum of One Thousand Guineas, “(by equal subscriptions) as their proportion towards the “general contribution.”

By letters from Meerut of the 5th current, we learn, that His Excellency the Commander in Chief proposed to quit that station on the following day, on his return to the Presidency.

The vessels lately arrived at Calcutta from the United States, have imported hardly any American produce. Their return cargoes have been purchased chiefly with bills and specie. The Atlas is stated to have imported dollars to the amount of 3,55,000.

A grand Wrestling match took place at three o'clock on Friday, at Mr. De L'Etang's Repository.—The principal contest was between a Gowallah (of great celebrity in that exercise,) and a Sepoy of the 8th Native Infantry. The parties however mutually accused each other of unfair play, and the match therefore is to be repeated. Considerable bets were depending.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

Yesterday se'ennight, arrived at Kedgerie, the ship Mary, Captain Allen, having sailed from the West Coast of Sumatra on the 27th ultimo.

The Alexander, Captain Clarke, from Chittagong the 13th current, arrived on Thursday.

The American ship Gypsy, from Boston the 26th May, came into the river on Wednesday. And on Saturday, arrived the Brig America, which sailed from the same port on the 19th of May, and the ship Mary and Eliza, from Salem the 10th of May.

The Arab ship Fathelbury, from Mocha, and last from Calicut, also arrived in the river on Saturday; together with a Native vessel, from Chittagong the 10th ultimo.

At a later hour of the same day, arrived the H. C. ship Lord Castlereagh, and Country Ships Mysore and Bombay Merchant, being part of the dispersed convoy from Penang.

The Country ship James Sibbald, Captain Harrower, bound for Bombay, sailed finally from Saugor, on Tuesday last, and parted from her pilot on Thursday, at the same time with the Lord Minto sailing to the Moluccas, and the Bee to Rangoon.

The Cotton ship Larkins, Captain Barclay, for England, put to sea on Friday morning. The Fort William, Captain Parsons, remains in Saugor Roads.

The H. C. ship Warren Hastings, Captain Larkins, will sail immediately for China. PASSENGERS: to Europe, Mrs. Gilchrist and Miss Louisa Larkins; to China, Mr. D. Erskine, Mr. J. D. Wilcox, and Lieut. J. Rainey, of the 7th Native Cavalry.

The Brig Favourite, Captain Gillespie, bound for Madras, passed Kedgerree outwards, on Friday.

FORT ST. GEORGE, AUGUST 30, 1809.

General Orders by the Honorable the Governor in Council.

A report has been received by the Governor in Council from the Officer Commanding in Mysore, stating, that the troops which compose the Garrison of Seringapatam surrendered at discretion on the 23d instant; delivered their arms; and proceeded to the Stations in Mysore allotted for their Residence.

It has been ascertained that the Native troops which proceeded from Chittledroog were entirely ignorant of the real designs of their Officers; and marched under an impression produced by their Officers, that His Highness the Rajah of Mysore had commenced hostility against the British Government and attacked the Fort of Seringapatam. The appearance of the Mysore horse confirmed this opinion, in the minds of those troops, and when they found in the Contest before Seringapatam which was begun by the Mysore horse, that the British force acted against them, they abandoned their Arms, and endeavoured to save their lives by flight. It appears, that a considerable number escaped in the Fort of Seringapatam.

This explanation is due to the general conduct of the Native Troops under this Government; who have in circumstances of peculiar difficulty manifested a fidelity to the State that reflects great honor on their character. The Governor in Council was persuaded that it was by deceiving the Native Troops that they could be misled from their duty, and their conduct in every situation when they had an opportunity of being made acquainted with the true situation of affairs justifies the high opinion which he entertained of their zeal and fidelity, and entitles them to the approbation and thanks of the Government.

The Governor in Council greatly ascribes the early termination of the disturbances in Mysore to the Vigilance, energy and talents of the Acting Resident the Honorable Arthur Cole, and the Commanding Officer in Mysore, Lieutenant Colonel Davis; and he judges it proper again to express his high sense of the important services which they have rendered to the interests of their country in India.

By Order of the Honorable the Governor in Council,

A. FALCONER, CHIEF SEC. TO GOVT.

MADRAS, SEPTEMBER 7, 1809.

Civil Appointment.

Mr. Stephen Harris, Commercial Resident at Cuddalore.

BY GOVERNMENT.

Fort St. George, August 12, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to permit Mr. Surgeon Patterson of the 9th Regiment Native Infantry to proceed to Calcutta on leave of absence for six months.

It appearing from an entry in the Pilot News-paper, dated 2d December last, that Colonel John Cuppage on the retired list of this Establishment, died in England on the 21st November preceding, the Governor in Council is disposed to consider the information authentic, and accordingly directs, that Colonel John Cuppage be struck off; and Major General Tolson placed upon the retired list in his room, from the 22d November 1808.

The Governor in Council is pleased to permit Lieutenant M'Laren of the 2d Battalion 8th Regiment Native Infantry to proceed to the Cape of Good Hope for the recovery of his health, that gentleman having been disappointed of a passage to China.

The Governor in Council permits Lieutenant Colonel John Cuppage of the 1st Battalion 15th Regiment Native Infantry, to proceed to England on sick certificate.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

All Civil and Military Officers exercising authority under the Government of Fort St. George, having been directed to consider all corps moving without orders as in a state of rebellion to the Government, and to offer every practicable obstruction to their progress. The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to direct, that the following notice shall be given by Officers commanding Divisions to the different Collectors and Magistrates through whose Districts any troops under their orders may have to march, in order that such Collectors and Magistrates may be prepared to afford the supplies and assistance to those corps, which they would without such notice, consider themselves bound to withhold.

The Governor in Council is further pleased to direct, that the notice to the Civil Officers shall distinctly specify the strength and description of the corps, or party moving, and the name of the Officer in charge of the same, who must produce a written order, with a translation on the back of it in the common language of the district; signed by the Officer commanding the division, without which the native servants of the Civil Officers will withhold all supplies, and oppose every impediment to the march of the corps.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

(Signed) A. FALCONAR, CHIEF SEC. TO GOVT.

2d. Officers proceeding on duty on board Indiamen or country ships shall pay to the Commanders of these vessels the allowance of 4 rupees per diem abovementioned, in consideration of which, the Commanders shall supply the Officers with accommodation and a suitable table.

In consideration of the many arduous and important occasions on which Soobidar Shaik Hossain, 1st Battalion 6th Regiment Native Infantry, has been employed, his length of service and the testimonies of his general good character and conduct. The Honorable the Governor in Council as an incitement to emulation & a mark of his approbation of the zealous and meritorious services of Soobidar Shaik Hossain is pleased to direct that a Feltan-queen shall be presented to that Officer in the name of the Honorable Company with an allowance of 30 S. Pagodas per mensem, to maintain this equipage in adequate style; and that the amount of his pay shall be continued as a pension for life to the nearest heir of the Soobidar after his death.

From motives of compassion to the destitute family of a deceased and faithful Officer the Governor in Council is pleased to allow a monthly stipend of 20 Rs. or Pagodas to Lull Bhet, the widow of the late Colonel Adam Stad Allee.

August 25, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to permit Mr. Surgeon Dove to proceed to the Cape of Good Hope, or the Island of St. Helena, on sick certificate.

The Governor in Council confirms the nomination of Mr. Assistant Surgeon Moore by the Officer commanding the Subsidiary Force at Travancore, to act as medical aid to the staff attached to that Force and is pleased to grant an allowance of 50 Rs. Pagodas per mensem to that Gentleman, while employed in the execution of this duty.

The Governor in Council further directs that the appointment of Mr. Moore shall have effect from the 15th June last the date of the G. O. nominating that Gentleman to the charge above-mentioned.

A certificate of the continued ill state of health of Lieut. Leigh on leave at the Cape of Good Hope having been submitted to the consideration of the Governor in Council, he has been pleased to grant an extension of six months leave of absence to that Officer, for the recovery of his health.

August 26, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to direct, that the following appointments shall take place.

Early this morning arrived H. M. ship Dover, Captain Tucker, from Calcutta, having on board the Right Honorable Gilbert Lord Minto, Governor General.

His Lordship landed under salutes of 19 guns from the whole of his Majesty's squadron in the roads, and a like salute from the garrison, and was received on his arrival at the beach, by the Honorable the Governor, the Honorable the Chief Justice, the Members of Council, the Honorable Mr. Justice Sullivan, the Commander in Chief, and the principal Civil and Military Servants of His Majesty and the Honorable Company.

The troops in garrison were formed into a Street from the north gate to the fort square, through which His Lordship passed under the usual Military honors, to the Council Chamber—the different Bands playing the National tune of God save the King:

A Salute of nineteen Guns announced to the public his Lordship having taken his seat in Council.

The troops were then formed into a Street from the Fort Square to the Wallajah Gate, and his Lordship attended as before, walked to the Gate, where the Carriage of Sir GEORGE BARLOW was in waiting, and his Lordship immediately proceeded to the Ameer Baug, which has been fitted up for his Lordship's reception, in the carriage with the Honorable the Governor.

Yesterday afternoon His Excellency Rear Admiral Drury, arrived in his Majesty's ship Modeste, Hon. Captain Elliott, a salute of 15 guns was fired on the occasion. At the same time anchored his Majesty's ship Diomed, Captain Hugh Cock, having previously saluted the Admiral's Flag. — The Diomed sailed from England 22d April with orders to proceed to St. Helena, and afford con voy home to the Fleet of China Ships expected there in charge of his Majesty's ship Leon. On the arrival of the latter ship at St. Helena, a survey was held upon her, when it being found that she was not in a state to return for service in India, it was judged proper that she should proceed on with the Flag, and the Diomed was directed to sail for India to replace her in this Squadron.

FORT ST. GEORGE, SEPTEMBER 11, 1809.

PROCLAMATION,

By the Honorable the Governor in Council.

Whereas in and by an act of Parliament made and passed in Great Britain, in the 31st Year of the Reign of His present Majesty, King GEORGE the THIRD, and entitled, an ACT for Continuing in the East India Company for a further Term, the possession of the British Territories in India, together with their exclusive Trade, and certain Limitations; for establishing further Regulations for the Government of the said Territories, and the better Administration of Justice within the same; for appropriating to certain uses the Revenues and Profits of the said Company; and for making provision for the good order and Government of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay;— it is enacted, that when the Governor General of Fort William in Bengal, for the time being, shall find it expedient to visit the Presidency of Fort St. George, or the Presidency of Bombay, or any province or place in India; the Powers and Authorities of the Governor or other Chief Officer or Officers of such Presidency, province, or place, shall from the time of the Proclamation of the arrival of the said Governor General therein, be suspended, (except with regard to judicial proceedings); and shall so continue to be suspended, until other Proclamation be made to the contrary, by the order of the said Governor General; or otherwise, until the said Governor General shall depart therefore, and no longer;—and that during that interval, the powers and authorities of the said Governor, or other Chief Officer, shall be vested in the said Governor General, with liberty nevertheless for such Governor to sit and Act as a Member of the Council of such Presidency, and that the said Governor General in Council, at either of the said Presidencies of Fort St. George and Bombay, shall be invested with the Powers and Authorities of the Governor in Council of the same Presidency, or Settlement, respectively; and also with the same ample powers and authorities as shall or may be exercised by the Governor General in Council at Fort William, by force and virtue of this Act; and whereas the Right Honorable Gilbert Lord Minto, now being Governor General of Fort William in Bengal aforesaid, has found it expedient to visit this Presidency of Fort St. George, and is actually arrived at the same, with intent to exercise, and for the purpose of exercising, the powers so vested and intended to be vested in the Governor General in Council at this Presidency of Fort St. George aforesaid, under and by virtue of the said Act; and whereas such the arrival of the Right Honorable Gilbert Lord Minto, Governor General of Fort William aforesaid, has been duly notified to the Honorable Sir George Hilary Barlow, Bart. and Knight of the Most Honorable Order of the Bath, Governor in Council of Fort St. George, and the said Sir George Hilary Barlow, Bart. Governor in Council aforesaid has, in consequence thereof, ordered and directed such the arrival of the said Gilbert Lord Minto, Governor General aforesaid, to be publicly proclaimed, pursuant to the said Act; now Proclamation is hereby made accordingly of such the arrival of the said Gilbert Lord Minto, Governor General of Fort William aforesaid, and all persons are hereby strictly enjoined, and required, to take notice thereof.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council of Fort St. George aforesaid, this 11th day of September, in the year 1809.

A. FALCONER, Chief Sec. to Govr.

General Orders by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

The Right Honorable Gilbert Lord Minto, Governor General for all the Forces and Affairs of the British Nation in India, having judged his presence at the Presidency of Fort St. George to be expedient for the public Service, His Lordship hereby notifies to the Army, that he is arrived at the said Presidency accordingly, and he requires all Officers and Soldiers under this Presidency, to obey him as Governor General in Council, at Fort St. George, according to the provisions of the Act of the 3d Year of His present Majesty, Chapter 51.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to remove Ensign Robert White, from the 9th Regiment Native Infantry, to the Engineer corps with the date of rank he at present holds, subject to the approval of the Honorable the Court of Directors, of course liable to be superseded by all Cadets appointed for the Artillery or Engineers, of the season 1809, who may select the latter corps.

BOMBAY CASTLE, 21st AUGUST 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to grant permission to Lieutenant William Aubry, of the 2d Regiment Madras Native Infantry, stationed at Goa, to proceed to Fort St. George, on his private concerns with leave to be absent from his station for 4 months, from the date of his departure from Goa, subject to the existing Regulations.

It is with much concern that the honourable the governor in council has to announce to the army the death of Captain David Seton the resident at Muscat, which happened on the 2d of August.

Captain Seton, whose life has at length fallen a sacrifice to the very insalubrious climate of the Muscat station, has for a series of years been engaged in the diplomatic department of this presidency, in the course of which his zeal for the public service has been conspicuous, whilst the duties committed to him have been promoted by those conciliatory manners towards the natives, by which the good temper and character of this regretted officer were very creditably distinguished.

The Governor in Council is pleased to direct that the following promotions take place, vice Seton deceased.

7th Regiment Native Infantry.

Captain Lieutenant John Mayne, to be Captain of a company, vice Seton deceased,—Date of Rank, 2d August 1809.

Lieutenant Peter De Lamotte, to be Captain Lieutenant, vice Mayne promoted,—do. do.

Ensign James M'Vicar Grant, to be Lieutenant, vice De Lamotte promoted,—do. do. do.

By Order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

BOMBAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1809.

GENERAL ORDER.

By the Hon. the Governor in Council,

BOMBAY CASTLE, 25th AUGUST, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to grant a furlough to Mr. Assistant Surgeon Yates, to proceed to Europe by the earliest opportunity for the recovery of his health.

BOMBAY CASTLE, 28th AUGUST, 1809.

Mr. Assistant Surgeon E. Marten, having produced the prescribed Certificates, has the permission of the Honorable the Governor in Council to proceed to Europe for the recovery of his health agreeably to the existing Regulations.

BOMBAY CASTLE, 31st AUGUST, 1809.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to nominate Lieutenant W. H. Sealy, of the Corps of Artillery Commissary of Stores to Lieutenant Colonel Smith's detachment.

The Native Details forming part of Colonel Smith's detachment having increased to upwards of five hundred men and an Adjutant being considered indispensably necessary to superintend their discipline, the Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to appoint Lieutenant James Innes to that situation.

Published by Order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

SEPTEMBER 6, 1809.

The Isle of France being the only possession of the French in the eastern hemisphere; and which of late has been the means of so great annoyance to our trade in India, and at present attracting the attention of our naval force, any particulars relative to the internal resources and force of that colony we think would not be unacceptable to many of our readers.

From a gentleman who resided some time on the island, and who has lately returned to India, we have been very obligingly favoured with a little information on this subject,—which is published without much attention to orders or arrangement.

The climate of the Isle of France is said to be very salubrious, so much so, that few diseases prevail; the interior of the country is in many parts extremely rural and magnificent, resembling in appearance some of the sequestered and romantic scenes in England.

The soil in general is favourable to the cultivation of grain; but such is the dread they have of the hurricanes which prevail at times, from the month of December to March, together with the swarms of common rats, which infest the country, that little attention is paid to this occupation, from the idea that their labour in this respect would be in vain, as certain destruction to the crops is inevitable. These considerations have induced the government to look for supplies elsewhere, which, when checked put the higher classes of the inhabitants to some little inconvenience.

The number of slaves, which is almost incredible, amount to 100,000. These poor wretches subsist entirely upon the bread fruit, which grows in great plenty. It is an extreme wholesome food, affording great nourishment. The process it undergoes is simple, and when prepared for meals has the appearance of a baked cake.

The slaves are said to be greatly disaffected; and indeed, from the treatment they receive, it could not be otherwise expected. They perform the drudgery of horses, and every other species of work that human beings can be engaged in. They are kept under the most severe discipline, and but little attention paid to their comforts. They have often expressed a wish to be under the British government, that they might be released from their sufferings—and experience that protection to their persons which the humane laws of England afford.

With respect to the regular European force of the islands, it amounts to about 3000 men, who are well accounted, and in a very excellent state; if the militia and regiments of creoles are added they can muster 10,000, which for the defence of the colony, is a pretty respectable force. The troops however, are greatly disproportioned to the general officers, there being no less than 13, commanding at the different military stations.—General Decan is said to be a very strict disciplinarian, which indeed was fully evinced by the deportment and appearance of the men.—Their dress is white nankeen being light and suitable to the climate.

The arts have seemingly arrived at a great state of perfection,—every mechanical profession is there carried on with great spirit and activity.—The streets bear much resemblance to an English town from the multiplicity of shops of every description, even down to a cook-shop, where may be had at a moment's warning a fricassée, a chicken or pigeon pie,—upon the whole the lower classes of inhabitants thus employed are very industrious.

The Fortifications are altogether insignificant, except what nature has been bountiful in granting; small batteries are erected at intervals round the island, commanding every place where a ship can approach the shore, these however are of no great strength, and would require only a small force to silence them.

The houses are built of wood of a bluish colour, and of such a peculiar nature as not to be set fire to but with the greatest difficulty. Many respectable gentlemen have declared that the town would have been reduced to ashes long ago by the slaves, who hold the character of the French in utter detestation, and who would have availed themselves of this mode of retaliation, had the houses which are constructed of this material been as inflammable as other wood.

Whatever inconvenience the inhabitants at times experience from the suspension of their communication with Port of Spain and the other adjacent islands in consequence of a rigorous blockade, it seems to make but little impression on the higher circles (whose interests are only remotely affected) as no change takes place in that continual round of dissipation which is a distinguishing feature of the customs at the Isle of France. They are in possession of a Theatre and in this species of amusement they frequently enjoy themselves—in fact, volatility of disposition and frivolity of habits are as great characteristics there as in Paris.

The island of Roderiguex which is about 300 miles nearly due East from the Isle of France is 17 miles in length and 8 in breadth. The country is said to be fertile, and produces every necessary for the sustenance of life. There is plenty of excellent water. Two or three planters are on the island and a very small number of slaves.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

Aug. 18, arrived the ship Charles Bayley, Capt. John Hare, from Point de Galle.

Thursday 24th, arrived brig Buchanan, Captain T. W. Gelling, from West Coast of Sumatra, with Pepper and Benjamin.

Friday 25th ditto H. M. ship Iphigenia, Henry Lambert Esq. Captain from the Isle of France, the 15th instant.

The Iphigenia left the Isle of France on the 15th instant, to repair damages sustained by getting on board the Boudicca and afterwards running on Cannonier Point, where she lay exposed to the fire of the batteries for three hours, but fortunately had only two men killed.

The Bellona and Laurel were ready for sea.

The Cannonier preparing to heave down.

We are extremely concerned to learn, that the Caroline, with her two prizes, the Europe and Streatham Indiamen, had got safe into Bourbon, after being chased by our blockading ships.

Thursday, 31st arrived Sophy Schooner, Lieut. Thomas Harriet, from Surat.

PENANG, MAY 27, 1809.

CIVIL APPOINTMENT, MAY 2, 1809.

Mr. WILLIAM ROBINSON, Accountant & Auditor.

Mr. T. L. M. SHERWOOD, to succeed to the Office of Assistant Accountant and Auditor, on his return to the Presidency.

JUNE 24, 1809.

On Wednesday last, Ilustriſſimo Senhor Borelho, Governor of Timor, embarked under the salute due to his rank : On passing the Portuguese frigate, he was saluted and cheered, as also on his arrival on board the ship, on which he proceeds to Malacca, on his way to Timor.

To the Editor of the Gazette.

SIR,

As the following account of a dangerous reef of Coral Rocks, in the China Seas, on which the Palmer struck, may be beneficial to navigators, I request of you to insert the same in your paper.

your's obediently,

JOHN WILLIAMS.

" On the 18th February, 1809, at noon, the N. E. part of the North Natuna, bore N $\frac{1}{2}$ E. distance about two leagues, At $\frac{1}{2}$ past noon, rocks were seen under the bottom, leak water eight fathoms : hauled S. S. E. and soon deepened into twenty fathoms, mud ; when we again steered our former course to the westward of south, but had scarcely got the ship her course, before she struck on a coral reef—a pointed rock, five or six feet under water, appeared close on the larboard side. The ship having much way when she struck, going seven knots she forged over this spit into deep water. The N. E. part of the North Natuna, when upon the rocks bore N. about seven miles distant.

" We now discovered the ship to be on the edge of a Reef, which appeared to extend from the N. E. part of the N. Natuna, all the way to Single Rock, and has broken up in many places. We steered along its edge about seven miles, before we stood over towards the Grand Natuna, on which side the passage seems clear of danger. Therefore navigators who, in future may follow the same track as the Palmer did towards the Straits of Sunda, which she passed in fifteen days from China, ought in going between the Natuna Islands, to be careful to keep over towards the Grand Natuna, at least two-thirds of the apparent channel, in order to avoid the Reef on which the Palmer struck, and which ultimately occasioned the loss of her voyage to Port Jackson.

"This Reef being a new discovery, at least not in Horsburgh's Charts, which places the Islands in their true position, I call Maitland's Reef.

JULY 8, 1809.

On Tuesday last the ship Clyde, Capt. Tait, came in from the eastward.—She brings intelligence of the brig Eleanor, Captain Lambert, having been captured at Bally, by a Dutch sloop of war, from Amboyna.—This vessel had English colours flying until too late for the Eleanor to effect her escape.—Capt. Lambert, and lady have been landed at Sourabaya.—The Eleanor is reported to have since been lost, but the cargo is saved.

Captain Tait further states, that was reported, the whole of the Palambang vessels, tin laden, had been destroyed by an English ship of war in Batavia Roads; and that a Lieutenant and one seamen had been created by the Nacoda of one of the vessels.

No report of any of the enemies cruisers to the eastward.

We omitted to mention in our last, the return of H. S. Pearson, Esq. First member of Council, to this presidency.—He landed on Thursday last night, from the Alexander, under the salute due to his rank.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

PORT WILLIAM, SEPTEMBER 19, 1809.

No arrangement having been made for the securing regular Medical attendance to the people belonging to the Magazine and Arsenal Establishments at the Stations hereafter specified, the Honorable the Vice President in Council is pleased to determine, that the Medical charge of the people of that description, at Cuttack, Berhampore, Dinapore, Futty-Ghur, and Delhi, shall be entrusted to the Senior Surgeon of the Native Corps, at those Stations respectively.

The people attached to the Magazine and Arsenal Establishments at Cawnpore, are to receive Medical attendance from the Surgeon in charge of the depot at that Station.

The same Medical allowances are to be drawn by the Surgeons for the people above described, as is established for Gun Lascars and Pioneers, viz. Sonaut Rupees 16 per mensem, for every 100 men.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, SEPTEMBER 25, 1909.

Captain P. L. Grant, of the 12th Regiment of Native Infantry, and Major of Brigade to the Troops serving in Bundelcund, is permitted to make a Voyage to Sea for the benefit of his health, and to be absent on that account for six Months.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

In our extra publication of yesterday evening, we had the pleasure to announce the safe arrival at Madras, of the Fleet of Indiamen, from which the Wellesley separated on the 12th ultimo; in the neighbourhood of Ceylon. These ships may be expected in the river, we understand, about the 12th current.

The United Kingdom, destined for St. Helena, parted from her comrades on the 10th of June; and, the Marchioness of Exeter, Taunton Castle, and Dover Castle, stood away on the 16th of the same month, with the intention of proceeding by the inward passage to Bombay.

The accounts of the market for Bengal produce in China, received by the late arrivals from the eastward, are sufficiently unpropitious; but, as the chief cause of the depression is imputed to the scarcity of specie, and the consequent difficulty of procuring returns, it may be reasonably hoped, that the renewed importation of treasure by the American traders will be immediately productive of a favourable change. Bengal cotton was at 12 tale per pecul; and Opium nominally at 9½ dollars, but, in reality, not saleable even at that price.

By the Lord Castlereagh and Anna, we have advices from the settlement of Bencoolen, considerably later than any previously received. The following extract of a let.

ter, with which we have been favoured, contains, we believe, nearly the only intelligence from that quarter, that would be interesting to the public.

“ FORT MARLBOROUGH, 17th June, 1809.

“ We have got here a French Lieutenant-Colonel prisoner. He was A d-de-Camp to the Governor or Commander in Chief at Batavia, and had gone to sea for the benefit of his health in a Prow, but, meeting with bad weather from the southward, he was obliged to bear up for Pulo Pesceng opposite Croe, where he delivered himself up to the acting Resident, who sent him to this place. He will, I suppose, arrive in Calcutta at the same time you receive this, as I believe it is proposed to send him in the Lord Castlereagh. In the latter end of April last, we had a visit from the Cannonier and Laurel. They stood in much nearer than Rat Island: but, gaining information, I suppose, that there was no vessel in Pulo Bay, stood off afterwards to the Northward. We were greatly afraid, they would have fallen in with the Castlereagh and Anna: and, had these ships come the inner passage, they certainly would have been captured, as the French vessels were at anchor off Padang for the space of four days. As soon as our two ships arrived, they were put into the Bason, at Rat Island: and measures were taken for repairing and planking the old platform there, and for building a furnace for heating shot. That is now finished, and we have two 24 pounders and an 8 inch mortar mounted on the island. Soon after we had got every thing in readiness, two strange sail were seen, when we instantly cleared for action, both ashore and on board. They did not come in however; but stood to the southward. On a second occasion, every thing was again cleared for action; but the vessels proved to be the Procris and Dasher, brig and sloop of war. They remained four days, to get water and bullocks.”

By the late accounts from the Mauritius, brought to Bombay by the Iphigenia, we learn, that the French, under the apprehension of an attack, were busily employed in fortifying every post on the island.

Rodriguez, where our troops had been landed, is situated at a considerable distance to the windward of the Isle of France; and the English ships of war, after watering at the former place, are under the necessity of beating up for several days, before they can regain their station.

Previous to the separation* of the Iphigenia, a detachment of the blockading squadron, consisting of the Raisonable, Sirius and Nercide, had sailed for Bourbon, with the purpose of attempting to cut out or destroy the Caroline Frigate, and her two prizes, the Streatham and Europe. The most sanguine hopes of success were entertained.

The expedition against the Pirate States on the Gulph of Persia, which has for some time been under equipment at Bombay, was expected to sail about the middle of last month. The land force consists of about a thousand men, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Smith of His Majesty's 65th Foot. The naval part of the expedition is composed of his Majesty's Frigate La Chiffone, and several Company's Cruizers,—the whole under the command of Captain Wainwright. They are to be joined, on their arrival in the Gulph; by the Caroline and some other vessels.

By a letter from Cambay of the 6th ultimo. we are informed, that the detachment of the Guzerat force, lately engaged in the siege of Mallia, had, in consequence of the state of the weather, been prevented from quitting their position before that fortress, and it was doubtful whether they would be able to move for some time to come. The Mallia chieftain is said to have betaken himself to a fortress in the province of Cutch, whither, it was supposed, that our troops would follow him, as soon as the season should permit them to march. This however was all mere conjecture.

“ EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM DELHI,

“ Sept. 17th, 1809.”

“ We yesterday arrived here, having returned from Bowannee in the Hurrianah country. Bowannee was carried by storm on the 29th ultimo, and a signal example made of the Enemy. Our loss was about 140 killed and wounded. We march from this for Meerut Cantonments

“ the day after tomorrow. This weather has put our constitutions to a severe trial.”

The General Stewart, having part of Lord Minto's suite on board, reached Madras on the 12th, under the protection of the Clorinde Frigate. The Hastings, Pilot schooner, arrived at the same time. The Clorinde had been left in charge of the General Stewart by the Admiral, who, with that frigate, and his temporary flag-ship the Modeste, fell in with the Dover and her convoy, within a short distance of Madras.

A notification has been published by the Government of Fort St. George, intimating, that no further subscriptions, to the loan lately opened at that Presidency, would be received after the 11th ultimo.

His Excellency, the Commander in Chief, accompanied by the officers of his Staff, set out from Meerut on his return to Calcutta, on the 6th ultimo. On the 9th, he reached Ghur Mokhtesir ghaut, and embarked on the boats prepared for him. He afterwards proceeded by dawk on a visit to His Highness the Nawaub of Lucnow, and after a very short stay at that capital, set out, on the evening of the 19th, for Cawnpore. His Excellency re-embarked from that station, on the afternoon of the 21st ultimo; and, by private advices received in town yesterday, we learn, that he had reached Allahabad on the 24th. It is supposed, that His Excellency may arrive in Calcutta, about the 15th or 16th current.

The Ship Rahimshah reached her destination at Masulipatam in safety, on the 9th current; and the story, brought by a Clasher from that vessel, of her Commander having perished, with his boat's crew, in the surf at Soneepore, proves to be entirely groundless.

The Arab Ship Fathul Kurreem, in her passage up the river, grounded near Melancholy Point some days ago.

and was supposed to be in considerable danger. Boats however were sent from the Bankshall to her assistance, who completely lightened her in a very short space of time ; and, it was supposed, that she would float again with the flood-tide of Sunday evening.

On Sunday se'ennight, the Cotton Ship Matilda, in working down to Saugor, took the ground, abreast of Kedgerree, at the close of the ebb-tide. She floated again immediately, however, as soon as the flood set in ; and, as far as could be judged, had not sustained the smallest injury.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

On Saturday se'nnight, arrived in the river, the Brig Experiment, Captain Dodds, having sailed from London in January last, and from Port Jackson on the 11th of July. PASSENGER from Port Jackson, Mr. J. C. Burton.

On the same day, arrived the Native brig Hydroos, from Madras on the 10th current ; and a Malabar ship, which sailed from Bombay, some time in May last.

The Fame, Captain Pringle, the last of the Penang Fleet, passed up yesterday se'ennight.

The American Ship Catherine, from Boston the 25th of May, and an Arab vessel, from Judda the 28th of June, also arrived on the same day.

The Shah Allum, from Mocha the 10th of August, came in on Tuesday ; ---as did also the Country Ship Carron, Captain Doig, from Coringa the 20th current. PASSENGERS per Carron ; Captain Ramsay, and Mr. Morris.

On Saturday, arrived the Brig John Prince, from Coringa the 21st current.

The Country Ship Matilda, Captain Ross, bound with a cargo of cotton for England, the Burmah brig Margaret for Rangoon, and the American brig Fox for New York, dropped down past Kedgerree, on Sunday se'ennight. The Gulliver, also destined for New York, passed outwards on the day following.

On Sunday, the Country ship Admiral Drury and Brig Fortune, sailed passed Kedgerce, on their way to Madras.

The following passengers have come to this Presidency, in the ships lately arrived from Penang; viz.

FORT WILLIAM, SEPT. 26, 1809.

The Vice President in Council having sanctioned the adoption of a new arrangement for the future provision of army cloathing, which will be immediately carried into effect, commencing with the year 1808, and adverting to the loss on the H. C. ship Asia, of a large proportion of materials for army cloathing, which has left in the Import Ware House, no more cloth than sufficient to supply the quantity required to meet the demand for the cloathing of 1808, has determined to grant compensation to the several corps of the army, in lieu of cloathing for the year 1807.

His Excellency the Commander in Chief is requested to appoint a Committee of Officers to assemble at the presidency, for the examination and check of the claims which the several corps may have to compensate for the year 1807; directing Officers commanding Companies to transmit to the Committee, the necessary abstracts and vouchers of the same.

GENERAL POST OFFICE,—OCT. 1, 1809.

The Honorable the Vice President in Council, having taken under consideration, the delays occasioned to the business at the General Post Office, by giving change for rupees offered in payment of Postage, has resolved, that this practice shall be discontinued; but at the same time to relieve the public from the inconvenience of having their letters rejected for want of the exact sum assessed at this Office, and from the loss sustained by exchanging the superior coins in the bazar, has further determined, that a Treasury Podar shall attend daily at an Office to be erected contiguous to the entrance door of the Post Office, during the hours allotted for the receipt and delivery of letters, for the purpose of exchanging rupees into pice, at the established rate of sixty-four pice per rupee. Notice is hereby given, that in conformity to the above resolutions of Government, the practice of giving change at the General Post Office, will cease on the 15th of the current month, and the Treasury Podar will attend at his Office on the succeeding day for the purposes above stated. The hours for the receipt and delivery of letters are from 10 A. M. to 1 P. M. and from 3 to 6 P. M. for receipt only.

OCTOBER 6, 1809.

FORT WILLIAM, OCT. 6, 1809.

The Honorable the Vice President in Council is pleased to direct, that the following Copy of a Treaty of Peace, Friendship and Alliance, which has been concluded between His Britannic Majesty and His Catholic Majesty Ferdinand the Seventh, be published for general information.

G. DOWDESWELL, Acting Chief Sec. to Govt.

Treaty of Peace, Friendship and Alliance, between His Britannic Majesty, and His Catholic Majesty Ferdinand the VIIth, Signed at London, the 14th day of January, 1809.

In the Name of the Most Holy and Undivided Trinity.

The Events which have taken place in Spain having terminated the State of Hostility which unfortunately subsisted between the Crowns of Great Britain and Spain, and united the Arms both against the Common Enemy, it seems good that the New Relations which have been produced between two Nations, now connected by common Interest, should be regularly established and confirmed by a formal Treaty of Peace, Friendship and Alliance: Wherefore, His Majesty the King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Supreme and Central Junta of Spain and the Indies, acting in the Name and on the behalf of His Catholic Majesty Ferdinand VII. have constituted and appointed;—That is to say, His Majesty the King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, The Right Honorable George Canning, one of His Majesty's Most Honorable Privy Council, and His Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; and the Supreme and Central Junta of Government of Spain and the Indies, acting in the name and on the behalf of His Catholic Majesty Ferdinand VII. Don Juan Ruiz de Apodaca, Commander of Valaga and Algarga, in the Military Order of Calatrava, Rear Admiral of the Royal Navy, named by the Supreme and Central Junta of Government of Spain and the Indies, as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of His Catholic Majesty Ferdinand VII. to his Britannic Majesty; their Plenipotentiaries, to conclude and sign a treaty of Peace, Friendship and Alliance;—who, having communicated their respective full Powers, have agreed to and concluded the following Articles.

I.—There shall be between His Majesty the King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Catholic Majesty Ferdinand VII. King of Spain and of the Indies thereunto appertaining, and between all their Kingdoms, States, Dominions, and Subjects, a Christian, stable and inviolable Peace; and a perpetual and sincere Amity, and a Strict Alliance during the War against France; together with an entire and lasting Oblivion of all Acts of Hostility done on either side, in the course of the late Wars, in which they have been engaged against each other.

II.—To obviate all complaints and disputes which might arise on the subject of Prizes, captured posterior to the Declaration published by His Britannic Majesty on the 4th of July of the last year, it has been mutually agreed, that the vessels and property taken posterior to the date of the said Declaration, in any seas or ports of the world, without any exception and without any regard either to time or place, shall be restored by both parties.—And as the accidental occupation of any of the ports of the Peninsula by the common enemy, might occasion disputes respecting any vessels, which, in ignorance of such occupation, might direct their course to those ports from any other harbour, either of the Peninsula or the Colonies; and as cases may occur in which Spanish Inhabitants of the said ports or provinces, so occupied by the enemy, may, with their property, endeavour to escape from his grasp. The high contracting parties have agreed that Spanish vessels, not aware of the enemy's occupation of any harbour which they are desirous to enter, or such as may succeed in making their escape from any harbour so occupied, shall not be captured, nor themselves nor their cargo be considered as a good Prize; but, on the contrary, that they shall meet with every help and assistance from the Naval Power of his Britannic Majesty.

III.—His Britannic Majesty engages to continue to assist, to the utmost of his power, the Spanish Nation in their struggle against the tyranny and usurpation of France, and promises not to acknowledge any other King of Spain and of the Indies thereunto appertaining, than His Catholic Majesty Ferdinand VII.

His Heirs or such lawful Successors as the Spanish Nation shall acknowledge: and the Spanish Government, in the name and on the behalf of His Catholic Majesty Ferdinand VII. engages never, in any case, to cede to France, any part of the territories or possessions of the Spanish Monarchy, in any part of the World.

IV.—The high contracting parties agree to make common against France: and not to make peace with that Power except by common consent.

V.—The present treaty shall be ratified by both parties, and the exchange of the ratifications shall be made in the space of two months, (or sooner if it can be done) in London.

In Witness whereof, We, the Undersigned Plenipotentiaries, have signed, in Virtue of Our respective Full Powers, the present Treaty of Peace, Friendship and Alliance, and have sealed it with the Seals of Our Arms.

Done at London, this Fourteenth Day of January, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Nine.

ARTICLE I. SEPERATE.

The Spanish Government engages to take the most effectual measures for the preventing of the Spanish Squadrons in all the ports of Spain, as well as of the French Squa ron, taken in the Month of June, and now in the harbour of Cadiz from falling into the power of France. For which purpose his Britannic Majesty engages to co-operate by all means in his power.

The present separate Article shall have the same force and validity, as if it were inserted, word for word, in the treaty of Peace, Friendship and Alliance, signed this day, and shall be ratified at the same time.

In Witness whereof, We, the Undersigned Plenipotentiaries, have signed, in Virtue of Our respective Full Powers, the present Separate Article, and have sealed it with the seals of Our Arms.

ARTICLE II. SEPARATE.

It shall forthwith be neglected, stipulating the amount and description of Succours to be afforded by His Britannic Majesty, according to the third Article of the present treaty.

The present separate Article shall have the same force and validity, as if it were inserted, word for word, in the treaty of Peace, Friendship and Alliance, signed this day, and shall be ratified at the same time.

In Witness whereof, We, the Undersigned Plenipotentiaries, have signed, in Virtue of Our respective full powers, the present separate Article, and have sealed it with the Seals of Our Arms.

Done at London this Fourteenth day of January, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Nine.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLE.

The present circumstances not admitting of the regular negotiation of a treaty of commerce between the two countries, with all the care and consideration due to so important a subject, the high contracting parties mutually engage to proceed such negotiation as soon as it shall be practicable so to do, affording, in the mean time, mutual facilities to the commerce of the subjects of each other, by temporary regulations founded on principal of reciprocal utility.

The present additional Article shall have the same force and validity, as it were inserted word for word, in the treaty of Peace, Friendship and Alliance, signed at London, the Fourteenth Day of January, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Nine.

In Witness whereof, We, the Undersigned Plenipotentiaries, have signed, in Virtue of Our respective Full Powers, the present Additional Article, and have sealed it with the Seals of Our Arms.

ELEPHANT HUNT.

For the following authentic particulars of the late adventurous excursion from Hazaree Baug, in pursuit of two wild elephants, we are indebted to the pen of a correspondent:

"On the 24th instant, at midnight, information was received that two wild Elephants of an uncommon size had made their appearance within a few hundred yards of Cantonments, and close to a village, the inhabitants of which were in the greatest alarm. No time was lost, in dispatching all the public and private Elephants at the Station in pursuit of them; but, at day break on the 25th advice was brought, that their very superior size and apparent ferocity had rendered all attempts for their capture unavailing, and that the most experienced driver we had, was dangerously hurt, the Elephant on which he rode having been struck to the ground by one of the wild ones, which its Companion had afterwards dragged to a sugar-cane plantation, adjoining to the village of Hazaree Baug. The guns were then immediately ordered to their place. But it being desirable, in the first instance, to try every means of catching the Elephants, the inhabitants of the neighbourhood were assembled, with the assistance of Rajah Sing, and deep pits were prepared, on the edge of the sugar-cane, in which our Elephants and people with the utmost difficulty contrived to retain these animals during the day. When the pits were reported ready, we repaired to the spot; and they were with much anxiety driven into them, but unfortunately one of the two did not prove sufficiently deep, and the Elephant, which escaped from it, was seen in the presence of many witnesses, to shut his companion with his trunk, to extricate himself. Both were however with much exertion brought back into the sugar-cane, and no particular symptoms of vice or fierceness having appeared in the course of the day, it was thought advisable, to make another trial, to catch them.

The Birds therefore were set to work, to deepen the old and prepare new pits again. It was proposed to make the final attempt. At 4 o'clock in the morning of yesterday, however, they burst thro' all the guards, and making for a village at about three miles distance, entered it with so much rapidity, that the Horsemen, who galloped in front of them, had not time to apprise every inhabitant of his danger; and it is lamentable to add, that one poor man was torn limb from limb, a child trodden to death, and two females wounded. Their destruction now became absolutely necessary; and, as they shewed no inclination to quit the large village in which the mischief was done, we gained time to bring up the four-pounders, from which they soon received several round shot, and abundance of grape, each. The largest of the two was brought to the ground, by a round shot in the head; but, after remaining there for a quarter of an hour apparently lifeless, he got up again as vigorous as ever. The desperation of both at this period exceeded all description. They made repeated charges of near an hundred yards at the guns; and, had it not been for the uncommon steadiness and bravery of the artillerymen, more than once turned them off, by shots in the head and in the when within a very few paces of them, many dreadful collisions have occurred. We were now obliged to bring our own ammunition, and before a fresh supply could be sent, the Elephants quitted the village, and, though severely lacerated from an hundred wounds, proceeded with increasing length towards Hazaree Baug. They were at length within a very few paces of the Horsemen and our Elephants, when after many repeated charges of a crowded hazard, and ultimately, a sack upon the gun, they were brought to the ground. Nineteen four-pounders, most formidable, and ferocious weapons, and 8 or 10 men, up the conical, with their lives. ready been taken out of their hands, will yet be found.

"The following is a correct measurement of these Elephants, which will be read with surprize. It is thought that they must have escaped from Hydera bad or some other part of the Deccan, for animals of such size have never before been seen or heard of in this part of India.

A most extraordinary instance of the strength and ferocity of the Wild Buffalo is recorded in the Mirror of last week. We regret that our limits will not permit us to republish the particulars at length. The Buffalo in question was encountered, a little to the west of Luckipore, by a gentleman, passing in a large accommodation-canoe, along a wide branch of the river. Being attacked by fire-arms, he maintained a conflict of not less than two hours in the water, charging the boat repeatedly with the utmost fury, and at one time fixing his horns in it so deeply, that they were with some difficulty disentangled, while the most of the crews were excited, left, in the violence of his reception, should either overturn or get on board the canoe, his hide in a number of spots from fowling-pieces. A heavy sword, very little apparent effect; and the two which, being ranked all impression from the blow to skin, penetrated. He was at length killed by a fire, of the largest size, aimed with considerable skill, at the side of the animal. His story is much too long to place, when the

BURNING OF A HINDOO WIDOW.

An intelligent correspondent has favoured us with the following narrative of a Suttee, which lately took place at no great distance from Calcutta. The aggravated circumstances of horror, which attended the ceremony on this occasion, distinguish it from most of the Suttees, which have been hitherto described, and are calculated to excite a very powerful, though not certainly a very pleasing interest, in the minds of our readers :

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HURKARU.

SIR,

It is a generally received belief, that, in the Sacrifice of Hindoo Widows, the victim is previously rendered almost insensible by stupifying and intoxicating drugs, and that she is, at all times, suffocated by the smoke of a rapidly combustible pile, before the flames reach her body. That this is at least not always the case, I have been recently a witness. Being informed, that a Suttee was about to take place in the vicinity of my House, on Monday, the 25th of this month, I repaired to the spot in company with a friend, instigated by a strong and natural curiosity, to observe narrowly the deportment of a human being about to take a voluntary and public leave of existence, and believing from what we had read of similar cases, that our feelings would not be shocked by any open exhibition of the actual pains of dissolution. I do not recollect to have seen any account of a Suttee, which did not, upon the whole, tell rather favourably for the humanity of those whom an imperative ordinance of Religion calls upon, to preside or officiate at such ceremonies. I think it therefore a duty which I owe to the cause of truth, to record at least one instance on the other side of the question. With this view, I beg leave to address myself to you, in the hope that you will give the narration a place in your valuable news paper, when you have nothing more interesting or novel to insert.

The Suttie in question took place at a spot by the river side, about a quarter of a mile below Barnagore, at 11 in the morning. We arrived about half an hour before that time, and found the widow, bathing in the river, surrounded by a troop of friends, chiefly men. It was then low-water, and the deep mud left by the tide, prevented our approaching sufficiently near to observe with accuracy, the ceremonies that were performing. Our attention was attracted to the pile, which was placed about high-water mark. It was not altogether more than $4\frac{1}{2}$ or 5 feet long, to the best of our observation; and consisted merely of some long billets of chopped soon-dry wood, fresh and green, from the bazar, retained in their places by four stakes driven into the ground at the angles. The whole was little, if at all, longer, or broader, than one of the common cots used by the natives. The deceased was supported in a sitting posture by two men, close to the pile, and some more billets of wood, with four or five bundles of dry brush-wood and reeds, lay ready for use. The whole of the ceremonies observed on the occasion, were such as are usually gone through, and as have been described so often in books. The widow was dressed in a robe or sheet of bright red silk, and had her hair hanging loose and dishevelled, and stuck through with many wooden combs: her forehead was painted with yellow ochre, or orpiment, and she had no other dress or ornament whatever. From the bye-standers we learned, that her husband was a common washerman, and that it was not expected by any one that she would have resolved to burn herself, especially as she had a child of three years old, and as her relations had offered to maintain them both, if she would consent to live. I shall not take up your time by detailing the many ceremonies that were performed. The body of the husband was placed on the pile on its right side, and in due time she ascended and lay down by its side, facing it, and literally locked in its arms. So short was the pile, that the bye-standers were obliged to bend the legs of both very much, to enable the pile to contain them. During all this "dreadful note of preparation," from first to last, the widow preserved the utmost, the most entire fortitude and composure, or rather apathy,—and was unmoved even at parting with her child. In her processions round the pile, she was supported and hurried round through the crowd, by many men who held her by the arms and shoulders, and made the populace give way. From this we at first concluded her to be intoxicated, but were afterwards convinced of our mistake, by seeing the steadiness of nerve, and perfect composure, with which she sprinkled the corpse of her husband, and mounted on the pile entirely unassisted and alone. We stood within 6 or 7 feet of the pile, and could not be mistaken. The remaining billets of wood were now laid on the bodies, with a scanty handful of dry reeds here and there. But, the point to which I wish especially to draw the attention of your readers is, that thick strong ropes, thoroughly soaked in water, were previously tied round the bodies of the living and the dead, in many places, to preclude the possibility of escape, and in seeming anticipation of the dreadful scene that followed. One Bramin only was present at the ceremony, and as soon as all was prepared, he offered to the widow's child (in the arms of another) a lighted brand. The child drew back, in affright, when they seized its hand by force, and applied the fire to the head and afterwards to the foot of the pile. The shouting and noise of the crowd had been incessant from the beginning, but at this instant it was incredibly loud. Four strong green bamboos were now laid across the whole pile, which were strongly held by eight men, so as to keep down all attempts of the miserable creature within to rise; a precaution not useless, if it be allowed to conjecture from what we observed at the foot of the pile, near to which we stood. A quantity of ghee, not, I should imagine, a pint in all, was scattered on the pile; the scantiness of this and the broth-wood, and the greenness of the billets, caused the pile to burn very slowly, and rendered it necessary to apply fresh fire at one time. I scarcely know how to paint in colours that shall not disgust and shock your readers, the horrible close of the scene. Suffice it to say, that, soon after the fire took effect, the wretched woman within, in her torment, stretched forth her leg, which now protruded from the knee, beyond the scanty pile; and, by the quick acts with which she attempted to withdraw it, on its touching a burning brand, it was evident that she was still too sensible to the tortures she must then have been enduring. Owing to the brush-wood being scattered only at the extremities of the pile, the fire there was fiercest. In a minute or two more, the scorched and mutilated limb was again thrust out, and slowly consumed before our outraged eyes, while the tremulous and convulsive motions which it exhibited to the last (for many minutes) too plainly shewed, that sensation and life yet existed in the miserable wretch within. A kind of incredulous horror at what was passing, held till now rivetted us to the spot, but the scene became too shocking, and we quickly retired. I ought to observe, that the utmost difference, without any symptom of the remotest compassion, prevailed among the whole of the spectators, not excepting the mother and the sister of the widow, who were pointed out to us among the crowd.

VERAX.

Li-utenant-Colonel La Housaye, Aid de Camp to General Daendels, late Governor of Batavia, who, as appeared from a letter which we published in our last, had arrived in a Malay Prow on the Coast of Sumatra, and had there been made prisoner, has arrived at this Presidency from Bencoulou, in the Lady Castlereagh.

The departure of the Country Ship Elizabeth, appointed to proceed to Europe with a cargo of cotton, is, we understand, postponed. The other cotton-laden ships will sail in the course of the present week.

The Arab Ship Fut'ul Kurren, which we mentioned in our last to have been stranded off Melancholy Point, has since floated, and arrived in safety at Calcutta.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

Two Arab Ships, from Muscat the 30th of August, passed Redgerce inwards, on Monday last.

On the same day, arrived a Native vessel, under English colours, from Tellichery the 1st of April.

The Arab Ship Fathul Barree, from Penang the 15th ultimo, arrived in the river on Wednesday.

A Fleet of 15 Arab vessels from Muscat, which had sailed from that port on different days, between the 31st of August and the 11th of September, arrived in the river on Thursday, and passed up on Friday and Saturday.

On Friday, arrived the American Ship Gleaner, Captain Bardin, from Philadelphia the 24th of May.

A Telinga Ship and two Brigs, having no European on board, passed downwards on Saturday.

An inward-bound Ship and a Brig, both under Portuguese colours, anchored at Kedgerce, at one P. M. on Sunday. Another Ship was also seen working in from the southward. The Boat had not returned from either, when the Kedgerce report came away.

The Fuiepa, Captain Douglas, bound to Penang, passed Kedgerce on Tuesday last, and stood out to sea on the same day.

The Marchioness Wellfleet, Captain Dickie, sailed for Bombay on Saturday.

The H. C. Ship Warren Hastings, Captain Larkins, bound for China, sailed from Saugor Roads on Sunday.

On Friday, His Majesty's Ship Procris dropped down to the anchorage at Saugor, where she still remains, with the Country Ships Matilda and Fort William, for England, and the H. C. Yacht.

The Country Ship Elizabeth, Captain Richardson, cotton-laden for England, passed Kedgerce outwards on Sunday.

The H. C. Ship Lord Duncan reached Diamond Harbour on Wednesday last, in her way to Saugor, where she will complete her lading for Europe.

The following additional Passengers proceed on the Country Ship Elizabeth, in the event of that vessel sailing for Europe; viz. Mrs. Davies; Misses F. M. D. and M. S. Davies; and Masters R. L. and H. D. Davies.

BOMBAY GAZETTE, — SEPTEMBER 13, 1809.

Arrived the American Ship Galleyway, Commander John G. Pray, from New York the 23d of May.

POSTSCRIPT.

FOUR P. M.

The two vessels under Portuguese colours, whose arrival was announced in the Kedgerie report of Sunday, prove to be Her Most Faithful Majesty's Frigate Minerva, of 48 guns, with the Brig Faça de Graça under her convoy.

The above Ships, together with two valuable Merchantmen, for Goa, sailed from Rio de Janeiro on the 21st of June.

A public dispatch for the Supreme Government of India has been forwarded from the Brazils on the Minerva, and was this morning brought to town by the Commander of that vessel.

A very melancholy and fatal accident occurred on Tuesday last, on the Mount Road.

Lieutenant Johnstone, late of His Majesty's ship Procris, having lost all command over the Horse he was riding, the animal apparently at speed ran against the pole of Mr. Cassamajor's Landau—the horse, with his rider, extricated himself from this situation, and passed as far as about three or four yards from the hind wheels of the Carriage, when the horse fell, and, shocking to relate, Lieutenant Johnstone from the violence of the fall, fractured his skull; he survived only a few minutes, but did not utter a word.

SEPTEMBER 25, 1809.

General Orders, by the Right Honorable the Governor General

On my arrival at Fort St. George, I learnt that several important changes had taken place in the affairs of this Presidency, subsequent to the Events which had come to my knowledge at the period of my departure from Bengal.

The first act of open revolt which had already been committed by the Garrison of Malulipatam, had been followed by proceedings not less criminal and desperate at some of the most considerable stations as well as at some subordinate posts of the army—These measures had been undertaken in connection with a guilty combination and concert, the extent of which I cannot contemplate without the deepest concern.

I had cherished as long as Events would yet allow me to do so, that cordial esteem for the Army of the Coast at large, which a long and uniform display of every Military virtue had, till this calamitous season, so well justified, and which had led me perhaps too pertinaciously, to ascribe the prevailing disorders rather to a partial, than to a general defection from duty.

This habitual regard for the Army of Fort St. George, has much embittered the necessity of renouncing even for an interval, and I trust I may now lay a short one, sentiments which were once so just, and are still so grateful to my mind.

It is a matter of satisfaction to reflect, that I have yielded these favourable impressions to the evidence of facts alone, and that it has required those scenes which have been acted in open day, without effecting even the decency of concealment, to extort from me the reluctant acknowledgement of a too general participation in the late criminal confederacy, which, while it casts a wider shade over the former reputation of this Army has also given to their proceedings a more serious and awful character, since the blow which the Contest alone, but which succeeds even without Contest, would yet more certainly have struck into the bosom of their Country, must have been proportionally the deeper and more incurable.

The anxiety and grief which would have attended the necessity of such a contest as this state of things appeared likely to require, has however been spared me, by the return of the Officers to their duty, a final renunciation of the criminal designs which had directed their late conduct, and an unqualified submission to Legal Authority before my arrival at Madras.

The leading and principal facts had been placed so entirely beyond doubt or question, by the bold, undisguised character of the revolt; and the general principles of the deliberation on which I was entering are so plain and manifest in themselves, that a resolution might perhaps have been safely taken with little reflection or delay.

The consequences however of the Judgment I had to pronounce, on the one hand to the Public interest, and on the other to a numerous Body, whose title to respect and regard could not be entirely effaced from my mind even by the culpable excesses of a short and distempered period, were so momentous, that I could not consent to hazard a decision unsupported by such previous investigation both of fact and argument, as the urgent nature of the subject admitted—It is matter of much comfort to my own mind therefore, and will I doubt not afford satisfaction to others, that the measures I have now to announce to the Army, have been the result of individual enquiry as to facts, and of the most mature, as well as anxious personal mediation on every point of Justice, public policy and official duty, which ought to guide the deliberations and counsels of a Government on such a Question.

I have not neglected to look back once more to the origin of these troubles, and I am constrained to repeat the sentiments I have already delivered on that branch of the subject—Nothing can justify the revolt of an army; but I have been disappointed in my search even for circumstances of mitigation in this revolt. No injury has, in my apprehension, been done to the Army, in any stage of a conflict which began in a factious attack on Government.—But if in the necessary vindication of Authority any point may have arisen which might be thought interesting to the Military Body at large, the regular and legitimate recourse to the ultimate authorities was not only open, but was actually in progress—Seditious combination therefore can find no apology in the case, neither can punishments inflicted on individual acts of Sedition, furnish a just provocation to general confederacy.

The commission of Crimes draws after it the penalties attached to them, and in this process, it is Government which is driven to repeat punishments and multiply restraints by the growth and repetition of offences. It does not lie in the Offenders mouths to say, that they have been driven into the commission of crimes by the repetition of punishments.

Such however appears to have been the false and inverted principle by which this contagion has spread from a partial faction to a general revolt.

The latter excesses of the revolted Officers appear to have sought justification, and perhaps to have found support, from an error extremely similar.

The necessity, because the only effectual means of defence which government could employ against the violence with which it was threatened, have been converted into arguments of greater violence, have been treated as Crimes, and as new provocations to that very rebellion, by which these measures were, themselves, rendered indispensable.

On the other hand I have examined with more than impartiality, that is to say, with an earnest desire to establish the most favourable conclusions for the Officers of this Army, all the circumstances which attended and might be supposed to have influenced the sudden return of the Army to its duty. I am little inclined to pronounce an adverse and ungracious judgment, on that interesting point. I will not however, either on this or any other occasion sacrifice Truth to the indulgence of my personal disposition and wishes, and I have to regret that neither the particular circumstance of the moment, nor the specific information which has fallen under my observation, can warrant as clearly as I wish, the opinion I am desirous of entertaining, that the submission of the Army to Legal Authority may be exclusively ascribed to a returning sense of duty, and the mere operation of public principle—I am at the same time unwilling to probe that question more deeply than the occasion requires, and I am entirely disposed, amongst the complicated motives of an action good in itself, to discern at least the co-operation of worthy and honorable inducements—The latter sentiment has not been excluded from the considerations on which my judgment has been formed, and has been allowed a most welcome, and acceptable influence on the final measures that have been adopted.

It is not my intention to enlarge on the Grounds of the opinions I have now delivered, and I have touched upon them only for the purpose of explaining one of the principal foundations of my decision—The Acts being in themselves highly criminal, I have discerned neither in the motives that led to them, nor in the immediate inducements to submission, sufficient palliation to entitle offences so dangerous to our Country and the world to simple Impunity and Pardon. Clear and incapable of doubt as this proposition is, I have not yielded my implicit, and final assent to it without a repeated review of every consideration that could oppose that conclusion, nor without many struggles of private sensibility and feeling against the lamented consequences which must practically result from it—But these are questions not of private sensibility but of public trust. I have in charge the discipline of future Armies—The maintenance of that fixed and immutable principle, that Military Bodies are subordinate to the state—in a word the fundamental securities of human association—I cannot exclude from my mind the intimate conviction that the total impunity of revolt under all the circumstances of the present events is not compatible with those securities, that the silence of the Law, in the case of Arms turned against the Government that gave them, of Fortresses seized by those who were stationed to protect them, of Troops seduced by Officers to whose better guardianship they were committed, could be ascribed to no motive, and produce on the minds of those who should witness it, even from a distance, no impression favorable to Obedience and Discipline. Upon what distinction shall we rely hereafter in the punishment of inferior offenders, and acts of minor subordination, when impunity is the established result of mutiny, in which the officers of a whole army were the actors, and of which their Superiors and Commanders have been the principal promoters and leaders?

This painful argument is extorted from me, not for the purpose of reproach, but to fortify my unwilling judgment in the afflicting but inevitable conclusion, that total impunity is forbidden by every obligation of my high trust.

There is yet, I hope, a mitigating principle in the most austere exercise of English justice; that justice, which, while it obeys the call of public safety, is ever accessible to the interceding voice of clemency and mercy. A lenient and even a tender administration of justice is at once the boast and privilege of our glorious and happy country.

From its sterner duties I must not entirely shrink, but if I am prompted, by the best propensities of every human bosom, to insinuate into the correction of subdued offences the largest measure of indulgence compatible with the ends of justice, I shall be but a faithful representative of our common Sovereign, and shall but illustrate and exemplify the national character of his people. To this truly English virtue I shall appeal, if any one should think that, either in the gratification of personal feelings, or in emulation of the characteristic lenity of England, I may have given too wide a scope to indulgence, and have done too little for public discipline.*

In pursuance of these views, the principle I have thought myself at liberty to adopt has been to limit the number of punishments, since impunity cannot be general; and to mitigate their degrees to the utmost extent of lenity, not entirely incompatible with the public good, and the indispensable demands of justice.

In the execution of this principle, it has been necessary to make a small selection from a great mass of delinquency, all subject in strictness to the penalties of the law; and that such a choice should neither be capricious nor subject to the suspicion of partiality. I have adopted general criterions, the principles of which are manifestly just, and the application of which to particular cases is subject to no difficulty.

The first ground of selection is the commission of some over-act of rebellion or mutiny, such as seizing on Fortresses, or public treasure; actual hostility against the troops of His Majesty, the Company, or its Allies; quitting the Stations allotted to troops without orders, or the refusal to obey the orders of Government.

This principle of selection would liberate a considerable proportion of the Army; but it would involve a much greater number than it enters into my views to exclude from pardon.

It is necessary therefore to select from the numerous class already described a smaller number comprized within a narrow head of distinction.

That selection is to consist of the Officers in command of Stations, or bodies of troops, Commandants of Corps and persons peculiarly distinguished for a forward and violent part in the most criminal acts or proceedings of the Army.

The whole of this highly criminal and peculiarly responsible, but not numerous class, will most justly be submitted to a trial by Court Martial.

But as the Courts Martial may of necessity be bound to pass sentences of greater severity than it is in contemplation to extend without distinction to the whole number of those submitted to trial, a more minute sub division will yet be made, and the Officers in command of Garrisons or considerable bodies of Troops will be separated, on the grounds of higher responsibility, from the Commandant of Corps. The former will be subjected at all events to trial; the latter will be allowed the option of a trial or dismissal from the service.

In order that no anxious uncertainty may remain concerning the application of these rules of selection to individual cases, the names of all the Officers intended for punishments are expressed in the following list. It will be found not to include the Commandant of corps at Secunderabad, although that force fell too distinctly within the principle of selection, not only on account of the lead it assumed in the criminal combination and the violent proceedings of the army, but as having committed open mutiny in refusing to permit the march of the 2d Battalion 10th Regiment to Goa.

I have however thought the example, which that force was first to set to the revolted Officers of an early return to their duty, and the army, may be admitted as a ground of special indulgence and pardon.

I have abstained from looking too narrowly into the variety of possible motives that may be supposed to have actuated the Senior Officers of this force in their exertions to withdraw from further resistance to Government. In my desire to restore my first esteem to the Officers of this army, the better and more honorable inducements may be allowed at least their share in this commendable part of their conduct; and in my solicitude to extend the principle of clemency to its utmost allowable bounds, I have deemed the benefit derived both to the public and to the army itself from the submission of the Hyderabad force sufficiently important to warrant, even without regard to motive, or inducements, the exertion of indulgence to that body. It will be a fine testimony that Government is not unmindful of the services, which are rendered to it, and that while it is unrepelled, only by necessity, to the exercise of its severer functions, it seizes with satisfaction every opportunity to forgive and reward.

LIST OF OFFICERS TO BE TRIED.

The following Officers to be tried by Court Martial:

John Bell, Lieutenant Colonel, 1st battalion Artillery, Senior Officer Commanding Seringapatam.

John Doveton, Lieutenant Colonel 8th Regiment Cavalry, Commanding a Detachment of the Hyderabad Subsidary Force at Julna.

Joseph Storey, Major, 1st Battalion 19th Regiment No. 1. Senior Officer commanding, at Masulipatam.

The following Officers to be tried by Court Martial, or dismissed the service at their option.

Robert Munro, Lieutenant Colonel, 2d battalion 15th Regiment Seringapatam.

David C. Lenny, Major, 2d battalion 19th regt. Seringapatam.

T. F. D. Halliday, Captain Engineers, Seringapatam.

George Cadell, Captain 12th regiment N. I. and Town Major, Seringapatam.

Hugh Mackintosh, Captain 1st battalion 8th regiment, marched without orders from Chittledroog to Seringapatam.

F. K. Atskill, Captain, 1st battalion 15th regiment, marched from ditto to ditto.

A. Andrews, Captain, Madras European regiment, Masulipatam.

James Paterson, Captain, 1st battalion 11th regt. Sahalcooth.

George Wahab, Captain 1st battalion 21st regiment, Chicacole.

James Sadler, Captain, 1st battalion 24th regiment, Ellore.

J. L. Luffington, Captain 4th regiment Cavalry, Julna.

A. McLeod, Captain 8th regiment Cavalry, Julna.

C. Hopkinson, Captain Lieutenant 1st battalion Artillery, Senior Officer of Artillery, at Julna.

G. W. Pugnand, Captain Horse Artillery, Senior Officer of the Corps at Julna.

G. M. Gibson, Captain, 1st battalion 10th regiment, Julna.

Thomas Pollock, Captain 1st battalion 12th regiment, Julna.

Matthew Stewart, Major, 2d battalion 17th regiment, Julna.

John Turner, Captain 1st battalion 18th regiment, Seringapatam.

Reduced as the numbers contained in this melancholy list have been, by every consideration to which a sense of inviolable duty has permitted me to listen, it has not been without the most afflicting agitation my mind has ever experienced, that I have affixed my final signature to the order as now stands.

It is with corresponding satisfaction and joy, I have now to perform the more grateful office of announcing to every other officer, who has been involved in any of the criminal proceedings of the army since the 1st of May, a general and unqualified amnesty; to the benefit of which those Officers, who have hitherto declined the test, will be admitted on their signing that declaration.

This amnesty is not granted in the narrow spirit of mere pardon. It is tendered as an act of total and sincere oblivion; it offers on the part of Government a full restoration of confidence and esteem; and it invites from those, who are the object of it, not a sullen discharge of constrained duty, but obedience which comes from the heart, and the cheerful animated service of cordiality, affection and zeal.

My sentiments concerning the late events have been too clearly pronounced to admit of an amnesty thus general being so far misinterpreted as to bring in question the deep sense I continue to entertain both of the guilt and the danger of those actions to which this indemnity is granted. It is not on a principle of justification, but of pure indulgence unmingled with any other consideration, that I have acted on this occasion, I have recollected the proneness of our common nature to error; the dominion over the passions over reason; the influence of rank, authority and talents over young and feeble minds; the powers of contagion, and the irresistible torrent of general example. I have considered the small and scarcely perceptible degrees by which innocent men are conducted, from the first slight transgression, to crimes, the enormity of which their minds would have revolted at, if presented at once to their view. To resist these seductions is the part of sound judgment and manly character. Such efforts are most honorable to the distinguished few who are gifted with the union of these qualities, but they are too rare to be required of all. To such considerations the extent of the present clemency must be referred.

When the Officers included in this act of Grace, reflect on the happy change it has operated on their condition, I am sure the first sentiments of their hearts will be those of devout and fervent gratitude. It is my wish to point these acknowledgments to their proper objects.

Their first obligation is to the firm counsel and vigorous measures of that upright and honorable man, against whom their hands have been so unjustly raised. To the fortitude of his mind, which must challenge the respect and esteem even of his adversaries, and to the energy of the Government of Fort St. George, the Officers are indebted for their narrow escape from the guilt of a monstrous and unnatural conflict with their Country, and from the ruin, which, in every possible issue of that contest, must have overwhelmed themselves.

Next, for the recovery of life, honour, their own esteem, the confidence of Government, the regard of their Countrymen, and I trust a firm security for the perpetual duration of these blessings, their grateful benedictions are due to the benevolent genius of their country, of which I am only the organ.

If the accents of reproof have not been entirely excluded from this address, they have been dictated by an angry and vindictive mind, and in the full assurance that they will never recur in the intercourse between the Government and the Army of the Coast, I shall conclude with the last admonitions of a truer and safer friend than any flatterer of their passions and errors can ever be.

If in this awful moment I have acquired any title to their confidence and attention, let me implore them to think less lightly than it is evident their minds have been accustomed to do, of violating the first, the most sacred, and the most characteristic duty of a soldier, fidelity to the power he serves. Let them think less lightly of turning the arms they accepted in trust, against the Government, which has reposed that confidence in their probity. Let this be the true point of a soldier's honour, which stamps with infamy every spurious pretence to that sacred title; every pretence which is in contradiction with this primary obligation, and which would strangely and unintelligibly postpone a first engagement, for the performance of legal duties, to a posterior and gratuitous pledge to commit crimes.—Let them reflect on the guilt, the dishonor, and the peril, exemplified but yesterday, of this false casuistry.

I intreat them to be persuaded that no man of honor at the head of a Government will ever compromise with revolt, and that in every case the conflict must be carried to the last extremity.—My sentiments on that subject are not equivocal, and are not assumed for this occasion.—They have been pronounced long since, and previous to any indication of troubles on the Coast. My fixed and firm principle is, that the utmost evils that can flow from a contest with revolt, and even from defeat, are much inferior to the greater, more permanent and more extensive mischief of Concession. In such cases the revolted party may recede, and will always do so with honor, sacrificing nothing but passions and crimes.—The Government against which the revolt is made has no option but to maintain the contest, or abandon its trust, and fly from its duty.

My final and best advice is to reject the first step that leads from the barren rack of professional demeanour, as if the worst extreme of stipend and atrocious guilt were proposed at once to their acceptance.—The widest stride of all is from innocence to guilt. That boundary once passed, the gradations of crime are shorter and less sensible.—He who withholds his voice from early clamor, and his pen from the first irregular signature, is safe and blameless: Beyond that clearly defined line, all is perplexity and danger—With these friendly suggestions, prompted by a pure solicitude for the honor and welfare of those whom I address, I take leave even of admonition, and of every other form of address which can imply reproof; and purging my mind of every painful recollection, embrace the happier prospect which is now presented to our view, by the final termination of public discord, violence and trouble, and the re-establishment, on a firm, and, I trust, secure and permanent basis, of tranquillity and order.

FORT ST. GEORGE,—SEPTEMBER 25th, 1809.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor General.

At the moment when the sentiments of the Governor General respecting the late disorders on the Coast and his determination with regard to the Officers of the Army of Fort St. George who have been laid by a train of unhappy circumstances to place themselves in a state of opposition to the local Government of this Presidency, are announced to the public; it becomes the special duty of the Governor General to publish his highest commendation of the exemplary conduct of the Officers of his Majesty's Military Service and of such of the Officers of the service of the Honorable East India Company; who in the late crisis of general agitation have resisted the contagion of example, and adhering to the obligations of public virtue and professional duty, have manifested their zeal and fidelity in the cause of their King and their Country.

The Governor General accordingly takes this opportunity of expressing in General Orders his acknowledgments to those highly meritorious Officers, who at such a period of public danger, have stood forth to support the dignity and vindicate the authority of the Government which they serve, and to maintain those principles of Constitutional Order and Military Subordination, on which the existence of every regular and civilized government must depend.

Although the Governor General deeply laments an occasion on which the applause of distinguished loyalty and fidelity is justly bestowed on one portion of the Officers of a British Army, is unavoidably contrasted with the errors of another, yet he confidently believes, that the same honorable spirit of patriotic zeal which has hitherto, been inseparably connected with the character of the Officers of this Establishment, continues to pervade the minds even of those, who for a moment already past, had ceased to obey its dictates, and that no memory or impression of this unhappy season of delusion and disorder, will remain, that should impair the esteem, or disturb the harmony which have in all former times united every part of this Army.

FORT ST. GEORGE,—SEPTEMBER 25th, 1809.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor General.

From the first Establishment of the British Power in India, the Zeal, Fidelity and Subordination of the Native Officers and troops belonging to the Presidency of Fort St. George, have been generally and eminently displayed.—On occasions of public danger and of foreign war, they have employed their exertions with distinguished honor and success in the Service of that Government, from which they and their families derive their support, and to which they are indebted for the enjoyment of benefits and advantages unknown to the Armies of the surrounding States of India. But their honorable qualities of loyalty and gratitude have never been more conspicuously manifested than at the period of the late commotion in the Army of the Coast; when, exposed to the severest trial, their innate sense of honor and cordial attachment to the Government, has led them to withhold their concurrence in the execution of measures subversive of its prosperity and incompatible with the principles of their professional duty.

The Governor General therefore has the satisfaction of declaring to the Native Officers and men of the Coast Army, the high sense which he entertains of their exemplary conduct on the late trying occasion; a conduct which has so amply justified the unbounded confidence of Government in the Loyalty and Attachment of its Native Troops.

Obedience and Fidelity to the Government is the common duty both of Officers and Soldiers; and the particular duty of Soldiers is to yield implicit submission to the orders of their Officers in every case in which they are not forbidden to do so by the express prohibition of Government.—The Governor General is therefore satisfied, that the Native Troops will permanently maintain their claim to the applause and approbation which it is the object of this proclamation to bestow upon them, by the merit of their accustomed subordination and attachment to those who are appointed to command them.

The Officers of the Portuguese Frigate, whose arrival we last week announced in a supplementary publication, came up to town in the course of the same day. They communicate no intelligence whatever, of any novelty or importance. The Minerva, it appears, sailed from the Brazil, in charge of a convoy of seven merchantmen. Of these, four were left at Mozambique, the principal Portuguese settlement on the East Coast of Africa; one parted company afterwards for Goa; and the remaining two (the Santa Cruz and Vasco de Gama) have come on with the Frigate to Bengal. The Minerva sailed from Mozambique, on the 21st of August.

Considerable curiosity and anxiety was last week excited throughout the settlement, by an article of information received from the Captain of the Portuguese brig, Vasco de Gama, who stated, that, about 1 P. M. on the 1st current, when off False Point, a distant firing had been heard from his vessel; and, that, on ascending to the mast-head, two vessels were seen to the south-east, in close action with a third, which was placed between them, and seemed to return their fire with much spirit. They continued, on board the Vasco de Gama, to hear the sound of the cannon, for the space of an hour and forty minutes. Though it has been remarked as somewhat extraordinary, that such an occurrence should have entirely escaped the attention of the two other Portuguese vessels which were in company with the Vasco de Gama; yet, the story has seemed, on the other hand, to deserve confirmation from the log-book of the American ship Gleaner, which passed near to the same spot at the same hour.

The noise was distinctly heard on board the Gleaner, but, the weather being very hazy, and no ships being within sight, it was supposed to proceed from distant thunder.

The Bombay Courier informs us, that the French Privateer, which lately escaped from the Teignmouth, in consequence of the accident that befel the latter vessel, has since captured the ship Macaulay of that port, off Cape Masfudon. The name of the privateer is the Henry. She had actually struck, it is added, (though, we have occasion to believe, on no correct authority,) to the Teignmouth, just at the moment when the explosion took place, but availed herself of that opportunity to re-hoist her colours and bear away.

Thus much we learn from the public prints. By a private letter, however, of the 22d ultimo, from Calicut, which came to hand yesterday, we have received the satisfactory intelligence of the re-capture of the above-mentioned vessel by her crew, and of her subsequent arrival at that port. The following are the particulars :

" The ship Macaulay, Captain Waddington, was taken
 " some-where in the Red Sea by the French corvette, L'Henry, five or six days after her engagement with the Teignmouth. This ship was re-captured by her own crew, between this and Tellicherry, on the 13th instant. The " crew were headed by a Spaniard, who belonged to the " Privateer, and had been put on board the prize. This " man was a prisoner, who had been taken by the French in " some Country Ship, and compelled to enter on board the " Henry. In the scuffle, two Frenchmen were either thrown " or jumped overboard, and four were wounded. The latter, with three others who are unhurt, have been landed " at Calicut, to which place they have brought the vessel.
 " Mr. Barnes, of the Bombay Marine, has taken charge " of her, and will conduct her to Bombay, as she belongs " to that port.

" On the 19th instant, at 9 A. M. a ship was seen from " Calicut, standing close on a wind, to the N. W. About " noon, she was out of sight; and yesterday she was again
 " seen from an eminence at Baypore, a place about seven " miles from hence. She was the ship Macaulay.

“ing to the westward. She is a long, low ship, with two “yellow streaks: her foremast apparently crippled; and her “top-gallant sails and royals particularly large. From a “comparison with the description given by the Spaniard on “board the Macruley there is every reason to believe, that “she must be the identical French corvette L’Henry. By
 “the evening, she was out of sight at Bayport.

“The Henry is a fast sailer. Her complement of men is “160, and she carries 10 guns. Now, however, she has “not more than thirty Frenchmen remaining on board;
 “and, had not the fire occurred on board the Teignmouth,
 “the Spaniard and French prize-master both declare, that “she must have struck in a quarter of an hour.

“We have accounts also from Cannanore, which state,
 “that two ships were seen, on the 17th, from Mount Dil“ly, which is beyond Cannanore, and that a boat, which “had been sent out to board one of them, with all her “crew, had been detained;—a clear proof that they were “enemy’s vessels. One ship came close to Tellicherry on “the 18th, and then stood away to the S. W. We be“lieve her to have been the same vessel, which we saw here “on the 19th.”

The expedition against the Pirate States in the Gulph of Persia, has at length failed, we understand, from Bombay.
 The amount of the force appointed to this service, we have already given. Five or six of the Company’s cruisers accompany the Chiffonne.

We are informed, that Patrick Moir, Esq. proposed to return to this Presidency on the Modeste, which sailed from Fort St. George on the 23d ultimo.

The Fleet of Indiamen, which lately arrived at Madras, would probably quit that Presidency between the 1st and 6th of the current month. Their arrival therefore may be confidently looked for, towards the latter end of the present or the commencement of the ensuing week.

The Hon’ble Company’s Freight’d ships Boyne, Providence and Warren Hastings on their voyage from this port to England, had arrived at Madras ;—the former on the 21st ultimo, and the two latter, under convoy of His Majesty's ship Rattlesnake, on the 23d. The Country ship Bengal, also bound to England with a cargo of cotton, entered the Roads at the same time with the Boyne.

The Commander-in-Chief, in his progress down the river, passed Chunar on the 16th of September, and Patna on the 3d, Rajmahal on the 5th, and Bhangulpore on the 7th inst. His Excellency stopped at neither of these stations. He reached Berhampore on the morning of the 12th, where he landed and proposed to remain during the whole of that and the following day. So far, his progress had not been quite so rapid, as it was expected to have been. It is calculated, that he may reach the Presidency about the 21st instant.

All the cotton-laden Country ships sailed finally from Saugor, in the course of last week, on their respective voyages to England ;—the Elizabeth alone excepted, which is detained by unavoidable circumstances, and may not probably put to sea yet for some weeks to come.

Packets are now open at the Post Office, for the reception of letters, to be forwarded by the following ships, viz. the Lord Duncan, Lord Castlereagh, Lord Melville, Carnatic, and Walthamstow ; the period of whose dispatch is understood to be fixed for the 20th of next month.

The Marquis Wellesley, Baring, Lady Castlereagh, and one or two ships of the fleet now expected from Madras, will sail from hence, towards the end of December, and, having completed their cargoes on the Coast, will finally rendezvous at Point-de-Galle, where they will be joined, early in February, by the China fleet, and proceed to Europe under convoy of the St Albans.

The Henry Addington, a ship of twelve hundred tons, is expected to arrive at this Port from England in January next ; and will be dispatched, on her homeward voyage, direct from hence, with the March fleet.—No fleet will sail from Bengal in January, as has been usual in former years.

On Thursday last, Captain Ignacio P. Pinto, Commander of Her Most Faithful Majesty's frigate Minerva, had an audience of the Honorable the Vice President, to whom he was introduced by the Master Attendant.

In the course of last week, all the vessels of the Arab fleet lately arrived from Muscat, have come up to their anchorage off Calcutta. The armed ship, belonging to the Imam, saluted Fort William, as she passed.

The celebration of the festival of the Doorgah Poojah commenced at this Presidency on Saturday. The Nautches opened yesterday evening, at the houses of all the most wealthy and respectable Natives, and will be continued, as usual, for three successive nights. The entertainments are never deficient in costliness or glare; but, none of them for the present season, as far as we can collect, claim any remarkable pre-eminence, for the superiority of the dancers or of the music. All the public offices, according to custom are shut during the week; and none of the Shroffs, Surkars, Writers, or Artizans of the Hindoo tribe, will return to their business before Saturday next, at the soonest.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

Yesterday se'night, arrived at Diamond Harbour, the Portuguese frigate Minerva, commanded by Ignacio P. Pinto, having under her convoy the ship Santa Cruz, and brig Vasco de Gama, from Rio de Janeiro the 21st of June, and Mozambique the 21st of August.

An Arab ship, from Muscat the 1st of September, passed Kedgerce inwards on the same day.

The Burmah brig Mallee, from Rangoon the 20th of September, came in on Sunday.

His Majesty's ship Procris, with the H. C. ship Warren Hastings, Captain Larkins, for China, and the Country ship Fort William, for England, broke ground from Saugor on Sunday se'ennight, and afterwards came to an anchor below Saugor point, where they remained, together with the Marchioness Wellesley, for Bombay, until Tuesday afternoon. The Procris then sailed, and was followed by the other ships, on the succeeding day. The Fort William and Marchioness Wellesley parted from their Pilots on the same evening.

The Country ship Matilda, Captain Ross, cotton-laden for England, sailed finally from Saugor on Friday.

The Elizabeth, Captain Richardson, returned on Thursday morning to Culpee.

The Mary cutter, W. Gibson, Master, stood out of the river on Thursday, on a trip to the West Coast of Sumatra.

The American ship Sally Aune, passed Kedgerce, on Sunday, on her return to Boston.

The H. C. ship Ocean, Captain McTaggart, began to drop down from Calcutta on Friday, to complete her lading below.

BOMBAY GAZETTE,—SEPTEMBER 20, 1809.

September 15, arrived the ship Futhia Khan, Captain James Hardie.—This ship was obliged to leave her convoy and return into port, having sprung a leak.

Ditto 17, ship Drummond, Commander George Hammet, from Bengal.

Ditto 18, Sylph schooner, Lieutenant D. McDonald, from Surat.

CEYLON GAZETTE,—SEPTEMBER 13, 1809.

COLOMBO].—Arrived September 13th, schooner Colombo, Captain J. Rabot, from Trincomallee.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Vice Roy and Captain General of the Portuguese Possessions in Asia.

Head-quarters, Palace Panjeem, 16th August, 1809.

On the departure of His Britannick Majesty's 86th Regiment from Goa, His Excellency the Vice Roy and Captain Gen. of the Portuguese in India, avails himself of the opportunity to express his sentiments of praise and admiration, of the regular order and conduct which LIEUT. COL. FRASER, the Officers and Soldiers of that Regt. have so honorably observed during a period of upwards of three years, during which they have been employed in the Territories subject to his authority so highly creditable to the discipline of the corps.

His Excellency the Vice Roy will never forget the invariable harmony which has always subsisted between the subjects of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent of Portugal, and all Rank of His Britannick Majesty's 86th Regt.

Finally His Excellency the Vice Roy sincerely hopes that His Britannick Majesty's 86th Regt. (whose remembrance will always be grateful to him) may continue to acquire in whatever part of the world their services may be called for, glorious claims on the rewards of their sovereign and on the admiration of their country.

AFTER STATION ORDERS.

Cabo, 16th August, 1809.

In publishing to the British Troops at this Station the above Gen. Orders from the Vice Roy of our oldest allies Lieut. Col. ADAMS has only to add that his own wishes and thanks accompany those so forcibly expressed by his Excellency.

On Thursday last His Highness the NABOB of ARCOT paid a visit of ceremony to the Right Honorable the Governor General at the Ameer Bagh—the entrance and departure of his Highness were accompanied by salute of 21 guns from the Garrison of Fort St. George.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, OCT. 10, 1809.

During the period while Major John Ainslie, of the 9th Regiment of Native Infantry, held the situation of Barrack Master at Cawnpore, the Government had repeated occasion to notice with satisfaction and approbation, the zeal, integrity and laudable attention to economy evinced by that Officer in the execution of the Public Works in which he was employed.

The promotion of Major Ainslie having rendered it incompatible with the rules of the service, that he should continue to hold that Office, the Vice President in Council thinks it proper to take this opportunity of notifying to the Army, the sense entertained by Government of the meritorious conduct of Major Ainslie, in the discharge of the duties of Barrack Master at Cawnpore, and his conviction that the same qualities which have already obtained the approbation of Government, will be exerted for the advantage of the public interests in the management of the important and arduous department which has been lately committed to his charge.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, OCT. 10, 1809.

The Honorable the Vice President in Council is pleased to direct, that all Engineers, Barrack Masters, or other Officers, who may hereafter be employed in the Construction of Ordinary Masoury Work to any considerable extent in the Upper Provinces, (where Conker Chumaw is used,) bring their Line to the Work unslacked, under all circumstances which may admit of their establishing their own Kilas, instead of the practice which at present prevails of purchasing it after it has been slacked; as in this state it is frequently so adulterated with Earth, by the Merchants, as to be unfit for use.

OCTOBER 20, 1809.

The following copy of an Act of Parliament passed in the Forty-ninth year of the reign of His present Majesty, for licencing the Importation of Tobacco into Great Britain, and an Extract from a general Letter, addressed by the Honorable the Court of Directors to the Governor General in Council, under date the 21st of April last, containing the Orders of the Honorable Court on the same subject, are published for general information.

ANNO QUADRAGESIMO NONO

GEORGII III. REGIS.

CAP. XXV.

An Act of Permit, until the Twenty-fifth Day of March, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Eleven, the Importation of Tobacco into Great Britain from any Place whatever.

MARCH 30, 1809.

Whereas it is expedient to permit, for a limited Time, Tobacco to be brought into Great Britain, from Countries and Places from whence, under the Laws now in force, it cannot legally be imported; be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That, from and after the passing of this Act, it shall be lawful for any Person or Persons to import into Great Britain, from any Port or Place whatever, in any Foreign State, or from Malta or Gibraltar, any Sort of unmanufactured Tobacco in any British Ship or Vessel owned, navigated and registered, according to law, or in any Ship or Vessel belonging to any Country or State in Amity with His Majesty, navigated in any manner whatever; and such Tobacco shall be subject and liable to such Duties of Customs and Excise, and no other, as shall be due and payable on Tobacco of the Produce of the British Plantations; and such Tobacco shall, on due Exportation, be entitled to such Drawbacks of the Duties of Customs and Excise, as are paid and allowed on the Exportation of Tobacco of the Produce of the British Plantations, any Law, Custom, or Usage, to the contrary notwithstanding: Provided always, that all Tobacco imported by virtue of this Act, shall be entered and landed only in such Ports in Great Britain, where Tobacco is or may be allowed to be entered and landed: and that such Tobacco may in such Ports be lodged and secured in Warehouse approved of by the Commissioners of the Customs in England and Scotland respectively, under the Regulations of an Act passed in the Twenty-ninth year of His present Majesty's Reign, intituled, An Act for repealing the Duties on Tobacco and Snuff, and for granting new Duties in lieu thereof, or of any other Act or Acts passed since relative to the warehousing of Tobacco.

II. Provided also, and be it further enacted, That all Tobacco imported into or exported from Great Britain, by virtue and in pursuance of this Act, shall be and the same is hereby made subject and liable to all and every the Conditions, Regulations, Rules, Restrictions, Penalties, and Forfeitures to which any Tobacco of the Growth of the British Plantations is or may be subject and liable to, by any Act or Acts of Parliament in force on or immediately before the passing of this Act; and all and every Pain, Penalty, Fine, or Forfeiture for any Offence whatever committed against or in breach of any Act or Acts of Parliament made for securing the Revenues of Customs and Excise, or for the Regulation or Improvement thereof, and the several Clauses, Powers, and Directions therein contained, shall and are hereby directed and declared to extend to, and shall be respectively applied, practised, and put in Execution, for and in respect of Tobacco imported into or exported from Great Britain, by virtue and in pursuance of this Act, so far as the same are applicable thereto, in as full and ample a Manner to all Intents and Purposes whatever, as if all and every the said Clauses, Provisions, Powers, Directions, Pains, Penalties, and Forfeitures were particularly repeated and re-enacted in the Body of this present Act.

III. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful by Order in Council to permit the Importation into Great Britain, as aforesaid, of unmanufactured Tobacco, being the Produce of the East Indies, or of any of the Spanish or Portuguese Colonies or Plantations in South America, packed in any Sort of Packages whatsoever, upon such Conditions and under such Regulations and Restrictions as shall be imposed and provided in any such Order, any Thing in any Act or Acts to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding.

IV. And be it further enacted, That this Act shall continue in force until the Twenty-fifth Day of March One thousand eight hundred and eleven.

Extract from a General Letter from the Honorable the Court of Directors, dated the 21st of April 1809.

29. You will also notice, that care must be taken by the Merchants, that not any Tobacco be Shipped which has undergone a further progress of Manufacture than stripping the leaves from the stalks, for the purpose of economy in stowage.

30. As the Right Honorable the Lords of the Council have not yet issued the Order noticed in the Act which is to regulate the size of the Packages and the Conditions on which Tobacco may be imported from India, all Persons, who may adventure in this trade, must be instructed to make up their Packages as nearly approaching to the weight of 450 lbs. as they conveniently can.

FORT WILLIAM, }
October 20, 1809. }

During the voyage of the transports to Rodriguez, Mr. Craig, third Officer of the Charles, and a Midshipman in the Navy, fell overboard and unfortunately perished. The ship was passing so rapidly through the water at the time, that every attempt to save him was hopeless.

On the 22d ultimo, His Majesty's ship Leopard, of 50 guns, was hauled out of dock at Bombay, having undergone a thorough repair. The Leopard belongs to the Squadron on the Cape station; to which station, we believe, she will immediately return.

The Harriet cartel, with French prisoners from hence, bound to the Isle of France, had arrived at Madras, three days previous to the departure of the Indiamen.

The whole of the treasure saved from the Nancy Grab, has been landed at Madras by the Rattlesnake, and deposited in the Company's Treasury, in commutation for bills on Bengal. The amount of the treasure is given by the Editor of the Madras Courier, at 22,300 lbs. of Silver, and 112 lbs. of Gold Dust.

His Excellency, the Commander in Chief, re embarked on his boats at Berhampore, on the 15th current; and reached Calcutta, early on Friday morning. About half past six, he landed, with his Suite, at Chandaul ghur, where he was received by all the principal Officers of the Garrison and Presidency Staff. He then walked on to the Government House, through a street formed by the troops of the Garrison, who received him with the usual military honours.

His Excellency took his seat as Vice President and Deputy Governor of Fort William, about 11 A. M. Salutes, of 17 guns each, were fired from the ramparts, on this occasion and on his landing.

The arrival of his Excellency was preceded by that of Sir William Kier and Colonel Kyd, who had separated from the rest of the suite, and reached Calcutta on Tuesday.

It appears, that His Majesty's Ship Cherinde sailed from Madras, on the 23d ultimo, in company with the Modeste. Both ships reached the Sand heads, on the 15th current, and then again stood out to sea.

Mr. Moir, who embarked on the Modeste at Madras, has come up to town in the Guide pilot-schooner.

The Country ship Elizabeth, proceeding with a cargo of Cotton to Europe, still remains under detention at Culpee, in consequence of the want of her register, which is at Bombay. The packets intended for the Elizabeth, have been sent to England on the Fort William.

ROBBERY AND MURDER.

During the night of Monday, the 16th current, a daring robbery was committed on the house of Naian Ngundee, a wealthy salt-merchant, residing in the village of Sulkea, opposite to Calcutta. Naim Noondee had gone to spend the holidays with his family at Barnagore, and had left a trusty servant in charge of his effects. The amusements of the season having also attracted a great number of neighbouring villagers from their habitations, the time was particularly favourable for such an attempt. It appears, that the thieves, after scaling the outer wall of the compound, proceeded to break open the door of the house. They then set fire to a large wooden chest, in which Naim Noondee kept his treasure.—The whole store, consisting of specie to a considerable amount, and a number of gold and silver ornaments, was carried away; and, when the house was entered on the following morning, the servant (a man rather advanced in years,) was found dead on the floor, with various marks of injury on his body.

Of the time or circumstances of this robbery or of the strength of the gang engaged in it, nothing certain, we believe, is yet known. The most active measures however have been adopted by the Magistracy, for the detection of the perpetrators.—The scene of the outrage is a pretty large pukka house of two stories, situated near the southern extremity of the village, and at no great distance to the north of Mr. Gilmore's dock yard.

In the course of last week, two fires broke out in different quarters of Calcutta, (one in the Bow Bazar, and the other in the Boitukhanah,) and spread their ravages to a considerable extent, among the huts of the Natives.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

A coasting Snow, named the Annapurna, passed Kedgerreewards, on Tuesday last.

On Wednesday, arrived in the river, the Telinga ship Kurreeem Buksh, from Coringa the 22d ultimo.

An Arab Grab Ship, from Muscat the 1st of September, arrived at Kedgerree on Sunday, and proceeded to Calcutta.

A multitude of Dhonees, amounting nearly to the number of an hundred, all laden with Salt, from the coast of Coromandel, have, in the course of last week, passed up to their anchorage at Sulkea.

Yesterday eve'night, sailed the brig Ann, Captain Wilson, bound on a voyage to New South Wales.

The H. C. ships Baring, Lord Duncan, and Walbamflow, which left Diamond Harbour on Saturday eve'night, passed Kedgerce on Tuesday last, and on the same evening reached the anchorage at Saugor, where they remain to complete their cargoes.

The H. C. ship Ocean dropped past Kedgerce, in her way to Saugor, on Thursday.

The H. C. ship Lord Melville, quitted Diamond Harbour on Friday morning, for the same destination.

LIST OF PASSENGERS PER HON. COMPANY'S SHIP Surrey.

From England.—Mrs. Bayley; Mrs. Whalley; Lieutenant Colonel Kelfo, H. M. 22d Regiment of Foot; Mr. Charles Morley, Mr. G. T. Bayley, and Mr. George Porcher, writers; Cornet F. T. Erskine, native cavalry; Messrs. J. T. Appach, W. B. Leadbeatter, Walter Carrigill, John Tomlinson, H. W. Dyson, James McLaren, Barrington Purvis, P. T. Nind, G. C. Houghton, and John Bell, cadets; Alexander Stokoe, volunteer.—From Madras.—Mrs. M'Leod and Child.

BOMBAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1809.

EXTRACT FROM A LETTER DATED AT PORT DUNCAN, SEPT. 3, 1809.

"I have the pleasure to inform you of our safe arrival at this island, on the 4th of July, after a very tedious passage. Commodore Byng brought us so close in shore, going down the coast, that we almost every day saw the land, and sometimes pretty close to it. The consequence was, we had light winds, sometimes calms, with immense deal of rain and squalls—never had a regular breeze 12 hours together, and the live stock suffered severely. In the Solomany we lost upwards of 300 sheep, and goats and poultry in the same proportion. Some of the other ships lost the whole they had belonging to the company. The horned cattle on board the Minerva were the best, they only lost one cow, and landed the rest in better condition than when they went on board at Bombay. Captain Webster deserves great credit, for he took great care and paid great attention to them, as well as the pigs, he lost about 30 of them, most of them during the dirty weather on the coast. On landing here we found three Frenchmen (two married) and from 70 to 80 slaves, they received us very friendly, apparently but from what we have seen of them, I fancy they are not to be trusted; however a short time will shew. The island is certainly a very fine one and equal to any thing respecting the cultivation. The soil being very rich. Several seeds both of European and Indian vegetables have been sown and thrive very well, so I expect in the course of six months we shall have plenty of vegetables. There is very little stock belonging to the French on the island, their return is only 17 cows and bulls, 10 sheep, 203 goats, about 25 turkeys, and a small quantity of fowls, so we have not much to expect from them. The Eugenia and Minerva left this on the 30th of August for Madagascar, for cattle &c.—and I hope, they will be successful in procuring a good quantity for all our sakes; there is plenty of fish here and very fine, though the settlers say there are some poisonous, however, we have not experienced any bad effects on shore, we always boil silver with them, but some have found the silver turn black and of course did not eat the fish. We have had the Sirius frigate here from the Isle of France, to wood and water.

I am sorry to say there is little doubt but the Bombay and David Scott have been taken by the Caroline French frigate, and taken into Bourbon, where they are blockaded by the Nereide frigate, and they have some idea of landing a force at Bourbon for the purpose of taking them out,—the Bellona, Cannonier, and La Laurel, and a great many prizes are at the Isle of France,—the Venus and La Manche frigates are out cruising,—we had a brig (no doubt French) to windward of this island for 36 hours, but the Belliqueux did not think proper to go out after her, the Frenchman here made a signal to her and she was off.

EXTRACT FROM A LETTER DATED AT FORT DUNCAN, AUGUST 17, 1809.

There are three European Frenchmen, (two married,) they have many slaves, both men, women and children, these people say they have been on the island for 12 or 13 years,—they have some very neat gardens, plenty of orange, and limes,—the island seems to have plenty of orange, poppy and lime trees, pine apples, callabashes, pumpkins, chillies, and many other plants.—I have seen very few birds on the island except gulls,—it is the finest place for fish that ever I was in,—the finest mullet I ever saw, and indeed all sorts of excellent fish.—The landing place is indifferent, being very rocky.—The island cuts but a poor appearance as yet,—it is very mountainous and rocky, but where there is a plain it seems to be a very fine soil.—I have this day begun to make a garden on a very fine spot, I hope I shall have success.—Coconut trees I have only seen 8 or 9.—Some few brab trees and date,—I cannot tell you much more about the island at present.

AUGUST 20.—“I have taken a trip this afternoon about three miles, the soil seems to be good in the level parts of the island,—I saw a great many brab trees, but they are very low, not of any use for building, only the leaves for covering,—plenty of sugar cane and very large,—I had the curiosity to measure one of the canes, and found it was seven inches in circumference.—I also found some carrots and callabashes of much the same size as they are in Bombay, and also some plantain trees.—I saw no birds but a parrot and flying fox, during the whole of my journey.”

“There have been taken out of the ground to-day 4 guns and 160 shot, with the appearance of being lately buried, and we are searching for more. The guns are iron and I believe twelve pounders.”

AUGUST 21.—“The frigate Sirius anchored in the roads this evening, and brings intelligence that the ships Bombay and David Scott are both taken by a French frigate called the Caroline, and are now at Bourbon,—the Sirius is only six days from the Isle of France, she is one of the largest frigates I have seen in this country.”

AUGUST 22.—“The commodore left this for Point de Galle this morning with a fine breeze.”

BOMBAY, SEPT. 30, 1809.

The following particulars respecting the capture of the ship La Minerva, Captain John Hopewood, which fell into the hands of the Juasemies on her voyage from Muscat to Bushire, are taken from the relation of some of the crew of that vessel that made their escape,

The Minerva sailed from Muscat on the 12th of May, and on the 29th early in the morning she discovered at a distance about 43 Bows of Juasemies, all full of armed men and apparently steering towards her. Captain Hopewood immediately changed his course under a press of sail and thereby endeavoured to avoid them, but unfortunately the day being a perfect calm, all his exertions were in vain; on which Captain Hopewood then ordered all hands on deck and prepared for defence.

When the Jussamies saw the Minerva changing her course they set all sail, and with the assistance of their oars gained very fast upon her. At 10 A. M. the action commenced and continued for two days and a night, during which time the Minerva destroyed 17 Dows; 16 of which were sunk and one burnt.

At length the enemy gradually closed their Dows around the Minerva, and as soon as they got along side of her, the Jussamies all at once boarded her. Captain Hopewood bravely defended himself to the last; he received a pistol shot wound in his side and other wounds on his belly with a sword, and on his feet by a spear; notwithstanding which he continued to fight with the utmost resolution and did not drop till he had killed four of the Pirates with his own hands. After his death the Jussamies began to put to death every body who had borne arms; and when they completed their bloody work on deck they discovered Mr. John Martyn the supercargo on the Main top; on which they ran up and cutting them into pieces threw the mangled fragments down upon the Decks; after which they descended and gave glory to god for their triumph.

The second officer Mr. Hale having lost some of his fingers by a shot and seeing no hopes of relief put an end to himself with a Pistol: the ship's company behaved very bravely, and were gallantly assisted by an Armenian Gentleman, Mr. Bijaun, David the Purser, and Mr. John Martyn the Supercargo.

The Ladies and women who were on board actively employed themselves in sowing and filling the Bags of Gun-powder.

Several of the crew, amongst whom was the first Officer, saved themselves by promising to become Musalmen. The women were spared by the Jussamies, who promised to release them safely. The ship was carried to Russoukhama.

List of the men killed on board the La Minerva by the Pirates on the 29th May 1809.

Captain John Hopewood killed.

2d Officer Wounded slightly, afterwards shot himself.

Mr. Bijaun, David the Purser. Mr. John Martyne, the Supercargo, and Mr. Chatoor Ter Arathoon passengers, were massacred, besides about 40 Lascars.

in Council.*

FORT WILLIAM, AUGUST 4, 1809.

The Governor General in Council, adverting to the Original Establishment of the experimental Horse Artillery, the success of which on various occasions in the field has fully confirmed the judgment which was formed of the superior efficiency of a Corps of that description for Service in India, has determined to make a considerable Augmentation of the Corps of Horse Artillery, and to place it on a permanent Establishment without delay.

His Lordship in Council has accordingly resolved, that a Corps of European Horse Artillery consisting of three Brigades, of the following strength and constitution, be immediately Established, to be formed of the present Corps of experimental Horse Artillery, with such additional Officers and Men to be drawn from the Foot Artillery, as may be requisite to complete the strength of the Corps of its increased Establishment.

 6 Sweepers, } 2 for each Brigade.

The Riding Master, Serjeant Major, Quarter Master Serjeant, and Native Doctor are not to be included in the number of effective men required for the service of the Ordnance.

The Adjutant and Quarter Master, in one person. The Rough Rider, Drill Serjeant, Pay Serjeant, and Sadler, are included in the number of effective Officers and men required for the service of the Ordnance.

The detail of Native Drivers, with the present Corps of Horse Artillery, are to have the option of being transferred to the Regiments of Native Cavalry, as soon as their places shall be supplied in the Horse Artillery by the requisite European details.

The Governor General in Council is pleased to fix the following monthly rate of Off-reckonings for the Corps of Horse Artillery, which are to be computed for that Corps accordingly from the 1st of January 1808.

Serjeant,	5
Corporal,	3	12
Gunner,	2	8
Matross,	2	8
Drummer or Trumpeter,	2	8
Farrier,	2	8

In consideration of this increase, the following Articles are to be supplied to each Non-Commissioned Officer and Private of the Horse Artillery, from the Off-reckoning Fund; one Jacket, one pair of Leather Gloves, and one pair of Boots annually. One pair of Leather Breeches, every two years; a Helmet and a Cloak every three years; one pair of Spurs to be furnished to each man in the first instance only.

Should it be found requisite to supply any of the aforementioned Articles a second time within the period limited, or the Spurs at any time after the first issue; such Articles are to be furnished out of the amount of the annual half mounting Allowance, and the residue thereof to be laid out in such necessaries as may be most useful to the men, and conducive to the uniformity of the Corps.

Adverting to the more substantial and expensive Articles with which the Non-Commissioned Officers and men of the Horse Artillery will be provided at the expense of the Off-reckoning Fund, His Lordship in Council is pleased to determine, that the annual Allowance in lieu of half mounting paid from the Off-reckoning Fund, be reduced from Current Rupees 4 8 per man, (the rate fixed by General Orders of 3d October 1809,) to Current Rupees 3 8 per man.

No further Stoppage will be made on any account from the subsistence of the Non-Commissioned or Privates of the Horse Artillery, excepting such as are authorized by the rules of the service as Hospital Stoppages, and for necessaries when deficient.

The pay of the Non-Commissioned and Privates of the experimental Horse Artillery as fixed at the time of the original formation of that Corps, was declared to be subject to revision in the event of any further augmentation of the Establishment. The Governor General in Council however having taken into consideration those rates, is of opinion, that they do not require revision, and they are accordingly confirmed, together with the increased rates of pay according to length of service, conformably to the existing regulations.

The Pay and Allowances of the European Commissioned Officers, Assitant Surgeons, and Riding Master, are to be the same as those of the corresponding ranks of the Cavalry.

The Allowances of the Adjutant and Quarter Master are to be the same as those at present allowed to an Adjutant of a Battalion of European Artillery.

The rates of Pay &c. of the following Staff and Artificers not being provided for in the Establishment of experimental Horse Artillery; they are fixed as follows.

VIZ.
European Sadler Staff Pay, Sicca Rupees	-	-	7
Rough Rider,	-	-	14
Drill Serjeant,	-	-	14
	Pay.	Batta	for
Mistry Carpenters,	7 3	Total	10
Workman Ditto,	9 2		75
Armourer,	3 2

The Staff Pay of the Serjeant Major, Quarter Master Serjeant, Pay Serjeants, and the Pay and Batta of the Gun Lascars, Artificers, Sices and Grass Cutters, are to be the same as those of the corresponding Stations of the experimental Horse Artillery.

The Commanding Officers of each Brigade of Horse Artillery will draw in abstract, the Pay, Batta and Allowances, for the whole of the detail of the Brigade including the Pay of the Gun Lascars, Sices, Grass Cutters and Artificers, as above specified; and each Commanding Officer of a Brigade will draw the following Allowances per Month.

For repairs of Arms and Stationery, Rupees	60
Shoeing Horses, supplying Collars, Cloths, h.a. and heel Ropes, Curry Combs, Muzzles and Physic, when required, per Horse,	2

---	---

For Grain Pots for each Brigade,	20

For Tar, Grease, Charcoal, Iron, and all contingencies of the Ordnance Waggon and Store Carts attached to each Brigade	90
--	----

The senior Officer will command the three Brigades of Horse Artillery, subject to the Orders of the Commandant of the Regiment of Artillery, of which the Horse Artillery is a component part.

The Commanding Officer of the three Brigades of Horse Artillery will be allowed the Batta of the next superior Rank, and an allowance of twenty Rupees per Month per Stationery.

The Adjutant and Quarter Master will include in his Monthly Abstract, the Pay and Allowances of the Riding Master, Serjeant Major, and Quarter Master Serjeant, and the Staff Pay of the Rough Rider and Drill Serjeant.

He will also draw the usual Staff allowance of a Camp Colourman (Rs. 6) when actually in the field for each Brigade, and an Allowance of Rupees 30 per Brigade for furnishing Straw, Tent, Pins, Mallets, Gunny Bags and Camp Colours when in the field, and a proportion of that allowance for any detachment less than a Brigade according to its strength. The Pay and Batta of the head Bhoeesties and Sweepers are likewise to be drawn by the Adjutant and Quarter Master.

The Assistant Surgeon will draw his personal Allowances in Abstract, and the following allowances for Medicines and Doolies, subject to the existing Regulations of the Medical Department.

Medicine allowance for each European Commissioned and Non-Commissioned Officer and Private, horse present on the Muster Rolls 11½ pie per diem, with the Batta and usual stoppages for the Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates sick in the Hospital. Allowances for Sices and Grass Cutters for each Brigade, Rs.

.....	25
Allowances for Gun Lascars per one hundred,	16

One Doolie for three Brigades in cantonments, or for one or two Brigades detached, and one Doolie for every ten men, when marching or actually in the field.

The requisite estimates of the expence of constructing the buildings, which will become necessary in consequence of the augmentation of the Horse Artillery are to be prepared and submitted to Government as early as may be practicable.

The Governor General in Council requests, that His Excellency the Commander in Chief will be pleased to take such measures as he may judge expedient for procuring an adequate supply of Horses fit for the service of the Horse Artillery to meet the increased demand occasioned by the Augmentation now ordered.

Subalterns of Horse Artillery are to be allowed the indulgence of selecting a charger from the ranks under the same terms and restrictions as are prescribed for that indulgence: to Subaltern Officers of European and Native Cavalry.

The Governor General in Council observes, that the Increase in the Horse Artillery will afford the means of making a Correspondent reduction in the number of Draft Bullocks.

This arrangement cannot however take effect without inconvenience to the Public Service until the improved Establishment of Horse Artillery shall be in a state for Service in the field, and which will be hereafter notified.

The above arrangements having suggested to Government the expediency of modifying the present Establishment of Staff-Commissioned Officers attached to the Artillery, the following alterations are directed to take effect from the 1st of September next.

The separate posts of Adjutant of Quarter-Master in the Foot Artillery to be abolished, and three Officers holding the situation of Adjutant and Quarter Master in one, to be allowed in their room, or one to each Battalion of Foot Artillery, instead of three Adjutants and three Quarter-Masters.

An additional Adjutant and Quarter-Master in one person to be allowed to the Division of Artillery at Agra.

The above establishment of the Horse Artillery includes one Adjutant and Quarter-Master in one person to the three Brigades of Horse Artillery.

The Adjutant and Quarter-Master of each Battalion of Artillery, the Adjutant and Quarter-Master of Artillery at Agra, and the Adjutant and Quarter-Master to three Brigades of Horse Artillery, will be allowed the same Staff Pay and Allowances as at present granted to Adjutants of Battalions of Artillery.

The Governor General in Council, further deeming it to be highly expedient, that an Adjutant should be temporarily attached to the Corps of Golundaze, is accordingly pleased to authorize that appointment. The Allowances to be the same as the Allowances of an Adjutant to a Battalion of Native Infantry. His Lordship in Council is however pleased as a special exception to permit the Officer who may be transferred from the present Artillery Staff to the situation of Adjutant to the Corps of Golan-danze, to receive the Allowances of Adjutant to a Battalion of Foot Artillery as long as he holds the appointment. The expediency of rendering this a permanent appointment will be taken into consideration hereafter.

The Governor General in Council requests that His Excellency the Commander in Chief, will be pleased to cause drafts to be made from the European Artillery and Gun Lascars for the completion of the Horse Artillery to three Brigades of the strength above specified, to select Officers for the same Corps from the Officers, for the same Corps from the Officers of the Foot Artillery, and to issue such further Orders for carrying into effect this arrangement as may refer to His Excellency's authority.

Mr. John Allen, Conductor of Ordnance, is appointed Riding Master to the Corps of Horse Artillery from this date.—Mr. Allen to be struck off the list of Conductors of Ordnance from the date of his appointment as Riding Master.

J. ADAM, Acting Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

General Orders, by the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, OCTOBER 17, 1809.

Ordered, that the following Paragraphs of General Letters from the Honorable the Court of Directors, dated the 6th and 21st April 1809, be published in General Orders.

General Letter, dated 6th April.

Para. 37.—It appears by the attestation of Captain Fagan, the Assistant Secretary to the Military Board, that the services of Lieutenant Bent and the other Cadets who arrived at the Cape of Good Hope on the Fleet in June 1796, were required for the defence of that Colony against an unexpected attack, (the fact being also otherwise well ascertained) on this account, and in consideration of the further detention of Lieutenant Bent by the ship he had embarked on being ordered by the Madras Government to proceed in chase of the French frigates, we are of opinion he was entitled to the Furlough he solicited, as had it not been for these detentions, the ships which left England in April 1796, would probably have arrived in India by September following, and his ten years service required by the Regulations would therefore have been completed, at the time you granted him such furlough.

42.—The Regulations for the rank of Cadets educated at Marlow, communicated in our letter of the 10th April 1805, were intended to place them on the same footing as Cadets who not having received their education at that institution proceeded at once to India, which they may do under the act of Parliament, if they have previously attained the age of fifteen.

43.—It is obvious, therefore, that the Cadets from Marlow are entitled to Regimental, as well as army rank, from the time stated in the Regulations abovementioned, and although some inconvenience may thereby be experienced by the Cadets who proceed immediately to India, without first receiving their education at Marlow, it would entirely defeat the objects in view, by placing young Gentlemen at the Royal Military College, where they must reasonably be expected to acquire superior qualifications for Military Service, if their ranks in our armies in India were not duly preserved to them.

68.—Having maturely considered the representation from the officers of the Engineer corps, and being convinced that the promotion in that branch of our service has been unusually retarded; some of the Captain Lieutenants and Subalterns having served from 24 to 26 years, we have agreed to the following establishment for the Engineer corps, which is to take place from the 1st January 1806, but the officers promoted in consequence, are to receive the difference of Pay only from that date:

Present establishment Establishment now directed

1 Colonel,	1 Colonel,
1 Lieut. Colonel,	2 Lieut. Cols.
1 Major,	2 Majors,
4 Captains,	9 Captains,
4 Captain Lieuts. }	8 Lieutenants,
8 Lieutenants, }	8 Ensigns.
8 Ensigns,

69.—In reply to this Paragraph we direct that you place Mr. Patterson next to Mr. John M. Wilson, in the 2d Class of Assistant Surgeons of the season 1802.

83.—The following Cadets for our Artillery or Engineer Corps on the Bengal Establishment, having been reported to us by the proper officer at the Royal Military Academy at Woolwich, as qualified for Commissions, they proceed to their duty this Season accordingly; and are to take rank in our service next after Mr Thomas Davies, in the following order:

Thomas Dingwall Fordyce,*
James Ewart.

84.—We have appointed the following persons Assistant Surgeons for your Presidency, of the Season 1808:

John Lambe,
Benjamin Hardman, (M. D.)

Patrick Halket.

85.—We have also appointed the undermentioned persons Assistant Surgeons, for your Presidency, of the Season 1807 :

George Govan, (M. D.)

Ewea MacDonald,

David Hopkins.

86.—Having received an application from Mr. Andrew O'Shea, latea Lieutenant on the Bengal Establishment, praying under all the circumstances of his case, to be restored to the Company's Service, we have attended to the letter from the Secretary to the Governor General and Council in the Military Department, of 26th September 1807, enclosing sundry papers in favour of Lieut. O'Shea, and signifying the recommendation of the Governor General and Council, that Lieutenants O'Shea and Lane, may be restored to the service, and have resolved in consideration of the strong recommendations in their favour, to restore them their rank in the Company's Service, their pay to commence from the period of their restoration.

87.—Captain M. R. Ford, and Lieut. Ford, and Lieutenant Edward Kenyon, of your Establishment, resigned the Company's Service, the former on the 1st instant, and the latter on the 7th December 1808.

88.—Lieutenant Colonel T. Shaw, and Major Alexander Morrison, of your Establishment, retired from the Company's Service, the former on the 22d, and the latter on the 1st February 1809.

89.—We have permitted the following Military Officers, to return to their rank on your Establishment :

Lieutenant Colonel J. D. Forster,

Lieutenant Colonel R. Bowie,

Captain E. W. Potter.

90.—We have permitted the following Military officers on your Establishment, to remain in England, till the departure of the last ships of this Season :

Lieutenant Colonel Charles Fraser,

Major William Charles Alston,

Captain Henry Bellingham,

Major S. Kelly,

Lieutenant Colonel Richard Doveton.

91.—Captain John Pudner, of your Establishment, has likewise our permission to remain in England, till the first ships of next season.

92.—Lieutenant Colonel James Hunter, of your Establishment, has our permission to remain in England, the time allowed by Act of Parliament.

93.—In consequence of an application which we have received from Lieutenant Muon, of the Madras Establishment, requesting in consideration of his having been obliged, on account of ill health, to request leave of the Government of Madras, to proceed to Europe via Bombay, that he may be allowed to draw his Batta and Gratuity for the period of his detention there, in this country, we have come to a resolution, that when officers are permitted at their own request to proceed from the Presidency to which they are attached, to another Presidency, for the purpose of procuring a passage to Europe, from the latter, they shall only be allowed to draw their Batta or other Allowances beyond their Pay, for the period at which they leave the Presidency to which they belong.

91.—We have appointed John Wilhouse, a Conductor of Stores at your Presidency, and has he has been a Serjeant Major in the horse artillery in this country, we direct that he may be employed in that line of service under your Presidency, provided you shall find him in every respect fully qualified.

Mr. Thomas Davies (or whose appointment as a Cadet for the Artillery or Engineer Corps, on your Establishment, you were advised in our Military letter of the 11th January 1809) has since been appointed by us a Cadet for the Artillery or Engineer Corps, on the Fort St. George Establishment.

General Letter, dated 21st April, 1809.

57.—In the 130th Paragraph of our letter of the 29th May 1799, we signified our intention to take into our consideration, the application made in the 189th Paragraph of your letter of the 28th August 1797, in behalf of the two Sons of the late Major Hodgson, when they should be of the proper age to be appointed Cadets; Mrs. Graham (late Hodgson) their mother, in her address to the Commander in Chief, has stated that her eldest Son was at that time (October 1806) 15 years of age, and in consideration of what is set forth therein, and of your renewed solicitation in favour of the application, we have agreed to appoint her two Sons, Francis and William Hodgson, Cadets of the present season, upon the production of the required certificates regarding their age.

66.—We informed you in our letter of the 8d December 1806, that we should appoint fifteen (15) Assistant Surgeons in the season 1806-7, twenty-eight were appointed last season, and we have resolved to appoint the same number in the present season, these will more than sufficiently provide for the appointments recommended in Paragraph 129, viz. thirty-five, and we shall attend to your observation relative to the appointments in future seasons, in order to keep up the Establishment of Assistant Surgeons considered necessary by the late Commander in Chief.

transmitted by the Adjutant General with his letter of the 19th November 1806.

SURGEONS.

Mr. T. Phillips, - - Retired;
 A. Campbell, - - - Ditto,
 J. Gilchrist, - - - Ditto,
 J. L. Stokes, - - - Ditto,
 John Smith, - - - Ditto,
 James Smith, - - - Ditto,
 John Henderson, - - - Ditto,
 James Nasmyth, out of the Service by act of Parliament.
 William Cooke, permitted to remain in Europe, till the season 1807-8.
 J. Howison, - - - Retired.

ASSISTANT SURGEONS.

D. Nesbitt, - - - Returned, 1807.
 J. Townsend, - - - Supposed deceased,
 W. H. Robertson, arrived in Europe in May 1805, and permitted to remain on furlough until the present season.
 W. Rose, out of the service by act of Parliament.
 S. Cotton, appointed for Madras.
 R. Phillott, returned to Bengal last season.
 John Woody, Returned sick from the Cape in 1801, no application received from him since, therefore to be struck off the list.
 G. Patullo, died 31st August 1804, on board the Asia on his passage to India.
 H. Durant, lost in the Abergavenny.

91.—Incursions from the enemy must naturally be expected in all Continental Wars, and losses of property by individuals as the inevitable consequence, but it is not therefore understood to be incumbent on the state to make good such losses.

92.—In consideration however of your recommendation, the Officers of the 4th Regiment of Native Cavalry, who suffered by the destruction of their Bungalows, and other private property in the Attack of Holkar's Army on Futty Ghur, may be allowed three month's full Batta, each according to the rank they held at the time; and as to the claims of the Surviving Native Commissioned and non Commissioned Officers and Privates of the detachment under Colonel Monson, for loss of baggage, stated in the Adjutant General's letter of 7th September 1806, recorded on your Proceedings of the 24th December 1806, as it is represented, they threw away their baggage by order of Colonel Monson, on promise of remuneration; we acquiesce in the recommendation of the late Commander in Chief, in the compensation to be given to them of two month's Pay and full Batta each.

93.—In regard to the claims of Officers belonging to the 12th Native Regiment, for Compensation for loss of their Mess Property, when with Colonel Monson's detachment, mentioned also in the Adjutant General's letter of the 7th September 1806, above referred to, we cannot make any addition to the remunerations already granted by our letter of the 8th September 1808, Paragraph 84, to the Officers serving with that detachment.

111.—The application of the rules* by which Officers proceed to the Cape or St. Helena, and eventually to Europe, to Officers holding Staff Appointments or Commands of Independent Corps, or other situations out of the line of their Regimental duty, in the manner stated in this paragraph, has our approbation.

122.—In justice to the equitable pretensions of our Officers, who are to benefit in their promotion by others retiring, we have resolved that Officers who receive permission on their application to us, to retire from the service, shall be considered as having retired from the date of their application being recorded: you will receive a number in the Packet, a list of retired Officers with the dates thereof on the principle above stated, and the promotions in consequence are to be regulated accordingly.

138.—We have praised the General Order issued by the late Commander in Chief, on his quitting that situation, with much satisfaction; they speak the sentiments of a gallant and generous mind towards the Army, which he so long and so bravely commanded, and whose discipline, valour and successful exertions, so frequently witnessed by their Commander in Chief, have thus received his most distinguished applause.

242.—We have permitted the following Military Officers to return to their rank on your Establishment, viz.

Lieut. Colonel William Bedell,
Lieut. Colonel J. Read,
Major Roderick Frazer,
Captain Joseph Fletcher,
Captain J. Martin Johnson,
Captain Udny Yule,
Captain A. Fraser,
Captain Henry Bellingham,
Lieutenant Andrew O'Shea,
Lieutenant Richard Higgott,
Cornet J. E. Erskine.

243.—Mr. William Woolley, an Assistant Surgeon on your Establishment, has also our permission to return to his rank.

244.—Mr. John Buck, of whose appointment as a Cadet for the Artillery or Engineer Corps on your Establishment, you were advised in ^{their} Military letter of the 6th April 1809; but who was not thereof age to rank in either of those Corps, having since attained the age which renders him eligible to rank in our service, we direct that he rank next below Mr. James Ewart.

* See General Orders of the 15th January 1807.

245.—The following Cadets for our Artillery or Engineer Corps on the Bengal Establishment, having been reported to us by the proper Officer at the Royal Military Academy at Woolwich, as qualified for Commissions, they proceed to their duty this season accordingly, and are to take rank in our service next below Mr. John Buck, in the following order, viz.

John Rawlings,
George Lindsey,

246.—We have appointed Messrs. Andrew Wilson, and James Calder, Assistant Surgeons for your Presidency of the season 1807.

Sergeant William Hampton, of the Regiment of Artillery, is appointed a Contractor of Ordnance on this Establishment, from the 5th August 1800, vice Allen, appointed Riding Master to the Corps of Horse Artillery, by General Orders under date the 4th of that Month.

Sergeant-Major Yogee McDonall, of the 1st Battalion 25th Regiment Native Infantry, is admitted to the benefit of the Pensions established by Minutes of Council of the 11th January 1797, and permitted to reside at Monghyr.

J. ADAM, Act. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

General Orders, by His Excellency the Vice President.

FOOT WILLIAM, OCTOBER 21, 1809.

His Excellency the Vice President has appointed Major John Johnson, to be his Military Secretary.

J. ADAM, Actg. Sec. to Govt. Mil. Dept.

By our last private advices from Madras, we understand, that the arrangements for bringing to trial the three Officers of the Coast establishment, particularly designated in the late Order of the Governor General, had been nearly completed. The Court was to sit at Bangalore. Major-General Warde had been appointed President; and Lieutenant Colonels Macleod and Clarges of the 69th Foot, with Lieutenant-Colonel Webber, of the Company's service (an officer recently arrived from England) are mentioned in the list of members. Lieutenant-Colonels Hare, Montresor, Graham, and Nash, had also been appointed Members, but had afterwards on various accounts been relieved from that duty; and, Lieutenant-Colonel Skinner of the 58th Foot, Major Travers of the 22d Light Dragoons, Lieutenant-Colonel Bowness of the 25th Native Infantry, and Lieutenant-Colonel Hewer, had been nominated to supply their places.

Lieutenants M'Cormick and Rowley of the 2d Battalion 9th Native Infantry, who, in consequence of a difference arising out of the late unhappy commotions, had been deputed by the Mess of their Battalion, to deliver an insulting message to Captain Campbell of the same corps, have been brought to trial, and sentenced, the former to be cashiered, and the latter to be suspended from rank and pay for the space of 12 months; but, their case appearing in some degree to come under the general proclamation of amnesty, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General has been pleased to remit the execution of the sentence.

Such Officers of the King's and Company's service as have been appointed to do duty with the different corps of the army, since the 21st of July, are directed to return to the Regiments to which they respectively belong, as soon as they shall be relieved by those suspended Officers who may now sign the Declaration. Meanwhile, we perceive in the 4th Madras Gazette, the names of several King's Officers, who have been recently posted to one of the Battalions of Native Infantry, serving in Travancore. A late letter from an Officer of His Majesty's 34th Foot, mentions, that no less than four Native Corps had been supplied with Officers from that Regiment; and that the greater part of the King's Regiments had furnished an equal proportion of Officers to the Company's troops.

The large European and Native force, which marched from Madras under Lieutenant-Colonel Conran, continued its route to the Nizam's capital. We received, yesterday, a letter of the 11th of October, from an Officer serving with that detachment, dated from "Camp, on the march to Hyderabad." The strength of the force, in horse and foot, amounted at one time to nearly ten thousand men. After Lord Minto's proclamation had been issued, however, all the Dragoons, and the heavy and light Artillery, together with his Majesty's 86th and 89th Regiments of Infantry were ordered into Garrison.

Early in the present month, the following ships of War were in Madras Roads ; viz. the Russell and Belliqueux of the line, Diomedé of 50 guns, Dover Frigate, and Victor and Rattlesnake sloops of War.

His Majesty's Sloop Samarang sailed from Madras for Penang, on the 29th ultimo.

The Fleet of homeward-bound Indiamen, consisting of the H. C. Ships General Stewart and Union, and the Freighted Ships Warren Hastings, Boyne and Providence, had not sailed from Madras, when the dawn of the 13th left that Presidency, nor were they expected to sail until the following day. These Ships, it was understood, would be conveyed to a certain latitude by the Dover and Cornwallis frigates.

By a letter received yesterday from Ganjam, we learn, that a French Privateer had, a few days before, been seen off Calingapatam, where she had put some prisoners on board a dhonce. From the information received by them, she is supposed to be the same vessel, which some time ago engaged the Teignmouth, and afterwards appeared off the coast of Malabar.

The late letters from Penang complain of a general stagnation in the mercantile affairs of that Presidency. The prices of Bengal produce were very low. Fresh Patna and Benares Opium had of late been sold, at the rate of from 760 to 770 dollars per chest; in exchange for pepper, which was valued at 5½ dollars per pecul. When cash was required in payment, the same Opium would not fetch more than from 740 to 755 Dollars. The selling price of Tin was from 17½ to 17¾ dollars per pecul.

The chief cause of this depression of the markets was the delayed arrival of the Bugge's Prows, which were wont to take so large a portion of their returns in opium. Some of them having been rather roughly treated of late by the Ships of war, it was supposed that very few would this year undertake the voyage.

The French Grab Privateer Entreprenante continued to hover about Penang and the adjacent settlements. She had taken and burnt the Company's ketch Margaret, and had rendered herself formidable by other depredations.

For several important articles of shipping intelligence from the same quarter, we refer our readers to that department of our paper.

His Majesty's Ship Blanche, it is said, would accompany the new Frigate Penang to this Presidency. These two ships were expected to sail, about the 15th current.

In the course of last week, the Country Ship Venus came in from the West Coast of Sumatra. She brings no intelligence of public interest.

The price of pepper at the ports of Sumatra had of late, we understand, been considerably enhanced, in consequence of the whole existing stock of that commodity having been bought up by the Americans.

AFFAIRS OF HINDOOSTAN.

Advices from Umrutsir of the 12th ultimo, give a more favourable picture of the present situation of Soojah-ul-Moolk, the late sovereign of Cabul, than, from the apparent failure of all his resources, and the rapid extension of his rival's dominions, could well have been hoped for. That Prince has again appeared, in considerable force, in the western plains of Candahar. He had been joined by numerous bodies of Doorannees; and, if we may believe the Hindoostan newspapers, a great proportion of the chieftains, by whose aid and influence Mahmood had been enabled to drive him from the throne, had, with the usual inconstancy of Asiatics, deserted the usurper's standard, and returned to their pristine allegiance.

Of all Mahmood's adherents, we understand, that only Futeh Khan and a few others of his most devoted Sirdars, now remained with him. But, his strength was so much reduced, that even this small band could not be expected to hold together for any length of time, nor to await the approach of his competitor.

Runjeet Sing, it appears, has at length made a settlement with Rajah Sungfar Chund, and his full possession of the fort of Khote-kangra.

That chieftain is now intent on the subjugation of another fortress in the same country, named Malgurrah, and at present occupied by the Gorug invaders from the east.

It is with sincere concern, that we record, on the authority of the Bombay prints, the loss of the H. C. Bomb-vessel Strombolo, which foundered at sea on the 15th current, between Bombay and the coast of Guzerat. Her Commander, Lieutenant Hall, and sixteen of her crew, were saved by the boats of the Mornington, who had her in tow;—the remainder perished with the vessel. The Strombolo, was one of the Fleet of Cruizers, which lately sailed from Bombay on an expedition against the Pirates in the Gulph of Persia. Intelligence of her fate was brought to that Presidency by the Echo schooner, which having suffered severely from stress of weather, had been under the necessity of separating from her comrades on the 22d of September, and putting back to port.

The expedition, from the time of its departure, had encountered very adverse winds and stormy weather; in consequence of which it had made less progress than might otherwise have been expected.

His Majesty's ship Caroline having fallen in with a fleet of 27 piratical Dows in the Gulph, Captain Gordon sent out his ship's boat, with a party of seamen, commanded by Lieutenant Wood, who boarded and carried one of the Dows, in the most gallant manner. The Pirates made a desperate, but unavailing resistance; only two of the Caroline's men being at all hurt. Of the Jowassinees, 14 only were made prisoners: and those, it is said, had all received wounds. Of the rest, those who escaped the sword, leapt into the sea.

Major-General Champagne arrived at Bombay from Ser-poor on the 5th current, and was received with the usual military honours.

On the 4th current, His Highness the Nawaub of the Carnatic paid a visit of ceremony to Lord Minto, at the Ameer Bag. His Highness was complimented with the usual salutes, of 21 guns each, from the ramparts of Fort St. George.

Lord Minto held his first levee, since his arrival at the Madras Presidency, on Monday the 9th current, at 10 A. M. it was attended by the Hon. Sir George Barlow, the Chief Justice, the Military and Naval Commanders in Chief, the Members of Council, all the Gentlemen of the Civil, Naval, and Military Services resident at the Presidency and the other principal European inhabitants of Madras.

It is now reported, that the two extra ships Ocean and Tottenham, at present under dispatch for England, will not put to sea immediately, as at first intended, but, will await the departure of the regular Indiamen appointed to sail in November, and proceed together in one fleet.

His Excellency, General Hewett, held his first levee as Vice-President, at his house in Chouringhee, on Saturday morning. A very numerous company was present, to welcome his Excellency's return to the Presidency.

Yesterday se'ennight being the first day of Term, the Puisne Judges, Law Officers and Barristers of the Supreme Court, breakfasted at the Chambers of the Chief Justice. The Court was opened about 10 o'clock, with the usual solemnities. The business of the first sitting was confined to motions from the bar.

A Court of Vice-Admiralty was held afterwards; at which the Hon. the Commis. sory granted a rule to shew cause, why the property claimed by the Manilla Company, in the case of the ship Jefferson, and held in deposit by the Court, should not be restored, under the second article of the late treaty of friendship and alliance between Great Britain and Spain. The Court then adjourned, until Monday the 6th current.

We have been requested to state, that the paragraph, which appeared in a Calcutta print of last week, respecting the death of the late Mr. Alexander Davidson, is utterly destitute of foundation. There exists not the smallest reason to impute the unfortunate end of that gentleman to a voluntary act. On the evening of the 23d current, he was called to the fore-yard of the ship Portsea, in the course of his duty as one of the Officers of that vessel, and, in consequence of some of the tackle giving way, was precipitated on the deck. He was taken up severely injured, and survived only till one o'clock on the following morning. There is no ground whatever for the assertion of his having risen from company, a short time previous to the accident; as he had dined some ours before with his brother, who commands the ship. He is said to have been a young man of exemplary sobriety and great promise; and his prospects were superior to those of most young men of his profession in this country.

The first Calcutta Subscription Assembly of the season will be held at Moore's Rooms, on Friday next, when a full and fashionable attendance is expected. The Assemblies will be repeated as usual on every alternate week, throughout the cold season.

BARRACKPORE THEATRE.

The Farce of the Mayor of Garrat, which, on the evening of Saturday se'nnight, ushered in the annual dramatic amusements of this station, is strongly marked with all the characteristics of Mr. Footes's productions. Supported by no artifice of plot or situation, nor by any of those mechanical aids to which later writers have been so much indebted; depending solely on that powerful vein of broad humour, which pervades the whole; it is yet wanting in the materials requisite to secure a permanent popularity. Some of the characters are copied from individuals, who have been long forgotten; and the dialogue abounds in local and temporary allusions, whose interest has of course faded with the existence of the objects which produced them. Yet, with all these defects, such is the intrinsic merit of the Mayor of Garrat, so clearly are its portraits allied to general nature, and so well chastened by a sound and manly taste are its most extravagant passages, that it has survived in public estimation the greater part of the writings of its author. To all those, whose relish for theatrical exhibitions has not been vitiated by the high-seasoned nonsense of the times, it still affords a pleasant and substantial repast. By them it is still welcomed as one of the remaining sources of rational pleasure, which are yet left to the stage, and as nearly the last memorial of a man, whose genius gave to Farce a dignity in the scale of literature, which neither before nor since it has ever attained.

The character of Major Sturgeon, though founded perhaps more than any other in the piece on the passing topics of the day, is yet and ever will be an admirable satire on pretenders to the military character. We have never chanced to see the part represented by any professional actor of celebrity: and have not therefore the advantage of comparison. But, we feel no hesitation in saying, that all our preconceived notions of the character were fully satisfied, by the gentleman, who personated it on this occasion, and with whose sonorous voice, portly appearance, and peculiar cast of humour it is most happily in unison. His narrative of the hardships of his last summer's campaign, was managed with particular address, and produced a corresponding effect on the audience.

We congratulate the admirers of this delightful amusement on the discovery of a new talent in the gentleman, who appeared this evening as the representative of Mrs. Sneak. The difficulty of procuring performers capable of personating female characters is one of the chief obstacles to the success of a private theatre. One or two very able attempts in this line are fresh in the recollection of our readers. But, we much doubt, if, in any former instance, the appearance and air of a woman have been more happily counterfeited; and, we are very confident, that, in no instance, has the feigned voice been sustained throughout, with so much nature and propriety.

Jerry Sneak is a part, which may be performed with considerable effect, by a very indifferent actor. It requires not much honour, and hardly any discrimination. Let there be only a tremulous manner, a meagre figure, and a pulsing voice; and the text is irresistible. Among the successful representatives, however, of this character, as of others, there are still various degrees of excellence; and, of all those whom it has been our fortune to see, at any theatre, public or private, we certainly should not hesitate to give the preference to the gentleman, whose talents were this evening (so much to the advantage of the audience) employed in the delineation of his better half. Jerry indeed lost something by the change; but it was much of the advantage of the piece:—for his place in the latter character was very ably supplied. If there was some little falling off in point of drollery, there was none whatever in point of correct acting.

The other parts in the Entertainment, are of little comparative consequence; and, as none of them (with the exception perhaps of Crispin Heeltap, who made a more conspicuous figure than he generally does,) drew forth any remarkable display of histrionic talents on the present occasion, we shall pass over them in silence.

The Mayor of Garratt was followed by the Apprentice, another two-act piece of considerable quondam celebrity, but now acted seldom. It is the work of Mr. Murphy; and, like all that author's productions, does credit to his taste and understanding; though, we confess, we are not inclined to place it quite on a par with the Old Maid or the Citizen.

Of the performance of the stage-struck hero of the piece, on this occasion, too much cannot be said in praise. We have seen (and with no little disgust) actors of high name assume, in Dick, the same manner, which it is customary to put on in acting Syloester Daggerwood,—converting the spouting Apprentice into a crazy stroller. We were most happy to find, that a more correct notion of the part had been formed by the representative of this evening. It was personated throughout with great judgment; nothing was overdone; the dying scene in particular was an admirable specimen of the burlesque.

The representative of Mrs. Sneak in the former piece, gave a striking proof of the variety of his powers, by his very able performance of Old Winifate. Had her manners been somewhat less masculine, the heroine of the Entertainment might perhaps have been more interesting. In the other characters, there was little worthy of remark.

Throughout both performances, the business of the stage was conducted with great regularity and expedition : and the curtain finally dropped a little after eleven. The house was well filled, though not so crowded as we have seen it. Mrs. Jumsden, and a party from the Park, were among the audience.

The H. C. Extra Ship Retreat, came up to Calcutta on Thursday morning last, and anchored off Chaundpaul ghaut. She exchanged the usual salute with the Fort, as she passed.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

The Arab Ship Memboo, which is said to have left Muscat in company with the Fleet from thence, came into the river on Tuesday last.

COURT MARTIAL.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor General.

The Governor General having attentively perused the proceedings of a Court Martial, assembled by the orders of Major General Gowdie, for the Trial of Lieutenants McCormick and Rowley, has judged it expedient that the crimes and sentences should be published to the Army. The sense entertained by that Honorable Tribunal of the nature and degree of criminality attached to the offence of which those two Officers have been pronounced guilty, will be sufficiently evinced by those documents.

It has become necessary to determine whether these sentences should be carried into effect, or whether the amnesty which, with some specified exceptions, has terminated the disorder of the late unhappy period, is to be considered as embracing also the cases of these two Officers.

In deliberating on this question, the Governor General has observed, that the proceedings of the Court Martial were closed, and the sentences pronounced, some time before the amnesty was published. He was not apprized that any proceedings of that description were either in progress, or actually concluded. The case was not in his contemplation when his General Order was issued, and he should not therefore, in strictness, consider his judgment as pledged by that order on a question which he had no opportunity of considering.

The Governor General has, nevertheless, reflected, that the comprehensive terms in which the amnesty has been proclaimed, and especially the broad principles of oblivion and reconciliation, which characterize the whole measure, may appear to many sufficiently large to afford an interpretation favorable to these individuals, even under the circumstances adverted to. Averse therefore, as he must always be, to bring even into question the faithful performance of a solemn promise, he has chosen rather to extend the general indemnity a little beyond its contemplated objects, and to incur the partial inconvenience of adding to the general mass of pardon, the impunity of these two offences against discipline, than to hazard the slightest deviation, either in letter or spirit, from the obligations of public faith.

Under these considerations, he has requested Major General Gowdie to remit the sentences and restore the Officers to the Service, under a single condition, the indispensable necessity of which, both for public and private atonement, requires no argument.—The condition is, that an ample and distinct apology shall be made to Captain Campbell, their Commanding Officer, for the contempt of his authority, and insult to his Person, of which they stand convicted.

It would not be the wish of the Governor General to burthen an act of grace with any reflections that might either wound or humiliate the objects of it; but waving all retrospective reproof, as applicable to this, or any other antecedent case, he should think he neglected the future interests of the Public and the Army, if he omitted this occasion of bringing strongly to the notice and recollection of the Officers of this Establishment, the culpable nature and mischievous consequences of the practice which was the subject of the trials now under consideration. That is to say, concerted insult to those who have either uniformly done well, or who having fallen by the force of general example, into the prevailing disorders, have withdrawn themselves from former errors, and returned to a faithful discharge of public duty. Such combinations against individuals, of which examples have not been wanting in the late troubles, are always reprehensible, but assume a much more criminal character in that state of things which has arisen out of the submission of the Army, followed by the amnesty, announced by the General Order of the 25th September.

The Governor General trusts that every disposition to this serious offence has been extinguished by those events, but as it affords the only means that now remain, either for nursing the seeds of Military disorder, or for prolonging the discord of the Army, some exposition of its dangerous and malignant tendency appears peculiarly seasonable.

To make a return to duty the subject of concerted affront and indignity, in the first place a great breach of discipline. It requires a very clear cause to render such measures of personal enmity to individuals tolerated in any circumstances. No one can be ignorant of the displeasure uniformly manifested, and of the punishment invariably inflicted, in every case of such offences against discipline, by the supreme Military authority of the Sovereign himself!—Let any one imagine, therefore, what judgment would be formed on a complaint for such an injury, the excuse alledged for which should be, that the party against whom it was levelled, had withdrawn himself from a conspiracy against his Majesty; or in a case arising in India, that he had renounced a further participation in revolt against the Company's Government.

In the next place, the continuance of such practices extinguishes all hope of cordial and general reconciliation, by which alone the traces of past calamity can be obliterated, and the individual comfort and happiness of the Officers can be restored.

But last and chiefly let it be remembered, that the offences which are the subject of these remarks, are in total contradiction with every profession of a return to duty. They demonstrate the still subsisting spirit of Military combination, which is in itself a deep and dangerous offence. The combination in this case would be, to stigmatize by general and concerted measures those who relinquish criminal and therefore invalid engagements, in order to fulfil the first indefeasible obligations of professional duty.

It must be recollected also, that those who persist in such practices forfeit every title both to confidence and clemency. Clemency on the late occasion has been founded on the hope, that the return of those who should accept pardon, to the paths of fidelity and duty, would be sincere, and that every pledge and every combination, that has the slightest reference to the late lamented period, should be dissolved and abjured for ever. To continue therefore, or to renew similar combinations in the very moment of accepting indemnity from the penalties of past transactions, must be felt to be a violation of public faith and personal honor, enhanced by the aggravation of the deepest ingratitude.

To sincere and cordial reconciliation, which authority alone cannot enforce, the Army can only be invited and exhorted by every consideration which should influence their sounder reason, and their better feelings. But to repress every open attempt to obstruct the return of public harmony by putting indignity upon individuals, who have the merit of an early retreat from error, is a fit and indispensable object both of the vigilance and power of Government.

Under these impressions, the Governor General has thought it a point of candour, to apprize, thus early, every ill-advised individual who might fall inconsiderately into that snare, that no future example of this offence can be exempted from punishment, and that every Officer accused of it shall be brought to trial before a Court Martial, or if the peculiar circumstances of the case should render it more advisable, the charge shall be submitted to the investigation of a Military Court of Enquiry and if established by the proceedings of the latter tribunals the Officer so offending must be suspended from the service, subject to the judgment of the Honorable the Court of Directors.

MINTO.

G. O. BY MAJOR GENERAL GOWDIE.

The following extracts from the confirmed proceedings of a General Court Martial assembled at Quilon, on Monday the 18th of September, 1809, by order of Lieutenant Colonel the Honorable Patrick Stuart, commanding the Troops serving in Travancore, in virtue of powers vested in him by the Officer commanding the Army in Chief, and continued by adjournments until the 23d day of the same month—and of which Lieutenant Colonel Hamilton Hall of the 14th Native Regiment is President, are published to the Army.

THE CALCUTTA MONTHLY JOURNAL.

CRIME.—Lieutenant James P. McCormick of the 2d Battalion 9th Regiment, placed under arrest on the 20th August, 1809, by order of the Honorable Lieutenant Colonel Stuart, commanding in Travancore, in consequence of the following Charges exhibited against him by me.

For unofficerlike and highly disrespectful conduct, such as is totally subversive of Military subordination towards me while in immediate charge of the Corps in the following instance.

For coming to my Quarter accompanied by Lieutenant Rowley and making use of the following expressions, viz.

That he and Lieutenant Rowley, were deputed by the Officers of the 2d Battalion 9th Regiment Native Infantry, to inform me that they considered my conduct to be infamous, and that I was a disgrace to the cloth which I wear.

late in charge 2d Battalion 9th Regiment N. I.

QUILON, 9th September, 1809.

(A true Copy.)

(Signed) A. BALMAIN,—MAJOR BRIGADE to the Troops in Travancore.

SENTENCE.—The Court having maturely examined the evidence in support of the prosecution as well as what the prisoner Lieutenant James McCormick has urged in his defence, is of opinion that he is Guilty of the crime laid to his charge, viz.

“ For unofficerlike and highly disrespectful conduct such as is totally subversive of Military Subordination towards me while in immediate charge of the Corps in the following instance, viz.

“ For coming to my Quarter accompanied by Lieutenant Rowley and making use of the following expressions, viz.

“ That he and Lieutenant Rowley were deputed by the Officers of the 2d Battalion 9th Regiment N. I. to inform me that they considered my conduct to be infamous, and that I was a disgrace to the cloth I wear.” Which being in breach of the Articles of War the Court does therefore sentence the prisoner, Lieutenant James McCormick, to be punished.

Magistrate Judge Adv. Lieut. Col. and President.

QUILON, 22d September 1809.

Approved, but on account of existing circumstances the sentence awarded by the Court is remitted.

(Signed) FRANCIS GOWDIE, MAJOR GENERAL,
Commanding the Army in Chief.

CRIME.—Lieutenant Rowley, of the 2d Battalion 9th Regiment N. I. placed in arrest on the 20th August 1809, by order of the Honorable Lieutenant Colonel Stuart commanding in Travancore, in consequence of the following charges preferred against him by me.

CHARGE.—For unofficerlike and disrespectful conduct (such as is totally subversive of Military discipline) towards me when in the immediate charge of the Corps in the following instance.

For coming to my Quarter on the 20th August last in company with Lieutenant James M'Cormick when that Officer made use of the following expressions to me, viz.

"That he, Lieutenant James M'Cormick, was deputed along with Lieutenant Rowley to acquaint me that the Officers of the 2d Battalion 9th Regiment considered my conduct to be infamous and that I was a disgrace to the cloth I wear."

(Signed) M. CAMPBELL, CAPTAIN,
Late in Charge 2d Bat. 9th Regt. N. I.

QUILON, 9th September 1809.

SENTENCE.—The Court having maturely examined the evidence in support of the prosecution, as well as what the prisoner Lieutenant Rowley has urged in his defence, is of opinion that he is guilty of the crime laid to his charge, viz.

"For unofficerlike and disrespectful conduct, such as is totally subversive of Military discipline towards me when in the immediate charge of the Corps in the following instance."

"For coming to my Quarter on the 20th August last in company with Lieutenant M'Cormick, when that Officer made use of the following expressions to me, viz.

"That he, Lieutenant M'Cormick, was deputed along with Lieutenant Rowley to acquaint me, that the Officers of the 2d Battalion 9th Regiment N. I. considered my conduct to be infamous and that I was a disgrace to the cloth I wear." Which being in breach of the "Articles of War the Court does therefore sentence him, Lieutenant Rowley, to be suspended from Rank and Pay for the space of twelve Calendar Months from this date.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

September 25th, arrived brig Echo, commander F. [unclear], put back from the Gulf coast.

October 10th, sailed Regent schooner, Lieutenant Thomas [unclear], to Penang.

October 10th, the Charles Bailey, Captain John Hara, to Gullon.

October 2d, arrived trader Mercury, Lieutenant Smee, from [unclear].

October 3d, Arrived Hon'ble Company's Cruiser Benares, Lieutenant Robert Dean, from Surat.

THE LAUNCH.

The pleasure so anxiously looked for in the launch of the Frigate, entrusted under the immediate inspection of that able architect Mr. Joseph Seaton, in the Hon. Company's Marine Yard, was realized last Sunday afternoon, when she made her entre into her destined element, amid the joyful acclamations of thousands of spectators, and the thundering of cannon from the walls of the garrison.

The Launch, agreeable to the opinions of many, accustomed to view spectacles of this nature, could not be surpassed.

The frigate was denominated, "The Penang."

We conceive any comment from us, on this elegant piece of mechanism would be useless: suffice to say, that we have the assurances of many eminent judges in the elevated art of naval architecture that this frigate will be an additional ornament (should she be transferred from the Hon. Company) to the very many that adorn the British Navy! and long may the united endeavours of Britons in our mother country, and her colonies, continue to add to the exertions of her brave tars, for the glory of her marine; so long the dread of her enemies, and protection of her allies!

A very elegant and splendid collation, for upwards of one hundred persons, was prepared on this occasion by the order of John James Erskine, Esq. to whose indefatigable, and in his official capacity of Superintendent of Marine, much is due, in facilitating the accomplishment of so arduous and well-timed a business, rendered difficult, by many unforeseen obstacles, in an remote settlement.

Accounts received from Pedier, by the Corvette, state, that the grab privateer, still grows along this coast; and that she has destroyed several galleys, in revenge for the Rajah having captured one of the American ships Angulus and Glory, in the English.

Their accounts also state, that the grab had taken Mr. Bacon's brig the Martin, and Mr. Perkins's brig, and destroyed them.

But the Phosph Dundas, which arrived on Thursday from the coast of Pedier, did not see any thing of her.

AUGUST 20.

We are concerned to hear, that the H. C. Leech Marguerit, Winter has been captured and severely hurt by the French Corvette L'Entrepreneur, in the vicinity of the Straits of Malacca, near Sunk: the Mistrée, which had been on her way to this daring marauder, but for the timely coming up of H. M. Ship D'Albi, who immediately gave chase, but we lament to say, after a pursuit of six hours, she got so completely out of sight, to the southward:—the last accounts (and yet) received of the enemy, were, he had been under a hot fire. In addition, he was distinctly seen from Malacca, and at one time, had the appearance of standing up to the Raffles.

SEPTEMBER 2.

Webster PATRICK CLARK, Esq. has been appointed Master Attendant, at Malacca, in the room of Mr. Alms, deceased.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

AUG. 19, 1809.

Two vessels came in during the present week from the western part of India, one the Fly Wood, from Bombay.

Yesterday afternoon, H. M. Ship La Clorinde, Captain Briggs, entered the harbour, from Madras, the 2d Aug. 18, giving convoy to the Hon. Company's ships Perseverance, Isle de France, and Nottingham, W. Campbell: the following Ladies and Gentlemen have arrived on these ships, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Grant, and Miss Fanny Brown, Colonel Dunn, Major Jones, Major De Morgan, Captain Grant, Captain Fowles, Mr. Brown, and Dr. Steady.

The brig Scourge, sailed last night for Malacca, laden with the good things recently imported from Old England.

AUGUST 26.

On Wednesday, the ship Margaret, Sterling, arrived from Malacca; whence came passengers, Messrs. H. Yates, Patrick Clark, and Douglas Murray.

The fore day the H. C. brig Montrose, Peers, came in, having luckily escaped the fangs of Monsieur Beaufet.

The Hon. Company's ships Earl Spencer, Monarch and Lord Keith, sailed on Sunday last, for England, under convoy of H. M. ships La Clorinde and Cornelia.

The Bengal convoy, quitted the harbour at the same time.

The Passengers from hence on the Europa ships, are several Gentlemen of the Navy; John Scott, Esq. Mr. Samuel B. Rawle, an American gentleman, and Miller J. B. Bone.

On Monday H. M. ship Phæton, giving convoy to the H. C. ships Nottingham and Perseverance, left the harbour, for China.

The Margaret passed the direct China fleet under convoy of H. M. ship Arabis, off the Sand Heads.

The brig Euphrosine, Captain Taylor, arrived yesterday evening, but does not bring any thing new from that quarter, that we have heard.

SEPTEMBER 2.

On Tuesday, the ship Fateh Bharrice, arrived under Arab colours from Mocha, left 23d July; with 180 passengers.

On Thursday, the Hon. Company's ships, True Briton, Bonham; Scotchby Castle, J. Loch; Neptune, Donaldson; and Cumberland, Wedderburn; under convoy of H. M. ship Ceylon, W. J. Lye, Esq. anchored in the harbour from Bombay, whence they sailed the 11th ultimo.

The following Ladies and Gentlemen have arrived passengers on the above ships: Mrs. Forbes, Mrs. Watkins and Mrs. Le Mesurier; Messrs. Forbes, Wedderburn, and Wager; Captains Little and Hay, of the Coast Establishment; Lieutenants Pratt, and Doyle; Major Cheene, and a detachment of H. M. 47th Regiment.

These troops, we believe, will be landed here, and wait an opportunity of returning to Bombay.

SEPTEMBER 9, 1809.

On Tuesday last, the ship Martha, Captain King, arrived from Rangoon, whence she sailed the 17th ultimo.

By the Martha, we learn, that the Strathpey, Grant, had been completely upset in Pegue river; that the vessel notwithstanding had been saved, and afterwards sold at public auction for twelve thousand Ticals.

SEPTEMBER 16, 1809.

By the brig , Alcantra, which left Malacca on the 28th ultimo, intelligence was received of the Europe ships under convoy of the St. Albans, having arrived on the 26th, and sailed on the 27th, for China.—The Sir Edward Pellew, Stevens, had joined the fleet.

The Scourge, which came in from Malacca, on Thursday, passed the Madras and Bombay ships, on the 9th instant, off Cape Rachado.

The Glory, Captain Tait, had arrived, and sailed from Malacca.

The brig General Maitland, had arrived at Malacca, on the 7th inst. from Madras, after a quick passage.
